How do you involve your partner in wedding planning tasks?

Weddings may seem like the bride's responsibility, but some grooms actually want to be involved with wedding plans. Here are some great ways to include your significant other in arrangements for the big day:

What can you create to make your wedding more special?

Cupid's Advice:

Not all of us are musically gifted, but being a little creative still helps to make your special day more memorable for you and your new spouse. Here are some ideas that are sure to make your wedding unforgettable:

1. Choreograph a dance with your friends: Creating a silly and fun dance will keep your guests entertained and your new partner smiling. Consider choreographing the dance to a song that has a special meaning to you and your partner in order to make it more enjoyable and significant.

2. Vows: This may seem obvious, but not everyone can find the right words when it comes to expressing emotion. Still, if you try to write your own vows, your wedding will feel more intimate and special. Try talking about personal memories and looking into your love's eyes while sharing how you feel.

3. A collection of your memories: Before the wedding, spend some time putting together a little gift to give to your partner either during the ceremony or at the reception. Collect some of the pictures you've taken together and any memorabilia you have as a couple and put together a creative little binder or box of memories. 2. Pay attention: Does your significant other wear a lot of silver? Gold might not be your best choice. Pay attention to their style and make a choice based on that.

3. Relax: The ring isn't going to make the decision for your love. Recognize that if your partner loves you and is ready to spend the rest of their life with you, they couldn't care less what the ring looks like, just as long as you're the one giving it to them.

How do you decide whether to take your husband's name after marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

You've lived with your last name your entire life, so it might be time to move forward and change it for you and your partners' sake. Here are some ways to know that taking your husband's name after marriage is the right decision:

It's your own decision: The pressure from your husband, the new in-laws and everyone around you can be too much to bear.

If you want to take your husband's name, it should be because you believe it's a symbol of your commitment, not because you feel obligated due to pressure from everyone else.

It won't offend your birth family: Some family names hold heavier history and meaning than others, so taking your new husband's name can cause controversy. If this is not the case, there is no reason you shouldn't take your husband's last name. You can even hyphenate if you feel uncomfortable abandoning your maiden name.

There is no reason not to: If you do not want to take your husband's last name because your signature doesn't look as good as your maiden name did, think again. Not taking your husband's name for petty reasons can cause him to question your love and commitment.

How did you decide you were going to take your husband's name? Tell us below.

Find Out Why Bobbi Kristina Skipped Dad Bobby Brown's Wedding

Bobby Brown and

Alicia Etheridge celebrated their nuptials on June 18 in Hawaii and surrounded by friends and family, including Brown's three eldest children. However, Brown's only child with the late Whitney Houston, Bobbi Kristina, did not show up. Bobbi Kristina's refusal to attend the wedding made the occasion a little less joyous. "Bobby Brown was desperate for her to go to his recent wedding, but she would not return his calls," a source tells UsMagazine.com. Brown's troubled relationship with Houston that ended in their 2007 divorce made for a rocky relationship between him and his daughter, and his marriage to Etheridge has not helped matters. "She told them she was not going because she did not like Alicia, and that she was [busy] filming her reality show with [aunt] Pat Houston in New York," an insider shares. Hopefully their relationship will have a happy ending, just as Brown's love life did.

How do you involve your children in a second marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

A second marriage can be bittersweet. It's a new love for you, but a potential heartache for your children. Here are some ways to ease the strain between you and your children if you're planning on marrying again:

1. Spend time with your kids and your fiancé together: You can't force your children to like anyone, but you can make sure they get to know the person who will soon be your partner. Whenever your children are with you, have your fiancé around. This ensures that your children get a chance to spend time and connect with both of you. When the wedding comes, it won't be a stranger kissing their parent.

2. Make sure they have a major role in the nuptials: Sitting on the benches during your wedding can make your children feel like they're taking a backseat position in your life. The last thing you want to do is make your new marriage seem distant and unfamiliar to your kids, so involve them in the ceremony. Make your daughter the flower girl and your son the best man, letting them feel like they are a part of your new marriage and life.

3. Involve your children in the wedding plans: Children are creative, and even your older kids will want a say in your wedding plans. The best way to get your kids to be excited for your second marriage is to let them decorate. From the color scheme to the type of flowers, little decisions can allow your kids to feel comfortable with the wedding and bond with your new partner.

