Rebecca White

Oscars buzz is beginning to die down, but of course, there is even more celebrity news and gossip that is making headlines. According to UsMagazine.com, celebrity exes Ben Affleck and Jennifer Lopez reunited at the awards show during one of the commercial breaks, playfully joking around. We were all heartbroken when the famous couple had their celebrity break-up in 2004, but there's no need to worry: They've kept in touch via email for the last decade. If only all splits were this civil!

It can be awkward for celebrity exes when they see one another again. How can you remain civil if you bump into your former flame?

Cupid's Advice:

Running in to an old flame may be awkward – but not for celebrity exes Affleck and Lopez. Try to model your uncomfortable experience after this Hollywood couple, and you'll be keeping in touch just like they do without any hard feelings.

1. Bring a friend: In the first few years after the relationship ends, it may be smart to bring a friend with you when you know you're going to interact with your ex. Having a wing woman or wing man will help you refocus the conversation if things turn sour.

2. Don't compete: After a break-up, people often feel the need to compete with one another, bringing dates to parties and going places just to show your ex how happy you are. Don't use your relationship and love life as a competition; it will only leave you feeling upset and emotionally exhausted.

3. Leave the past in the past: This is one of the best ways to remain civil with an ex. Focus all conversation on the present and the future: what you've been up to, how your family is, etc. That way, past feelings will be left in the past for both exes.

Celebrity Break-Up: Did Josh Murray Split with Former 'Bachelorette' Andi Dorfman for More Reality TV Fame?

By

Emma L. Wells

Fans of The Bachelorette have been wondering why Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray called off their engagement. According to HollywoodLife.com, these celebrity exes were more interested in reality TV fame than in each other. Apparently, Murray never even wanted to win The Bachelorette season 10! “During the filming of the show, the producers kept telling Josh that if Andi didn’t pick him, he would be the next Bachelor,” a source said. “So he has been resentful towards Andi because he knows he could have been in the limelight as The Bachelor, so now [that he’s single] he is going to make a play to try to be the next Bachelor. Even though they are telling their friends [their split] was mutual, he ended it.” The source went on to say that there was an attraction between the reality TV stars, but in the end, they were more interested in being famous than being with each other.

Celebrity exes Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray may have put their reality TV fame first, costing them their relationship and love. How can you keep your career goals from getting in the way of your personal life?

A fulfilling career doesn’t mean you have to give up a relationship and love, and similarly, a healthy relationship doesn’t mean you have to sacrifice your career. Cupid has some dating advice on how to achieve this balance so your love life doesn’t turn out like this celebrity break-up:

- 1. Include your partner: If your career is a big part of your life, then you shouldn’t hide it from your significant other.

Tell them about your job and invite them to work functions. Your partner should be part of your support system.

‘The Bachelor’ Season 19
Contestants Treat a Relationship and Love with

Chris Soules Like a Game

By

Emma L. Wells

You know what they say: Two's a party, but three's a painfully awkward and quiet crowd. Kelsey and Ashley I. weren't exactly audience favorites on The Bachelor season 19, but it certainly was enjoyable to watch them face-off on a two-on-one date during last night's episode of this popular reality TV show. Rather than using their alone time with Chris Soules to grow their relationships and love, the ladies complained and gossiped about each other. According to Fox News, The Bachelor star saw through their games and took their accusations seriously, ultimately sending both women home.

The Bachelor* season 19 contestants

Kelsey and Ashley I. played Chris Soules like a prize to be won during their two-on-one date. Why can playing games cause more harm than good to your relationship and love?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating can often feel like a game; after all, there's players and a field, scores and a strategy. But it can be harder to reach your goal and find a relationship and love if you get too wrapped up in the sport. Here's why you should take Cupid's dating advice and stop playing games when it comes to love:

1. It's not a competition: If you're out to win the game like these two contestants from The Bachelor season 19, you'll never win his heart. Ask yourself what winning would even look like to you. If you're always focused on the final outcome, you can't enjoy the here and now properly. You'll end up missing the best parts of your own relationship!

