Cupid's Advice:

Social media is a double-edged sword—many love to use it to share what's been going on in their lives, but it also opens a door for people to insert their opinions on everyone's lives. Here are some of Cupid's tips on what to avoid on social media to try and save your relationship:

1. Block words you don't want to see/hear: One nifty thing about social media is you can always filter out what words you don't want to hear. Blocking any words you know will make you upset, or put negative thoughts into your head, you can stay level-headed and think about your relationship and how you view it.

2. Stay out of your mentions: If your relationship is public, many people will try to comment their thoughts and opinions on your relationship, what your partner has done, what you have done, and so on. Don't pay attention to anyone that includes you in their messages because they don't know what your relationship is like. You are the only one who can really know how your relationship stands.

3. Just stay off social media: Delete your apps on your phone for a bit, give yourself some room to breathe. By not posting anything about your relationship yourself, you won't send out that invitation for others to feed into any drama. You can relax and work out any issues with your significant other without people who aren't involved trying to give their two cents.

Cupid's Advice:

Have you ever been dating someone and wondered, "When's the right time to hookup?" What's too soon, and what will they think of me if we wait a long time? Here is relationship advice on getting intimate:

1. Are you turned on?: The number one requirement to figuring out the right time to be intimate is being aroused. If you're feeling your partner, the environment, and the contraceptive measures are at your minimum requirements at least, you might be ready to get physical. There is still some question on whether this is the right time for you emotionally, but desire is the number one box to be checked off.

2. Don't be pressured: Just because your friend slept with their partner on the first date and your other friend waits until the 10th to get it on, doesn't mean these timelines are right for you. Only you and your sexual partner can decide on the who, what, when, where, and why of your sex life.

3. Ignore all advice: Physical intimacy is different for everyone. Sexuality is like a snowflake – everybody's special and there's no one size fits all. Instead of feeling worried about outside context, be mindful. Consider yourself, what you want, and what you are comfortable with. Then, proceed from there.

Jenner is supporting Disick and Richie's relationship like a mature and respectful ally. Here are relationship tips to root for your ex's new love:

1. Keep your distance: You see your ex repeating similar patterns, you don't think their new lover is treating them right, etc. It's so tempting to pinch the lovebirds on the shoulder and straighten them out. Don't do it. When you get the temptation to meddle, take a deep breath and walk away. By commenting on their current situation, you are adding your baggage with ex-bae to their new love. It's better to keep your distance here.

2. Accept their new partner: Possibly the biggest thing you can do to support their relationship is accepting their new partner. It doesn't have to be as a close confidant, though friendship is a great way to start this process. Welcome the partner into your family space and accept them as a potential life long member.

3. Show social media support: If your friends and family can see you liking and commenting on your ex's new relationship status, they're more likely to show support as well. Celebrity Vacation: Make Your Anniversary Special With a Vacation Like Sofia Vergara & Joe Manganiello

By Mara Miller

Sofia Vergara and Joe Manganiello are no strangers when it comes to showing their love for each other. This celebrity couple became an item in 2014 and married the following year. Most recently, they jetted off to Positano, Italy for a celebrity vacation to celebrate their five-year dating anniversary. Here is how to make your own anniversary with your partner special like Sofia and Joe's celebrity vacation dating anniversary!

Even if you decide not to jet off to Italy like Vergara and Manganiello for your own anniversary with your partner, there are still ways to make it special:

1. A mini-getaway: Celebrate your dating anniversary with your partner by whisking them off to the beach for a mini getaway, no matter what time of year. Somewhere along the beach in Virginia or the Carolinas, for example, is surprisingly tame in the off-season and you can't beat some of the great hotel prices. You might not be able to swim outside, but you'll still be able to enjoy a walk on the beach together.

2. Take them to a restaurant they've been dying to try: Has your partner been dying to try a restaurant a few states over because of their excellent ratings? Plan a day to drive them to a restaurant they've always wanted to try, but haven't tried yet because it's either too far or too pricey. If it's a higher-end restaurant, you might want to save for it, but it will be worth it to spend the night dining with your partner.

