By Mara Miller

In the latest celebrity news, celebrity couple Justin Bieber and Hailey Baldwin are in no rush to have a celebrity baby, according to UsMagazine.com. Bieber admitted they aren't ready to have children yet in an Instagram post on Wednesday, July 10 captioned, "Love dates with you baby. One day I'll be doing daddy-daughter dates. Not hinting at anything I'm not in a rush. I just wanna enjoy you by yourself for a while!" Awww!

In celebrity news, Justin and Hailey won't be having children anytime soon. What are some benefits to delaying having children?

Cupid's Advice:

There are many benefits to hold off on having children with your partner. You'll want to make sure you're emotionally and financially ready for a new baby. Nothing is wrong with wanting some extra time to be with your partner before kids, either. Cupid has some advice on benefits to delaying having children:

1. You'll have more time to build a career: Babies equal time and money you might not have yet. If you get married while you're young, you may still have things you need to do in order to chase after your dream career, and a baby may put these things on hold. There is no shame in waiting to start a family with your partner.

2. Pre-child expenses are lower: You won't have to worry about things like diapers, toys, or baby furniture. You'll be able to put the money you aren't saving towards things like a downpayment on a house or a car which will be safe for your children when you're ready for them.

3. You can travel more: If you and your partner want to take time off to travel before you fully settle down, you'll be able to do things like take off for a mini vacation or explore Europe—things you can't do when you have young children. More time to yourselves means more times to enjoy being in love.

By Katie Sotack

Royals Meghan Markle and Prince Harry are stowed away in Windsor and “enjoying each day” with their eight week old celebrity baby, Archie. According to People.com, the celebrity parents are focused on giving Archie a peaceful start to life, hence the escape to a private cottage. These royal celebrity parents are enjoying the time with their infant son. What are some ways to bond as a couple in the face of parenthood?

Cupid’s Advice:

New parenthood is filled with as many challenges as it is joys. Making time for your partner when this new life has become your world can feel impossible. Here are relationship tips for parents looking to bond outside of their baby:

1. Make time for one another: With your new baby becoming the center of your world, it's difficult to make time for each other. However, having one-on-one time is essential to a sturdy relationship and ultimately the growth of your baby. Go on a date together or just sit and talk after the baby's gone to bed.

In celebrity couple news, rumors are running wild that Elijah and Mette-Marie are engaged and expecting a baby. What are some ways to keep your relationship private?

Cupid's Advice:

Maintaining your privacy goes a long way for a happy relationship. Here is relationship advice for hiding away from peeping eyes:

1. Keep it off social media: There's plenty of reasons to keep your relationship away from social media and not all of them are as pessimistic as 'what if it doesn't work out'? The issue with posting about your love is that it opens the gate for questions and rumors about your situation. This doesn't mean you and your boo can never post. If you go somewhere special, show it off! But don't bombard your followers' feed with the deets on your intimacy.

2. Keep it positive: Backing each other up in public is a necessity in a relationship. You have the right to disagree of course, but keep the real fights and hurt feelings behind closed doors. If your fighting in public and making up in private, the world's only going to know the negative.

3. Keep your lips sealed: This goes along with keep it positive. Generally you don't want to be blabbing about your business to just anybody. Don't be the person who tells their cashier their whole life story complete with complaints about your significant other. Instead limit your expressions to your inner circle.

By Bonnie Griffin

In celebrity baby news, Sean Lowe and Catherine Giudici are expecting their third child. According to UsMagazine.com, the celebrity couple had been planning for a future with three children, but this third pregnancy came a little earlier than they had planned. The former Bachelor star said they are still excited about the pregnancy, although “the idea of raising three kids under three and a half years old [is] a little daunting.” Ready or not, baby number three is on the way for this couple.

In celebrity baby news, this pregnancy took Bachelor Nation’s Sean and Catherine by surprise. What are some ways to cope with a surprise pregnancy?

Cupid’s Advice:

Not every pregnancy is planned for, but this doesn't mean it's not a happy occasion. Still, an unexpected pregnancy can be a lot to take in, and it can add unneeded stress if you are surprised. Cupid has some advice to deal with a surprise pregnancy:

1. Ask friends and family for help: If this isn't your first child and you're feeling a little overwhelmed talk to your friends and family. Let them know you're feeling tired and ask them for help. If you just ask you may find that you have all the help you need to bring your new child into this world.

