What are some ways to keep things between you and an ex civil?

Cupid's Advice:

Being normal around someone you once shared strong feelings for is seemingly impossible. Here are a few tips on how to remain calm and collected.

1. Shake on it: Agreeing with your ex-sweetheart to both be civil is the first step in being able to be around each other without old feelings lurking around. If you do agree to be comfortable around each other be sure to stay true to your word.

2. Keep distance: Just because you and your ex can tolerate each other does not mean you need to know everything about one another's lives. Knowing what your ex-lover did after his date will only create tension between you both and leave you hurting.

3. Be respectful: Treating each other like adults is key to staying civil. Respect your exes boundaries and feelings and they will reciprocate the same behavior.

Gwyneth Paltrow Says Chris Martin Helped with Postpartum Depression

Brooke Shields,

Courteney Cox, Bryce Dallas Howard and Amanda Peet are some celebrities who have suffered from postpartum depression and so do as many as one in five women in the United States, but Gwyneth Paltrow didn't think she would be one of them. The actress found herself experiencing the symptoms of postpartum depression shortly after giving birth to her son Moses in April 2006. It wasn't until her husband, Chris Martin pointed it out that she realized she actually had it. Paltrow believes that being open about her depression made it easier to cope, "We think that it makes us bad mothers or we didn't do it right, but it's like, we're all in this together." Between the support she's had through it and the awareness of it, she claims that her postpartum depression is slowly starting to diminish.

What are some ways to support your partner though postpartum depression?

Cupid's Advice:

It is hard enough for your partner to be suffering through something like postpartum depression, the best thing you can offer them is your support. Here are some ways to show them you're there for them:

1. Don't make it take over your relationship: You're both aware that the depression is there, but continue to try doing the normal things you would do. If you start changing the way you act around them because of it, it'll most likely make them feel even worse.

2. Be understanding: It's a tough thing to be going through, so you have to be understanding. It may get frustrating, but all your partner wants is to know you'll still be there for them.

3. Help them, help themselves: Encourage your significant other to get treatment and start seeing a doctor. Make sure they know that you genuinely want to help them get better.

What are some ways to subtly show your partner you care in public?

Cupid's Advice:

Okay, so maybe you and your mate are a bit on the discreet side, but that doesn't mean you have to act as though you don't know each other when you're out in public. Here are some subtle ways to delicately show affection to your lover when other eyes can see:

1. Hold hands: This is one of the most subtle and obvious ways to show everyone that you are holding onto one of the most important people in your life. It's intimate enough to show your partner affection and declare your relationship status.

2. Hugging: Sure, it's a common way to show affection to anyone, but, you can't hug everyone like you would with your love.

3. Kissing: You don't have to have a full blown make-out session with your partner to show the world how you feel about each other. A simple kiss on the lips, cheek or forehead can say a lot.

Drew Barrymore and Will Kopelman Celebrate Pregnancy and Engagement at Shower

Actress Drew

Barrymore and her fiancé Will Kopelman have a lot to plan for with a wedding and a baby on the way! The couple of one year are excited for both dates to come quickly, and they celebrated the coming events with some of their closest friends with a baby shower and engagement party. “Everyone was dotting on pregnant Drew and asking her how she is feeling,” a witness told UsMagazine.com. “She is so thrilled to be expecting, and also really excited about the wedding.”

What are some unique ways to celebrate your engagement?

Cupid’s Advice:

Getting engaged is one of the most exciting moments of your life, and this is when you and your fiancé begin a new chapter in your life. Cupid has some tips to make it special:

1. Getaway: You and your new fiancé should take a weekend vacation together where you can celebrate your new status together and flaunt your hubby or wifey-to-be on your arm. This way you can have a little fun along with rest and relaxation before the stressful planning begins.

2. Surprise announcement: You’ll hardly be able to hold the news inside, but if you can stand it for a couple of days, surprising your parents and closest friends at a dinner or party would be a great way for everyone to get really excited and celebrate together. A more unique approach might be putting a video together on YouTube and breaking the news on the web.

