The celebrity couple continues to be each other's rock for strength and support. Ryan Reynold's wife recently said, "If I could pass along anything that my mother or my sisters taught me, I feel like my kids would be very well off. In almost every celebrity news update about Lively's celebrity pregnancy, she has expressed how thankful she is to have such wonderful support. How do you thank your loved ones for their help?

Cupid's Advice:

Life can get pretty complicated with a new baby around, so if you're lucky enough to have family or loved ones who support you, then be happy! Cupid has some thoughts on how to thank those that have helped you out:

1. Write a letter: Taking the time to write out a personal note is very thoughtful and a lovely keepsake. Handwritten notes are always a good route to choose. The extra time and effort that goes into handwritten letters brings an extra sentimental feeling to the words on the page.

2. Pamper them: A day at the spa, a manicure and pedicure, or simply a night out of the house (be the babysitter for the night or take your loved one out yourself!) will go a long way. Cupid's Advice:

Want to share if your baby is a boy or a girl with your family, friends, or heck, the Internet? Take a cue from Kardashian's reveal of her celebrity baby news and get creative! Cupid has some ideas on how to have a fun gender reveal:

1. Keep it sweet and simple: Make copies of a recent ultrasound and put it in a colored frame (blue or pink) for a subtle but lasting reveal. The color association keeps the traditional value of the reveal – with a new twist of adding your child's first photograph.

'Bachelor in Paradise' Couple Marcus Grodd and Lacy Faddoul Spend Their First Thanksgiving Together!

By Emily Meyer

The holidays are meant to be shared with the people you love, and for Marcus Grodd and Lacy Faddoul, they did just that! According to Wetpaint.com, the Bachelor in Paradise couple spent their first Thanksgiving together in Faddoul's home state of California. Both reality stars posted sweet pictures together on their Instagram accounts. Faddoul captioned one photo, "Happy Thanksgiving! We are so thankful for those that love and support our little family. #family #friends #bachelornation." Grodd then wrote, "Happy Thanksgiving Day from our family to yours! Hold your loved ones close #blessed #love #gobble." From the background of the photos, we are guessing they were snapped in The Golden State, which also happens to be where the couple has been spending most of their time these days. This adorable pair seems to be powering through the holiday season joyfully!

How do you know when you're ready to bring your partner home for the holidays?

Cupid's Advice:

Although many people usually complain about being single during the holidays, it's not so easy for couples either! The big question is for many pairs is whether or not you should bring your lover home for the holidays. Cupid knows it can be stressful, so here are three ways to tell if you're ready for your new partner to spend this special time with your family:

1. They have met your loved ones before: If your significant other has never met your parents, the holidays may be an awkward time to introduce them. It'll be intimidating to expect your beau to get to know your entire family (including your crazy aunt) during this stressful time of cooking, gift giving, and party-hopping.

Related Link: 'Bachelor in Paradise' Couple Marcus Grodd and Lacy Faddoul Still Together

2: They seem pro-holiday: If your sweetheart is asking you about your family's Christmas traditions and your favorite memories, that's a good sign! They're already invested in sharing the holidays together and want to become more connected as a couple. If they seem to be in good spirits about the holidays, it's worth broaching the subject of bringing them home with you.

3. You actually want them there: It's really important to not feel pressured to bring a new boyfriend or girlfriend home for the holidays. Make sure that you really want them there and that you aren't only trying to please someone else (like your mother). If you don't feel ready, don't extend the invite!

Cupid's Advice:

Taking the step to celebrate holidays you would traditionally spend with your family with your new partner is a big step. Cupid has some tips:

1. Assess the strength of your relationship: The last thing you want to do is celebrate a special day steeped in family tradition with someone who isn't going to be around very long. Make sure to assess your relationship, and make sure it's going to last ... at least for a while!

Life Coach Lisa Haisha Shares Her Best Relationship Advice: "Choose Love Everyday"

Interview by Lori Bizzoco. Written by Emily Meyer.

Lisa Haisha is a woman who can't be stopped. Not only is she a life coach, motivational speaker, and author, but she also works with nonprofit organizations like Whispers from Children's Hearts Foundation. Now, she is helping people discover the answers to life's most soul-searching questions through Soul Blazing, her unique therapy method. In our exclusive interview, Haisha chats with us about all things celebrity couples and relationship advice!

After working in the entertainment industry for a few years, the life coach decided to take a break and get her Masters in Psychology. "I chose psychology because, having worked with actors so much, I felt like a psychology degree might be a good idea to deal with all of the various personalities," she explains. "Plus, I have always been fascinated with what makes people tick." Haisha now coaches some of the most well-known celebrities, helping them get into character and also aiding them with their personal problems.

She helps her clients through Soul Blazing, which, according to her website, is meant to “unlock your potential by unveiling the fears, beliefs, and habits that prevent you from achieving your highest personal and financial success.” She reveals she got the idea of the name while working with an inmate at a women’s security prison. The prisoner told her she had “blazed her soul.”

Relationship Advice from the Life Coach

From all of her experience and time in the field, it’s no surprise that she has learned a lot. When asked about her best relationship advice, she divulges, “You have to be extremely patient, and you have to choose love everyday. If you don’t choose love everyday, psychologically, you will start to think the relationship is too much work.”

