If you do not have trust in your partner, who will continue to face obstacles as the relationship progresses. If you are looking for some ways to know if your partner is being truthful, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. They communicate clearly: While constant communication is not needed to determine if someone is being truthful, clear communication is. 1. Past traumas: If you've experienced some kind of public fallout from a break-up in the past, you may want to keep your future relationships more private. Sharing too much of your new relationship with the public could cause you to fear the same result if things end, which can add unnecessary stress to your current situation. ## In celebrity couple news, Tayshia Adams is down to her final three suitors. What are some ways to know that someone is right for you?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes we encounter a person who we find both attractive and kind, but inevitably do not have the best chemistry with. These situations can be challenging because you may be reluctant to let go of someone when nothing is necessarily wrong, they are just not your perfect match. If you are looking for some ways to know that someone is right for you, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Your bond feels natural: While it may not be love at first sight, creating a bond with someone should feel easy and natural if they are the right person for you. There may be awkward silences in conversations or mild miscommunications while you are getting to know someone, but the overall progression of the relationship should never feel forced.

Related Link: Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Clare Crawley Says She's 'Going Through Things' After Thanksgiving with Dale

2. You're progressing at the same pace: There is no set timeline that you need to follow when you are getting to know or dating someone new. However, the two of you should be progressing at relatively the same pace as the relationship continues. If one person is still holding back months into the relationship, it may be a sign they are not the right person for you.

3. You don't feel stressed: Your intuition is your best friend when starting a relationship with someone new. If the current situation you are in causes you to feel a constant low level of stress, it may be a sign that person is not your perfect match.

In celebrity break-up news, split proceedings are still ongoing with Kelly Clarkson and her soon-to-be ex husband Brandon Blackstock. What are some ways to keep the divorce process from affecting your kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Going through the divorce process can be extremely stressful, and it can be even more difficult to navigate for the kids involved. If you're looking for some ways to keep the divorce process from affecting your kids, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Keep the legal talk to a minimum: When you're going through the legal process of a divorce, try not to let your kids hear too much about this. You will have to be honest about new living situations and rules, but they don't need to know all the details of the custody battle and legal ramifications. This will only add to their stress and sadness.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Olivia Wilde Ditches Engagement Ring After Jason Sudeikis Split

2. Stick to their routines: Another important factor in keeping your kids from being affected by the divorce process is to minimize disruptions to their routines as much as possible. This will keep them from feeling like their whole life has been uprooted because of the divorce.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Lamar Odom & Fiancée Sabrina Parr Call It Quits

3. Don't talk negatively about your ex: Even though it may be tempting, talking negatively about your ex in front of your children may only confuse them. You don't want your relationship issues with your ex to carry into their own relationship. Your children still deserve a good relationship with both of their parents, so try to refrain from blaming or bad mouthing your ex in front of them.

In celebrity news, Khloe Kardashian may be dealing with a long distance relationship after Tristan flew across the country to join his new basketball team. What are some ways to make a long distance relationship successful?

Cupid's Advice:

Long distance relationships can be difficult to navigate, no matter how prepared you may feel to take on the challenge of living in different places. However, with some hard work, long distance relationships can be successful. If you are looking for ways to make a long distance relationship work, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Have a communication plan: When you are not physically near someone, it can feel more tempting to want to talk to them more often. However, if you're expecting to talk to your partner all day when it is not realistic for either of your schedules, you may find yourself getting disappointed. Selecting methods of communication and times to talk early-on in a long distance relationship can help manage expectations and avoid conflict.

Crawley and her new beau, Dale. What are some signs your relationship needs help?

Cupid's Advice:

Every relationship is bound to run into issues at some point, whether it is early-on or after some time. While tough to navigate, these issues can point you to the areas of your relationship that need some more attention. If you are looking for some signs that your relationship needs help, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You've stopped trying to problem-solve: In a healthy relationship, most issues are addressed with problem-solving and compromise. However, if these issues have caused you to avoid discussing possible solutions and led you to avoid the topic altogether, then it is a sign that your relationship needs help. Looking for new areas of compromise or different communication strategies may help you work through this rocky period.

2. You've purposely spent less time together: Everyone needs a break from the partner occasionally, even if it is just for a few hours. This person should be considered a safe-space in your life, not someone you are looking to avoid.

3. You have fundamental differences: Especially in newer relationships, it can be exciting when you have a lot in common with your partner, but challenging when you start discovering differences. If both partners are willing to compromise in some areas, it could easily become a resolved issue.

