At the beginning of a relationship and love, it is the time to get to know each other and have fun. Cupid has three things to keep in mind:

1. Keep your future in mind: At the beginning stages, it can be easy to get swept up in the moment by just having fun and keeping it casual. If you know you want kids and to settle down in the next couple years, this is something to bring up sooner than later.

'The Bachelor' Season 19 Contestant Britt Nilsson Faces Her Fear For Chris Soules

By Emma L. Wells

“The sky’s the limit...,” read Britt Nilsson’s one-on-one date card on last night’s episode of The Bachelor season 19. That’s when the 27-year-old waitress started to cry in panic due to her debilitating phobia of heights. Still, she pulled it together before their one-on-one date. People.com reported Chris Soules saying that she was “just as beautiful first thing in the morning as when she’s all dolled up for the rose ceremony. It’s pretty incredible.” Turns out, she gets all dolled up for bed too, but oh well! The reality TV lovebirds soon arrived in the New Mexico desert to find a hot air balloon waiting for them, and Nilsson’s fears quickly disappeared with Soules’ arms around her.

This Bachelor season 19 contestant overcame her fear to get closer to Chris Soules. What are some ways you can beat your phobias when looking for a relationship and love?

Cupid’s Advice:

Whether you fear heights, spiders, darkness, or commitment, you shouldn’t let it stand in your way when you’re looking for a relationship and love. It’s completely possible to overcome your distress, no matter how big it may seem. Cupid has some dating advice for you:

- 1. Switch your focus: On The Bachelor season 19, Nilsson was able get over her fear because being close to Soules was more important to her. If you’re afraid of flying but have to take a trip, focus on the destination to help you get through the flight. Paying attention to your fear will only make the situation harder. That’s why having a hunky farmer by your side is always a benefit!

2. Get your facts straight: Most fears – like the fear of sharks, for instance – aren't based on actual statistics. Our imaginations make our phobias much worse than they should be. Do you really live in an area where you need to be worried about giant, poisonous spiders getting you in the dark, or is it just in your mind? Do some research to calm your nerves.

3. Face your fear: You can't just ignore it and expect it to go away. To overcome your terror, you need to take gradual steps. If you're afraid of dogs, watch a few videos of them until you're comfortable seeing them on the screen. Then, work your way up to being in the same room with them or passing them on a sidewalk. Keep going until you can interact with a large dog in an enclosed setting. There's no need to rush!

Make sure you ask yourself, "Does my partner inspire me to be a better person?" If not, this may not be the relationship for you.

Have you ever been in an on again off again relationship? If so, then you know what celebrity exes Perry and Mayer are going through right now. If you don't know if it's time to rekindle the flame, here's some dating advice to help you figure it out:

1. Either one or both of you has changed: Whether he's finally decided to commit or you learned how to handle your inner control freak, the circumstances that led to the break-up can no longer exist in order for it to work out. There's no point in entering the same relationship only for it to end again, so make sure that if you do reconnect with your ex, your issues from the past are gone.

2. You can talk about what went wrong: It's very important in relationships and love to be able to communicate about what's working and what's not. If you get back together with an ex, discuss what led to the break up so you can avoid it the next time around.

3. You're willing to go slow: Don't pick up right where you left off. Take it slow, and treat the relationship with the same respect you would a new one. By Katie Gray

The rapper and mogul, West, recently spoke out on The Ellen DeGeneres Show, saying, "I've definitely learned how to compromise more. According to UsMagazine.com, he continued, saying, "And I've learned how to shut up more. Yeah, I think I'm a better human being because of her, and because of my daughter."

Kanye's celebrity love affair has definitely taught him a lesson or two. What lessons can we all learn from our relationships and love life?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to celebrity love, it's in the public eye for us all to see and learn from. Cupid has some love lessons to take note of:

1. Talking helps: Communication is key for every relationship in our lives. Whether it's an interpersonal romantic relationship or the relationship we have with our family and friends, conflict is inevitable and is a part of life. In fact, it can be healthy. If you don't care enough to sometimes argue with your partner, maybe you're settling with being content instead of having a passionate relationship. Life isn't all diamonds and roses, and working through conflict with your partner makes you both grow stronger together. Talking always helps, so no matter what you and your partner are experiencing – talk it out!

2. If it isn't broke don't fix it: Why try fixing something that isn't broken? When you're in a relationship, you and your partner should always work on evolving together to be the best people that you can be. It's great to learn from each other, get one another to try new things and achieve mutual goals. That being said, don't start causing problems when there isn't an issue. If something is bothering you, address it with your partner right away. Don't dwell on things that are fine. Instead explore your happiness in your relationship!

