Celebrity News: Matt Damon Returns to Work After Renewing Vows with Wife Luciana

By Andrea Surujnauth

Matt Damon returns to work after his Cancun vow renewal getaway. Damon and wife Luciana had an intimate celebration for their 10 year mark of knowing one another. "It was a very family-oriented and happy celebration," a source told People. They source went on to spill the beans about the lovebirds, "They were smiling and looked very happy together." Now, only a week after his romantic vacation, Damon was seen at the Summer of Sony event with director Neill Blomkamp and costar Charlto Copley to promote their new movie Elysium.

How do you deal with your partner's busy work schedule?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your partner can't get enough of one another. So how do you handle their busy schedule? You want to be able to see them as much as possible so how do you pull that off if they are always busy? Cupid is here with some advice for you:

1. Communicate: If you can't physically be there with your partner, show them you are thinking of each other by sending each other flirtatious text messages throughout your day. This way, although apart, you will know that you are on each other's minds.

2. Free time: When the two of you finally do have free time to spend together, make the most of it. Do not spend your time sitting on the couch. Get up and do something together. Have fun with your sweetie and make each other feel special during this time.

3. Eliminate distractions: While spending time with your love, make sure you give each other all your complete attention. Put away the cell phones and refrain from answering any work related calls and emails. Enjoy being together without all of the work stuff.

Celebrity Couple: Reese Witherspoon and Jim Toth Arrested and Jailed for DUI & Disorderly Conduct

By Andrea Surujnauth

Reese Witherspoon and her husband Jim Toth ended up becoming partners in crime Friday morning, reported People. Toth got pulled over for drunk driving and Witherspoon, who was in the passenger seat, became angered by the police arresting her husband. She got out of the car after being asked not to and eventually got arrested for disorderly conduct. According to police reports, Toth was weaving across a double line, he appeared disheveled and smelled of alcohol. After taking a sobriety test, Toth blew a .139. The limit in Georgia is .08. The couple was released in bonds after a few hours of incarceration and they are awaiting a pending court date.

What are some ways to support your partner who broke the law?

Cupid's Advice:

Your partner made a mistake and did something stupid. Now they are in trouble with the law. Cupid has some advice:

- 1. Court dates: Attend court dates with your beau and make sure they know you are there for them and they are not alone. People make mistakes and nothing is worse than feeling like you lost everything over a stupid mistake.
- 2. Keep them out of trouble: Make sure your sweetie gets help for whatever problem they had that caused their run in with the law. Get them whatever help they need in order to avoid the problem happening again.
- 3. Do not encourage: They best way to support a rule breaker is by not encouraging the rule breaking. Make sure you make it clear to your sweetheart that it is not OK for them to break the law again.

Celebrity News: 'Hart of Dixie' Star Scott Porter Marries Longtime Girlfriend

By Jessica Conigliaro

Scott Porter and Kelsey Mayfield said 'I do' on April 20 in Austin Texas. According to UsMagazine.com, the couple selected Austin for their wedding destination because that's where their love story began. "We wanted to get married under a Texas sky, and it's going to be kind of a rustic chic wedding – that's the term she throws around," Porter explains. "She's got the whole thing in her head and I trust her explicitly."

What are some ways to compromise on wedding details?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your fiancé have been dreaming up the perfect wedding. Now that it's time to get the ball rolling, you realize you don't see eye to eye on every detail. Cupid's here to help you compromise plans for the big day.

1. Pick your battles: Your soon-to-be husband wants to have a live band, opposed to a DJ at your wedding and you think it might be a little tacky. Your love seems so committed to the idea and really seems to want it for the wedding. If you don't have a deep concern over an issue, let your partner have his way. It clearly means a lot to him. In return, he will let you have your way with other disputes you may come across while planning.

2. Try new things: Your love wants to invite his friends from college that you never met before to the wedding. At first you are horrified by the idea of having strangers at your wedding. Think it through—these people are probably important to your man and should be there for his special day. Perhaps get to know them before the wedding.

3. Ask other's opinions: If you and your fiancé are in a huge argument over the color scheme of your wedding ask other's opinions. Go to your mom and his mom—to make it fair—and see what they think. A fresh perspective may be all you two need in this situation.

Celebrity News: Find Out What Olympic Swimmer Ryan Lochte Looks for In a Girl

By Jessica Conigliaro

Olympic gold medalist Swimmer Ryan Lochte is single—and looking! Lochte tells People that a major turn off for him is when a girl is a bad kisser. “Honestly, if she can make me laugh, then I’m pretty much sold,” he says. “If she’s not funny, she’s taking life too seriously and that’s definitely not how I live my life. I have fun in any aspect of life.”

What are some ways to tell if you’re a good match for someone?

Cupids Advice:

When on a first date, it is often hard to tell if the person is right for you. You have to ask the right questions and hope they are giving you honest answers. Cupid is here to help you weed through the bad seeds and find a good match for you:

1. Similar interests: After meeting someone new, always find out what their hobbies are. Try to find a common ground between the two of you. If you are really into sports and he is wearing a jersey of your favorite team—that is definitely a good sign. Start up a conversation about the team—you both will love having that common interest so early in the relationship.