By Nicole Maher

In celebrity news, Tamera Mowry is opening up about the test she and her husband are going through due to COVID-19. What are some ways to cope with being quarantined with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Quarantine has proved as a relationship test for even the strongest of couples. While you may love your partner endlessly, being confined to one home for months on end can test your relationship. If you are looking for some ways to cope with being quarantined with your partner, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Allow for some alone time: Just because you and your partner are in the same house does not mean you have to be together the entire time. As quarantine progresses, you may feel the need to have some time apart. Taking a few hours every day or so to relax or sit on your own can help prevent any frustrations or tensions you may be feeling with your partner. If possible, safely getting some alone time by going for a walk or drive is also a good option.

Related Link: Celebrity Vacation: Maren Morris Celebrates Ryan Hurd's Birthday with Romantic Getaway

2. Have off-limit areas: Quarantine can make any living space feel claustrophobic after some time, so designating some areas that are reserved for each partner is a good idea to maintain the peace. If you are working from home, an office is a great space to reserve for yourself. In smaller living situations such as apartments, having a designated chair where your partner knows to give you space can also work.

Related Link: Celebrity News: New 'Bachelorette' Tayshia Adams Defends Contestants After Taking Over for Clare Crawley

3. Plan in-house events: Despite feeling confined to your partner because of quarantine, it is still important to nurture the relationship by scheduling things to do together. By doing at-home dates such as cooking together or watching a movie, it will show your partner that you still want to spend quality time with them. This miniature date can help relieve some tension and make your partner more willing to give you space when you need it.

In celebrity news, Dean Unglert admits he had a difficult time accepting Caelynn Miller-Keyes' dating history, what are some ways you can prevent your partner's past from affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice

Dealing with your partner's past relationships can cause a lot of trouble in your own relationship. If you're looking for ways to keep your partner's past from affecting your relationship, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Don't spend too much time talking about it: When you first start dating someone, the last thing they want to do is talk about their ex. If you focus too much on their past, or constantly bring up their exes, you will shift the focus from your current relationship to their past ones. Remember that there is a reason they are no longer with their ex, and by spending less time talking about it, you will avoid making it a problem within your relationship.

Related Link: Celebrity News: New Bachelorette Tayshia Adams Defends Contestants After Taking Over for Clare Crawley

2. Don't get too caught up in their ex: Another thing that can be detrimental is focusing too much on who your partner's exes are. Refrain from stalking them on social media and trying to learn more about their life. This will only make you compare yourself to them and bring up negative feelings that you could otherwise avoid. It also could potentially upset your partner if you are constantly talking about this person from their past.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Alex Trebek's Wife Shares Photo of Their Wedding After Thanking Fans for Support After His Death

3. Remember to trust your partner: At the end of the day, the most important thing to remember when dealing with your partner's past is to remember that it is past, not present. Trust that your partner has changed from their past relationships and don't blame them for their actions in previous relationships. Trusting your partner will eliminate all of the stress and insecurity that comes with obsessing over their past.

Since their break-up, Hudgens has revealed that she has not been dating amid the coronavirus pandemic and her busy acting schedule.

In celebrity news, Vanessa Hudgens is reevaluating what she looks for in a partner after her split from Austin Butler. What are some ways to learn from a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Although challenging, break-ups provide a great opportunity for learning lessons from a past relationship, as well as determining what you want out of future relationships. If you are looking for some ways to learn from a break-up, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Set priorities: Break-ups provide a great time to reestablish your priorities and expectations about what you want in a future relationship. While you likely had an idea of your priorities before you even started dating, going through an unsuccessful relationship can reveal what you truly need from a partner to make things work. Take this time to update your priorities so that you know what is a must-have the next time around.

2. Establish deal-breakers: Deciding on deal-breakers is just as important as setting priorities. A person can have all of the characteristics you favor, but if they have a major lifestyle habit that you disagree with, it can cause conflict in the future. Deal breakers also don't have to be "negative" attributes about the person, but can simply be factors like distance and the type of relationship you are both looking for.

3. Consider external factors: When we're in a relationship, we sometimes tend to put that aspect of your life above others. By working to better yourself professionally or mentally between partners, you will enter your next relationship with a more solid foundation and be ready to put in all the necessary effort.

Celebrity Relationship Coach Lee Wilson Talks Negative Effects Reality TV Has on Relationships

Interview by Carly Silva. Written by Carly Silva.

