Kate Middleton, who turned 29 on Sunday, will get married to Prince William on April 29 at Westminster Abbey.

What are some ways to impress your future family?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting along with your partner's family is really important if you plan to have a future together. Cupid has some advice on how to charm the in-laws:

1. Be yourself: Don't pretend to be someone you're not, because your partner's family will most likely see right through you. Be honest and confident, and they can't help but love you.

2. Show you're serious: Make sure your partner's family knows how much you care about him. If they're confident that it's true love, they'll be grateful that their child is happy.

3. Ask for advice: By asking your in-laws for help, you're showing them that you trust them and are open to their opinions. They'll appreciate being included in your life as a couple.

Nicole Kidman Chooses Great Love with Keith Urban Over Amazing Career

To most people, winning an Oscar would be a dream come true. For Nicole Kidman, it's nothing compared to winning Keith Urban's heart. "I remember thinking, Oh, my God, if you ever gave me a man like that, I promise I would be completely devoted for the rest of my life. Something that wild," Kidman, 43, tells guest interviewer Jennifer Aniston in February's Harper's Bazaar. Kidman's prayers were answered when she and Urban got married in 2006. According to People, the pair now reside on a beautiful farm outside Nashville with their daughter, Sunday Rose. "I like to ask people if they would rather have a great love that lasts a lifetime or an amazing career where you go down in history," Kidman says. "Some people do answer that they want an extraordinary career." But Kidman and Aniston agree that great love is a "no-brainer."

How do you choose between love and a career?

Cupid's Advice

For Nicole Kidman, choosing love over her career was a piece of cake. However, it's a decision with which many successful people struggle. When it comes to choosing between your job and your relationship, Cupid has some things to consider:

1. Think ahead: The best thing to do when making a life-changing decision is to think about the future. If you have to make a choice between your special someone and your career, ask yourself which one will last longer. A lot can happen in five years at a job, but if you don't see yourself being serious with the person you're dating years down the road, then maybe it's not your job you need to quit.

2. Imagine yourself without one: Some people have dreamt about their wedding day since they were kids, while others wanted success. No matter what your dreams are, don't give up on them.

3. Follow your heart: If someone flipped a coin and said, "Heads is career, tails is love," and didn't show you the coin right away, which side would you have wished for more? Sometimes the answer is already in your heart. When in doubt, go with your gut!

Miranda Cosgrove Wanted Shia LaBeouf As Her New Year's Kiss

When People asked iCarly star, Miranga Cosgrove, about her dream New Year's smooch, she replied, "If I could pick anyone, it would be Shia LabBeouf." Not only have the pair met, but Cosgrove also admits, "He's really cute." Despite her wish, the young actress was kiss-less at midnight. When it comes to turning that dream into a reality, she admits that not having a driver's license is limiting the possibilities. "I got my permit," Cosgrove says, "but I'm still not officially driving and I don't have a car." If a car is all that it takes, perhaps 2012 will prove lucky for the starlet.

What are some ways to snag a kiss from someone you like?

Cupid's Advice:

New Year's might be over, but that's no reason to shy away from kissing someone you like! Cupid's got three ways to hook a kiss from that special someone:

1. Drop a few hints: While we would all like to think that that special guy or gal can read our minds, it never works out that way. Rather than hope that they understand how you feel, lay down some inviting body language. A light touch against their arm can send the right message.

2. Dress the part: Of course kisses can happen in sweatpants, but it never hurts to glam it up! Pop in a mint, spray some perfume and dress up with a nice blouse when you're ready to lay one on him.

3. Lean in: If you're not afraid to be a little forward, why not initiate the kiss? Nothing is sexier than confidence!

What do you do if your kids don't like the person you're dating?

Cupid's Advice:

Your kids are some of the most important people in your life, and their opinion of your new partner will definitely have an effect on the relationship. Cupid has some advice on what to do if your kids aren't thrilled about the person you're dating:

1. Find out why: If your kids have a reason beyond "he's not my dad" to dislike your new relationship, you need to find out what that reason is and, if possible, find a way to fix it.

2. Put their needs first: As hard as it is to hear, being a parent is your first priority. If your children don't get along with your new partner, then you may need to rethink the relationship.

3. Give it time: Sometimes it's just hard for children to adjust to new faces. Although they may not initially be thrilled with your relationship, time may be the answer.