2. Makes you laugh: The person you choose to be with should be able to make you laugh—especially when you are feeling down. Laughter is needed to lighten the mood and to have some fun. You should find your partner to be humorous, or things will get boring very quickly in the relationship.

3. Feel comfortable around them: You have been dating your partner for a few weeks and start to eat messier around him and care a little less about the way you look and act around him. That is definitely a good sign! You are starting to care more about just being around your date, and less about making a good impression. Being comfortable around someone is the first major step to a real relationship.

Celebrity Couple: Tom and

Ashley Arnold Open Up About Their Tough Road to Parenthood

By Jessica Conigliaro

Earlier this month, Tom and Ashley Arnold welcomed their first child—but getting to that point was not an easy task for them. In an interview with People, Tom said, “I’ve worked diligently to become a father for 23 years,” he explains. “...The moment Jax was born, I realized that this was exactly the way it was meant to be. I was ready because I was healthy and had the perfect partner.”

How do you support your partner when you’re trying to get pregnant?

Cupids Advice:

You and your partner have been wanting—and trying—to have a baby for a while now, but it just isn't happening yet. During this time, you both are feeling frustrated and overwhelmed. Cupid's here to show you ways to support your spouse:

1. Help them relax: Your husband wants to have a baby so badly that he becomes upset every time the pregnancy test shows up negative. Go to a weekend spa together and take both of your minds off of your struggles to parenthood. A little time away from the situation might be exactly what the 2 of you need.

2. Positive energy: When you are failing to get pregnant and your partner starts losing hope, you are sure to give up as well. Show your partner that you have not given up and are willing to try until your family grows. Once you have a positive attitude, so will your spouse.

3. Make them feel special: Remind your partner how much you love them when they start feeling down about not getting pregnant. Let them know you will always be there, with or without a child. Do something romantic for your wife and show her she will always mean the world to you. This will surely lift her spirits.

Celebrity News: Tom Cruise
Celebrate's Suri's 7th

Birthday

By Meghan Fitzgerald

Even though 50-year old actor, Tom Cruise has been travelling the world to promote his latest movie Oblivion, UsMagazine.com reports that Cruise still schedules family time with his daughter, Suri. Most recently, that means helping her celebrate her 7th birthday. E! Online reports that he phoned into On Air With Ryan Seacrest and discussed how big of a planner he really is with her celebration. "Done already. All done," he said. "I take care of the kids early. You'll know – you have to plan ahead for these things. It's all done and all celebrated."

How do you stay involved in your child's life post-divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Even if it may seem very difficult to remain in your child's life after a divorce, it is still possible. You can still be in their lives and not exactly be in your ex's life. Your marriage is obviously over, however, that doesn't mean in any sense that your family is over. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Remain civil with ex: It is essential to remain in a relatively civil relationship with your ex after your divorce. It is not going to be any easier to stay involved in your child's life if your relationship is constantly a battle. Although it will be challenging to do, attempt to stay in a healthy relationship with your ex, for your child. You now have to realize that it is not about your ex anymore, only about your child.

2. Talk consistently: It is easy to stay involved in your child's life post-divorce if you are always talking to them. Even if they do not wish to talk to you, talk to them five or ten minutes a day. Ask them how they are doing with everything. How their school life is. If they want to express any repressed emotions or feelings. Make sure they're aware that you are not in any way leaving their life.

3. Day trips: Create day trips with your child after your divorce. If they enjoy creativity and art, take them to a museum or an art lesson. Take them to the park and bring a frisbee, or play outside games. Pack a basket for lunch, and have a picnic outside. Plan trips your child may want to go in, it will increase your relationship with your kid and keep your involvement steady.

Have you stayed involved in your child's life post-divorce? Explain below.

Celebrity Couple: Scott Disick Addresses Prospect of Marriage with Kourtney Kardashian

By Meghan Fitzgerald

UsMagazine.com reports that Scott Disick and Kourtney Kardashian, who have been together since 2006 and have two young children, Mason, 3 and Penelope, 8 months, have “no interest” in getting married. Disick, 29, told Ryan Seacrest in an interview for an upcoming segment, “I think if it’s not broke, don’t fix it. You know what I mean?” The reality TV couple have discussed the idea of marriage many times before, Disick stating that Kourtney was the one who actually didn’t want to say “I do.” “I feel like I used to want to get married more than she did,” Disick told OkMagazine.

What are some reasons to put off getting married?

Cupid's Advice:

In some relationships, people are simply not ready for marriage. It could be personal reasons, financial reasons, family reasons, any reason they may seem important to put off a marriage. It is in no sense shameful to put off a marriage. Some couples are just not ready. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Finances: In certain cases, especially with younger couples, money is a large problem of their lives. Most women begin to plan their wedding at an extremely young age, and think about it everyday after a ring was put on to their finger. If it is not possible to have your dream wedding, or even your Plan B wedding-putting off your wedding and possibly even your marriage.