Guilty pleasure reality TV shows are a great way to pass the time, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic, but according to relationship coach Lee Wilson, they may have a negative effect on our relationships. Coach Lee, who is the founder of My Ex Back and specializes in helping men and women save their dwindling relationships, sits down with us to shed some light on the psychology behind romance-focused reality TV shows.

In our celebrity interview with relationship expert, Coach Lee Wilson, we get some insight on the potential effects that romance reality TV shows have on real-life relationships.

As a Verified Expert on Marriage.com and as someone with numerous certifications, Coach Lee talks to us about the psychology of reality TV dating shows, such as the Bachelor Franchise, 90-Day Fiance, and Love is Blind. He points to why these shows are so popular, not only because they are versed in “stirring up drama,” but also because they provide a “romantic sport,” and viewers love to root for who will win the prize of love. But, can these shows have a negative effect on our real-life dating behavior? Coach Lee, who has over 20 years of experience as a relationship coach, believes so.

Related Link: Celebrity Interview: Hollywood’s Most Sought-After Hair Colorist Michael Canale Talks Tips for At-Home Hair Care and His New Hair Line

Although he does admit that the relationships formed on these shows can sometimes lead to lasting and successful true love, he notes that many contestants are often “put in a situation to rush their feelings completely in artificial and unrealistic ways” in order to compete and ultimately win the show. He not only acknowledges that this path to love can be unhealthy, but also says that this method is “not how it is best for two people to develop a relationship.” He advises viewers to recognize the misconceptions that are promoted in the “artificial world” created in these shows, even if they are undeniably entertaining.

While we all love to admire and root for our favorite contestants to find love on these TV shows, Coach Lee cautions that the romance portrayed in reality TV shows often promotes unrealistic expectations and can give viewers the “idea that dating is this competition with a prize, rather than having a healthy mentality” about getting to know somebody. He also mentions that these dating shows can present viewers with a false idea of how love is developed, and they can display misconceptions where people are left to assume that they can find love by “being artificial, rushing themselves and rushing the other person.” Coach Lee notes that emulating this fantasy world in real life can result in people comparing their relationships to the “magical romantic times” that are presented in reality TV shows, and that viewers comparing this “Hollywood level” romance to their real-life relationships can make them believe that something is wrong with their own relationships.

Related Link: Celebrity Interview: ‘High School Musical: The Musical: The Series’ Star Frankie Rodriguez Talks Love and Reboot

The question is, why are the relationships cultivated on reality TV shows so unrealistically romantic? Well, according to Coach Lee, it’s because of a phenomenon called “limerence.” He defines “limerence” as a “chemical addiction or chemical dependence on dopamine, and serotonin changes in the mind,” which explains the addiction some people have to the “fireworks” of a new relationship or the “new high” that occurs when a relationship is just starting out. He says that shows, such as The Bachelor, “romanticize limerence and almost make it into the idea of what true love should be.” Because reality TV shows idealize this “limerence level of obsession,”

Coach Lee explains that this makes viewers think that their relationships, especially older relationships where limerence has faded, should be more like the ones we see on TV, which is “unrealistic.”

So, what about those of us who love watching these romance-focused reality TV shows? How can we continue to watch these shows now that we’re aware of the toxic nature they promote? Luckily, Coach Lee also gives us some tips on how to navigate our guilty pleasure TV habits without falling victim to the unrealistic standards these shows set. He tells us that his personal trick is to “approach it with a good sense of humor, and be able to be vocal and express that this is not real life.” He recommends viewing these types of shows as pure entertainment, or even playing a fun drinking game with friends, and reminding yourself along the way that “this is a game show.”

Celebrity Break-Up: Olivia Wilde Ditches Engagement Ring After Jason Sudeikis Split

By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, Olivia Wilde has removed her engagement ring after her celebrity break-up with fiancé Jason Sudeikis. According to UsMagazine.com, Wilde was first spotted without her ring while spending some time at a horse stable in Los Angeles, California. The couple began dating in November of 2011 and announced their engagement in January of 2013.