Related Link: Screwing the Rules Video Dating Advice: How 'The Bachelor' Is Changing the Reality of Dating

2. You don't need a strategy: While there are some helpful tips to playing the field, the most important rule to follow is trusting your heart. Make moves based on your own emotions and don't feel like you have to play hard to get. You can't expect to have a real partnership if you're not acting like your true self. Remember that if it doesn't work out, then it's not meant to be.

3. The stakes are real: If you're out to just play the field, you'll never find something serious, and you'll most certainly end up hurting someone along the way. When dating, the stakes are high. You should have some idea of what you want in a relationship before you dive into it, and you should be honest about your priorities as you go along.

Wiz Khalifa Calls Celebrity Ex Amber Rose a 'Foul Creature' on Twitter

By

Maggie Manfredi

The hits just keep on coming! According to UsMagazine.com, celebrity exes Wiz Khalifa and Amber Rose are partaking in a pretty heated Twitter battle, and there's no end in sight. The pair filed for a celebrity divorce back in September, and it has been anything, but smooth since the split. The rapper tweeted out on Feb. 4 saying, "A woman who would do something to a kid to spite that kids father is a foul creature." These celebrity exes have repeatedly used Twitter to express their celebrity break-up feelings for the world to see.

What are some ways to keep your break-up gossip-free, unlike celebrity exes Wiz Khalifa and Amber Rose?

Cupid's Advice:

"Breaking up is hard to do," as the song goes. But Cupid has some tips on how to make it easier for yourself with less drama between you and your ex:

1. Avoid social media: Khalifa and Rose definitely didn't abide by this piece of dating advice, but it's very important to keep your dirty laundry un-aired. When you're angry, you will no doubt say some things you'll later regret, and there's really no reason to involve the public in your private disputes. Go for a walk or hit the gym if you feel the urge to complain on Twitter.

2. Consider talking to a third party: A lot of people hear the word "therapist" and think the worst, but it's not a bad idea to air your grievances to a third party instead of complaining to those around you and stirring up drama. Even if it's not an official therapist, find someone who doesn't know your story and has no investment in the outcome of your life.

3. Take steps to move on: One of the best ways to keep your break-up gossip-free is to move on instead of focusing on your heartbreak. This doesn't necessarily mean jumping into the dating pool again prematurely, but signing up for a sporting event or book club isn't a bad idea. Focusing on a new hobby will keep your mind off of the negative things happening in your life.

Celebrity Break-up: Are ‘The Bachelorette’ Reality TV Stars Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray Fighting on Twitter?

By

Emma L. Wells

The celebrity news that reality TV stars Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray split came as a shock to many. While we still don't know what caused this celebrity break-up, they have remained very amicable – but that might be changing. At the end of January, Murray tweeted, “Having to change all my passwords because someone keeps logging into my social media accounts SMH.” This left us wondering: Is former Bachelorette Dorfman cyber stalking her celebrity ex? Her response came very quickly – only 9 minutes later according to thestir.cafemom.com. She replied, “Join the club ... Got better things to do with my life #blessed.” While we can’t say for certain who these tweets are directed at or what they really mean, we can assume that there’s some tension following this celebrity break-up.

These reality TV stars seemed friendly after their celebrity break-up, but it looks like their claws are coming out now! How can you move on after a split?

Cupid’s Advice:

It’s common to still be emotionally attached your ex after your relationship has ended, making it hard to move on. Moving forward is a process and won’t happen overnight, but Cupid has some dating advice that will (hopefully) make it easier:

1. Remember that no one wins: These Bachelorette exes may feel a little competition at this point in their celebrity break-up. While it’s natural to want to “win” by looking better, dating someone new first, and making sure the news of your success gets back to your ex, there’s really no point. Focus on making yourself happy instead of making your ex jealous.

Related Link: ‘The Bachelorette’ Season 10 Couple Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray Call It Quits

2. End all contact: It’s hard to let go of your connections to your ex, whether they be in real life or digital. If you’ve had a meaningful and serious relationship, you probably don’t want to lose those memories. Still, moving on means looking forward, not backward, and constant reminders about your former beau will only make it difficult. While it may be difficult, cut your ties on social media and in real life too. You can consider a possible friendship after you've had some time apart.

