Jennifer Garner

Jennifer Garner is one of the most popular names in Hollywood. She was born in Texas and, at the age of four, moved to West Virginia, where she stayed until her college years. Before pursuing an acting career, she wanted to be a doctor. Thankfully, she changed her mind! Her breakthrough role was in 2001 when she played Sydney Bristow on the popular television show Alias. She has since been in movies such as Catch Me If You Can, 13 Going on 30, Daredevil, Juno, and Dallas Buyers Club. It's no surprise that the actress has won a Golden Globe award and a Screen Actors Guild award.

After 10 years of marriage, Jennifer Garner and husband Ben Affleck announced their celebrity divorce in June 2015. The famous couple have three adorable children: daughters Violet and Seraphina and son Samuel. The celebrity exes are committed to co-parenting their kids and even plan to continue living together.