In celebrity break-up news, Olivia Wilde is no longer sporting the engagement ring she got from ex Jason Sudeikis. What are some physical ways you can cope with a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

One of the hardest things to deal with in a break-up is letting go of some of the physical reminders of your relationship. If you are looking for some physical ways you can cope with a break-up, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Lose the jewelry: Whether it's an engagement ring or a necklace, taking off any jewelry that was given to you by your ex is a good first step in removing physical reminders of your break-up. This will also give others the clue that your relationship has ended without you necessarily needing to tell everyone verbally. After some time has passed, you can decide what to do with the jewelry long-term.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Lamar Odom & Fiancée Sabrina Parr Call It Quits

2. Clean your social media: In the modern age, nearly everyone in a relationship has shared some pictures with their partner on social media. Another physical way of coping with a breakup is to clear that person from your field. This can include archiving pictures of you two together, removing tags from past photos, and muting or unfollowing your ex's account.

3. Put away past gifts: While you may have a sentimental attachment to some of the gifts your ex has given you in the past, it is a good idea to remove these gifts from view. Just like with jewelry, placing the gifts you've received in a box and putting them away for a while can help take your mind off the break-up. Once your emotions have settled, then you can decide what to keep, return, and get rid of.

In celebrity news, Alex Trebek's wife is thankful for the support of the public after Trebek's passing from cancer. What are some ways to cope if your partner passes away?

Cupid's Advice:

No matter how much time you may have to prepare, losing the life your partner is heartbreaking. While the support and wishes of loved ones can help, there will still be strong feelings of loss. If you are looking for some ways to cope with a partner's passing, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Give yourself time: One of the easiest and most effective ways to cope with a loss is to give yourself time. While it sounds simple, many people try to force their way through the grief process so their life can return to some form of normalcy. However, this can cause issues to rise in the future, so giving yourself ample time following the loss of a partner is the best way to cope with their absence long-term.

2. Consider your surroundings: It is important to take into account your surroundings following the loss of a partner. Decide whether going places you enjoyed together brings you peace or makes you upset. The same consideration should be thought about in terms of your partner's belongings. Consider whether being surrounded by items that remind you of them is beneficial or harmful in your personal healing process.

3. Tell their stories: Sometimes when we lose someone we love, we tend to stop talking about them. However, just because they are no longer physically does not mean that you have to completely remove them from your life. After enough time has passed, continue to share the memories you created with your past partner with others to help in remembering them.

Having a child can be a large adjustment for any relationship, especially one that is relatively new. If you are looking for some ways to prepare a newer relationship for a baby, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Balance responsibility: There is a lot of planning and preparation that comes with expecting a child. Be sure that these responsibilities are balanced between you and your partner. Cupid’s Advice:

Even if we are not planning on going on a dating television show, it is still possible to find love in unconventional settings. However, these settings may cause us to feel closed off or skeptical. If you are looking for some ways to find love in an unusual setting, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Drop preconceived ideas: When we find ourselves in a new setting, we often have preconceived ideas about what the people and experiences will be like once we arrive. In order to give the idea of finding love a fair chance, it is important to get rid of those preconceptions. Having a clean slate and open mind is the best way to find love in unusual situations.

Related Link: Celebrity News: DeAnna Pappas Hints At Clare Crawley's Relationship Status with Dale Moss

2. Don't force anything: Sometimes when approaching a situation with the hope of finding love, we may unintentionally feel ourselves trying to force a connection. Even in unusual settings, it is better to let things progress naturally. Make sure that the person you are finding interest in is someone you would want present in your normal life as well, and not simply the best option out of the people around you.

3. Take advantage of your time there: Whether your unusual setting is a business trip or simply your local gym, it is important to take advantage of the time you have there. By using your time wisely, you'll open as many doors as possible for potential bonds.

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes the state of a relationship is dependent on internal factors, such as mental and emotional readiness, rather than external factors. If you are wondering if you're mentally and emotionally ready for a relationship, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You have other outlets of happiness: Being in a relationship should be one of the highlights of your current life, but it should not be your only outlet of happiness. If the only thing that truly brings you joy is being around your partner, then you may not be mentally or emotionally ready for a relationship. Placing all of your happiness on one person can lead to unhealthy standards and more disappointments even if neither partner is in the wrong.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Julianne Hough Files for Divorce from Brooks Laich 5 Months After Split

2. You're happy with the timing: When you are in a sound mental and emotional place, you are often happy with the progression of your life. If you are content with the rate at which your relationship is moving, as well as how it fits into your life overall, then you are ready to be in that relationship. However, if you feel that this relationship will cause you to miss out on different areas of your life, you may be in the spot to commit mentally.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: 'RHOBH' Star Erika Jayne & Tom Girardi Split After 21 Years Together

3. You've processed past experiences: An obstacle that many people face in relationships is getting over negative past experiences caused by an ex. If you are entering a new relationship but are still holding onto issues caused by a past partner, you may not be emotionally ready. However, if you've processed and coped with these past issues, then you are likely in a good spot to go forward with a relationship.