What do you do if you know your friend is dating a dud?

Cupid's Advice:

Everyone wants the best for their friends, especially when it comes to finding "the one." However, what happens when your friend believes they've found that person, but you couldn't disagree more? Cupid has some tips on how to share your thoughts:

1. Break the news gently: No one wants to be blindsided by their best friend when it comes to serious matters. Avoid bashing and approach your friend tactfully. The last thing you want is for them to feel attacked and immediately disregard your opinion.

2. Voice your concerns: As a best friend, it's your job to support unconditionally, which includes the hard stuff. One way to avoid putting your friend on the defensive is to offer concrete examples.

3. Console and support: Hopefully your friend believes you, in which case a breakup is in sight, and she is going to need a shoulder to lean on. If things don't necessarily go your way, remember that sometimes people need to realize things for themselves; support them in the meantime.

Is it important that your partner fit in with your family?

Cupid's Advice:

Having your family accept your partner is only half the battle. The other half is getting your family to actually like him. While some deem this effort unnecessary, having a significant other who fits in with your family makes life much easier. Here are some benefits:

1. Peace of mind: When families get together, especially during the holiday season, it's nice to know that there aren't any snide or frustrated conversations occurring behind your partner's back.

2. Willing favors: While your family would never turn their back on you and your partner when the two of you are in need, they will be more likely to grant a favor with a smile on their face if they genuinely approve of your relationship.

3. Frequent visits: When your partner feels comfortable visiting your family with you, you're able to spend more time with all of the people you love.

Are celebrity crushes OK to have while you’re in a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Celebrity crushes are for the most part harmless. Of course, your real life partner should always be your first priority. Here are some guidelines:

1. Star struck: It’s okay to joke from time to time about your celebrity crushes, but always let your partner know that he is the priority and will always will be your main squeeze.

2. Role play: It's not for everyone, but you may want to act out a scene from your favorite film starring your Hollywood crush. Cast your partner as your celebrity flame to make it interesting!

3. Don't be hypocritical: If you can have a celebrity crush, then so can your partner. Double standards never help a relationship.

Should celebrities tie their images to a product?

Cupid's Advice:

Celebrities have been known to endorse many a product and all sorts of national and international causes. The question is, should they? Cupid has some thoughts:

1. They support a cause: If you're going to be famous, you might as well utilize your notoriety for a worthy cause. For instance, David Good is giving part of the proceeds from his recently released book to cancer research. Consider buying products which have been endorsed by celebrities for more than personal gain.

2. They believe in products: There are so many different products on the market today that it's sometimes impossible for us to know which brands to trust. Those in the public eye have the chance to support products in which they really put faith. If you respect a celebrity, the products they endorse might be just what you need.

3. They want money: Of course there are those in the limelight who are simply in it for the green stuff. Be careful about which celebrities you blindly follow.

Although Gosselin doesn't have a huge amount of money to spend on presents for his kids this year, a source told RadarOnline, "He wants to get them gifts that mean something and that tap into their interests."

What are affordable yet romantic gifts for your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Holiday gift shopping can be stressful, especially when you're on a tight budget. Cupid has some tips:

1. The enhanced coupon: A coupon for a free back rub maybe too cheesy, but giving your partner his favorite movie along with a coupon for his favorite homemade dinner is personal and special. You can always make a surprise out of the back rub afterward, too!

2. Utilize the five senses: Pick a small gift to stimulate each of your partner's senses. For example, pick up his favorite artist's new album, one of his favorite snacks and a framed picture of the two of you. It's affordable and creative.

3. Exchange promises, not presents: Agree or vow to do something that will improve your relationship together, like setting aside one night a week devoted solely to you as a couple. It won't cost you a thing, and will keep giving all year long.

Cupid's Advice:

Before you and your partner walk down the aisle, it's important to take some time for an open and honest discussion. Cupid has some things to include in these talks:

1. Dealing with hard times: If there's one thing for sure, it's that marriage is work. Make sure you understand how your partner deals with the hard times that come with life. Make sure there will be a support system in place for when things don't go so smoothly.

2. Children: The prospect of having children can be a deal breaker when it comes to the possibility of marriage. Discuss the number of children you each want and what type of parenting style you want to incorporate.