3. Learn something from it: You may feel like you wasted your time with your ex or that it was all a big mistake, but you probably have a few good memories too, even if the relationship ended badly. Give your past relationship purpose by learning from it and allowing the experience to make you a better person. It'll be easier to feel happier if you don't regret your decisions.

in the midst of turmoil?

Cupid's Advice:

Keeping the drama to a minimum is tough when you're in the midst of a break-up and feeling tense. Cupid has some tips on how to stay calm:

1. Stay off social media: The last thing you want to do during a break-up is cause even more tension and turmoil, which is exactly what spreading your feelings all over social media will do. 2. Respect your ex's privacy: A relationship means intimacy, admiration, and love. Even when the other elements fade, make sure that you continue to show respect, like these celebrity exes did. Don't share your former partner's secrets or betray the trust bestowed upon you during your relationship.

3. Talk about it: If things get bad and messy post-relationship, sit down and talk about it. Otherwise, your feelings will only fester, and you'll lose perspective on the situation. Maturity is an important factor in having a relationship, so continue that trait even after your break-up.

'The Bachelor' Host Chris Harrison Says He "Had No Clue" Andi Dorfman & Josh Murray Would Break Up

By

Rebecca White

Recently, the latest celebrity news and gossip centered on the sudden celebrity break-up of The Bachelorette couple Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray. According to UsMagazine.com, Chris Harrison, the host of The Bachelor, said he had no idea that the celebrity couple was about to split. When Harrison saw the soon-to-be celebrity exes, he asked about their wedding plans in an interview. "By no means did I know they were broken up and did that interview, because honestly, having been through a crappy breakup, I would've protected it more and stayed away from wedding talk and I wouldn't have put them on the spot," Harrison told TV Guide. Although Harrison usually knows the drama between The Bachelor contestants, he seemed out of the loop on this one!

Life isn't filled with as much drama as you see on 'The Bachelor,' but what are some ways to keep it out of your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

There are some relationships and love affairs where drama seems to take over and is almost unavoidable. Here are steps that you can take to minimize the amount of drama that you let into each conversation or fight.

1. Recognize when you might be creating drama: By recognizing that you might be creating some of the theatrics in your relationship, you allow yourself to scale back and understand that maybe everything doesn't need to be so over the top. Try to analyze why you might be creating drama in your own love life, and aim to find different solutions for the attention and adventure you might be seeking.

2. Change your perspective: It is also important to realize that maybe some of the issues are just happening in your head. Have a conversation with your partner in order to see where these problems are coming from and how they interpret the situation.

3. Don't feed other people's drama: When your partner starts to create unnecessary drama, don't fight back just yet. Let them cool down and have a breather. After they settle down, you two can discuss the true problem without getting into a fight. While our lives may not be as dramatic as celebrity exes, Dorfman and Murray, we can still minimize drama whenever possible!

Tom Arnold Bashes Malin Akerman's Ex-Husband Roberto Zincone

By

Jessica DeRubbo

It seems Tom Arnold isn't a fan of Malin Akerman's ex-husband Roberto Zincone, according to UsMagazine.com. Arnold stars with Akerman in Yahoo's new series Sin City Saints. In an interview with Howard Stern, he gave his opinion about the celebrity exes. He said, "You know, her husband, they're together 10 years, they have a baby, [and] four months in, he's like, 'I'm done.' So she not only pays him alimony to take care of this guy, but I watched her as a mother, and I was like, 'This is the most inspiring woman. I'm not gonna complain about anything in my life.' Because she is incredible. She is an inspiration."

Celebrity exes aren't the only ones with continuing drama surrounding past relationships. What are some ways to keep the drama with your ex to a minimum?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to breakups, there's usually a good reason they happened. So, there are no doubt hard feelings and bitterness involved. Cupid has some relationship advice to keep the drama with your ex from showing its ugly face too often:

1. Recognize when you're creating drama: You may be creating drama, and you don't even know it. Really take the time to evaluate your actions and words, and cut out those actions and words that spark controversy with your ex. You probably know all of the buttons to push to make your ex angry, and you want to stay as far away from those as possible.