2. Remember it is normal to have negative thoughts: When you're surprised with a pregnancy every thought you have about your upcoming bundle of joy may not be positive. That's okay. Being pregnant alone takes a toll on your body with morning sickness, fatigue, stretch marks, and more. It is understandable that you might have a few negative thoughts about having to go through all of that unplanned.

3. Don't panic: It may not feel like you have any time to get ready for the baby, but you have nine months. All you really need to worry about are the important things like a bed for your baby, diapers, clothes, and a few supplies. If you cut back on a few of the extras you splurge on you will find the money you need to get what you need for your upcoming baby.

Celebrity Parenting: Find Out What Carrie Underwood Is Doing Differently as a Second-Time Mom

By Mara Miller

In celebrity news, celebrity parenting isn't Carrie Underwood's first rodeo. She was already a celebrity mom to four-year-old Isaiah Michael before she welcomed celebrity baby Jacob Bryan in January, according to People.com. Little Jacob has joined his celebrity parents and big brother on Underwood's Cry Pretty 360 arena tour. While it might be a popular notion that second-time moms naturally have it together by the second child, Underwood admitted it isn't the case for her. Her two boys look different, with her newborn's unique strawberry blonde hair while her eldest son's hair is darker. She also finds herself worrying more over Jacob. Underwood even revealed that she schedules a time to cry when she feels overwhelmed. "Sometimes I feel like I just need to cry, for no reason, and there's not anything that happened," she says. "I've learned to be okay with that, whereas five or 10 years ago I would have been like 'Oh my God, something's wrong with me!'"

Celebrity parenting comes with the same challenges the rest of us face. What are some tips you can learn from your first-time parenting mistakes?

Cupid's Advice:

You're on your second kid, or maybe even your third. You've had time to learn what not to do, or maybe you need a nudge in the right direction because you feel like scheduling a cry. Cupid has advice on parenting tips you can learn from your first-time parenting mistakes:

1. Don't take advice from everyone: You need to do your own thing when it comes to parenting. Many people—family and friends included—will have opinions on things like how much you should feed your kids, when they should go to bed, or when you should stop breastfeeding. You need to do what you feel is right for the well-being of your children.

2. You overestimate free-time: Um, free time? What's that? Unless you have a baby sitter or your spouse is willing to stay with the kids while you pursue your passions, there is no such thing as free time now that you're a parent until the kids are in school...and that's a maybe unless it's scheduled. Time management is now key so you don't drive yourself crazy because it helps you see how much time you actually have in a day.

3. Don't put yourself last: Even though you might feel overwhelmed and feel like you never have free time anymore, you have to realize putting yourself last is a big no-no. As mentioned, time management will help you see how much time you actually have so you can soak in the bathtub or go out to dinner with your friends. Even moms need breaks.

By Emily Green

In celebrity baby news, it seems Elin Nordegren has as serious thing for professional athletes! What are some ways to determine your “type” of partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Despite what people may say, everyone has a specific “type” of partner they tend to go for when looking for a relationship. Whether your type is blonde hair and blue eyes, athletes, or only people who went to college, everyone has their own preferences! You just have to experience different types of people, and then you will learn what your type is. Here is Cupid's advice to figuring out what "type" of partner you're looking for:

1. Know yourself before you try to know someone else: Before you assume what you think you need in a partner, take a step back and analyze your own personality. Are you talkative? Are you funny? Are you a workaholic? Figure out your own personality traits and find what will match best with who you are.

Pregnancy is a wonderful time for mothers-to-be, but there's no denying the added stress of growing another life. Staying relaxed can help ensure a healthy and complication free pregnancy. Here are some ways to eliminate stress:

1. Get enough rest: getting the recommended 8-10 hours is essential to your mood and the babies health. Lack of sleep throws off your bodies regulatory hormones and adds to stress.

By Katie Sotack

In celebrity news, Bachelor alum, Arie Luyendyk Jr, and wife Lauren Burnham are putting up a united front when it comes to their child. Celebrity parent Lauren left her one week old home for a luncheon with her sister. Social media users attacked, claiming Lauren left baby Alessi too fast, but Arie has come to his wife's defense. According to UsMagazine.com, the star responded that it was his idea and "[t]o all the negative comments regarding leaving her with grandma for a 45min lunch, cut her some slack!"

In celebrity news, Arie is coming to the defense of his wife's parenting decision. Why is providing a unified front as parents so important?