3. Marriage expectations: Everyone has their own idea of what a marriage entails. Discussing how the two of you will be spending the rest of your lives is no small feat. Before signing the license, confirm that you are taking this journey seriously and with matching mindsets.

Ashton Kutcher Explains Twitter Flirting with Wife, Demi Moore

Ashton Kutcher is blazing the trail for a whole new way of romance in 2011, Us Weekly reports. Kutcher dishes on his tactics behind those flirty tweets about his wife of five years, Demi Moore. “In some ways, it’s no different than sending flowers to the office: You are declaring your love for everyone to see. Who doesn’t like to be publicly adored?” But Kutcher also knows when to make the moves in person, too. “There’s no text that can replace a loving touch when someone we love is hurting.”

What are ways to show your partner you love him?

Cupid’s Advice:

Ashton Kutcher may get it just right when it comes to maintaining a perfect mixture of digital shout-outs and personal love notes. Take his lead the next time you want to stand out:

1. Actions speak: That old saying that “actions speak louder than words” rings true. If words aren’t your weapon of choice, a small gesture like doing the dishes before your partner gets home from work will show that you care.

2. Give some R&R: The days are getting shorter, and the nights are getting colder. Block out some time in the evening to cuddle on the couch with a cup of hot chocolate and your favorite holiday movie. Go above and beyond by providing popcorn and a shoulder massage.

3. Make homemade gifts: Anyone can go out to the store and buy something, but by taking the time to crochet a scarf or putting together a gift basket of your love's favorite homemade desserts, it really shows you care.

Reese Witherspoon's First Date Pet Peeve

It turns out that even America's sweetheart, Reese Witherspoon, has had her fair share of unsuccessful dates, according to People. "I had someone correct my grammar on a blind date once, and I knew within the first 10 minutes that the date was over," said Witherspoon. "Even worse, I don't even remember what I said – I probably said 'ain't.' Just don't correct my grammar. I'm from Tennessee. I probably say everything wrong." There you have it boys—lesson learned. Never correct a southern girl's grammar!What are things to avoid on a first date?

Cupid's Advice:

First dates can be awkward, but Cupid has a few tips on what you should steer clear of on your first night out with someone new:

1. Don't talk about yourself all night: A first date means getting to know each other. In between the nervous babbling about yourself, make sure to find out a few things about your date as well.

2. Don't lie: No matter how much you want the other person to like you, be honest. You'll never know how compatible you truly are with the person if you lie about yourself. Remember: the truth will come out eventually anyway.

3. Don't look less than your best: Don't show up like you just ran out of the shower or just got out of bed. When you look good, you feel good. You're not only impressing your date, but you're also boosting your own confidence.

Britney Spears' boyfriend, Jason Trawick surprised the pop star with a romantic trip to Mexico for her birthday. Despite allegations that Trawick had abused Spears, the couple was happy during the weekend vacation. "They suntanned and did a lot of relaxing and decompressing," says a source. "They seemed very much in love. "

How can you make your partner's birthday special?

Cupid's Advice:

Most people can't afford an extravagant trip to Mexico and a beachside bungalow complete with personal chef like Jason Trawick and Britney Spears. Cupid has some advice on more affordable options:

1. Make it personal: Just like Jason Trawick topped off his lavish present with Britney Spears' favorite cake, you can make your sweetheart's day by doing something that reminds him of your relationship. Think of a song, movie, or experience the two of you shared, and build a present on that idea.

2. Put in the time: A little effort can go a long way. Put a lot of thought into your present, but don't stress yourself out to execute it. By putting too much pressure on making it perfect, you'll only annoy yourself and everyone around you.

3. Collaborate: Unlike an anniversary, a birthday isn't just about your relationship, so work with your partner's friends and family to plan a celebration where the guest of honor can be surrounded by all those that care about him.

Cupid's Advice:

Reese Witherspoon is living proof that aging isn't a bad thing. Cupid has a few reasons that dating gets easier with age:

- 1. Experience: First dates can be awkward when you're young and haven't been on many of them. When you've been dating for a long time, things will come much more natural to you than they did when you were 20.
- 2. Knowledge: On top of the experience, you now have dating knowledge. Because you've been dating for a long time, you know how to handle things if they take a turn for the worse. Preparation is key!