2. Change your perspective: Instead of focusing on your ex and your breakup, be happy about the things that are going well in your life right now. You can't change the fact that you dated your ex and that things didn't work out, but you can choose what you do moving forward.

3. Be clear and straight with your ex: If you have to keep the lines of communication open, do so in a straight and clear manner. Don't use extra words, because the more you talk, the more you're likely to let hurt feelings get into the mix. Keep things as neutral as possible.

'The Bachelorette' Winner Josh Murray Gets Out of Town with His Mom Following Split

By

Emma L. Wells

The Bachelorette winner Josh Murray knows there's nothing like a mother's love to help you heal. In a tweet on Jan. 12, he told followers he was headed to his hometown of Tampa, Florida with his mother after his celebrity breakup from Andi Dorfman. The couple, who met during season 10 of the popular reality TV show, announced their split in a joint statement earlier this month. Murray had been living in Atlanta, Georgia with Dorfman. According to UsMagazine.com, his mother, Lauren Goodhart Murray, flew to see her son after the news went public, and now, the two are driving south together. Dorfman's final pick also expressed excitement about seeing his beloved dog Sabel again.

Taking a cue from this celebrity breakup, what are some ways to cope with broken heart after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Breakups can be painful no matter the circumstances. It's important to give yourself enough time to grieve but not so much time that you start to wallow. You need to move on but not so quickly that you haven't fully healed yet. Cupid has some advice on how to handle a broken heart:

1. Surround yourself with people who care: There is nothing strange about wanting your mama when you are hurting, no matter how old you are. It's natural to feel lonely after a split. Being around people who see how wonderful you really are will help you see it too. Follow Murray's lead after his celebrity breakup and don't shut yourself off from the world! Take a weekend trip to see family or friends. Even though your significant other may no longer be in your life, you are not alone.

2. Be active: You know what they say: Out with the old, in with the new! Use this time of change to better yourself by starting a new hobby or interest. Try taking a cooking or dance class or learning a new language. Exercise classes can be especially beneficial because of the endorphins your body releases when you workout. Get your mind off your hurt by setting a goal and hitting the gym.

3. Invest in yourself: You've just gone from being part of a twosome to being single again; you need time to adjust to that kind of change. Remember your awesomeness comes from within, not from your partner. Take yourself out for a day of you! Do the things you love, things that you couldn't do when you were in a relationship.

Celebrity breakups can lead to some awkward confrontations. What are some ways to keep things civil like these celebrity exes did at the Golden Globes?

Cupid's Advice:

While it may be awkward at first to remain amicable with a past partner, you can take a cue from celebrity exes Witherspoon and Gyllenhaal. Even if the relationship ended on negative terms, Cupid has some advice on how to keep breakup emotions from spiraling out of control:

1. Smile and be friendly: Just putting in the extra effort to smile and make small talk during an awkward encounter with an ex, is all it takes to keep things civil. Try to remember that you are both moving on, if you haven't already.

‘Bachelorette’ Season 10 Couple Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray Call it Quits

By

Emma L. Wells

Another one bites the dust! Earlier this week, reality TV couple Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray announced that they have ended their engagement. In a joint statement published by People.com, the pair, who met and fell in love during The Bachelorette season 10, said, "After several months of being engaged and working on our relationship, we have decided that it's best for both of us to go our separate ways. We are very sad that it has to come to this point, but this is what's best for both of us individually." The news of this celebrity breakup was a shock to many, as the couple appeared happy during their red carpet interview prior to Monday night's premiere of The Bachelor.

In light of this surprising celebrity breakup, how can you handle questions about your sudden split?