3. Make memoirs: Don't wait to get your engagement pictures because you'll be glowing with excitement and you want to be able to capture that. It's also a good (and maybe cheesy) idea to write love letters to each other including details of the proposal. Keeping a journal of your life together will be something you'll appreciate having later when you can look back and reminisce about your journey.

The two have been spotted house hunting in Connecticut. An insider told UsMagazine.com, "They love getting out of the city and appreciate a slower pace."

Reynolds recently put the home he shared with ex Scarlett Johansson on the market and Lively is ready to move on from ex boyfriend Leo DiCaprio. The two are getting serious together and will hopefully be purchasing a nice home far from their city lives sometime soon.

What are some ways to tell you're ready to move in with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Moving in with someone you're in a relationship with brings things to another level. It's a whole lot of commitment you need to be sure you're prepared for. Here are some ways to tell if you're ready to move in with your mate:

1. You've been together for a while: If you're thinking about moving in together, then you should be in what you consider a long-term relationship. Make sure that you have a good grasp on who someone is before taking that next step.

2. You're in it for the long run: Moving in together is a huge commitment, and it should be a long term decision. You should make sure you're at a stable point in your relationship so there aren't any arguments later on.

3. You've met all of their friends and family: Your partner had a life before you met them, and you should know all about it before you plan to move in with them. People close to them will most likely be visiting a lot.

When is it OK to take an ex back after a split?

Cupid’s Advice:

Breaking up with your significant other is a tragic experience, and depending on the circumstances, getting back together with your ex could make more drama. Cupid has some tips:

1. Your ex changed: So maybe your ex used to have a horrible habit of overreacting and arguing too much, but took some anger management classes, just for you. That's a sign you should get back together. If your ex can realize he has a problem and create a solution, then it's acceptable to get back together, as long as you're sure he changed.

2. Your ex didn't cheat: If your past lover did not break your heart, then it's okay to talk through things and try to sort out your differences. However, keep in mind that if your ex did something that makes you look bad, like cheating on you, it will be even more embarrassing if you take him back so easily.

3. You both miss each other: No matter what terms you and your ex-beau split up on, getting back together has to be mutual. You can't force someone into falling back into love with you. Missing each other is a big step toward working through issues and becoming a couple again.

What are some warning signs that you should not marry your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Of course you shouldn't marry someone if you don't know them or they're apparently insane! Even though Manson's case is extremely unlikely, Cupid has some real signs that you and your partner aren't ready to walk down the aisle:

1. Time: This can go both ways. If you've only been together a short amount of time, make sure you're not jumping into anything you're not ready for, because there's a lot to learn about someone you're going to spend the rest of your life with. If you've been dating or engaged to someone for too long, there might be a reason you haven't taken that step forward or you're avoiding the commitment.

2. Gut feeling: When you know, you know. If you have a feeling that something's not right or you feel hesitant in any way, it's important that you trust your instincts.

3. Peer pressure: Sometimes the people around you feel like they know what's best for you, and although that may be true some of the time, it's not true all of the time. There's a lot that goes on in a relationship behind closed doors, so there's an aspect that outsiders rarely see. Don't let people push you into a marriage you don't want.

What are some ways to overtly show your love for your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes it's nice to openly display your love for your partner. Here are a few ways to make your partner feel loved:

1. Little gestures: Sometimes the smallest gestures can make the biggest difference. Make your partner breakfast in bed or buy them flowers for no particular reason. They'll appreciate your effort.

2. PDA: For the most part, public displays of affection are best kept on the down low. However, small displays of affection, like holding your partner's hand as you walk together, can be very sweet and romantic.

Is having a lot in common a requirement in a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Though opposites may attract, they do not always stay together. Here are a few reasons why having a lot in common with your partner makes for a better relationship:

- 1. Conversation: Especially when you first start dating, having a lot in common makes for easier conversation. Talk about your favorite places or your mutual love of action movies.
- 2. Dating: Dating becomes much easier when the two of you have similar tastes. When you and your partner agree often, there’s usually no need to debate over where to go or what movie to see.
- 3. Compatibility: If your relationship is getting serious, you may need to discuss long-term goals and plans. When you have a lot in common with your partner, you may find this discussion easier.