Cupid's Advice:

Parenting is hard enough as it is. If partners aren't on the same page publicly, it leaves room for all the nosy nobodies who claim to know better for your baby. A unified front is essential to a clear message for both your child and others. Here are some ways to hone that message:

1. Back your baby mama/daddy: It's important to demonstrate agreement in front of others and have each other's backs. Even if you're not 100% sold on their decision leave that discussion for a more private time.

both a job and child(ren). Cupid has some tips on how to juggle the two:

Here are some of Cupid's tips to keeping the spark alive in your relationship when you have multiple kids:

1. Make time for yourselves: As much as you love your kids, you have to admit after watching them for hours on end, you leave yourself feeling very drained. Have you and your partner set a day perhaps every other week where you go out on a date or try something new.

Celebrity Baby News: 'Bachelor' Stars Arie Luyendyk Jr. & Lauren Burnham Welcome a Baby Girl

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity baby news, Bachelor stars Arie

Luyendyk Jr. and Lauren Burnham are parents. According to People.com, Luyendyk confirmed on Wednesday that the pair welcomed their first child together, a beautiful baby girl. After meeting and falling in love on The Bachelor, the celebrity couple has maintained their relationship in the public eye throughout the pregnancy, although they have not yet released the baby's name.

The latest celebrity baby news is that this Bachelor couple welcomed a baby daughter. What are some ways to work on your relationship while at the same time having a young child?

Cupid's Advice:

Having children is a beautiful gift, but that does not mean being a parent with young children is easy. Add the stress of now having a young child who solely relies on their parents to your relationship and you might find yourself asking how your relationship will survive. Cupid has some advice to keep your relationship working after having kids:

1. Have adult conversations: Just because you have a child doesn't mean all of your conversations have to revert to baby talk. You still need to communicate with each other, and as much as your young child is a very important part of your lives, they cannot be the only thing you discuss. Don't cut out your conversations just because you have a child, even if time alone is limited just have your conversations in front of your child because they will likely interrupt even if you try to take a moment and step out of the room.

2. Work as a team: It is important for both parties in a relationship to remember that you both had a child, and that means sharing more than those adorable baby grins. It means that you need to share the work with each other. You both have to help with the fun parts and the bad parts like when they have a meltdown. Be a united front when your child is having a tantrum because it will only add to your stress if you are not on the same team.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby News: Backstreet Boys' Nick Carter and Wife Are Expecting Baby No. 2

3. You both deserve time out: Every parent needs an occasional break. A break from your partner and even the occasional break from your child. We all need a little me time now and again. Give each other that time out and away to just be alone and revel in their own thoughts. Even though this time alone may seem like a strange way to help work on your relationship, your partner will love you for offering them a break.

traveling with a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

The standard recommendation is to wait until your baby is at least one month old before traveling, although some doctors recommend waiting until your little one is four to six months old so his or her immune system has enough time to become strong. Cupid has gathered some tips that might help if you do decide to travel:

1. Breastfeed if you can: Breastfeed your baby when he or she gets hungry. You don't need to be shy about where you breastfeed and you won't need to lug around any extra gear.

In the latest celebrity news, Teen Mom 2 alum Jenelle Evans and her husband David Eason lost custody of Evans' three children on Tuesday, May 28, according to UsMagazine.com. The celebrity couple went before a judge in North Carolina, who ruled that Evans "failed to protect the children while in her care," which resulted in her oldest son (9), and daughter (2) being placed in the care of Evans' mother, while her youngest son (4) will stay with his biological father.

These celebrity parents lost custody of their kids after legal proceedings. What are three ways to keep custody battles from affecting your children?

Cupid's Advice:

Custody battles are hard times for any family. They can put enormous stress on not only the parents involved, but the children as well. Here are some of Cupid's tips to make sure that custody battles don't affect your children:

1. Remind them that it is not their fault: Some children may think that their parents splitting up may be because of something they did. Make sure your children know that they did nothing wrong, and the argument at hand is between you and your former partner, and they had no cause in getting to this point.

Related Link: Celebrity Exes Brad Pitt & Angelina Jolie Reach Child Custody Agreement

2. Tell them you love them: While you and your former partner may not be on good terms anymore, make sure your children know that no matter the outcome, it does not mean you don't love them any less. Even if your children won't be living with you after the fact, have them know that you will always be with them in their hearts, even if you are not able to be there physically.