3. What goes around comes around: It's obvious that when you show love, you often receive it in return. Use this to your advantage by being the best partner that you can be. Treat your partner like a king/queen, and they will reciprocate. It all starts with loving yourself as an individual first, and then you can truly love someone else fully.!

"Her face was in full panic. She thought I was going to propose on national TV in front of one billion people." Although they agree right now would be too soon to tie the knot, a celebrity engagement for the lovely duo is likely in the future.

Celebrity engagements can be over-the-top! What are three ways to make your proposal memorable?

Cupid's Advice:

People will ask your partner about his or her marriage proposal for years to come, so it's best to make it unforgettable. Cupid has some tips:

1. Spontaneity: What is a whirlwind romance without being spontaneous at times? A great way to make a proposal special is by shocking your partner and taking their breath away. Sure, you may have discussed marriage and having children, but that doesn't mean your partner needs to know exactly when you will pop the question! Think about what you want to tell them, choose the perfect atmosphere, get down on one knee and bask in the happiness!

2. A picture is worth a thousand words: Capture your special moment on camera! It is something that you will remember and treasure for the rest of your lives together. You could have a photographer/videographer there to capture the moment for life, as well as having family and friends join you afterwards to make it special and announce it to your loved ones.

3. Detail oriented: The details of the proposal are important. What matters most, though, is the love you and your partner feel. Including significant details will only make the proposal that much more personal and memorable. It will show that you truly know your partner and the history that you have created together. Include their favorite flowers, ask their father for permission the old school way, choose a location that has meaning to the both of you, and plan the events before and after the proposal.

The celebrity couple has been inseparable ever since!

Henri Esteve isn't afraid to show his celebrity love Gina Rodriguez his emotions. What are some ways to show your partner you care?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're not a naturally emotional person, it can be tough to come up with ways to show your partner you care without feeling uncomfortable. Cupid has some tips:

1. Thoughtful actions: This applies to things outside of gift giving. For instance, open your partner's garage door for him/her when you leave for the day first. Or, cook their favorite food for dinner. Showing you're thinking of your mate is almost as romantic as giving her flowers.

3. Include them: This may seem obvious, but simply including your partner in your thoughts and dreams counts for a lot. If you're thinking about looking into a new career path, let them know where your thoughts are. You don't have to have a fully formed plan in place to clue your partner in.

This celebrity couple is facing some doubt from the pop star's friends. How do you handle criticism about a new relationship and love?

Cupid's Advice:

The beginning of a new relationship and love should be filled with joy and bliss. However, when your pals are unsupportive of your new partner, it can put a damper on your happiness. If you're facing criticism like this celebrity couple, Cupid has some tips:

1. Introduce them: If your buddies haven't met your significant other yet, ask them to be open-minded until they get to know each other. If they've already been introduced and had a negative first impression, tell your buddies that it'd really mean a lot if they would give your beau a second chance. Encourage them to set judgments aside until they spend some quality time together.

2. Listen to their concerns: It may seem counterproductive, but it's important to ask your friends to explain their doubt to you. As much as you may want to ignore their criticism, giving them the chance to share their worries will go a long way. It'll help you understand where they're coming from, and it'll allow your pals to feel like they're being heard. Getting everything out in the open will help you all move forward in a graceful way.

3. Be honest: If all else fails, you need to have a heart-to-heart with your loved ones and open up about your new relationship. To help them understand how you feel, share the reasons why you want to be with your significant other and how they make you feel. If they truly love you (and they should!), seeing you so happy should be enough for them.

Former 'Bachelorette' Desiree Hartsock Shares Celebrity Wedding Photos

By Emma L. Wells

There's another name to add to the list of successful love stories stemming from The Bachelorette! Former reality TV star Desiree Hartsock tied the knot with Chris Siegfried on Sunday, Jan. 18. While the church ceremony wasn't televised, they released exclusive photos of their celebrity wedding to UsMagazine.com earlier this week. They shared more than two dozen pictures from their special day, including the pretty invitations, the bridal party, and the salted caramel and Oreo cake (yum!). "In a relationship, you're always learning about someone, trying to figure out how they love, how they feel, how they think," Hartsock said following their big day. "I think it's the same with marriage. You continue getting stronger and growing with each other."