2. Age: Youth really is as important and valuable as people say. Getting married at a young age is extremely common in people these days. Wait it out ladies and gentleman. You are young, go and enjoy it. Do not become tied down with the person you “love” at the age of 22. You have an entire world unseen in your eyes, put off your marriage and go see it. Explore the world, before you're no longer able to.

3. Social pressure: Societies pressures on relationships have grown immensely throughout the years. Do not think you have to get married because you've been engaged for two years and your friends and family are telling you it's not the norm. Who cares about the norm, if society is pressuring you to get married. Realize that it is not what you want, and put off the marriage.

Celebrity News: Actress Brooke Burns Says, “Love Is the Inspiration For Life”

By Sarah Ribeiro

Actress Brooke Burns, who is perhaps best known for her role on Baywatch, hits the small screen this weekend in the premiere of Lifetime's made-for-television movie, A Sister's Revenge. In the film, she plays Suzanne Dell, a relentless woman seeking revenge on the man who hurt her sister many years ago. “It was a really fun role to play because of Suzanne's single-minded evilness,” says the blonde beauty.

“She’s a rich, layered character who justifies incredible wrongs because of her deep love and devotion to her sister. Her desire to avenge her sister’s death blinds her to reality.”

Despite this merciless role, Burns tends to focus her career – and her life – on love. She just shot the pilot for GSN’s new dating show, Where Have You Been All My Life?, which she will be hosting. The show is rumored to be a modern-day version of the popular 70’s show, The Dating Game, but she explains that the only similarity is that there is one “looker” who is interviewing three bachelors or bachelorettes. “It’s different in that we show a timeline of the date’s photos from birth to young adult life,” the host reveals. “The questions are focused on getting to know the person throughout his or her life. We do occasional ‘status updates’ and a ‘friend request’, so the show is congruent with the very popular social media and online dating scene of 2013.”

Related Link: Online Dating Isn’t a Threat to Monogamy – It’s a Blessing

Burns says she was attracted to the show because it focuses on the psychology of dating, which is important to someone who is a self-proclaimed hopeless romantic. “I’ve always been the girl to save love notes, the napkin we doodled on in Paris, the leaf he gave me at the park,” she confides. “Without love, the garden of life is dull and mute. Love breeds growth and vibrancy that allows you to expand, the way a garden does in the spring.”

In contrast to her current success with love – Burns is engaged and happily planning her wedding to director Gavin O’Connor – she has experienced her share of dating woes, not unlike the contestants on Where Have You Been All My Life? “The worst date I’ve ever been on was a first date,” the actress reveals. “The guy went overboard and showed up at my apartment with groceries forty-five minutes early. He made himself at home in my kitchen and cooked breakfast. He had a limo waiting outside to take us to a tennis tournament that lasted all day. I know it sounds divine and fabulous, but five minutes into the date, he gave me the creeps! I was young and felt guilty into staying with him the whole day.”

However, she credits those bad dates with her emotional growth and says “love is the inspiration for life. Every experience I’ve had with love has made me a fuller, stronger person. I’ve experienced the highest of highs and the darkest of lows because of love, and I’m thankful for both. “

Now, as a mother to her twelve-year-old daughter, Madison, Burns has learned how to balance her relationships with her career. “The balance, for me, comes in always putting my family first,” she shares. “It’s the way I’m programmed. My fiancé has an eleven-year-old daughter, and we got really lucky because the girls adore one another.”

Related Link: ‘Ready for Love’ Host Giuliana Rancic Says, “Having a Strong Marriage is the Greatest Example You Can Set for Your Child”

Burns, who was married to Fantastic Four actor Julian McMahon for two years and also dated Bruce Willis, understands the importance of remaining hopeful and not giving up on romance. “You can never predict when or where love will find you. The secret is...there is no secret. When chemistry comes, it comes, and hopefully, love will follow.”

A Sister’s Revenge premieres on Lifetime this Saturday, April 27th at 8pm EST. Where Have You Been All My Life? is set to premiere on GSN in the fall.

Find Out How Justin Theroux Scares Jennifer Aniston

By Meghan Fitzgerald

Jennifer Aniston, 44, discussed on the April 18th segment of the Ellen DeGeneres Show how her fiancé, Justin Theroux often scares her-in a good way. "He's constantly hiding behind drapes. And I'm constantly scared. It's like, it doesn't get old on me." UsMagazine.com states that Aniston is wise to call her beau's pranks "trickery." Aniston states how she wants to get her Wanderland costar back for all his playful pranks in their relationship.

What are some benefits to playing pranks on your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Playing pranks on your partner can be light, enjoyable, and something new to do in your relationship. As long as you don't take the pranks too far, you and your mate will grow closer together. Even if you don't think so, pranking has numerous benefits on your partner. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Way to vent: Pranking your partner is a way for you to vent, and also in a way, for your partner to vent. It lets you release built up energy, and tension you may have in your relationship. it allows you to misbehave for a slight moment however, at the end of the day you return to normal with your mate. With a new sense of tranquility and non-repressed feelings and emotions.

