By Kayla

Celebrity couple Bella Hadid and The Weekend (ne Abel Tesfaye) have broken up after almost two years of dating, and they have their schedules to blame. “They still have a great deal of love and respect for each other and will remain friends, but it has been too hard to coordinate their schedules with him finishing and promoting his upcoming album,” a source close to The Weekend says. “They really tried to make it work.” According to UsMagazine.com, the now celebrity exes first met when The Weekend asked Hadid to model for his breakthrough album, Beauty Behind the Madness, back in April 2015, and then starred in his music video for “In the Night.” The couple first started dating publicly in May 2015.

It’s clear this celebrity couple didn’t want their relationship to end. What are some ways to recover after a tough split?

Cupid’s Advice:

When a couple breaks up, it may not always be because they want to, but because they have to. Busy schedules, like what happened with Bella Hadid and The Weekend, may affect your relationship. Cupid wants you to be happy, so here are some ways to feel better:

- 1. It’s not goodbye, it’s “see you later”: Just because you’re broken up now does not mean that you won’t get back together. If your schedules end up working out in the future, and you still have those feelings for one another, then you can go forward in your relationship. It doesn’t mean you should sit around and wait, but once you’re both on with your lives, see if you can rekindle that flame.

2. Grab your girls: Through a tough time, your girls are always there for you. They will take you out on a day full of things you love. Maybe a road trip to the beach, or even just a night-in watching a comedy eating pizza. They will put the pep back in your step!

3. Cry it out: It was a tough break-up! You're not over your partner, and that's understandable. You are allowed to cry at how it didn't work out, because you didn't want it to end. Let the emotions flow, and you'll probably end up feeling a little better. Relieve that pain.

relationships. What are some ways to keep an open mind in your relationships?

Cupid's Advice:

Relationships can be tricky, but it is good to always have an open mind when you're with someone. Cupid is here with some relationship advice:

1. Act, don't react: If your partner is trying to confront you about a problem the two of you are facing, it is best to act upon it instead of getting upset over it. Reacting in a negative way can cause a fight, and you don't want that happening! Maybe there's something you can do to change for the better, as opposed to getting defensive.

2. Be flexible: In a relationship, not everything is going to go as planned. You can walk in with high expectations of how you perceived your partner to look and act, but they may not always be who you planned, and that's okay. When you meet someone new and you feel a connection, don't judge the other person based on a preconceived notion of what you wanted.

3. Ease your temper: Things will happen in a relationship that you will not like, but instead of blowing up on your partner, you have to try and calmly talk it out. Nothing will be solved with a short temper, it may even make matters worse.

1. Talk before marriage: If you're going to spend the rest of your life together, it is best to make sure you discuss what the future holds for both of you, meaning whether or not there's potential to start a family. 2. Find a way: If you're both willing to have a family, make sure you are both able to make it happen, and figure out how you want it to happen. Celebrity Couple Ben Higgins & Lauren Bushnell Celebrate Bachelor and Bachelorette Parties Together

By Kayla

Garritano

From The Bachelor to the bachelor party! Celebrity couple Ben Higgins and Lauren Bushnell celebrated their upcoming marriage with bachelor and bachelorette parties this long weekend. According to UsMagazine.com, the Bachelor alumnae threw a joint party with all of their friends in Las Vegas! A picture shows them poolside with all of their friends on Thursday, October 6, just hanging out and celebrating before the big day.

This celebrity couple did not want to celebrate separately! What are some ways to bring all your friends together before the big day?

Cupid's Advice:

You don't need to have a traditional "all girls" bachelorette party or an "all guys" bachelor party. Sometimes, the best way to celebrate your last days of not being married is to celebrate together. Here are some ways to conjoin your celebration:

1. Wedding party field day: Have your wedding party get to know each other a little better by battling it out. Team Bride vs. Team Groom. This will let your party bond over fun activities all while having some friendly competition. Plus, it's kind of fun seeing your future spouse duel against you.

2. Vacation: Instead of a "party," why not take a trip somewhere together? It's just like a party, except you get to take a couple extra days off and relax for a little bit more. You still get to drink (responsibly, of course), and you get to enjoy each others' company, while celebrating the same thing.

3. Separate rehearsal dinner: You definitely need a rehearsal dinner the night before the wedding. The one with your parents and other family members, as well as the wedding party. But what about a dinner for just your friends? Get together with them all and enjoy a dinner. Make some last-minute wedding plans, and organize the aisle situation; who's walking with who? Just take it easy with your friends before the official events begin.