You don't have to be a reality TV star like this former Bachelorette to have photographs fit for a celebrity wedding. What are some ways to up the ante for your own wedding album?

Cupid's Advice:

You want to capture all the details of your wedding – from the dress to your first kiss as a married couple to the dancing. After all, these are memories you'll want to cherish and display forever! If you want a unique and special wedding album but don't have the budget of a celebrity wedding, Cupid has some tips:

- 1. Use disposable cameras: Add throwaway cameras as a part of your centerpieces and invite guests to get in touch with their inner amateur photographer. You can even buy customizable ones, so they match your color scheme and have your names and wedding date on them. Your loved ones will get involved and interact with each other while snapping candid all evening long. Not all of them will be Annie Leibovitz-impressive, but you'll end up with some really fun pictures for your album.

Related Link: ‘The Bachelor’ Runner-Up Lindsay Yenter Is Engaged

2. Rent a photo booth: Photo booths are becoming a really big trend at weddings: They're a great way to capture photos of all of your guests, and the strip of photos can be your wedding favor. You can rent one for the reception, or go the DIY route by hanging a black sheet for a backdrop, finding a friend whose willing to snap pics throughout party, and buying a travel printer. To make photos you'll still enjoy looking at in 20 years, hit a thrift store or costume store and pick up some fun accessories for your guests to wear while they pose.

Related Link: Celebrity Pregnancy: Former ‘Bachelorette’ Emily Maynard is Expecting

3. Create your own hashtag: Getting your friends and family involved is a sure-fire way for you to see all of the special photos of your big day. Pick an event hashtag for your wedding; be creative and come up with a cute couple nickname or keep it simple with just your married last name and the year. Make sure it's not a popular hashtag though, or it will be harder to collect all of your photos. Post the hashtag somewhere in venue – like above the bar or on the cocktail napkins – and ask your attendees to use it whenever they Instagram, Facebook, or Tweet throughout the day.

Cameron Diaz and Benji Madden have been happier than ever after their celebrity wedding. According to UsMagazine.com, the famous couple shared a smooch for the Kiss Cam during the L.A. Lakers game. This was the pair's first post-wedding public appearance and their faces lit up as they noticed they'd been singled out at the game. Cameron Diaz is in a permanent state of happiness after her extravagant celebrity wedding and honeymoon with husband Benji Madden. What are three ways you can keep your relationship exciting when the wedding festivities are over?

Cupid's Advice:

Some of the excitement in a relationship and love can die down after an exhilarating couple of months of being engaged and then having a beautiful ceremony, celebrity wedding or not. Keep in mind that your relationship needs nurturing, so make things exciting after the festivities are over:

1. Little rituals: Small, little rituals like making coffee for each other in the morning or going out to a game together every now and then like Diaz and Madden do, can keep your partner on their toes and excited. Consider leaving random gifts around the house for your spouse to find or having small gifts to delivered to him or her at work.

Celebrity Couple Gabrielle Union & Dwayne Wade Signed Prenup

By Rebecca White

Looking for some solid relationship advice from a celebrity couple? Well, you're in luck, because Gabrielle Union and Dwayne Wade have just stated that they swear by getting a prenup before marriage. According to UsMagazine.com, Union and Wade signed a prenup prior to their celebrity wedding in August 2014. "Now that it's time to get married to a man who happens to play basketball and has done well for himself, I want to make it clear that I have in no way hitched my wagon to his star," Union said. "I have my own wagon and star."

Many celebrity couples need to put a prenup in place prior to getting married. What are three reasons why prenups can help your relationship and love life?

Cupid's Advice:

While we aren't all celebrity couples with our 'wagon and star,' we do need to protect our assets and openly communicate with our partners. Remember to keep in mind that while this agreement is binding, it is not necessarily planning for divorce. It's simply having a backup plan:

1. Upfront and honest communication: Relationships require upfront and honest communication. Now that Union and Wade have discussed and planned for the future, there will be no need for arguments pertaining to power issues later on.

2. Separating debt: Debts pile up, regardless of whether you're a celebrity couple or not. It may be wise to separate debt obligations like student loans, child support and/or credit cards. Discussing which income will pay for each debt and what impact that will have on future purchases is very important. Keep in mind that prenups are open to amendment with a postnup, in case circumstances change.

3. Make sure your partner is marriage material: Many of the issues discussed during a prenup agreement are things that you would actually want to know before getting married. These conversations will help reveal what you have in common and what could become a deal breaker. Luckily, Union and Wade were even happier in their Hollywood relationship after getting a prenup!