2. Bonding: Pranking gives you the experience to tease your partner one moment and the next moment, you two are laughing and falling in to one another-happy as could be. You are able to poke and pry at your parent however, it is a learning relationship. You are able to mess around with your mate and laugh at the same time. It's carefree, loving, and completely harmless.

3. Humor: Laughing is proven to increase your general health. Laughing is fun, it releases tensions, it brings two people together, it brings love. Pranking gives you the opportunity to make your partner laugh, and frankly, it will make you laugh as well. If you need a little more humor in your relationship, think about pranking your beau. It is indeed more beneficial than you'd think.

Have you pranked or been pranked and it's been beneficial to your relationship? Explain below.

Cancelled: Why NBC's "Ready For Love" Fueled America's Hatred

By Marni Battista, Founder of Dating with Dignity

Let's face it: while Disney, RomCom's and The Bachelor have consistently fueled American women's desire to be swept off their feet by the dashing handsome, successful, and sensitive man, they are, simply put, not stupid.

As a dignity dating and relationship expert who works with thousands and thousands of single women around the globe, I can tell you that women are, in fact, ready for love. However, just as NBC has promptly cancelled its newest reality dating show Friday, with the same title, women are taking a stand for their dignity and what they really want to experience when it comes to finding love.

Related Link: Guiliana and Bill Rancic Talk About Marriage, Parenthood and Hosting NBC's New Dating Reality Show 'Ready for Love'

My clients (who posted hundreds of comments in a private Facebook group on Wednesday morning, the day after Ready for Love's second episode aired) became disheartened by the message the show was sending to single women just like them, reinforcing the beliefs they are desperately trying to shake.

Amy posts...

...after watching last night, there was a part of me that feels as though the show reinforced some of my limiting beliefs that in order to find love you have to be America's version of perfect (two of the women were runners-up in the Miss Universe pageant).

Luckily, Amy has the benefit of being in a community of women who have drawn a line in the sand and are beginning to understand how important it is to, in Amy's words, "really know and believe in oneself to combat subtle messages the media relentlessly broadcasts that impact my thoughts."

So, does NBC's cancellation of the show as result of dismal ratings mean that they are ready to finally admit that American women no longer want to watch flawless looking women with low self-esteem throw themselves at men they don't know?

And, while having the matchmakers on the show was brilliant in that it pointed out that pretty women actually do not necessarily have any sort of advantage when it comes to surviving in the dating jungle (FACT: when gorgeous blondes talk about farting on a first date or share that they have a list of 50 characteristics a man has to have in order to be her partner, looks become insignificant), it quite frankly isn't enough.

Related Link: Matthew Hussey Helps Women "Get the Guy" as One of Three Coaches on NBC's 'Ready for Love'

If television executives want to produce dating shows, perhaps they ought to create programming that real women want. They want advice. They want direction. They want tips and strategies they can apply now, in real life. They want to know how to love themselves even when Disney, RomCom's and The Bachelor say that pretty girls always finish first and that love doesn't last. They want hope. And they want inspiration.

Perhaps, it's time for something akin to The Biggest Loser meets The Bachelor, except that there aren't three men himbos whining about wanting to find their "best friend," and the women have, in fact transformed, realizing that THEY have the power to choose their partner, and that getting "rejected" means it wasn't the right match, and that they are still valuable, loving and love-able humans with or without a man in their life.

I believe it is time for a new era in the television dating arena. Perhaps my mission to help women love themselves so that they can then find someone to love is actually taking hold.

Bravo to the viewers who said "no," and thank you to NBC for listening.

Celebrity News: Lindsey Vonn's Ex-Husband Jokes About Tiger Woods' Masters Penalty

By Andrea Surujnauth

Thomas Vonn showed a sense of humor towards his ex-wife's relationship with pro-golfer Tiger Woods in a tweet on Saturday, April 13th. Woods got into a bit of trouble when a television viewer called in on a violation in Wood's play on Friday. He was then penalized to strokes. After the incident Woods tweeted, ""I didn't know I had taken an incorrect drop prior to signing my scorecard. Subsequently, I met with the Masters Committee Saturday morning." Thomas Vonn took to Twitter to respond to the incident as well. UsMagazine.com reported that Vonn tweeted, "No problem Masters tournament happy to call in and help. You always have to keep an eye on those cheaters ;)" Thomas and Lindsey Vonn had been married for four years before they decided to call it quits in November 2011. The two finalized their divorce in January 2013, two months before Lindsey and Woods went public with their relationship.

How do you deal with a jealous ex when you're in a new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

You are in a new healthy relationship. Unfortunately, your ex seems to be waiting for a chance to attack your relationship. Obviously they are jealous but what can you do about their jealous behavior? Cupid is here with some advice to help you:

1. Distance: Keep your distance from your ex. Do not inform them on where you are going and who you are with. The more you let them in your life, the more ammunition they have to torment you with.

