What do you do if you're jealous of something your partner is doing?

Cupid's Advice:

Being in a relationship means a great deal of sharing as well as sacrifice. But though you are in a loving and committed relationship, it doesn't mean you shouldn't have some time for yourself. But this time apart can sometimes lead to jealousy, so Cupid has some tips on how to escape the green-eyed monster:

1. Do something for yourself: If your partner is out with old friends or at a work happy hour and it is making you a little fussy, get up and do something just for you. Take a long walk and listen to your music or watch your favorite trashy shows that your partner can't stand while you have the opportunity.

Have 'The Bachelor' Celebrity Couple Juan Pablo Galavis and Nikki Ferrell Split?

By Emily Meyer

It looks like The Bachelor celebrity couple Juan Pablo Galavis and Nikki Ferrell have called it quits after trying to salvage their rocky celebrity relationship. For those who watched the controversial couple on The Bachelor and VH1's current season of Couples Therapy, it should be no surprise that there will be no more roses passed between the two of them. According to People.com, Ferrell dumped Galavis seven months after audiences watched him decline to say "I love you" to the 27-year-old pediatric nurse on the finale of The Bachelor. It seems she has finally grown tired of his childish behavior: On Sunday, she unfollowed the reality star on both Instagram and Twitter and then posted a harsh quote that appears to be aimed towards Galavis. She posted, "Isn't it pathetic how we waste so must time on certain people and in the end they prove that they weren't even worth a second of it."

'The Bachelor' winner Nikki Ferrell had a tough time figuring out when to end her celebrity relationship. How do you know when it's time to call it quits in a long-term romance?

Cupid's Advice:

We all want that perfect connection with someone, but we know that relationships and love are hard work. As difficult as it is to admit, time changes things, and sometimes, a breakup is for the best. So how do you know whether to stick around or back out of a longtime love? Cupid has some tips:

1. Your connection has faded: If you and your partner have lost sight on what brought the two of you together, then it's time to say goodbye. A healthy relationship is one where the passion is constantly flowing. Rather than convince yourself that you belong together, you should be reminded every day of why you're in love with this person.

2. You're fighting more often: When it comes to relationships and love, it's important to remember that it's okay to fight. It's not about how much you argue with you partner but how you

Cupid's Advice:

So, you work with your significant other? That is a lot of face time, and Cupid can see how that could get tricky. Here are some ways to keep the personal out of the professional:

1. Set ground rules: make sure that you have a open and honest conversation with your partner before entering into the work place (or if you are already in it and have not discussed work place etiquette do so now). You will feel better once you talk through the day to day routine of how you will present the relationship and work together.

What are some ways to screen out bad partners before introducing them to your children?

Cupid's Advice:

If you have children and are dating someone who isn't their father, it's important to be extra cautious before you introduce your kids to your new partner. Your top priority is your offspring, and you want to make sure they are comfortable and safe. It can be scary, but stay positive because it could end great — just like Brad Paisley's song 'He Didn't Have To Be.' Cupid has some tips on how you can filter out bad partners and only introduce those who are actually good partner choices to your children:

1. Play detective: Act like a private investigator, and be a detective. Do some digging around to find out all you can about this person. You can figure out things while you're getting to know them, as well as asking around about them. It's best that you don't introduce your children to anyone who you don't truly know.

2. History repeats itself: History definitely has a way of repeating itself, which is why we study it in school. If this person has a sketchy past, you'll want to uncover every rock and be very skeptical. Everyone makes mistakes, so if it is very minor or they have really changed, then test the waters first if that's what you ultimately want. Introduce your kids only after you know they are not a threat.

3. Actions speak louder than words: Yes, sometimes words do matter and can be accurate. However, when you are screening a partner or a potential partner you should make sure the way they behave is acceptable. If they are telling you one thing, and acting a different way, then you should run! Pay attention to their interactions and actions. If they are true to their words, then you may be ready for a formal introduction with your kids.