1. Inside joke: If you're going to forego a romantic gift, the next best thing is playing on one of the inside jokes you share together as a couple. If you often compare yourselves to Calvin & Hobbs, then buy some comic books for your mate.

2. Romance: Some things you just can't go wrong with, like jewelry and flowers. Although they're generic, they're also traditionally signs of love that your partner can't help but feel special receiving.

3. Ask friends: If you're getting desperate, tap into his or her friends for ideas. Often times an outside perspective can really help. Plus, she or he may have confided in their friends with their birthday gift wishes.

The best part of a faulty past relationship, is that it's in the past. You now have control of your new relationships and know exactly what to avoid. Here are some ways past mistakes can help you in the future:

1. You know how to avoid silly arguments: From past relationships, you realize that all of the little fights you had were pointless, and you know to just avoid those all together in the future.

2. Improve communication: The biggest aspect of a relationship is communication. A lot of the time, arguments are started because there was a miscommunication. So in your new relationship, you know exactly how to say things and when to say them.

What are some things to do on vacation that will bond you as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Whether you're on vacation together alone, as a couple or with your family and friends, Cupid has some ideas that are sure to strengthen the bond of your relationship:

1. Adventure: Seek the thrills that your vacation spot has to offer, whether it's something as extreme as skydiving or something a little more low key such as snorkeling. Doing something together that tests your limits or gives you a new perspective on life will create a moment that neither of you will ever forget.

2. Relaxation: It's called a vacation for a reason, so take time to relax. Enjoy a couples massage, lay out on the beach and listen to the crash of the waves against the shore, or sink into a hot tub under the stars. Having the chance to unwind will release any stress or tension you've been carrying around. It could also make you more patient with you partner, who usually has to suffer the lash of your negative energy.

3. Meditation: Remind each other why you're in love, and talk about the reasons you're crazy about them. It's always nice to have a reminder, because we can often feel like we're being taken for granted when our partners stop doing the little things. It will give you the chance to reignite the flame you felt when you first met, and could even give you the chance to share some laughs or tears.

Cupid's Advice:

It's usually not about if you'd love and care for your child, but if you are ready to have one of your own. Here are some ways to tell if you're cut out to be a parent:

1. You're in a committed relationship: The most important factor when having a child is the state you're in with your significant other. You both need to be committed in the long run if you are going to have a child together.

2. You're both stable: The most important years of a child's life are when they first begin growing up. You need to make sure you're financially stable as well as able to settle down in one place for a while as your child grows up.

3. Family must come first: When you want to have a child, that should come before anything else. You need to be able to put your family above your career, because if you plan to be an absent parent, then you aren't ready to raise a child.

Is being tough a good thing in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

It's good to have a backbone, but it's also possible to be too tough in a relationship. Cupid has some tips:

1. Vulnerability: Having the ability to protect yourself from emotional pain in a relationship can be a good quality, but at some point you have to make yourself a little more vulnerable. Bringing down your shield will strengthen your bond as a couple.

2. Protection: If you love each other, you want to protect one another. Men especially like the feeling of being able to appear as a woman's protector or caretaker, so ladies, it's ok to be that damsel in distress from time to time so that your prince charming can take care of you.

3. Strength: You need to have a little toughness within your relationship so you don't get pushed around all the time. As couples become more comfortable with each other, they tend to get bossy or demanding, so keep that tough bone under your skin so you have the strength to stand up for yourself when necessary.

3. Take time: It's important for newlyweds to enjoy alone time together, especially during the honeymoon stage so don't take it for granted. How do you show affection to your partner in front of your friends?

Cupid's Advice:

Managing PDA is always tricky, but it's especially tricky around friends. Here are a few ways to show affection without making things awkward:

- 1. Tone it down: Try toning down your usual displays of affection in order to make your friends feel more comfortable. Give your partner a hug instead of a kiss, or hold hands instead of sitting on each others' laps.
- 2. Keep it quick: Keep your displays short and sweet. Give your partner a quick kiss when your friends' backs are turned or go in for a short hug.

3. Little gestures: Try holding your partner's hand or sitting close to them. These little gestures will allow you to show affection without making your friends uncomfortable.
