

Amid Celebrity Divorce, Ben Affleck Admits “Daredevil” With Jennifer Garner ‘Didn’t Work At All’

By Katie Grey

Sadly, Ben Affleck and Jennifer Garner have announced their celebrity divorce. In 2003, the famous couple co-starred in the movie Daredevil. Affleck recently told Entertainment Weekly, “Daredevil didn’t work at all.” He added, “If I wanted to go viral, I would be less polite.” According to UsMagazine.com, “He hopes his newest endeavor – the much-hyped Batman v. Superman: Dawn of Justice will continue tradition of quality superhero movies and honor the long history of Batmans before him.”

Prior to their celebrity divorce, this celebrity couple’s movie together flopped. What are some ways to make working together successful?

Cupid’s Advice:

Working with your significant other isn’t always easy. Cupid has some relationship advice:

1. Professionalism: Treat people how you want to be treated! Whether you’re working with someone you’re in a relationship with or people who you don’t know, always be professional. This is a good reflection of you as a person and will help you further your career. Even if you’re in a fight with your significant other at home, put it aside in the workplace and keep your professionalism in place.

Related Link: Lessons From Jennifer Garner and Ben Affleck

2. Organization: Organization is always key! When you want to work with someone successfully, especially your significant other, be sure to keep your professional life as organized as possible. Your “at-home” life may not be fully organized, but your “at-work” life can be.

Related Link: Jennifer Garner Says She ‘Would Do Anything’ for Ben Affleck

3. Manners: What really matters is having manners! Always be respectful when you are at the workplace, particularly with your partner. Maybe he/she forgot to bring the trash out at home this morning, but you can respect your partner’s professional side in a separate way than you respect their personal side.

What are some other important things to consider when working with your partner? Share your ideas below.