The author claims that, to make a relationship work, you can’t react to the little things. She says, “Everyone wants to be loved, and everyone wants to love. Once you like yourself, you can like others.”

Related Link: Ashley Tisdale On Husband Christopher French: “He Inspires Me in So Many Different Ways”

Haisha also encourages everyone to be more accepting and to consider that you may be wrong. Having conscious communication is key. “Instead of blaming, tell the person how you feel, whether it is true or not. The other person has to actually listen and repeat what you say,” she reveals. “Usually, you don’t hear the other person because you are stuck in your own mind. Whether it’s true or not, say, ‘I am so sorry you feel that way. What can I do to make you feel better?’”

What We Can Learn from Celebrity Couples

With the motivational speaker being surrounded by pop culture and the entertainment industry, she has a lot to say about Hollywood relationships. So why does she think all of these A-List single celebrities have such trouble finding love? She explains, “A lot of it is picking the wrong person because they’re lonely and emotional while working on movie sets. They either have flings, affairs, or random hook ups and think it’s going to work because it was so magical on the set. It typically doesn’t work because usually actors are narcissists.”

While many celebrity couples don’t show us what true love is, there are a few pairs that Haisha claims have happy and healthy relationships. “George Clooney, Matthew McConaughey, and Matt Damon are great examples because both them and their wives are leading strong lives in every area,” she shares. “They have all picked non-celebrities, grounded people who are taking care of the family and children but also have careers.”

She also reveals that a lot of couples are still together because they are passionate about a common cause: “Celebrity couples like George and Amal and Brad and Angelina are working towards a higher good. They both want to help shift the world, and that is what brings them together.”

"I am the luckiest man alive," Soules said, according to UsMagazine.com. "I really do believe I can find that special someone."

Finding relationships and love can seem like a dream. What are some ways to give your friends a reality check when it comes to their dating lives?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt about it: sometimes you and your friends need a reality check in your relationships and love lives. Cupid has some ways to dole them out:

1. Be straightforward: Sometimes the best thing you can do is tell it like it is. If you see a friend idolizing their partner or doing things they wouldn't normally do in a relationship, call them out on it. If they are a close friend and trust you, that's all it should take.

2. Stage an intervention: In extreme cases, it might be necessary to get a group of their loved ones together to stage an intervention. For instance, if you know your friend is in an emotionally abusive relationship, you may want to take this approach. Get together and let your friend know you all care, but that something needs to be done. He/she may pay more attention if there's more than one person.

3. Gradually work up to it: Dropping hints here and there in a subtle way may be the way to go if what you're pointing out is something fairly minor.

Exclusive Interview: Eric Berniker on Pirate's Booty Float in Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade: "We're Excited to Be a Part of That Family Tradition"

By Cortney Cordero

Each year, on the morning of Thanksgiving, many families around the country tune in to watch the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. This year, the parade embarks on its 88th journey through the streets of Manhattan, but some floats are making this well-known trek for the first time. Pirate's Booty, an American smart snack food company best known for their rice and corn puffs, is debuting their first float for the event, a pirate ship named the "Treasure Hunt" that measures 40 feet tall, 38 feet long, and 8 feet wide.

chatted with us about the experience of participating in this famous parade. “Over the past few months, Pirate’s Booty has worked closely with the Macy’s Design Studio to bring the pirate ship float to life,” he says. “We were thrilled to unveil the float at Macy’s Studio Day last week.”

For Thursday’s special event, this larger-than-life float has to condense down to travel from the Macy’s Studio in New Jersey and through the Lincoln Tunnel before taking its place in the lineup for the parade. After that, the float will make its way from 77th Street down to 34th Street to stop in front of the famous Macy’s storefront. Sabrina Carpenter from Disney Channel’s new show Girl Meets World is set to perform on the float. Plus, the Pirate’s Booty characters Crunchy the Parrot and the Pirate will be on board.

In addition to getting their new float ready, Pirate's Booty has been running a contest called "Share Yarr Thanksgiving Traditions," which gives some lucky fans the chance to win an all-expense paid trip to New York City and experience the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade from VIP seating in 2015. "We've received so many great submissions, but two of our favorites include: Dana S. from Texas, who said her favorite Thanksgiving tradition is going to feed the homeless early in the morning so that everyone can have a great Thanksgiving, and Arlene V. from Minnesota, who said her family carves a pirate out of a block of butter so they can use it on their Thanksgiving table as decoration," Berniker shares.

This year, the smarter snacking company is thankful to get the chance to show their stuff in the parade. “The Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade is a part of what makes Thanksgiving such a uniquely American holiday, bringing wholesome fun into millions of homes year after year,” Berniker explains. “We’re excited to be a part of that family tradition and to bring Pirate’s Booty to life with the ‘Treasure Hunt’ float.” For those who are unfamiliar with Pirate’s Booty, the snacks are non-fried, gluten- and additive-free. Currently, they produce the puffs in four different flavors: Fruity Booty, Aged White Cheddar, Sour Cream and Onion, and Veggie. “Pirate’s Booty Aged White Cheddar is our most popular flavor,” says Berniker, who also lets us in on things to come. “Next year, Pirate’s Booty will release new, delicious flavors!”

Tune in to NBC on Thursday, November 27th at 9 a.m. (all time zones) and witness the “Treasure Hunt” as it takes its inaugural sail down the streets of Manhattan. Happy Thanksgiving!