3. Remind them and yourself, that this is in their best interest: A custody battle would not be occurring without

Celebrity Baby News: Roger Mathews Defends Estranged Wife Jenni 'JWoww' Farley Amid Parenting Criticism

By Emily Green

In the latest celebrity baby news, Roger Mathews of Jersey Shore, defends his estranged wife Jenni 'JWoww' Farley via Instagram on Monday, in the midst of an overflow of negative comments regarding their co-parenting skills. These negative comments come after new celebrity couple Farley and boyfriend, Zack Clayton Carpinello, were seen celebrating Memorial Day in Las Vegas, according to UsMagazine.com.

In celebrity baby news, Roger Mathews is supporting his ex JWoww through criticism about their parenting. What are some ways to keep parenting criticism from affecting your children?

Cupid's Advice:

As a parent, receiving any criticism about how you are raising your children can be hard to hear, especially if it's from an outside source. These criticisms can make you begin to question if you are truly raising your children in the "right way." Every parent has their own unique way that they want their children to be raised. Here are Cupid's advice on remembering that your parenting style is the "right way" for you:

1. Ask yourself about their intentions: Some parents are what some would call "too confident" in their parenting style, thinking their way is the only right way to raise a child. Consider where their criticism is coming from: are they a random stranger that wants you to do things a certain way, or are they a close friend or family member offering advice? Through experience, you will find the parenting style that works best for you and your family.

Related Link: Parenting Advice: 4 Types of Parenting Styles

2. Everyone is different: No parents are going to have the exact same type of parenting as others. Every household is different, with different parents and children, with different morals and ideals. If you are not sure about how to go about a situation, that's okay! Reach out to your partner, any close friends or family members, even do some research! It takes time to figure out exactly how you want to raise your children, so don't be afraid to try new things or ask for help.

Related Link: Parenting Tips: Apply Research to the Practice of Parenting

3. You know your children best: No one knows your children better than YOU! You've been the one who has seen them grow up first hand, so you know how they react and adapt to certain situations and experiences. If you want to change up something in your parenting to better fit your family, that's fine! Just stick to what you know will benefit your family, don't conform to any criticisms from any outside perspective. You know what is best!

Celebrity Baby News: Backstreet Boys' Nick Carter and Wife Are Expecting Baby No. 2

By Bonnie Griffin

In celebrity baby news, Backstreet Boys' Nick Carter and wife, Lauren Kitt, are expecting their second child. This celebrity couple seems to be very excited to have their second baby on the way.

In celebrity baby news, baby makes four! What are some benefits to having two kids versus just one?

Cupid's Advice:

Having one child might seem easy, but having two means your children will have a friend for life. There are also added social benefits to having a second child. Cupid has some benefits to share that might have you thinking twice about stopping after baby number one:

1. Your children learn how to socialize and share with others:

When you have a second child, both will have to learn to get along and share with each other because they don't have much of a choice. Siblings are in each other's lives all day, every day for the first few years of their lives. This social interaction will help them when it is time to go to school and start making friends.

2. They will have a life-long friend: Siblings may fight, and they may suffer from sibling rivalry from time to time, but they will also play together and love each other. They will be each other's first friend, and friends for life.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby News: Shawn Johnson is Expecting a Year and a Half After Miscarriage

3. You are an expert now: With baby number one you had so much to learn, and you had to learn it fast. You disinfected everything, washed your hands so often they were like sandpaper, and packed half of the household whenever you left the house. However, with baby #2 you already know what you're doing because your first child taught you to be an expert, so you know what's coming with sleepless nights, feeding, and everything else involved with having a baby.

According to what a source told EOnline.com, Evan and Eason are “hoping to get [their] kids back in time for summer.” The children were taken after allegations that Eason killed their family dog, Nugget. The celebrity couple plan to seek counseling after they regain custody of their children and life begins getting back to normal.

These celebrity parents are fighting for custody of their kids. What are some ways to avoid a custody battle amid a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Splitting up when you have children doesn't need to result in a custody battle. If both parents agree to be reasonable, then a custody agreement can be made without ending up in a conflict. Cupid has some advice to keep things amicable:

1. Get informed: A good place to start working towards an amicable custody agreement is to become informed in your state's custody laws. Learn what "a child's best interest" means based on the laws in your state because that is what the court will base their decisions on when it comes to the custody of your children.

2. Ask your family attorney questions: Your children are the most important people in a custody case, so don't be afraid to ask your attorney lots of questions, and do not let them pacify you with vague answers. This will not only help you better understand the matter at hand, helping you become more informed but will prepare you for all possibilities and help you fulfill the role of being reasonable so you can avoid an ugly battle in court.