Lundberg and Galifianakis are set to marry August 11, according to their wedding invitation, which includes a personalized drawing by the actor depicting him as a troll and his fiancée as a “stunning tall blonde princess.”

What are some ways to personalize your wedding invitation?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding day is all about you and your honey, so your invitations should be, too. Here are some ways to make your wedding invitation personal:

1. Cater to your interests: Theme your invitations around something you and your fiancée both love. Big sci-fi fans? Do a photo shoot with lightsabers. Do you both love to cook?

Include your favorite recipes on the invite and ask for recipes in return.

2. Bring out your personalities: Is your significant other quiet while you're a chatterbox? Showcase your personalities with battling typefaces next to a telling photo. Fonts that range in size and style layered over one another will look perfect next to a photo of you shouting while your love covers their mouth.

3. Do something different: Bring out your creative side. Instead of paper invitations, try a photo collage or scrapbook, a video or even a musical invitation. Showcase your talents and show who you two are as a couple.

Bobby Brown Ties the Knot with Alicia Etheredge

On Monday, R&B star Bobby Brown tied the knot to manager Alicia Etheridge while visiting Hawaii to perform a New Edition concert. Family and friends were in attendance to support the couple, but Brown's daughter with Houston, Bobbi Kristina Brown, was absent because of her poor relationship with her father. Unfortunately, the newlyweds will not be spending their honeymoon in Hawaii due to forthcoming tour dates, but will at least continue traveling side-by-side.

What do you do if you don't have time for a honeymoon after your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

A honeymoon allows newlyweds to embrace the beginning of their new long-lasting marriage, but it's not always possible to spend the time or money to have one right away. Here are some great alternatives that will let you celebrate your new marriage even if a traditional honeymoon isn't an option:

1. Bring the honeymoon to you: A honeymoon's significance isn't the location, but the meaning behind it. You can have relaxing days together and romantic dinners wherever you are.

2. Daring adventure: Try a new activity that you might do on a honeymoon. For example, skydiving or swimming with sharks is a memory that you'll always share as something you did as a couple, even if you do it close to home.

3. Honeymoon suite: Rent the honeymoon suite at a fancy hotel in the same area as your wedding. If you can't honeymoon for an extended period of time, you can at least get the honeymoon experience for one special night.

'Last Song' Producer Recalls Miley Cyrus and Liam Hemsworth's First Kiss

From the instant The Last Song producer Adam Shankman began filming, he knew that stars Miley Cyrus and Liam Hemsworth were great together. Shankman told People that on the first day of shooting, Cyrus and Hemsworth kissed for the first time, and he and his co-producer Jennifer Gibgot could tell that the two had amazing chemistry. Now the two actors are engaged, meaning that their on-screen chemistry was real. This comes from not only their similar values, but their very different personalities, Shankman claims. "I'll tell you what's so great," he said. "That thing about opposites attract."

What are some things that a kiss can tell you about a potential relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

It's been scientifically proven: kissing is a biological way for people to tell whether or not someone will make a good mate. However, even if you don't use the specifics of science, you can still tell a lot about the state of your relationship based on how you and your partner kiss. Here are some things to look for:

1. Responsibility: When you kiss your partner, it's easy to check for things like bad breath, lip moisture and the presence of food. A person who takes good care of their mouth before kissing is likely to be attentive and accountable in other areas as well, while someone who is sloppy and messy often will be lacking responsibility elsewhere.

2. Nervousness: Does your partner kiss you with confidence and poise, or are they shaky and uncertain? A nervous kisser may be nervous about other aspects of your relationship.

3. How you feel afterwards: Don't discount your feelings, even if you're unsure of where they come from. If you feel happy and passionate after a kiss, chances are your relationship is going well. However, if you wind up confused or concerned, it's likely that you'll have a lot to consider about where you and your partner stand.

6 Couture Designers Dying to

Design Miley Cryus' Wedding Gown

It's only natural for young girls to begin dreaming up wedding gowns and flower arrangements in their tender years, and for singing superstar Miley Cyrus, that time wasn't too long ago. This week, the 19-year-old pop sensation announced her engagement to actor Liam Hemsworth and it's created a lot of buzz. Whether the actual ceremony is in their near future or not, couture designers Val Stefani, Ines Di Santo, Anne Barge and others immediately started sketching a one-of-a-kind dress for Miley.

Here's what the amazing designers have in mind for the bride-to-be:

Val Stefani: "This gown that I created complements the more whimsical, and bohemian style while matching her casual-country aesthetic. I mixed in elements like cut-outs and lace that reflect the more sophisticated style she has lately been rocking on the red carpet."

Anne Barge: “Miley has a personal approach to fashion which is bold and I wanted to reflect that. She has transitioned into a beautiful young woman and this silhouette is perfect for her. The vintage style of the beadwork, paired with the modern application of the skirt, gives the gown a youthful yet romantic tone.”

Mariana Aguirre of Agua Dulce: “Miley Cyrus’ style has evolved and we have seen her grow on the red carpet. We were inspired by her new sophisticated confidence. We think she’ll want to continue her sexy style, but with classic touches. Peplums are huge right now. This silhouette is borrowed from the couture runways, they add structure and shape to the dress."

Junko Yoshioka: "Miley is so fresh and young with a bubbly personality. This gown will highlight her curves, yet give her a modern air of sophistication and elegance on her wedding day."

Ines Di Santo: "Miley has always chosen elegant and classic gowns for her red carpet appearances. I see her choosing a style that expresses her personal style and fashionable taste, but still keeping it elegant and tasteful."

Angel Rivera: "Since Miley is a young bride, I can see her wanting a fairytale ball gown dress. The look I sketched for her is bold and extravagant, leaving no detail overlooked."

How do you know when you’re ready for marriage?

Cupid’s Advice:

Marriage is a wonderful and beautiful thing. But how do you know if you're really ready for a lifetime with your partner?

Here are some things to consider:

1. You've planned for a marriage, not just a wedding day:

Before getting married, you should make sure you're both aware of each other's expectations for the future. Questions like whether you're going to have a family, where you'll live, what to do with your bank account and the like should all be discussed before the big day.

2. You understand that people change: We're not saying that after the honeymoon your new spouse is going to morph into some type of animal, but people's goals and expectations for their life often do change. They may want to switch occupations or live somewhere else, as may you. You have to be willing to accept them both for who they are and for who they may become, flaws and all.

3. You have complete trust in each other: With the rapid growth in technology, trusting your partner is even more important today than it was in the past. From Facebook to texting, there's no longer just one face-to-face world. You may not know where your spouse is at all times, but if you communicate with each other and remain honest, you can rest assured that your marriage will stay strong.

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding night is the perfect time to experience something new before the honeymoon even begins. Here are some places where you can have an exciting, unique wedding night:

1. A cabin on the beach: Is there anything more romantic than watching the sun rise on the beach? After an intimate night with your love, round up in the morning to cuddle on the shore. It will be a morning you'll never forget.

2. Anywhere near a diner: Chances are you were so busy during the wedding you didn't have time to relax (or eat). Head out to a diner where you can fill up, have a coffee to wake you up, and experience your first date as a married couple. Take some time to flirt and wind down before you head to the hotel for the night.

3. At home: If the two of you share a home, this is the perfect place to spend your first married night together. After sharing highlights of the day, curl up together where the two of you are most comfortable.

What are some important things to keep in mind while planning a proposal?

Cupid's Advice:

Proposing to your significant other is something anyone in a relationship wants to play out perfectly. Here are some tips to keep in mind while planning your proposal to make it as memorable as possible:

1. Speak from the heart: Explaining why you want to marry her should come naturally and easily. Avoid memorizing lines, which can cause you to stumble over your words.

2. Intimate setting: The location should reflect the mood of your proposal. A romantic and private setting will make her feel like she is the only one in the world that matters.

3. Comfortable environment: Find a spot where both you and your love can both be calm enough to share the special moment. An uncomfortable environment can lead to nervousness, which should always be avoided.

2. The Park: Many couples have large extended families. A picturesque picnic in the park is a great way to include everyone. The little ones can play games while the adults indulge in tasty cocktails and classic picnic munchies.

3. Have a House Party: One of the best ways to declare your love for one another to your loved ones is to invite them into your own home. Whether it's a catered cocktail party or you simply grill in the yard, this idea is always a welcomed one.

Jessica Biel Says Married Life with Justin Timberlake Won't Change Anything

actress Jessica Biel says married life with Justin Timberlake won't change a thing once they tie the knot. In fact, Biel says her role as housewife will be limited, as her career keeps her away from home, according to People. Biel, 30, and Timberlake, 31 plan to marry this summer.

What are some ways life changes after you get married?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting married is a big deal for many reasons. Although you may agree with Biel that married life isn't that different, there are some changes that come with the territory:

1. Family: Even if you already have kids or don't plan on having them, your spouse is now your family and that's a big change. You are committing yourself to this person, and he or she will be present during all of the great (and all the not-so-great) moments in your life.

2. Single life: Single fun is different than married fun, but don't give up on dates and flirting with your spouse. Incorporate the things you found fun while single into your marriage so things don't change too much.

3. A new you: Even if you and your partner were living together before, you're going to spend a lot more time together as a couple. Don't be surprised if you adopt new mannerisms, your tastes broaden and you find yourself developing and expanding who you are.

What are some other things that change when you get married?

What are some ways to tell that your partner is “the one”?

Cupid’s Advice:

Finding “the one” is more than just finding a good kisser or someone who’s willing to spend a lot of money, but not enough time. Here are some ways you can tell if you have found your best match:

1. You enjoy each other: If you and your partner can lounge in the house all day eating pizza and mint chocolate chip ice cream while catching up on all the episodes of Weeds, you may have found your match. It’s not every day that you come across someone who can truly enjoy your company when you’re having a relaxed and lazy day.

2. They love him: By “they,” we mean family, friends... heck, even your beloved canine. If you love him and the most important people in your life love him, too, it’s a win-win situation.

3. You can be yourself: You sometimes can’t truly be yourself around everyone you meet, but, when you find the one person that you can wake up next to each day, not put on any make-up and they still think you’re the most beautiful person in the world – that’s “the one.”

Ace Young Proposes to Diana DeGarmo on 'Idol' Finale

American Idol has always had its fair share of surprises; surprising eliminations, surprise celebrity guests, and surprise...proposals? That's right, two former Idol contestants, Ace Young and Diana DeGarmo, shared their love with the world when Young got down on one knee on Wednesday nights season finale. But to make this happen, he needed help from the show that made him famous on its fifth season. Young told People, "I called [producer] Nigel [Lythgoe] directly last week and said, 'I want to do this. I'm going to do this. Is there any way I could do it at the show?'" A teary-eyed DeGarmo said "yes," and the long-time couple is now engaged.

What are some over-the-top proposal ideas?

Cupid's Advice:

For some, the idea of 'go big or go home' resonates well with proposals. A proposal should be momentous and representative of the love a couple shares, so here are some ideas to get that message across loud and clear:

1. Adrenaline rush proposal: It is said that the effects of attraction and love are linked to neurochemicals very similar to adrenaline. So, why not proclaim your love during an adrenaline rush? Propose in the air while sky diving, or go race car driving with your partner and scream the question out loud. Just make sure that your blood is pumping and heart is thumping.

2. Flash mob proposal: Go one step further than Justin Timberlake did in his movie Friends with Benefits and actually use the flash mob to propose. Nothing says 'I love you' more than hundreds of people dancing in sync to your favorite song in a public place. It's a story you'll be able to tell over and over.

3. Write it out: It's not as easy as it sounds. Write it in the skyline or take a helicopter ride where the words 'Will you marry me?' can be seen below. It might cost you a pretty penny, but it will be unforgettable.

Cupid's Advice:

Social media can be a great way to keep friends and family updated on the pluses in your relationship. Here are a few ways to keep positive conversation going:

1. Avoid relationship overload: Relationship posts are great when they're not clogging up everyone's newsfeeds. Keep your posts limited, and people will respond to the two of you in a more positive manner.

3. Make announcements: The people you love will appreciate knowing when new things happen to the two of you – getting engaged, getting married, buying a home, and having kids are almost as exciting to them as they are to you. Share the joy of your relationship with others.

2. Ignore public scrutiny: This is sometimes easier said than done, but it's important that both you and your partner successfully ignore the gossip going on around you. If you let it get to either of you, it'll damage your relationship.

3. Move on: Don't live in the past. If you often think about the drama that happened years ago, and it affects your day-to-day life, that's not healthy. You can't truly enjoy your relationship until you leave the past in the past.