‘The Bachelor’ Chris Soules Says That Men “Don’t Work Well with Subtlety”

By Emma L. Wells

Poor Chris Soules had a lot to handle on last night's jam-packed episode of the hit reality TV show The Bachelor. His hands were full with two group dates, two one-on-ones, a visit from his sisters, a shameless Cinderella promotion, and one big confession. The first group date brought seven girls to the lake for a day of beach fun and night of camping. Ashley I. was, in her own words, a camping virgin and a virgin camping, and after fretting over it, she decided to tell Soules the truth about her sexual history – or lack thereof. She snuck into The Bachelor star's tent in the middle of night to wake him up and was clearly nervous as she danced around the point of the conversation without actually saying it. In his blog on People.com, the Iowa farmer writes, "Here's a little lesson for you ladies: Men are pretty simple when it comes to words... Spell it out for us. Maybe even write it down so we don't forget it. We don't work well with subtlety." Later in the episode, she bravely tried again, and this time, she came right out with her confession.

The Bachelor* contestant Ashley I. was in need of some dating advice before she confronted Chris Soules with her big reveal on last night's episode. What are some ways to successfully open up to a guy?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting to know someone at the start of a relationship is both fun and scary. Once you get through basic background information, you have to open up about the good, the bad, and the emotional – and that's not always easy. It's worth it, though: Sharing yourself with a new guy leads to a deeper connection and a stronger relationship. Cupid has some dating advice to help you successfully open up:

1. Pick the right time and place: Ashley I. should've waited for a better opportunity to reveal her big secret to Soules. If you're ready to share something personal, it's important that your partner be in the right mindset. Make sure you have an appropriate amount of time, their undivided attention, and a bit of privacy. You should be somewhere where you feel comfortable expressing your emotions and talking freely without interruptions or distractions.

2. Be straightforward: Like The Bachelor said, "Spell it out." Don't beat around the bush; your significant other probably won't understand what you're trying to say, and you won't get the response you're looking for. It can be hard, but say it as plainly as possible. You may still have answer some follow-up questions though, so be prepared to have a conversation and not just make a confession.

3. Let it happen naturally: Reaching the point in a relationship where you two can really be honest with each other can't be forced. If it's meant to be, it will be. There's no need to rush to pull the skeletons out of your closet in the first few weeks of a knowing each other. When the timing is right, you'll feel it. That being said, if you think this person can't really get to know you while you're keeping a secret, then it's time to reveal it.

Relationships and love require a foundation of support. What are three ways to support your partner's career like this famous couple?

Cupid's Advice:

The key to any successful relationship is a solid foundation based on mutual respect and understanding. One way to build this foundation is to support each other's careers, but also to always stand up for each other, whether it be when you're talking to family or friends or being interviewed on the red carpet:

1. Post Facebook updates: One unique thing to do is to post updates on Facebook, sharing with family and friends not only how proud you are of them, but showing off all their hard work. Whether you post about the promotion they got, to how well they did that day at work, your partner is sure to feel the love.

Sofia Vergara and Joe Manganiello Reveal Fall Celebrity Wedding Plans

By Rebecca White

Another celebrity wedding is underway. Sofia Vergara and Joe Manganiello recently revealed that they will tie the knot this coming fall. The famous couple got engaged over the holidays after only six months of dating and the marriage plans are not moving much slower. According to UsMagazine.com, although the Hollywood couple are still finalizing the wedding date, one thing they do know is that their celebrity wedding will be huge. "It's going to be big," Vergara said. "We started off with 20 [on the guest list], and now there's like pages and pages.”

Whether it's a celebrity wedding or not, timing is crucial. What are some ways to decide when to have your wedding like this famous couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Setting the date of your wedding is one of the hardest decisions to make after getting engaged. Should you go for a long engagement or a short one? Should you follow the love advice of your family and friends, or follow your heart? Cupid has some tips:

1. Choose your season: First, let's start broad and then narrow our way to the perfect date. Choosing the season you want to get married comes first. Do you want summer beach pictures? Would you prefer pictures with the leaves changing color in the fall? Think of what season makes for the best pictures.

2. Choose your price: The budget can actually decide when the ceremony will take place. For example, June, July, August, and September are the most popular times to marry, so the prices during these months will be higher. Also, deciding to marry on a weekday instead of the weekend can save money, as Saturday night weddings carry a hefty price tag.

