How do you rebuild independence after a long relationship ends?

Cupid’s Advice:

When a relationship strengthens over time, so does your dependence on your partner. Here are a few ways to rebuild your independence after a break up:

1. Take control of your money: In long relationships, it's not uncommon to have shared bank accounts and investments. Separating your funds from your partner's is one of the quickest ways to reassert your independence.

2. Be wary of mutual friends: After a long time with your partner, the two of you most likely have mutual friends. Though it can be disheartening, strictly sorting your friends post-breakup will help you move on. Contact with mutual friends will only remind you of your ex.

3. Visit your family: One of the best ways to heal after a break-up is by visiting your friends and family. Those closest to you will help you remember how you were before your relationship and will also help you move forward.

What are some ways to get out and meet potential partners?

Cupid's Advice:

Not all of us can land a career as an actor, so us "normal" folk have to use other methods. Cupid has some advice:

What are some ways to cope in the midst of a stressful divorce?

Cupid’s Advice:

Going through a divorce can be a hectic and stress-inducing. Here are some ways to make process more relaxing:

1. Give yourself a break: Getting a divorce is not an easy task, and it will take a toll on you emotionally and physically. Take the day or a weekend to get away and indulge in some quality ‘you’ time. Do something that makes you happy.

2. Don’t isolate yourself: Don’t bottle everything up, because you’ll inevitably explode. Talk to your friends and family about how you’re feelings and what you’re going through. Join a support group where you can talk to people going through the same thing. Don’t be afraid to get help.

3. Remember things will get easier: You may be stressed out now, and things might only seem to be getting worse, but it will get better. Allow yourself to feel the pain you’re experiencing so you can get it all out and start fresh.

Justin Bieber Baby Scandal May Require DNA Test

Justin Bieber might need to offer proof. The teenage popstar, who is currently dating Selena Gomez, may need to take a court-ordered paternity test in light of 20 year-old Mariah Yeater's claims that Bieber fathered her child, reports People. Though Bieber denies ever meeting Yeater, her attorneys assure the court that they have credible evidence proving Bieber's relationship to the child. "The judge has to weigh two things: Bieber's right to privacy versus the child's right to know who the father is," said L.A. family law attorney Steve Mindel. "Unless the judge thinks the woman made everything up, the court will likely order the test as the quickest resolution."

How do you combat false infidelity rumors when you're in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Dealing with false rumors can be difficult and damaging. Here are a few ways to combat the false accusations:

1. Defend yourself: When a false rumor presents itself, deny the rumor. Offer credible evidence in your defense, and prove your innocence.

2. Confront the source: If you know who is spreading the rumors, confront them. Tell the source that you find the remarks hurtful. Many times the people who start rumors do not realize the effect they will have.

3. Stop reacting: If the above steps prove ineffective, then stop reacting to the rumors. Eventually, the source of the rumors will tire and the false claims will subside.

Justin Bieber Denies Fathering a Baby

Baby, baby, baby

noooo way! The 20-year-old Californian told STAR magazine that she and Bieber, 17, had sex backstage at a show in L.A. She gave birth to her son three months ago, and has filed a paternity lawsuit against the young pop sensation. How do you handle others' claims that your partner is cheating?

Cupid's Advice:

Hearing that your partner is cheating on you is humiliating and infuriating. If you're told your partner's been sneaking around, here's some ways to react:

1. Get the facts: Don't believe everything you hear without finding out exactly what people are saying, and who's saying it. Rumors get twisted, but they have to start somewhere. Get your facts and your sources straightened out, and then proceed to deal with the situation.

2. Confront the source: If someone tells you that your partner is cheating, turn around and directly ask your significant other. It might be difficult, but usually that fear comes because we're afraid of their answer. Make sure that you don't back down too easily if they try to persuade you otherwise. They've lost your trust, and they need to win it back by proving themselves.

3. Don't act irrationally: Just because you hear that your partner has cheated, that doesn't mean you should try to even the score by cheating on them. All previous trust within the relationship will vanish, and repair may be impossible, especially if your partner ends up being innocent. Wait until you're positive your partner is cheating, and then handle the situation maturely, whether that's breaking up or choosing to work things out.

Etiquette Expert Says Kim Kardashian Should Return Wedding Gifts

According to Lizzie Post, an etiquette expert and author of Emily Post's Etiquette 18th Edition, Kim Kardashian's plan to give her wedding gifts to charity following her divorce from Kris Humphries is the wrong decision. Post does stress, however, that she's certainly not against charitable giving, according to People. "I don't want to come across as saying that charity wouldn't be a great way to handle it," she says. "It's just that in that case, you're making a charitable donation on someone else's behalf under your name." She goes on to say that Kardashian would come across as seeming undeservingly "generous" and will get a bit tax write-off because of it. The right way to handle it, she recommends, is returning the gifts to the givers.

If your marriage dissolves quickly, what do you do with the gifts?