'DWTS' Contestant Antonio Sabato Jr. and Partner Cheryl Burke Are "Still Going Strong"

By Sarah Batcheller

Antonio Sabato Jr. and Cheryl Burke are revving up their engines for Halloween week on Dancing with the Stars! Even though last week's Salsa earned Sabato some blunt feedback from the judges, who referred to his dancing as "stiff," the soap opera veteran is taking the constructive criticism in stride and using it to improve as he prepares to do the Viennese Waltz on tonight's show. The saucy duo also promises a group dance that will blow audiences away. As for Sabato's other show Fix it and Finish It, the crew is migrating to Cleveland to take on their next task. Check out our celebrity interview with the actor below!

Antonio Sabato Jr. Talks Group Dance in Celebrity Interview

We were so happy to see you back with Cheryl last week, and your Salsa was our favorite dance yet! How did it compare to your previous dances for you?

ASJ: Well, being back with my partner and working with her was great. Being away from her made me miss her and reminded me of how great a teacher she is. Getting back together made it better after being apart. Now, we just want to keep dancing stronger and better. Every week, we put a lot of time and effort into the show and our dancing. It's been almost two months of hard work, but we're still going strong.

"I Have a Passion with Everything I Do"

How did Cheryl's dad's health scare bring the two of you closer?

ASJ: My family and I are behind her and will support her whenever she needs it. No show is more important than family, so I was willing to do whatever it took to make sure she got whatever she needed.

We'd love to talk a bit about your storytelling process. Do you help Cheryl come up with the concept for each dance?

ASJ: No, it's all Cheryl. I'm not much involved in that. I get the routine from her, and we go step-by-step. It's all on Cheryl.

What about the costumes? Do you have any say in what you wear?

ASJ: That's all Cheryl again! She comes up with the costume, and we work with a designer. She lets me add in my opinion, but all the creative is Cheryl and the designer.

Related Link: 'DWTS' Pro Tony Dovolani on Betsey Johnson: "She's Never Felt Pretty in Her Life"

Julianne Hough commented that it's obvious you take to heart the judges' comments and apply them the following week. So how will you keep in mind their feedback as you rehearse this week?

ASJ: I'm focusing on improving my lines, footwork, and posture. There are so many notes to keep track of and to improve on each week. I have no background in dance, so it's important for me to take what the judges and Cheryl give me and apply it to the dance. It's extremely difficult work but very rewarding at the end!

Tonight is the group dance, and you have an awesome team! What have rehearsals been like so far? Anything you can reveal about your dance?

ASJ: They've been good. We work really well together and have the whole routine down. It's tough because we all have to be in sync and have our own dance to do as well. Plus, it's a complicated routine. We don't have a lot of hours to work on it as a team, so when we do, we have to focus and get down to business as soon as possible.

And finally, what's next with the Fix It and Finish It crew?

ASJ: We get to Cleveland this week to start production, and I'm looking forward to it!

What are some traditions to take into a dating situation?

Cupid's Advice:

It's always a good thing to have traditions and to keep them going. When you're dating, it's nice for each partner to have a shared set of goals, expectations, standards and traditions. Cupid has some ways you can incorporate traditions into your dating situation:

1. That's Amore: There are certain things in life that are universally loved by everyone. Some wonderful examples of this are receiving flowers and other tokens of affection or having someone's true feelings expressed to you. This doesn't have to include spending a lot of money either, there are ways to show your love to your partner without breaking your bank account. Example: writing them a poem, jotting down a sweet note for them, making them dinner and so forth. Just show them that you care and that you remember things that they tell you!

2. Chivalry isn't dead: In this day and age, chivalry can seem like a long forgotten way of life — but it doesn't have to be only a thing of the past. There are still many people out there who believe in chivalry. People who use manners, proper etiquette and have respect. Talk with your partner and determine things you both like done, such as: the guy opening the car door and going to the front door to pick up a girl for a date. Doing all of the cooking, cleaning, and raising of children on your own. If you incorporate this into your dating life, you will be very happy with the results!

3. Manners matter: There are some traditions that are too sweet to go out of style. When your partner asks your father for permission to marry you, spending the Holidays with family members and creating your own special traditions, and establishing with your partner when you're officially in a relationship and are 'going steady.' It's also good to ask permission for things and be polite at all times when dating.