3. Keep in mind the no-no days: After choosing what season, what month, and whether or not it will be a weekend or weekday, then you have to keep in mind specific days. For example, take a poll of the most important people who have to be there and block off their no-no days. Keep in mind various religious holidays, crunch time at work, and any other plans that may come in the way. Choosing your no-no days will narrow down your options once again, and then you're ready to decide!

That being said, she hasn't necessarily been lucky in love. In fact, Lopez recently went on the late night talk show Watch What Happens Live and discussed what draws her to certain men. "I would say my type of man is, I like manly. I don't like a softer edge. I like somebody to make me laugh. But type-wise, I'm not a looks person. I don't know if you noticed, over the years," The Boy Next Door star, who has had her share of celebrity exes stated. It seems celebrity dating is very similar to dating for the rest of us! According to UsMagazine.com, she added, "I go more for essence, for strength, the manliness. The fun, the laughs. Sexy's important but I don't feel like good looking is necessarily sexy."

The latest celebrity news surrounding JLo points to a woman not weighing looks very heavily when it comes to relationships. What are three ways to make sure outward appearance doesn't become the most important factor in your search for love?

Cupid's Advice:

There's a lot of love advice surrounding the factors to consider when you're on the hunt for a new relationship. Cupid has some tips on how to make sure you stay on track with what's important:

1. Laugh: A sense of humor goes a long way. When you're searching for true love, it's imperative that you choose someone who can make you laugh. They say that beauty fades, but really beauty is always present when you truly love someone – and it lasts forever. Find the qualities in potential partners that match your personality.

2. Live: The experiences we have in life are what makes this journey special. Enjoy fun outings, travel and try new things with your partner. 3. Love: All you really need is love. When you genuinely love someone, inside and out, that becomes all that matters. You should absolutely be attracted to the person you are with. The actress, who currently has a recurring role on Tim Allen’s show Last Man Standing, describes her initial encounter with IFAW as “love at first lecture. I fell in love with these people and their commitment.” One of the primary goals of the organization, which was founded in 1969, is to inform the world about the realities of endangered exotic species. “A lot of people don’t realize that piano keys, chess pieces, and billiard balls are historically ivory,” she explains in our exclusive celebrity interview. “And they’re not aware that you can’t have ivory unless an elephant is dead.”

The video footage in her PROTECT PSA campaign shows the relationship that animals like elephants have with each other, allowing viewers to see them as living, breathing creatures. “It’s so important that people know that they have feelings and emotions and reverence for their ancestors like humans do,” she passionately shares. “Our campaign sheds light on the struggles of these animals without being graphic. It’s in a positive way.”

She adds, “We’re not asking anybody to give any money; we’re not asking for a donation. We’re asking people to protect these animals and to have them in their consciousness. I feel like everyone is loving it.”

Beyond acting and working with the IFAW campaign, Fisher also has a busy home life: She’s a devoted wife and celebrity mom of five, with kids ranging in age from six to twenty-nine. “Mothering is a job. It’s our greatest gift and also our biggest career,” she candidly says. “We are built for speed; we are built to multitask. We have to schedule ourselves so that we are present in our children’s life and also fulfilled in our careers and partnership.”

With this thought in mind, the star believes that it’s important to show her kids what it means to be a working mother. “They get to see me love my career and also have enough time for them,” Fisher shares. “They will be better humans for that!”

In order to find that balance between your professional and personal life, you have to surround yourself with people who appreciate all of your hard work and enjoy every moment. “We’re all running at full speed, so don’t forget to have a giggle with your kids when you can and then hit the ground running with work,” she reveals. “I think it’s possible.” And that is from a woman who has never had help from a nanny!

She adds with a laugh, “More than, you know, romance in the bedroom – but you do have to fit that in too!”

For date night, the famous couple enjoys going to sushi bars and eating good food. Recently, they went and saw Brad Garrett, Fisher’s costar in ‘Til Death, in a comedy show. When it comes to family time, they have game nights and movie nights, frequent the beach, and go bowling. “Our house is very open. We love having Sundays here, and I cook for everybody,” she reveals. “We’re all really close. I don’t go a day without seeing my family.”

People are in awe of her 18-year celebrity marriage because it’s rare these days – especially in the entertainment industry. “It’s work, but I don’t feel like it doesn’t have its rewards,” she divulges. “So the work is the same thing as when you work really hard and you earn your paycheck and you get to see the fruits of your labor.” When talking to the star, it’s evident that her family is her proudest accomplishment.