Cupid's Advice:

It's an unfortunate circumstance with which to deal, but when your marriage doesn't last past the first few months, it's important to know what to do with the gifts you received at the wedding. Here are some options:

1. Charity: If you think your guests would be offended at getting their gifts back, consider donating them to charity like Kim Kardashian. Just because Lizzie Post doesn't think it's the proper thing to do, doesn't mean it's not the right decision for you.

2. Return to stores: One option is returning the gifts to the stores they came from, and then giving the money back to your former guests. This eliminates the need for them to go through the trouble to return the gifts themselves.

2. Return to guests: If you're lacking time and energy, send each of the gifts back to the respective givers. Make sure to include a note thanking them for their kind thoughts.

Why Kim Kardashian and Kris Humphries Are Calling It Quits

It was just a few weeks ago when over four million viewers tuned into E! to watch Kim's Fairytale Wedding, but it only took until the end of the month for the couple to split. They may have been newlyweds, but they were already bickering like an old married couple on the set of Kourtney and Kim Take New York. The fighting may have been too much for Kardashian, 31, who filed for divorce from Humphries, 26. After rushing their relationship with a quick engagement and wedding ceremony, along with the added pressures of filming the show, dealing with the media, and attempting to manage their busy conflicting schedules, their 72-day marriage has come to an end. "She rushed into it too fast," a source close to Kardashian told People. "She's holding it together. It's insanely troubling and heartbreaking, but it's a decision she knew had to be made."

How do you know when to call it quits in a marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Has staying true to your vows become a struggle? Here are some signs that it may be over:

1. You're beyond annoyed: If everything about your spouse irritates you and just the sight or sound of him makes you want to leave a room, it's not a good sign. If you find that all attraction has been lost emotionally and physically, you have to consider that you're no longer in a healthy relationship.

2. You verbally assault each other: As husband and wife, it is your job to support each other, but it can be difficult when every conversation turns into a fight. If you're frequently being critical and attacking each other's self-esteem with the goal to make your spouse feel dejected, then you've clearly lost respect for one another.

3. You're miserable: If you're unhappy with your spouse, and you feel like your life has hit rock bottom, it's time to move on. Get rid of the negative energy that's dragging you down, and don't let yourself become a prisoner to your own marriage. Regaining your independence may be the key to finding happiness again.

Do you need to defend yourself if rumors spread about your personal relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

You might’ve been told that when you ignore a rumor, it proves that it isn’t true. However, if you react to it, it’s a sign that you’re guilty. But when rumors spread about your personal relationship, it’s difficult to ignore. Here are some things to consider:

1. Your feelings: If the rumor will hurt your relationship, you may need to rise up and defend yourself. Doing nothing might do more damage to your emotional state.

2. Others in the rumor: When the rumor is hurting the other person who was mentioned in it, make sure everyone knows the truth. There's no reason to let suffering continue when the rumor is a lie.

3. Others' reputations: Defend yourself if this gossip will harm reputations. People work hard to establish themselves as a certain kind of person, and ruining that based on a lie isn't right.

How do you keep from getting caught up in the fantasy of a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

1. Take it slow: If your relationship is moving fast, take the time to stop and reevaluate. Don't rush into a marriage or committed relationship.

2. Too good to be true: If you and your partner are madly in love and haven't had any problems, this relationship could be too good to be true. The truth is, if it feels that way, chances are it is. A little disagreement in a relationship can be a good thing.

3. Take some time off: Being around someone all the time can cloud up your perspective. It's okay to take some time away from each other once in a while, whether that means going out with friends or spending weekends apart. You'll come back refreshed and missing your mate.

How do you know when your relationship lacks a spark?

Cupid’s Advice:

It's very common for your head to make decisions about relationships instead of your heart. Here are a few ways to know that your relationship lacks a spark:

1. You're not excited: After a few weeks of dating, some couples experience a slump in their relationship. However, for couples lacking a spark, this may never wear off.

2. You prefer groups: If you have more fun on group outings, like double dates or parties, than you do on one-on-one dates with your partner, then you should reevaluate your relationship.

3. You rationalize: If you find yourself supplying reasons why you should date your partner, then it's clear that your head – not your heart – is making decisions for you. Just because a partner seems like an ideal candidate on paper does not mean they're ideal in real life.

Rumor: J.Crew Trendsetter Jenna Lyons Leaves Husband for a Woman

Quirky J. Crew

President/Creative Director, Jenna Lyons, who made headlines last spring after appearing in a J.Crew ad painting her son's toenails pink, is now fighting over custody and finances during a divorce from her husband of nine years, Vincent Mazeau. With her $5 million yearly salary and coveted townhouse in Brooklyn, it's no wonder finances are such an issue in this split. According to People, Lyons is currently seeing Courtney Crangi, who runs the business side of her brother, Philip Crangi's, jewelry line.