3. Be open to working with your ex: Just like you want to spend time with your children, to be there for them and meet their needs, so does your ex. Children want and need both of their parents, so be reasonable when making demands during custody litigation and keep in mind that your children need time with you and your ex.

Celebrity Parents: Eva Mendes & Ryan Gosling Are Running Into Trouble Teaching Their Daughters Spanish

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity baby news, celebrity parents Eva Mendes and Ryan Gosling are discovering that children learn the language they hear the most. According to EOnline.com, Mendes, who is Cuban, wants her children to learn Spanish, but the actress is finding that what the children are actually learning is Spanglish. Mendez told The Talk that she speaks “Spanglish, and that’s what they’re picking up. So it’s adorable, but it’s technically not a language.” Even celebrity children say the darndest things.

Even celebrity parents have issues with various parenting efforts! What are three tips for teaching your child a foreign language?

Cupid’s Advice:

Teaching children a foreign language can be difficult, but if you start when they are young and remain consistent, you can teach them to be bilingual. Cupid has some advice:

1. Start teaching them while they are young: Young children have minds that absorb knowledge like a sponge. If you teach your child both languages from the beginning, they will learn quickly. When children are first learning to really speak, typically at ages 2 to 3, they can learn words quickly, even in two languages.

2. Teach them one word at a time: While formal lessons are an option, they are not a necessity to teach your child a foreign language. Use pictures and objects to teach them one word at a time, teaching them that the object or picture can be called two different things – one in each language they are learning.

3. Communicate with them in the second language: Choose specific times throughout the day where you communicate using the second language. Another option for this method is to have one parent communicate in English while the other communicates with their child in the foreign language they are learning. Consistency is key when your child is learning another language.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelor' Alum Ashley Spivey Reveals She Suffered a Miscarriage

By Bonnie Griffin

In celebrity baby news, The Bachelor alum Ashley Spivey shared her celebrity pregnancy story of suffering through a miscarriage in what was a “very wanted pregnancy.” According to UsMagazine.com, Spivey learned of the pregnancy early on, but the devastating news came only two weeks later when her doctor revealed that “the embryo actually had shrunk and the doctor concluded that [she] was experiencing a miscarriage.”

In celebrity news, Ashley Spivey is dealing with the devastation of a miscarriage. What are some ways to support your partner during pregnancy difficulties?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy difficulties leave broken hearts and scars for both parties in a relationship. Remember to support one another during this devastating time, without trying to find fixes that will only prolong the pain. Cupid has some advice:

1. Understand there is no quick fix: Losing a child or finding out you are unable to get pregnant is a devastating loss for anyone trying to become a parent. When someone we love is in pain, the knee-jerk reaction is to find a way to fix the problem, but there is no quick fix for a loss this painful. Like the loss of any loved one, only time will bring healing, so give yourself and your partner time to grieve and the healing will come naturally.

2. Do not jump into discussing having other children: When a mother has a miscarriage, to her she just lost a unique child, and that child is irreplaceable. It may seem like telling her that she can always have another baby offers reassurance, but it will likely only add to her pain and frustration. Instead, just support her by showing and telling her that you love her and staying by her side as long as she needs you there.

3. Be supportive and lift her back up: When a woman goes through a miscarriage or learns she is unable to get pregnant and have children, it often leads her to thoughts that she is broken. Whether she expresses this feeling out loud or not, it is common, and she needs her partner to be there for her. Hold her, love her, tell her she is not to blame and that it is not her fault.

Cupid’s Advice:

We all change to some degree after we become parents or are about to become parents. Here are some ways it can happen:

1. Saturdays: Remember when you used to love sleeping in late and then hoofed it straight to the coffee pot only to binge watch your favorite show? You might have even treated yourself to a donut instead of a full-blown breakfast. Those days are now a thing of the past with little ones, which are reserved for morning cartoons and whipping up a full morning meal.

2. You’ll make decisions differently: Before kids you might have been able to make a decision on a whim. No longer can you quit your job on a whim, plan a vacation across the United States, or decide to eat seven layer dip and tortillas for dinner—you’ll question every move you make, asking, “how will this affect my child?”

3. You've never loved someone this much: You love your partner, but you love your child so much more. Or you'll play with them on the playground even if you keep running out of breath.

It can be difficult to know if you or your partner are ready to have a child together. But there are always signs to look out for that indicate whether your partner will be a good parent:
