What are three unique ways to ask someone to be your date?

Cupid's Advice:

Asking someone out can be a stressful and worrisome experience. You want to be with the guy but don't want to embarrass yourself if he is not interested. Cupid's here to offer some advice:

1. Get creative: You have been crushing on one of your guy friends for the past few weeks and want to get the ball rolling already. Why not make it fun? Take the man you're interested in to a local park and ask him out while you both are on the swings. The guy will feel special while gliding through the air with you. Find a fun place you both enjoy going to and ask them out. Your crush will realize how much fun being around you is and will be sure to say yes.

2. Utilize their hobbies: The guy you are interested in teaches guitar lessons to young kids. Show him you're interested and ask him to teach you how to play. Celebrity Couple Danny DeVito & Rhea Perlman Are Back Together

By Jessica

Conigliaro

After a surprise separation last fall, Danny DeVito and Rhea Perlman are back together, People reports. The two have been working on their relationship for the past few months and seem to have worked through their problems. "They love each other," says a friend of the couple. "Always have and always will."

What are some ways to work on your relationship if you're having problems?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your partner have been arguing for the last few weeks. You want the fight to end without the relationship ending as well. Cupid's here to give some advice on how to work through your problems together:

1. Talk it through: Your boyfriend has been having a difficult time at work and takes his frustrations out on you. You of course are fed up with his attitude and want things to go back to normal for you two. Tell your partner how upset you get whenever he yells for no reason. Let him know you understand his work problems and want to help, but yelling will get him nowhere. He will feel comforted knowing he has you to work through his problems with.

2. Remember the good: If you and your love seem to be fighting a lot lately, take a step back from the situation and ask yourself why you are getting so mad. If you can't think of a solid reason, it is possible you are just getting at each other's throats for no reason. Remember how happy you are with your man and the fighting should be greatly reduced as a result.

3. Take a breather: Sometimes, the best thing to do during a heated argument is to simply walk away. Before you say or do anything you will regret, tell your man you are going for a walk but will be back for dinner. Make sure he knows you are just stepping away shortly and will be returning. Some time away will allow you to clear your heads and gain a better perspective on the situation.

What are some out of the box ways to find love?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding love is a relatively hard thing to do. Love does not usually spring itself at you, some effort is required to find the love of your life. The ways to find love seem to be around the same thing; going to bars, blind dates, online dating, and what not. Are you tired of the same pattern over and over again to try and find love? You deserve a different, out of the box way to find love. Cupid has some advice on this:

1. Yoga class: Yoga class is great for many things in life. Obviously it is a form of exercise, resulting in happiness. Which inevitably leads to a boost of confidence, and gives you more courage to talk to people of the opposite sex. It also balances your inner self with the natures of the world and others around you. Meeting new people at yoga will give you a look into people who are practicing the same life as you, relatively. Which will make finding love easier!

2. Volunteering: Would you ever suspect to meet the love of your life while volunteering? Most likely not. However, volunteering is full of generous, kind-hearted people looking to help the world. Looking for someone to love. Spark up a conversation with an opposite sex at the food pantry, or clothe drive, or helping out with the local blood drive. You never know what will come of the new interaction. So go out and do some good ladies and gentleman!

3. Friends: Scratch a blind date, hang out with your friends and converse with someone you don't know. If they're hanging out with your friends, you both must have something in common. If you two hit things off, it could loom into a full blown relationship. Also, if a date occurs from your meeting, it won't be strange because you two will already know each other. Go ahead and be social!

How can you help your friends find love?

Cupid's Advice

You often know what's best for your closest friends—and you should, considering the amount of time you spend together. When it comes to dating, they sometimes don't quite get it right and may ask for your input. Cupid offers some tips on how to help them find the love they deserve.

1. Find the right person: Your best friend has been single for a very long time and asks you to set her up with someone. Where do you even start? Don't just find any guy on the street that looks nice. You don't want to be responsible for setting your friend up with a creep! Consider an old friend from college or a colleague who you really like. Make sure you know him well before introducing him to your friend.

2. Don't force it: Not everyone enjoys the idea of blind dates. In fact, a lot of women fear the concept or become repulsed by the sheer thought. Try planning a group hangout and invite your two friends who you are setting up. They might hit it off, or they might not. Either way, your friends won't be left feeling ambushed or awkward.

3. Express your opinion: All too often, our close friends end up dating guys that are no good for them. Their boyfriends don't respect them and refuse to treat them right, let alone pay for dinner. Unfortunately, your friend is so in love that she sees right past the flaws. Try pointing out the negative sides to her man without bluntly telling her to end their relationship. Sometimes, the only way to help the people close to you is by letting them figure things out for themselves.

What are some good changes your partner can inspire in you?

Being in a relationship changes you in both good and bad ways. If you're lucky, your partner will inspire you to be a better person, teaching you how to love more and allowing you to be your best self. Here are three positive ways that your significant other may change you.

1. Passion: Being with another person who accepts you for who you are enables you to feel passionate about your relationship. You'll feel thankful to share your life with someone so wonderful. You'll want to spend all of your time with your partner, making them better just as they make you better.

2. Tolerance: Every relationship requires work; it wouldn't be a relationship if it were easy. Your mate will teach you how to build tolerance, including patience with yourself and your beau and respect for your relationship.

3. Compromise: Compromise is important to every relationship. Even if you think you and your partner are perfect for each other, you will still have disagreements. Learning to compromise will strengthen your love and also improve your relationships with other people.

Prince Harry Flirts with a Pussycat Doll at a Club in London

By Jessica

Conigliaro

Prince Harry returned home from his four-month tour of duty in Afghanistan—and celebrated the occasion. The 28-year-old was spotted dancing at Bodos Schloss, a new ski chalet-style restaurant, bar and dance club. “Harry was having a great time drinking with his friends,” UsMagazine.com reports. “He had a good ol’ flirt with some cute girls, including Ashley Roberts from Pussycat Dolls...”

What are three important tips for flirting?

Cupid’s Advice:

The simple act of flirting can make or break a potential relationship. Too much flirting will leave them running for the door. At the same time, not enough will make them unaware of your feelings. Cupid offers some helpful tips for flirting:

1. Less is more: Before you get to the point of swapping numbers, there has to be a mutual attraction between both of you. Don't over flirt; you will end up seeming desperate and clingy. Walk over to them and start a conversation, but make it short! If they're interested, they will make their way back to you before the night is over.

2. Play hard to get: When meeting someone new at a party, try getting their number instead of giving yours out. Wait a few days to text or call him—this will make him more eager to hear from you. On your first date, lean in like you're about to kiss him and pull away at the last second to say goodnight. This will leave him craving a second date with you.

3. Notice what he's wearing: If he's wearing a sports jersey of a team you are familiar with, point it out to him. This will start up an interesting conversation about your common interest in the team—guys love that. This can also be applied for band t-shirts or any type of shirt that expresses what they like.

How do you leave skeletons from your past behind you?

Cupid's Advice:

We all have demons from our past we wish to disappear—and fast! In relationships, people make mistakes and end up hurting one another. Cheating is one of the worst ways you can injure someone's pride and destroy their trust in you. Cupid offers some ways to move on from mistakes we've made in the past:

1. Wait until you're ready: After a nasty breakup, you shouldn't jump into another one right away. If the breakup was mainly your fault, focus on why things got so bad. Figure out the reason why you hurt your partner; you might have destroyed the relationship in order to protect yourself from future pain. Learn why you put up these guards before getting involved with anyone new.

2. Acceptance: If you do something wrong, apologize and promise to never do it again—a valuable lesson we learned in kindergarten. Making mistakes in relationships can have serious effects. The only way to move on from your mistakes is by getting closure from the situation entirely; if you caused your partner emotional pain, let them know you are sorry and are completely at fault. Own up to your wrong doings as soon as possible.

3. Be Honest: Let your partner know about all the scandals from previous relationships; re-assure him that you have grown as a person since then. Your partner will respect you for being upfront about the mistakes you've made. This will create a bond of trust between the both of you—which will grow stronger over time.

What are some reasons to keep your relationship out of the public eye?

Cupid's Advice:

When you're in a relationship you're so happy that you want to yell to everyone that your dating someone amazing. So why do some choose to keep their relationship under wraps? Cupid is here to tell you why staying on the down low may be a good choice...at least at first anyway:

1. Publicity adds pressure: When a relationship is new, it tends to be very delicate. Keeping your relationship under the radar will help avoid strain that being public may bring. Having your relationship out in public is having it open for people to judge every aspect of it. It might be better to make sure that the relationship is strong enough to handle these pressures before letting everyone in on your new found love.

2. Making sure that it will last: You don't want to tell everyone about your relationship and then have it end a month later. It can be very embarrassing and depressing when someone asks you about your relationship a few weeks after you make it public and you are forced to admit that it is over. Keeping things quiet about your relationship at first will give you time to make sure you and your new beau are compatible enough to maintain a long term relationship.

3. Jealousy: Keeping your new relationship under wraps can help avoid jealousy issues from exs or others. Waiting until you get to know your sweetheart better before opening your relationship up to the world will help to avoid issues from jealous outsiders.

Dating isn't easy. Sometimes you are unsure whether or not it is worth going out with someone for a second date. Telling whether a person is a good catch can be difficult from only one date. Fortunately, Cupid is here to help you find some answers based on events from your first date:

1. Being on time: It is important for both you and your date to be on time. Being on time shows that your date respects your time and is genuinely happy about being out with you. Respect is the most important factor when dating someone.

2. Kind to others: You know that your date is a good catch if they are kind to waiters or staff wherever the two of you go. This is a sign of a good heart.

3. Cares about your opinion: If your date seems to care about what you think of them then that is a sign that you found a good one. This shows that they like you and want you to like them back. How do you balance a demanding career and your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Believe it or not, it is possible to balance a career you spend the entirety of your time on, and a relationship. Here are some ways you can manage both:

1. Communication: To make a demanding career and relationship work, you will need an immense amount of communication. It doesn't matter if you are the only one with the demanding career, it will affect both of you the same way. Make sure you express your plans, and your feelings up front to your love. To make the relationship work, it is essential to fill your partner in on all of your upcoming events, and also how plans could go awry.

2. Schedule time: It is so much easier to make a relationship work with a demanding career if you specifically schedule dates, hang outs, and alone time. Of course, you most likely want to spontaneously see your partner however, this may not always work with a stressing career. To make sure you two get to spend love-dove time together, schedule it! Write it down, put it in your phone, scribble it down on your calender. As long as you two make time to see each other, your relationship should move uphill!

3. Flexibility: Plans might come up where you have to cancel your plans with your partner. Although you may want to continue on with your plans, the whole demanding career aspect of your lives will break those ideas. You and your partner have to both realize that these situations will occur. It is inevitable that your demanding career will get in the way of some of your plans. As long as you two realize that you will have to be flexible in the future, you can make it work!

How do you know when to go public with your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

How do you know when it is an appropriate time to introduce your new love interest to the friends and family? Is it too soon to let the public know about your new beau? Cupid is here to help you figure out what your next move should be:

1. Make sure you are both on the same page: Figure out titles before going public. Be sure that your sweetheart is planning to stick around before making anything public. You don't want to have to face the awkward "oh we're not together anymore" after only a month of spreading the news. Unfortunately this means that you will have to have the "where do we stand" talk. If you feel it is too soon for that talk then it is too soon to go public.

2. Make sure the relationship is stable enough: Making things public will definitely add more pressure to your relationship. Make sure you are both ready for the pressures and are secure enough together to handle it.

3. Listen to your true feelings: If you do not feel ready to make your relationship public, or if you feel like you're having second thoughts, then do not go through with it. This could be because you do not see yourself in a long term relationship with this person. They may just be a fling or a friend or maybe you just need more time. Make sure you are 100% sure that you see yourself in a relationship with the other person before letting everyone know about it.

What do you do if your friends find your mate attractive?

Cupid's Advice:

Jealousy can really mess up a good relationship, so what do you do if your friends are always coming on to your partner? Cupid has some advice:

1. Don't sweat it, enjoy it!: Your friends want what you have. Revel in it! Your partner is with you for a reason so don't worry about your friends finding your mate attractive because your mate finds YOU attractive. As long as your friends don't get out of line, take it as a compliment that your friends think your sweetheart is hot, because that gorgeous babe is with you!

2. Make it apparent that you two are close and happy together:

If you feel that your friend would try to make a move on your partner, show them that the relationship the two of you have is unbreakable. Laugh about a funny inside joke together in front of your so-called friend. Get close to one another. Do not fight or argue in front of your friend. Doing so will make them feel that they could use the argument as a tactic to get close to your mate. so be careful! And most importantly, if you feel that your friend would make a move on your mate, then that is not a true friend and you need to throw that person out of your life immediately.

3. Watch body language: If you see that your friend is getting flirty with your sweetie then be truthful and tell your friend that their behavior is unacceptable. Be honest with your friend about your suspicions. If your friend continues to act inappropriately then cut them out of your life permanently.

The Bachelor: Lesley M. Breaks Record for the Show's Longest Kiss

By Meghan Fitzgerald

We're only three weeks into the current season of The Bachelor, and tensions are already high. It seems as if one lucky contestant, Lesley M., made Bachelor, Sean Lowe, want more after their initial meeting. Lowe toured Lesley to the Guinness World Records Museum. As the tour approached its end, Chris Harrison popped out of nowhere and explained the point of the date. According to UsMagazine.com, the two love birds would kiss on screen for 3 minutes and 16 seconds. Huffintgton Post reports that the couple enjoyed a rooftop dinner after.

How can a kiss help you determine if your partner's 'the one'?

Cupid's Advice:

It is always challenging to determine if your partner is 'the one' or not, and the kiss you two share is a telling factor. The kiss should emit fireworks! Cupid has some other ways a kiss can help you determine if your partner's 'the one':

1. Butterflies: Butterflies are relatively self explanatory. You either feel them, or you don't feel them. The butterflies felt vary from person to person however, if you get the ultimate feeling of flurries in your stomach when you're with your partner, it is easier to determine. Having butterflies with your partner makes it easier to know that their 'the one.'

2. You feel "it": This can also relate to butterflies however, when you kiss, you just know they're 'the one.' You automatically know that your partner is the only one who "gets you." The only person you want to wake up to. The one person you can share everything with. When you kiss, you simply just feel "it."

How do you know when it's time to move on after a divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Even if it is a clean, mutual split, no divorce is easy. Not only is the process difficult and stressful, the recovery period can be even harder. After experiencing this major life change, it may be difficult to even think about starting to dating. Maybe you haven't dated in years and the whole online dating thing sparks your nerves. Maybe the divorce was messy and you just aren't emotionally ready for someone else.

Whatever the case, there are plenty of ways to determine if you are ready to move on:

1. You don't think about your ex anymore: You may find over time that you move from thinking about your ex every hour, to every day, to every week. Slowly, you discover that negative thoughts surrounding your ex and your divorce no longer consume your thoughts. This is a major sign that your heart and mind are opening up to the idea of meeting someone new.

2. You have an excellent sense of self: A marriage or long-term relationship can cause both partners to lose sight of who they are as an individual. After spending so much time as a couple, it may take some time to figure out who you are again. If you have established a happy and successful single life after a divorce, and you truly believe you are content with who you are as an individual, you are ready to open up to new people. Who knows, after discovering who you truly are, like Jennie Garth, you may find that you want someone or something completely different.

3. You have the time: It may be hard to recall, but dating is extremely time and mind-consuming. It is extremely rare to find someone after going on one date, so anticipate needing some time to devote to the process. Although online dating is extremely convenient, creating a profile and sorting through multiple matches can be time-consuming. When you begin a relationship with and incorporate into your life is an important thing, make sure you take the time to do it right.