2. Confrontation: Confront your ex on their behavior. Tell them that you have moved on and it is about time that they do the same. Make it clear that you are happy in your new love and you do not want them around messing it up.

3. Professionals: If all else fails, get a restraining order to keep you ex from harassing you. It may seem extreme but if they are continuously trying to ruin your life out of spite, the best thing to do is put your foot down. You need to protect yourself as well as your new beau.

How do you cope when tragedy strikes your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

You never think it will happen to you. You always believe that you and your partner will stay happy and healthy together for a long time. What do you do when tragedy strikes and your partner is gone? How do you cope with that? Cupid is here to help you get through this trying time:

1. Compassion: Have compassion for yourself during this time. Allow yourself to grieve and cry over your loss.

2. Time: Time heals all wounds. You will never stop missing your partner but as time goes by, you will come to terms with your loss and will be able to continue on with your life. Do not expect to get over your sadness quickly, and do not rush it. Everyone grieves at their own pace. Take all the time you need.

3. Support: Get a support system to help you recover from your loss. Being surrounded by family and friends will help you cope with your loss and it will help you not feel lonely.

Reality TV: 'The Bachelorette' Star Arie Luyendyk, Jr. Says, "When You Stop Looking, You'll Find

What You're Looking For"

By Whitney Baker Johnson

Most women know Arie Luyendyk, Jr. from appearing on Season 8 of The Bachelorette with Emily Maynard, but this eligible Dutchman made headlines far before ABC's popular reality competition show.

Growing up the son of a two-time Indianapolis 500 winner and Indy speed record holder, Luyendyk initially made a name for himself in the car racing world. "I grew up at the track, so being a driver felt natural to me," he says of his career choice.

Being a driver wasn't enough, though. "Honestly, I needed a break from racing after Dan Wheldon's tragic death, so when The Bachelorette producers called, I thought why not! I've always been a very open and optimistic person. I went into the show with that mentality and met an amazing person.”

Although he didn't win Maynard's heart, the handsome runner-up formed lifelong friendships with two of the men he strongly competed against: Sean Lowe from The Bachelor Season 17 and Jef Holm, Maynard's final choice. “Sean and I still chat every now and then, and I'm really happy for him and Catherine. Jef and I have a blast hanging out – we kick it quite a bit.” He adds, “You definitely grow close to the other guys. I think it's because being on the show is so crazy and hard to explain.”

Related Link: ‘Bachelor’ Sean Lowe Fires Back at Rumors Pointing to Troubled Relationship

When it comes to dating, he confesses that he definitely learned some important love lessons from being on the show. First, “love potions don't work!,” he jokes, referring to his last date with Maynard in Curacao.

On a more serious note, his relationship advice to others would be “when you stop looking, you'll find what you're looking for.” It seems like he's strongly committed to this motto because, simultaneous to our interview with him, he took to Twitter to share the same quote with his fans.

Could these words of wisdom be a result of his short-lived relationships with Courtney Robertson, The Bachelor Season 16 winner, and Selma Alameri, one of Lowe's eligible bachelorettes?

“Dating is more difficult now because there are some big expectations.” Still, he believes that he'll find “the one” someday. “I think falling in love is rare and the way that you are with someone special is unique. Hopefully, I can meet someone who loves me and not the idea of who they think I might be.”

When it comes to the right woman, he says he wants someone who is “witty, amazing and has a good sense of humor.” And whenever she comes along, he’ll be ready. “When the time is right, I’ll know it, but you can’t plan a wedding if you don’t even have a girlfriend.”

Related Link: Desiree Hartsock Is the New ‘Bachelorette!’

So would he ever sign on to be The Bachelor? “I think I would if it didn’t conflict with racing and if I wasn’t dating anyone.”

For now, though, ladies, when it comes to dating, this man is taking to slow. It seems like he’s back to focusing on his career.

Earlier this month, Luyendyk returned to his racing roots, finishing fourth at the season-opening race in Phoenix. This coming Sunday, he’ll be driving at The Long Beach Grand Prix in Robby Gordon’s Stadium SUPER Truck Series and IndyCar’s 2-Seater. “I’m super excited for the weekend. This race is the only one we have on pavement, so I feel like I have the advantage going in,” he shares. “I hope the fans enjoy the race and come out to our stand-alone event at the LA Coliseum on Saturday, April 27th.”

Plus, he’s working towards a new show of his own, so we should be seeing the good-looking driver on the screen again soon. Cross your fingers!

What are some ways that having a child can bring you closer as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Speaking to new parents about their marriage may surprise you. Most of them will say that having a child actually strengthened their marriage. Here are a few ways that having a child can bring you closer as a couple:

1. Shared love: You and your significant other will love your child and work together in order to create the best life possible for your little one. Because of this, your love for one another will grow and become stronger because you are both sharing love for your baby.

2. Working together: By working together as a couple to make a good life for your bundle of joy, you and your partner will get along and have a strong bond with each other while trying to take care of your child. You depend on one another for help and your teamwork will automatically build a better relationship between you two.