Cupid's Advice

When gossip and rumors are circulating about your relationship, they can put a major damper on the excitement of being in love. If you're looking for ways to keep outside chatter about your relationship from affecting you, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Address it: The most direct way to handle gossip regarding your relationship is to address it directly. This may mean confronting those spreading rumors in person, or even acknowledging haters online. While this may be an intense way of stopping the noise surrounding your relationship, it will definitely make it clear that you want the chatter to stop.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Bachelorette Clare Crawley Spotted Wearing Diamond Ring

2. Go private: Another way to avoid letting the negative rumors about your relationship affect you is to make your relationship less public. It will be extremely difficult for people to comment on and critique your relationship if they don't know anything about it. Try to limit how much you express your relationship on social media and start to enjoy your time with just your partner.

3. Switch your focus: The best way to stop chatter surrounding your relationship from affecting you is to switch your focus to what really matters. ### Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups are never easy, no matter how long you and your partner have been together. However, spending years, or even decades, with another person can make the process of breaking up even more challenging. If you are looking for signs that your long-term relationship has run its course, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Holding on to happier times: Creating memories together can be one of the best parts of a relationship, but it can also cause people to remain in relationships that are reaching their end. If you find yourself holding on to memories that happened months or years ago, but have not made the same type of memories since, your relationship may have run its course. Breaking-up doesn't mean you have to forget all the great times in your relationship, it opens you up to new experiences.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Julianne Hough Files for Divorce from Brooks Laich 5 Months After Split

2. You've grown in different directions: People are constantly growing and changing over the years. It's possible that you and your long-term partner have grown in different ways since the beginning of your relationship. While this is no one's fault, staying together despite your different paths in life may continue to cause conflicts that you're already facing.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Kristin Cavallari & Jay Cutler Reunite to Celebrate Halloween With Their Kids

3. Loss of feelings: No one wants to be told that their partner has lost feelings for them. Likewise, many people might not want to admit they've lost feelings for their partner. However, it's possible over the course of a long-term relationship for feelings to change, and holding on to past feelings of love that have disappeared will eventually lead to an unhealthy relationship.

1. Let them know: The first step you can take when you feel unsafe around your ex is to let them know. They may not realize they are making you feel that way. #### Cupid's Advice:

Trying to salvage a relationship can be tricky, so it's important to know when to call it quits. If you're looking for signs that your relationship is irreparable, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You've already tried everything: If you're trying to decide if your relationship is able to be fixed, it's important to assess what you've already tried. If you and your partner have tried to fix things for quite a long time, or even tried therapy, and you find yourself exhausted because things still aren't working, it may be time to call it quits.

Your relationship has become harmful to one or both of you: Another sign that may help you know that your relationship is irreparable is if you find the relationship to be doing more harm than good to one or both of you. In celebrity news, there's definitely some drama between these exes, who share three kids together. What are some ways to iron out parenting differences with # your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be difficult to navigate co-parenting with an ex, especially if you have differing opinions on many fronts. If you are looking for some ways to iron out parenting differences with your ex, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Establish predetermined rules: An easy way to prevent conflict or differences from arising in the future is to establish some predetermined rules. If you are against having your children featured on social media, or want a universal curfew for both of your houses, these are rules that can be established ahead of time. Be sure to keep these rules straightforward and collaborative to help eliminate as many parenting differences as possible.

Related Link: Celebrity Divorce: Ant Anstead Says He Lost 23 Pounds Amid Divorce From Christina Anstead

2. Ask for permission: There will always be gray-area when it comes to parenting, whether you and your partner are still together or not. A great way to avoid differences is to simply ask for permission when you are unsure if what you're about to do will upset the other parent. The other person involved will appreciate the open communication and hopefully do the same when faced with a situation they are unsure of.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Cardi B & Offset Spotted Kissing at Her Birthday Party One Month After Split

3. Discuss differences privately: While it can be frustrating to navigate parenting differences, especially when they are repetitive issues, it's important to discuss these differences privately. Opening up your conflicts to many other people, such as posting on social media, will only add unnecessary tension to the strained relationship and make it harder to iron out differences in the future.