How do you know when to make your relationship public?

Cupid's Advice:

Don't feel pressure to spread the word of your romance, but eventually if someone is important to you they should become an obvious part of your life. It's hard to decide when exactly to update that Facebook profile. Rather than worry about it, here are some signs to take things public:

1. Close rapport: You and your partner could still be testing the water. Make sure you each feel comfortable and have some clarity about your relationship before telling the world. Wait until you know how to talk to each other.

2. Emotional investment: A few dates is a good start, but if you're going to be with someone publicly then you should know that you're both committed. Considering what you're both looking for in a relationship, could making things public add extra pressure? A decent stretch of dates will make it easier to tell friends and family about your special someone.

3. Longterm options: Be aware of the stresses your relationship could encounter. If distance, responsibilities or baggage from previous relationships are going to threaten this new one, then you have to be careful. Don't jump the gun before you've straightened out whether or not there's a future as a couple.

What do you do if you fall for your friend's ex partner?

Cupid's Advice:

The number one rule in girl code is not to date your friend's ex boyfriends. But what happens if we can't help ourselves? Here are some tips:

1. Talk it over with him: Be open about your hesitance with your friend's ex and make sure that he is not trying to use you to get back at her. Make sure that the two of you are on the same page before diving into anything serious.

2. Talk it over with her: The best thing to do with your friend is to be open and honest about what is going on. Calmly explain how you are feeling and be open minded, even if she is not.

3. Weigh the consequences: Once you have talked with the two of them, really weigh out your options. See if you are willing to pass up an opportunity for love to keep a friendship or if you are willing to sacrifice a friendship for a shot at love.

How do you know if your relationship is worth fighting for?

Cupid’s Advice:

Despite obstacles, some relationships are worth putting in the time and effort to make them worth. That said, some are just the opposite and simply aren’t worth it. Cupid has some advice:

1. Your feelings: The best thing you can do is to trust your instincts and feelings. If whenever you’re with your partner you get that feeling of love in your heart, then it’s probably worth it to plow through obstacles to make your relationship work.

2. You’re on the same page: Just because you know you love your partner and want to be with him or her, that doesn’t mean your mate is on the same page. It’s important to sit down and have a very frank conversation about where each of you are in the relationship to make sure you want the same things at the same time.

3. You have enough in common: If you have very little in common with your partner, it’s probably not worth fighting for your relationship because neither one of you will be happy. In order to sustain a relationship long-term, your interests must align at least somewhat.

Scarlett Johansson Debuts New French Boyfriend Romain Dauriac

By Jennifer Ross

Scarlett Johansson has got a new man. Just one month after splitting from advertising exec Nate Naylor, Johansson has been spotted out with French journalist Romain Dauriac. According to Pure People, the love birds were introduced to each other by a mutual friend and tattoo artist Fuzi Uvtpk. Since then, reports claim that the couple has also frequented several bars and clubs in both France and New York within the past several weeks.

What are some ways to introduce your new partner to family and friends?

Cupid's Advice:

When you begin a love relationship, you naturally want to involve him/her in every part of your life. This will include introductions to your colleagues, friends and family. Be warned that this can be a tricky when dealing with judgmental people who care about you. In order for things to work out well, here are three ways to bring your important people together:

1. Private brunch/dinner: Before your new partner is thrown to the family pack, smooth things over with a pre-introduction brunch/dinner for you two and your parents. It will be difficult enough for your mate to answer questions from your parents in front of the family. A private brunch/dinner for four will allow your parents to get to know him/her without the scrutiny of a family audience.

2. Sports gathering: A great time for your partner to meet your friends is when you all get together for a sports event. This will be a way for him/her to mingle with everyone without being the center of attention. Also, bonding moments can happen when your sport team is winning.

3. Vacation trip: If you feel you two are ready, consider inviting your partner to a family or friend vacation trip. This will allow everyone to be in a neutral and stress-free environment with plenty of days to get to know him/her. Just remember to go easy on the alcoholic beverages during the trip.