3. Family: Now you and your partner are more than just a couple, you are a family. Graduating from couple hood to family will bring you closer to one another. In the past you and your beau were held together by love and maybe wedding vows, now you are held together by your child and the fact of being transformed into a family.

Reality TV: 'The Bachelor' Sean Lowe Fires Back at Dating Rumors Pointing to Trouble in His Celebrity Relationship

By Meghan Fitzgerald

People reports that The Bachelor star Sean Lowe and celebrity love Catherine Guidici are still going strong despite dating rumors of a troubled celebrity relationship. Lowe, 29, told People, "We are happy and could not be better." Backstage at Dancing with Stars, Lowe also discusses the dating rumors he has recently encountered. He says, "Nobody knows anything outside of me and Catherine and the people who are closest to us.” The celebrity couple is getting through these hard times together.

‘The Bachelor celebrity couple Sean Lowe and Catherine Giudici have to fight off dating rumors about their relationship and love life. How do you keep unfounded rumors from affecting your relationship?’

Cupid’s Advice:

It is essential to keep unfounded rumors out of your relationship. If you allow said rumors to pry themselves into your relationship, it is a possibility of suffering immensely. Although it is possible for rumors to affect your relationship and love, there are numerous ways to keep them out. Cupid has some relationship advice:

1. Communication: It is necessary to talk to your partner when there are unfounded rumors surfacing around your relationship. You and your mate both are probably not looking to have your relationship affected by some measly rumors. If you talk to your beau about these rumors going around, your relationship will not suffer. As long as you and your mate are on the same terms and aware of everything going on, you’re great.

2. Eliminate: Get rid of the rumors. Of course it may be challenging to find the source, cause, and distinguish them. However, it is helpful to have them washed away if you don’t want your relationship to be affected. Do not get yourself into heated debates about said rumors. Make sure you and your mate keep calm and collective, with your head high. Do not let others get under your skin because that is exactly what they’re trying to do in the first place.

3. Keep busy: Keep yourself busy when rumors are around your relationship and love. Make sure people know that the rumors going around are not affecting your life. People will realize how strong you and your partner are for not allowing the rumors to hurt your relationship. Silly gossip can't get in the way of the love you and your mate have. Now go keep busy.

Celebrity News: Earth Day In Hollywood How Celebrity Families Go Green

By Jenny Schafer for Celebrity Baby Scoop

Hollywood is going green!

On April 22, more than one billion people around the globe will participate in Earth Day. In celebration, let's take a look at eco-friendly celebrities like Jessica Alba and Tori Spelling who inspire others to protect Mother Nature.

Look through our list of high-profile families who minimize their carbon footprint.

Tori Spelling:

Tori Spelling and Dean McDermott are proud parents of four kids: sons Liam, 6, and Finn, 6 months, and daughters Stella, 4, and Hattie, 1.

The reality TV mama recently opened up to Celebrity Baby Scoop about going green "everyday," not just one day out of the year.

"Everyday is Earth Day in our house," Spelling said. "We definitely try to teach our kids to take care of the earth. Just the other day, actually, in fact it was in the playroom, Liam came up and said I turned off the lights in the playroom because I don't want the earth to get sick. It was really cute."

She added: "We teach all about recycling, we compost. We try our best to teach them how to take care of the earth."

Jessica Alba:

From her chic sense of style, to her hands-on playdates at the park, to her eco-friendly business, we can't get enough of Jessica Alba. After creating The Honest Company last year, the mom-of-two is now promoting her debut book, The Honest Life.

"It's a colorful how-to guidebook for people who want to make a healthy and non-toxic home without giving up the fun fashionable things,” Jessica recently opened up to Celebrity Baby Scoop. “I hope people will be inspired to make the ideas their own and find what works for them.”

She went on to talk about modeling an eco-friendly lifestyle with husband Cash Warren and their two daughter Honor, 4, and Haven, 1.

“First and foremost, we try to model and practice eco-friendly habits for the girls,” Alba said. “Otherwise, we talk to them about being mindful and explain that things can be turned into something else one day. This can be as simple as teaching them about recyclables and showing how to sort bottles and cans from trash.”

She added: “We also do a lot of DIY crafts like using cardboard boxes to make airplanes and dollhouses—our creative playtime together similarly shows the girls about repurposing old items.”

The Sin City star says involving kids in the process is not only fun, but educational.

“Involving children in gardening and cooking is another great way to inspire eco-friendly living,” Alba shared. “Caring for the plants in our herb wall garden helps Honor understand the steps to growing food (including patience!), how it ultimately lands on her plate, and about being a good steward of the planet.”

The proud mom added: “Honor is also a great sous chef when we’re in the kitchen, so being a part of the dinner process encourages her to eat the foods she grows and develops her taste for fresh ingredients. Hopefully, this lays the foundation for children to prioritize their health and that of the planet.”