3. Save up for a larger vacation: Has your partner really wanted to travel to Europe, but you've just never had the time or money to travel? Why not save up and go on your anniversary? It can be anywhere in the world—Italy, France, England, Spain—the possibilities are endless. Just be sure to check travel guidelines in the country you're planning to visit because some may require a tourist travel visa and your passport will need to be valid for so many months before you can enter the country. Flights can be up to $2000 dollars as well, so you'll want to start planning with a budget that will allow you to cover flight costs as well as lodging and a rental vehicle.

4. Rent a cabin for the weekend: If your sweetie is more of the outdoorsy type, renting a cabin for the weekend is a way to have a home away from home. Some cabins will even let you bring your dog(s)! Cozy up by a great fire if it's for winter, or explore activities in the area like hiking or other sight-seeing options.

5. Take a craft or cooking class: Nothing brings people together like food or learning a new craft. The options on what kind of craft are endless, from decorative crafts with pottery making or a decorative craft like painting stained glass. Not the best cooks together? A cooking class can help you and your partner learn more about the art of making food, from the basics of putting together a batch of pretzels to cooking your own gourmet meal. No matter what you choose, it's sure to be special, and make you and your partner closer!

2. Get what you want: Being open about intimacy will ensure your partner or potential partner know what you expect. You need to have a conversation before you're intimate with them. What do you do if birth control fails? What if they want to do something weird you don't want to try in bed? Are you worried about sexually transmitted infections? Would it make you feel better if you're both tested before you take the next step to play it on the safe side? The only way you will be able to communicate any of this is to be open about intimacy.

3 Self-confidence: Confidence is sexy. Just don't confuse it with being cocky, which can bring an opposite reaction than what you might expect when you're confident. Being open about sex will give you a sense of confidence you haven't experienced before. You know you're sexy and you know what you want from your partner. Don't dance around the subject: own it.

Cupid’s Advice:

New parenthood is filled with as many challenges as it is joys. Making time for your partner when this new life has become your world can feel impossible. Here are relationship tips for parents looking to bond outside of their baby:

1. Make time for one another: With your new baby becoming the center of your world, it's difficult to make time for each other. However, having one-on-one time is essential to a sturdy relationship and ultimately the growth of your baby. Go on a date together or just sit and talk after the baby's gone to bed.

1. Keep it off social media: There's plenty of reasons to keep your relationship away from social media and not all of them are as pessimistic as 'what if it doesn't work out'? The issue with posting about your love is that it opens the gate for questions and rumors about your situation. This doesn't mean you and your boo can never post. If you go somewhere special, show it off! But don't bombard your followers' feed with the deets on your intimacy.

In celebrity news, Ed Sheeran finally spoke out about the drama happening between Taylor Swift and Scooter Braun. What are some ways to support your partner through dramatic situations?

Cupid's Advice:

No matter how hard we try, life sometimes comes with drama. When that happens, we need our friends and our partner to be by our side, be a shoulder for us to lean on. Sometimes it can be hard to know the best way to support the people we care about when they are upset and drama is surrounding them. Cupid has some advice to support your partner when drama comes their way:

1. Listen: Sometimes when drama comes into your partner's life they just need someone who is willing to listen. Maybe they need to vent to get out their frustrations, or they need to cry on someone's shoulder. Whatever they need to say, or how they need to get their frustration off their chest just listen and let them vent. In the end, just listening can be the thing they needed most.

2. Support them, but don't add to the drama: The hardest thing to do can often be to do little or nothing at all. Instinctively you might want to jump in the middle and protect your partner from those lashing out at them, but it's important to think before you dive into the fold. Often times, if ignored, the people bringing the drama will get tired and move on, so jumping in can cause the drama to escalate and make a stressful situation worse for your partner and yourself.

3. Talk to your partner: Before you jump in to defend them, talk to your partner and ask them what they need from you. How can you help? They may want you to defend them, or they may want you to whisk them away and take their minds off the drama that has them upset.
