Kaitlyn Bristowe

Kaitlyn Bristowe is a reality TV star who was a finalist on The Bachelor season 19 with Chris Soules and later went on to become The Bachelorette season 11. On the premiere episode of The Bachelorette season 11, she competed against Britt Nilsson for the title and was ultimately named the The Bachelorette. Fans were shocked when the 29-year-old was sent packing by Chris Soules and were excited that she got a second chance at having a relationship. The Vancouver native is a dance instructor and is passionate about promoting confidence and self-acceptance through her work with RAW Beauty Talks.

After a dramatic season, Bristowe accepted a televised celebrity wedding proposal from fitness instructor Shawn Booth. The celebrity couple currently live in Nashville and are planning their celebrity wedding.