Tiffani Thiessen:

Audiences first fell in love with Tiffani Thiessen as Kelly Kapowski in Saved by the Bell and later Valerie Malone in Beverly Hills, 90210. Now we love her as event planner Elizabeth Burke in White Collar, and doting mom to 2-year-old daughter Harper.

The actress recently opened up to Celebrity Baby Scoop about the importance of leading an eco-friendly life.

“Earth Day is very important to us,” Thiessen said. “I’ve always been a believer in being green. We as a family recycle. We grow our own veggies and we have water tanks that store rain water and we then use to water our yard.”

Celebrity News: Ozzy Osbourne Denies Divorcing Sharon and Admits to Drug Use

By Meghan Fitzgerald

UsWeekly reported that Ozzy Osbourne is purging himself of his unhealthy ways, “For the last year and a half, I have been drinking and taking drugs. I was in a very dark place and was an a-hole to the people I love most, my family. However, I am happy to say that I am now 44 days sober,” Ozzy wrote on Facebook. “Just to set the record straight, Sharon and I are not divorcing. I’m just trying to be a better person.” Even if he is trying his best for his relationship, sources told TMZ that Sharon won’t get back together with him until he’s been clean for a while.

How do you help your partner through breaking an addiction?

Cupid’s Advice:

It’s never easy when your partner is battling an addiction, let alone trying to break their bad habit. It’s essential for you to be in their lives as much as possible and guide them on their way to sobriety. There are numerous ways to help your significant other in this fight. Below, Cupid offers three ways that you can be a positive influence:

1. Support Them: It is necessary to provide your mate with as much support as physically possible. You're one of the few people who know your partner best. This being said, you know how their mind works and what they need to hear in order to keep themselves in check. To help them, be by their side through every meeting, appointment and session. It will not only help their recovery stay on track; it will also show them just how much you care.

2. Get Help: Even though you may think you're capable of breaking your beau's addiction on your own, you're not. Your partner needs professional help. Make sure you can afford it; make sure that it's nearby; and make sure it's with someone you can trust. Most of all, make sure that your partner is willing to go. It's essential for your mate to be open-minded and willing to truly try.

3. Show Love: Your partner is going through one of the hardest times in their life. Every chance you get, remind them how much you love them. Buy them small gifts and do special things to brighten their day. Love will make the process easier for them. Remember that love makes the world go around and start spreading it!

Celebrity Couple: Emily Blunt

Opens Up About Marriage to John Krasinski

By Meghan Fitzgerald

Emily Blunt and John Krasinski's marriage seems perfect, according to People. Their marriage took place three years ago at George Clooney's Italian villa. C'mon ladies and gentleman, they are glamorous and appear to be in a trance-like fairy relationship! Blunt, 30, discusses with InStyle, "I spend my life in sweatpants and covered in mud." She discusses how John changed her life, and how grateful she is to have found the love of her life.

What are some ways to utilize the support your partner provides?

Cupid's Advice:

If your partner is supplying you with support, you should utilize it. Not that your mate won't always provide you with support. However, if it is available, you should make use out of it. Depending on your relationship, the support you are given is varied. But there are always ways to utilize them in your relationship. Cupid has some more advice:

1. Further understand: Using the support your partner provides you with allows you to further understand your mate. It gives you insight on themselves and the way they feel about you. Your partner wouldn't provide you with help if they didn't truly mean it. Take in this embrace and contemplate how your partner ticks. And how you can further your relationship.

2. Get closer: Realizing that your mate provides you with such support is an opportunity for you two to grow closer. You know they care about you deeply if they are supporting your life and everything you do with it. This allows you to learn more about your partner. How they function, how they treat you, what they're like in times of crisis. You and your partner will get closer if you utilize the support your partner provides.

3. Lean on it: We all need help once in a while, and if you're in in trouble, the important thing is to take that help where it's given. Your partner is no doubt there for you because he or she cares, so don't hesitate to lean on that support when necessary.

Celebrity News: Rob Pattinson, Kristen Stewart and Liberty Ross Attend Coachella, Separately

By Andrea Surujnauth

According to UsMagazine.com, Robert Pattinson and Kristen Stewart were spotted at the Coachella Music Festival together. The couple was seen getting close during a Jurassic 5 concert. These lovebirds were reunited last month after Pattinson shot his new movie The Rover. Liberty Ross also went to Coachella this year. She spent her time hanging out with Bono and her boyfriend Jimmy Lovine. It is unknown whether Ross bumped into Pattinson and Stewart. Ross and Stewart became acquainted when Ross's husband Rupert Sanders directed Stewart in the movie Snow White and the Huntsman. During the filming, Sanders and Stewarts had an affair which caused Pattinson to temporarily leave Stewart and Ross to file for divorce from Sanders. "They gave it a shot for the kids [Skyla, 7, and Tennyson, 5], [but] she was just so angry . . . she's the kind of person who wouldn't really ever get over it," said a close friend of Sanders and Ross.