What are some ways to compromise on finances and custody during a divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Hurt feelings are one thing, but finances can really make a divorce nasty. Here are some ways to deal with the money issue:

- 1. Work with the kids: No matter what you do, work out your finances in a way that is best for the kids.
- 2. Getting the house: It might be a good idea to sell the house and split the money evenly if you can't compromise about who gets it in the divorce agreement.

3. Personal wealth: Don't make a divorce any messier than it has to be by going after the bank account and assets that are only in your partner's name. Only split up the wealth you share jointly.

How do you keep distance from breaking up your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt that being apart for extended lengths of time while you're in a relationship is tough. Here are some ways to make it easier:

1. Use new technology: Now you talk to your significant other face-to-face every day if you wish, whether that means using Skype or Facetime on your iPhone. Make the distance a minor inconvenience instead of a deal breaker.

2. Consistently meet up: You can't be a couple and literally never see each other. Whether you travel to see your partner once a week, once a month, or every few months, it's important to make the effort to spend real time with your partner on a consistent basis.

3. Do things together: Yes, you're clearly not together, but that doesn't mean you can't do things together. Instead of just talking on the phone, watch a TV show or movie simultaneously. Call it a virtual date.

2. Go out: No need to make bad decisions, but do go out and spend time with someone who loves you and can support you through this tough time.

3. Think about it: Figure out whether you want to stay single for a while or start dating again right away. Whatever it is, take the time to find out what makes you happy.

Demi Moore Hits the Red Carpet Alone, But With Wedding Ring

What are some ways to keep your marital woes from prying eyes?

Cupid's Advice:

Every marriage has its issues, but it's how you handle them that counts. Cupid has some ways to keep your problems from curious outsiders:

1. Discuss in private: Although you may have the urge to talk to you partner about an issue you're having immediately, do all that you can to keep it inside until the timing is right to discuss it ... which is when you're not in public.

2. Don't spill to friends: When you're angry with your mate, it can be tempting to run to your friends to complain. This will only serve to make things worse. Make sure to confront your significant other before confiding in your pals.

3. Interact in public minimally: If the problems in your marriage are big, it's probably best to stay out of the public eye together. The temptation to fight despite the fact that you're in front of people can sometimes be too great when your issues are major. Practice some independence from each other during this time.

How do you overcome cheating in your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

It can be difficult to surpass unfaithfulness in a relationship, but it’s not impossible. Cupid has some suggestions:

1. Couples counseling: The most important thing you can do is hire a third party to listen to you air your grievances. A counselor will keep you “in check” so to speak, and you’ll have a safe place to share all of your feelings with your partner in order to potentially work them out.

2. Open communication: Instead of cowering away from each other, keep the lines of communication completely clear and in the open. Be brutally honest about everything in order to avoid any further suspicion.

3. Time: If you're truly dedicated to your relationship, it's going to take time to overcome the break in trust that cheating creates. The best thing you can do is to stick with it, and work at it.

How do you know when you’ve permanently entered the friend zone with someone?

Cupid’s Advice:

Sometimes, no matter how romance you once were with someone, the “friend zone” is an inevitable situation. Here are some signs you’re in it:

1. Distance: If there’s always a good amount of physical distance between the two of you and he or she makes no effort to close that, it’s a sign that you may be destined to just be friends.

2. One of the boys: If he invites you out to watch the football game with a group of his guy friends and claps you on the back after each touchdown, you're probably not his romantic interest.

3. Lack of moves: The thing is, if he's really into you, he'll eventually make a move in that direction even if he's shy. If it's been weeks and you're still not feeling a spark, you probably never will.

When you and your partner are having problems, it can seem like meddling family and friends are worse than the paparazzi.

Here are some ways to go about combating the public:

1. Keep silent: If all you can think to say is mean-spirited, it's probably best to keep quiet. It's your business, and no one else needs to know what's going on in your relationship.

2. Don't pick a fight: If your better half is going around telling their side of the story, don't address them. Instead, find the people he's been speaking to and tell them your side personally.

3. Take the advice: Sometimes people want to know about your problems just to give you advice. Entertain them, but make your own decisions.

How do you become friends with an ex after a bitter break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

After a bad break-up it's hard to go back to being friends. Its important to get some closure and let go of any animosity between you and your ex before trying your hand at friendship.

1. Talk it out: Meet up with your ex and calmly discuss what lead to your break-up. A lunch date at a neutral location always helps to break the ice a little bit. This will help both you of you to heal and start fresh.

2. Don't be awkward: If you happen to unexpectedly run into your ex at a club or restaurant, don't avoid them or make the situation uncomfortable. Take a deep breath and say "hello". Yes, it may be awkward at first, but it could lead to a surprising civil and friendly conversation.

3. Keep in touch: Once the two of you have gotten past the bitterness of your previous relationship, keep in touch with one another. Exchange phone numbers or e-mail addresses (if they've changed since you broke up) and make sure to check up on each other every once in a while.