3. Confidence: When we get older, we really discover and embrace who we are. Now that you're comfortable with yourself, your confidence will shine through. That's a rare gift only age can give!

After confessing "the only thing better than playing music is being a dad," CMT reports that Brooks made sure to convey that he understands the pressure girls face when dating, especially when it comes to older boys. "As a junior, if you're dating a senior boy, sometimes that pushes you ahead of things you're ready to handle." How do you avoid becoming a reflection of your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

It's easy to get caught up in keeping the peace in a relationship. However, a relationship is between two people. Here are some ways to stay true to yourself:

- 1. Keep some space: Before your partner, you had your friends. Getting swept away by love is easy, but don't forget to spend some time with the people who have always been there for you.
 - 2. Adjust and adapt: Some people believe you have to change yourself to make a relationship work. Chemistry and compatibility isn't about change, but rather adjustments and compromise.
 - 3. Maintain self-awareness: You know yourself best. Go with your gut if you're starting to feel like you're losing touch not only with yourself, but with the other parts of your life that make you happy.

Cupid's Advice:

Everyone gets angry sometimes, but some of us have a hard time controlling our temper. If your partner has that problem, here are some ways to deal:

1. Anger equals passion: If your partner has a temper, it means he is a passionate person who feels deeply. Keep that in mind before you judge.

2. Seek help: If your mate's anger gets out of control, suggest therapy or anger management. Tell them you care about them and want them to be healthy and happy.

3. Get away: You can only live with your partner's anger issues up to a certain point. If he becomes violent, leave immediately and call the police.

What are ways to split family responsibilities in a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

A relationship is all about sharing. No one person can bear all the responsibility, no matter how capable they seem. Cupid has some ways to help distribute the family responsibilities fairly:

1. Based on availability: Some weeks are more hectic than others. Figure out how much free time both of you have, and then distribute the responsibilities accordingly.

2. Based on skills: Whether it's shopping or fixing the car, you each have your own strengths. In order to get everything done efficiently, split up responsibilities based on each other's skillsets.

3. Based on past decisions: Whatever way you decide to split up the responsibilities, you should come to a decision each week or month about what each person is able and willing to take on. Then, stick to it!

The pair spent time in the sand showing off their beach bods and taking dips in the water. The two were originally spotted together over the summer, but kept things cool in October.

“They break up and get back together all the time,” says a source. Is an on-again-off-again relationship healthy?

Cupid’s Advice:

If you find yourself continuously cutting things off only to get back together a few weeks later, it may not be healthy.

Cupid has some tips on how to evaluate your relationship:

1. Look at the big picture: Step back and try to see your relationship from an outside perspective. Breaking up and getting back together may seem normal to you, but it may be destructive behavior.

2. Make a list: Sometimes a pros and cons list can help sort out confused feelings. Take a page from Miranda in the Sex And The City movie, as she used one to determine her feelings for her husband, Steve. It's an old stand-by for a reason.

3. Question it: Ask yourself, "Why am I going back?" If you can't answer the question with clarity, getting back together may be the right decision. If not, calling it quits may be the way to go.

What are the benefits of having the opposite personality of your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

While many feel that two people need to have similar personalities in order to make a relationship work, the old cliché "opposites attract" does have some merit. Here are some reasons:

1. It's exciting: While it's possible to have fun with a partner who has the same interests as you, true thrill often springs from the excitement you get from stepping out of your comfort zone.

2. You can learn new things: If you like shopping and your partner enjoys hiking, then the two of you can learn a lot from each other. You may discover a love of nature and your partner may begin to appreciate the indoors. You can encourage each other to be open-minded.

3. You become well-rounded: By dating people different than yourself, you gain more points of view and life experience than you would gain by staying only with what you already know.

Cupid's Advice:

Once you bring a partner into the picture, it can be tough to make everyone in your family happy over the holidays. Cupid has a few suggestions:

1. Prioritize: Take time to discuss what's important to both you and your partner. Make sure to at least satisfy number one on each of your lists.

2. Consider your family situation: If one side of your family has 15 people getting together for the holidays and the other side only has five, go by the numbers. Go where your presence will be most appreciated.

3. Compromise: If you and your partner's families live close to one another, split up your time. Spend Christmas Eve with one family and Christmas Day with the other. If they live far apart, switch off by year instead.