What are some ways to keep jealousy at bay in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Jealousy causes arguments in so many relationships. How can you avoid becoming victim to jealousy issues? Cupid is here to help you:

1. Turn off the flirting: Don't do things that you know would make your partner jealous. Flirting with other people will hurt your sweetie and cause them to have jealous feelings throughout your relationship.

2. Build him up: When you are with your beau, build them up during conversations and never break them down. Back them up in what they say and never let your partner feel that they are not good enough.

3. Stay close: While out with your honey, don't leave them alone while you go off to have a good time. Always keep your partner close so they won't have a reason to feel jealousy of any kind.

Celebrity Baby: Jessica Simpson Celebrates Her Baby Shower

By Andrea Surujnauth

Jessica Simpson celebrated her baby shower on Sunday, reported People. Guests included Simpson's sister Ashlee, close friend Jessica Alba, and hair stylist Ken Paves. In the Tom Sawyer-themed bash, vintage tables, tin pitchers, and a wooden boat alongside the nearby pond were incorporated in the event. Simpson served pigs in a blanket, mini sliders and grilled cheese from a custom station. The mom-to-be was also sure to request Thousand Island dressing for the salad bar, "She's craving it!" says Mindy Weiss, Simpson's party planner. Simpson had a look of pure joy as she entered the party holding her 11-month-old daughter, Maxwell, and patting her pregnant belly. Simpson is expecting a baby boy.

What are some ways to make a baby shower for a second child special?

Cupid's Advice:

You had one baby shower already, so you don't want your second shower to be a carbon copy of the first. How do you make it special? Cupid has some tips:

1. Theme: Creating a theme for your second shower will make it a very special experience for all of your guests. Try not to go with simple themes like baby animals, go with something more out of this world like Jessica Simpson's Tom Sawyer theme!

2. New Games: Don't repeat games from your last baby shower. Try some new ones, or even better, make up your own! Your guests will love playing something different than the regular old baby shower games.

3. Arts and Crafts: Get your guests involved with baby preparation by having a baby headband or baby hat decorating station. The guests can design a headband or hat for your little bundle of joy. It will increase the excitement for the little one's arrival.

Celebrity Couple: Matt Damon and Wife Luciana Renew Wedding Vows

By Jessica Conigliaro

After eight years of marriage, Matt Damon and wife Luciana Barroso say, "I do" again. According to UsMagazine.com, the couple renewed their vows Saturday, April 13 on the Caribbean island of St. Lucia. Damon and the bride exchanged vows under thatched roofs right at sunset. After the 15-minute ceremony, all guests were escorted onto the beach for a cocktail reception. Damon and his wife simply had to celebrate their blissful marriage with everyone they are close with.

What are some reasons to renew your wedding vows?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your husband have been married for a while now and want to show each other how much you love them still. Cupid is here to show you when it is a good time to renew your vows:

1. Anniversary: Your 10th year wedding anniversary is coming up and you want to make it special. Celebrate it by renewing your vows in front of close friends and family. You will get to relive the biggest day of your life and show your husband how happy he makes you each and every day.

2. Spice things up: Even though you are extremely happy with your husband, things have been feeling a bit routine lately. Between work, the kids, and weekend errands, the romance of your relationship has been slipping away. Rekindle the flame by renewing your vows. You will get a chance to express your love for each other yet again.

3. Fresh start: You and your spouse have been arguing a lot over little nuisances; you forget to turn off the kitchen light before going to bed, or he leaves a mess after cooking dinner. Take a break from the bickering and remind yourselves why you fell in love. Plan a vow renewal ceremony and write out new vows. You and your husband will see how much love you have for each other and the bickering is sure to die down.

Celebrity News: Fergie Jokes

That Josh Duhamel Wanted Children with Her From Their First Date

By Jessica Conigliaro

Fergie, soon-to-be mother, and husband Josh Duhamel are preparing for the newest addition to their family. People reports Fergie saying, "He's been amazing," she told reporters. "He's so nice and wonderful, and he sings and talks to my belly all of the time," she explains. "He's very complimentary. I'm very lucky that he is really good to me."

How do you know if your partner would make a good parent?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your partner have been together for a while now. You both are tossing around the idea of starting a family together. Before doing anything drastic however, you want to make sure your love will make a good father. Cupid's here to help you figure that out:

1. He takes care of you: Whenever you're sick, your partner always stops by with soup to make sure you are okay. He helps you get better and doesn't ever worry about catching your germs—he's more concerned about you than his own health. If he is this nurturing with you, he is sure to be a good father. When his children will need him most, you know for a fact that your love will happily take care of them.

2. Good with other kids: Your friends had a baby last year and your spouse loves spending time with the little one. He offers to babysit and enjoys playing and laughing with their child. This should be a very clear indication that your partner will make a great father. He is showing enthusiasm towards children and is probably stirring up excitement of becoming a father of his own some day.

3. Patience: Your love wants to leave the house by a certain time, but you are taking forever to get ready. Instead of getting mad and frustrated at you, he is understanding and lets you get ready in peace. By doing so, your man is showing you how patient he can be—which will definitely be good when you have kids together.