Cupid's Advice:

The trickiness and difficulty of a breakup doesn't necessarily end as soon as you and your significant other call it quits. After you admit that it's over, you then have to tell your loved ones. So how do you stay diplomatic when your friends want to hear about the drama? Cupid has some tips:

- 1. Just say "no comment": Breakups are private and potentially very painful for the parties involved, so there's nothing wrong with telling a questioner that it's none of their business. However, it's usually best to put it as nicely as possible. Thank the person for their concern and then simply say that it's a private affair and that you'd rather not talk about it.

2. Avoid pointing fingers: In most situations, a split is not the fault of just one person. Take a cue from this celebrity breakup and do your best not to place blame on your ex. After all, listing the faults of your former partner post-breakup isn't going to make you look any better.

3. Be on the same page: Right after your split, this may seem near impossible, but in the coming months, it will help the situation if you remain amicable. You can avoid drama by making sure your stories match and your facts are true. Have a quick conversation and answer the question, "What are we going to tell people?" This will eliminate a lot of the confusion friends and family may have about what happened and hopefully help dodge any hurt feelings by sharing something too private.

'The Bachelor' Star Nikki Ferrell Opens Up About Celebrity Breakup with Juan Pablo Galavis

By

Whitney Johnson

On the red carpet prior to Monday night's premiere of The Bachelor, former winner Nikki Ferrell opened up to host Chris Harrison about her celebrity breakup with Juan Pablo Galavis – and surprisingly she had nothing but nice things to say about her celebrity ex! According to UsMagazine.com, the pediatric nurse shared, “I’m not a quitter. I tried everything, and he tried too. It wasn’t just a one-side thing. We real-life tried, not TV-tried.” She added, “I knew I was never going to be the number one priority. He has a daughter...but there’s a difference between being the second priority and the seventh priority.”

Not everyone speaks so highly of their celebrity ex like ‘The Bachelor’ winner Nikki Ferrell. What are some factors to consider when someone asks you about your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Everyone handles a breakup differently. Maybe you want to hide under the covers and consume pint after pint of Ben & Jerry's Phish Food until your heart begins to heal. Or perhaps you can't help but spill intimate details about your relationship to anyone who will listen, including that stranger who sat next to you on the subway. So what is the best way to respond when someone asks you about your ex? Cupid has some tips:

1. Think before you speak: It's tempting to say exactly what's on your mind (nice or not) when it comes to chatting about your ex and your intense breakup. Instead, when you're alone, really think about your relationship and come up with a blanket statement to share with anyone who asks for more information. Take a cue from The Bachelor winner Ferrell and consider something as simple as, "We tried our best to make it work."

2. Keep private details to yourself: If you find yourself saying too much when family or friends inquire about your recent heartbreak, start a journal. Writing down your emotions is a great way to share your feelings but still keep them private. That way, you'll be more in control of your thoughts when your loved ones want to know what happened!

3. Change the subject: If you're worried that you won't be able to stop talking about your former partner once you get going, just bring up a new topic! Politely say that you'd rather not talk about it and then ask about their holidays or if they've been watching the most recent season of The Bachelor. Easy!

Khloe Kardashian Opens Up About Dating French Montana After Split from Lamar Odom

By

Courtney Omernick

Khloe Kardashian is finally speaking out about her split from Lamar Odom and her rebound relationship with French Montana. The reality star admitted she “rushed” into a relationship with Montana after her split with basketball star, according to UsMagazine.com. She went on to say that the rapper is a good person, but that right now, she needs to mourn the loss of her marriage.

How do you know if your current relationship is a rebound?

Cupid’s Advice:

After the end of a relationship, it can be tough to know what to do with yourself, especially if you were with your ex for a long period of time. It can be lonely! That being said, it’s important to begin a new relationship for the right reasons and not just so you can have companionship. So how can you tell if you’re rebounding? Cupid has some ideas:

1. You don’t care about the other person: Your new significant other makes you feel great and does all of the right things, for the right reasons, at the right time. Unfortunately, you don’t feel a spark, and if they said goodbye tomorrow, it wouldn’t be a big deal. If you’re only in your current relationship because you like how you’re being treated, but you’re not interested in reciprocating, think about moving on.
