1. Their mouth lacks a filter: It's sometimes important for people to have the last word. Your partner may lack a filter on what is not okay to say. Let them know when a statement is uncalled for and hope they understand your disgust.

By Melissa Lee

Even after EOnline.com learned about their celebrity relationship in May, celebrity couple Taylor Swift and Joe Alwyn have continued to keep their relationship on the down low. The pair have been quite secretive about their visits, especially after Swift's extremely public past relationships. Swift has reportedly been in London with Alwyn, a 26-year-old British film and theater actor, over the past few weeks.

This new celebrity couple is definitely keeping things under wraps. What are some benefits to keep your relationship on the down-low at first?

Cupid's Advice:

New relationships can be super fun, but sometimes it's nicer to keep those moments private. Cupid has some advice on why it can be beneficial to stay quiet at first:

1. There's minimal pressure: When you keep your relationship private for a bit, pressures from your friends and family won't be as common. Your mom won't be constantly asking when she can meet your partner, and sometimes those low-key nights in seem a bit more fun than going out with all of their friends!

2. Say goodbye to negativity: By posting about your relationship on social media, everyone will see your new significant other – and let's face it, not everybody will be happy for you. When your relationship is on the down-low, you don't have to worry about people's negative comments bringing you down.

3. Oversharing won't be a problem: Relationships are usually only meant for the two people involved. If your relationship becomes public after constantly posting about it, oversharing can become a fast issue. Special dates or moments may get ruined after you share it with all 500 of your “closest friends”.

Celebrity Couple News: Pink & Carey Hart Are 'Solid' After Two Breaks from Their Marriage

By Cortney Moore

Pink and Carey Hart have made celebrity news in the last 16 years due to their tumultuous relationship. However, after celebrating their 11th anniversary back in January, it seems that this celebrity couple have found a way to make it work. How were Pink and Hart able to save their relationship? Well, Pink credits the two breaks her and Hart took in 2003 and 2008 as factors that transformed their love for each other. "The first one was about a year. And the second one was 11 months," Pink explains in an interview with UsMagazine.com. An insider also spoke with the magazine and agreed that Pink and Hart are a solid celebrity couple, "They love their life together." Taking a break during marriage might be a little unorthodox, but this strategy has helped them avoid divorce. Let's applaud this famous couple for making it work. There are so many in Hollywood who aren't as lucky.

This celebrity couple proves that sometimes breaks in a relationship can be beneficial. How do you know if a break will help or hurt your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

The very idea of taking a break is scary for many couples. However, if your relationship has been on the rocks for some time, a break might be just what you need. Before you decide to go all-in, let Cupid help you figure out whether a break will be beneficial or hurtful for your relationship:

1. There's a weak foundation: The reason you're considering a break is due to a failing relationship. Some things just aren't working out anymore and you need space to see if this is something you really want. Taking a break helps you find the cracks in your relationship, and hopefully with some time apart you can fix these problems together. But, you also need to be wary. Being able to see all of your relationship's flaws might also tempt you to run away. You need to go into a break with the intention of possibly getting back together. If you don't do this then it's just a plain breakup and not an actual break.

2. Get on the same page: Before you and your partner officially decide to part ways, you need to discuss what you're both okay with and what you're both not. Will this be a break that allows you to both date other people, or do you both expect monogamy during your time apart? These nitty-gritty details might not be something you want to discuss during tough times, but it's a conversation that must be had.

If you're both not on the same page about the break, then someone is going to get hurt and your relationship will be strained even more than before. So talk it out, you might even be pleased to see you both share similar ideologies.

3. Gives you very much needed 'me time': Taking a break from your relationship helps to free up your schedule. This is great because it provides you the opportunity to reassess your priorities personally and professionally. If there's something you always to do, it's time you pursue those dreams. Whatever it is that makes you happy may translate over to your strained relationship. When you feel good about yourself, you're confident, and that positive energy might be something your partner was missing in you. Just make sure you're not too busy for a relationship. Remember, the point of a break is that you and your partner intend to reunite.

This celebrity news has us laughing at the amicable exes. What are some ways to keep your relationship with your ex civil?

Cupid’s Advice:

Just because your relationship has ended doesn’t mean you have to hate your ex. As a matter of fact, if you’re able to remain friends with an ex, you’re more likely to avoid unnecessary drama. Let Cupid help you figure out how to remain civil with your ex:

1. Have your own stuff going on: Whether it be a hobby, a career or volunteer work- you need to have things that keep you busy. Having your own activities will not only bring you enjoyment, but it will also distract you from any lingering thoughts of your ex. It’s important that you make moving on as easy as possible, and keeping busy is the best way to do just that.

2. Don’t be tense in their presence: No one likes being in the line of fire of hostile exes. If you were friendly before your relationship, try to bring those positive vibes with you post-breakup. If friendship is something new for you and your ex, then take things slow and stick to discussing lighthearted topics if you’re ever in the same room again.

3. Keep details to yourself: Even if you and your ex parted ways a long time ago, you need to be careful with the things you say. You don't want to put yourself in an awkward situation where your ex can use information against you.
