

Usher Opens Up About His Heated Custody Battle

By Erin Minty

Usher is finally sharing the story of the heated custody battle he went through with his ex, Tameka Foster. UsMagazine.com reports that the claims have now been settled after three years, and Usher was rewarded primary custody of the couple's two sons, Usher V, 4, and Naviyd, 3, on August 24th. Usher has agreed to open up about his custody battle for the first time to Oprah on Oprah's Next Chapter, which aired September 16th. "This will be the only time that I've ever chosen to speak about it. I've been a man of integrity throughout the entire process, which I hope my boys will understand," Usher told host Oprah Winfrey.

How do you make sure your custody battle doesn't affect your kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Custody battles can be extremely difficult, and things can get heated between you and your ex. Making sure your kids stay out of it, however, is extremely important. Cupid has some advice:

1. Don't talk about it in front of them: While the custody battle is probably the most important thing on your mind, you should never be talking about it in front of your kids. You don't want to drag them into the drama, so don't say something bad about your ex or what is happening in court in front of your children.

2. Remain civil: things may get out of hand and you may really dislike your partner at this time, but it is important not to show that side to your kids. Try to remain civil with your partner when your kids are involved.

3. Act like nothing is wrong: Treating your kids like nothing has changed is the only way to keep them comfortable during this confusing time. If they have questions, answer them as best you can, but otherwise continue about your daily life, as you would have before the drama started.

What are some ways to keep your relationship under wraps at first?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes, you may want to keep a new relationship away from the public eye. Cupid has some advice on how to keep your relationship under wraps at first:

1. Be discrete: Having a relationship in secret can be hard work, but there are ways to keep it out of the public eye. Meet in private locations, don't act too lovey in front of others and don't talk about your mysterious partner to anyone until you want them to know.

2. Don't ignore your friends: If you are repeatedly busy whenever your friends want to hang out, it will be a huge warning sign. Make sure you leave equal time for your relationship and your family and friends.

3. Be on the same page: in order for any secret to stay a secret, you need to make sure you and your partner both agree. If someone tells one person, who tells another, and so on, the secret is out and it will be too late. Make sure you are both on the same page regarding who to tell and not tell.

What are some things to consider before getting a divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Calling it quits on a marriage and filing for a divorce is a tough decision to make. Here are some things to keep in mind before taking that route:

1. A brighter future: Divorces are absolutions to marriages, which is a huge step. Make sure that you're not just looking for an easy way out. If times are hard, they may get better in time. For better or worse and there might be better days in the future.

2. The repercussions: If there are children involved, especially younger children, it's not going to be easy. Custody battles ensue as well as splitting money and properties. Make sure that you are prepared to deal with what is to come.

3. Communicate: Does your partner know how you are feeling? If you are sensing problems in your marriage, before filing for divorce see if they have similar views. Try to work things out before calling it quits.

What are some ways to support your partner when they're the victim of gossip?

Cupid's Advice:

Rumors, gossip and drama happen all of the time, regardless of your age. Here are some ways to support your partner when gossip occurs:

1. Don't blow it out of proportion: Do not make a big deal out of the circulating gossip that is currently surrounding your partner. The last thing they want you to do is to focus on what is being said.

2. Offer comfort: Make sure that your partner does not believe the gossip or feel at all responsible for it. Offer comfort and support to show them that you care about them and are there for them.

3. Move on: Don't dwell on the gossip issue. The longer time you spend on drama, the worse your partner is going to feel. If you ignore gossip, it eventually blows over.

What are some tips for working with your significant other?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating your co-worker? Yikes! That can be a tricky spot to be in, but here are some tips to help you out:

1. Keep it professional: In the workplace, try to remain as professional as possible. That means no public displays of affection or long strolls throughout the office. Save the mushy feelings for after work, not during.

2. Be open with your coworkers: While it may be frowned upon to date a fellow coworker, being open and honest about it may be better in the long run. If you bump into another co-worker outside of work, it may put you in a sticky spot if you and your partner are not honest about your relationship.

3. Support each other: We all have bad days at work or face obstacles we have to overcome. Support and motivate your partner from the sidelines. Do not fight their battles for them; they have to face their own problems at times.

Cupid's Advice:

There is a time span between announcing your new relationship and casually dating someone while trying to get to know them. Here are some tips on when the time is right to go public:

How do you keep a messy breakup from affecting your children?

Cupid’s Advice:

Breakups can be hard, especially when you and your ex had children together. Cupid has some advice on keeping a messy breakup from affecting your kids:

1. Don’t talk about it in front of them: One of the most important things is to try to keep your kids out of it. You should never be badmouthing your partner in front of your kids; it will make things uncomfortable and awkward.

2. Don't ignore their questions: On the other side of the spectrum, you don't want to ignore your kids' questions about your breakup. If they ask you what is going on, try to explain it to them without giving too many details about the situation.

3. Act normally around them: As much as it may hurt, it is important to try to act as if nothing is wrong when you are spending time with your kids. Take them to school, make their meals and talk to them about their day just as you would have before the breakup. You need to make them comfortable even when you aren't.

What are some ways to make a marriage proposal exciting?

Cupid’s Advice:

A marriage proposal is probably the most important you will ask (or be asked) in your relationship, so you want to make sure to do it right. Cupid has some advice on exciting and interesting ways to pop the question:

1. Wait for an unexpected moment: For those who love surprises, a proposal is much more romantic and exciting when it is a complete surprise. Plan yours for a time when your partner will not be expecting it, or somehow fit it in to your partner’s daily schedule so they will be completely shocked

2. Plan an overly romantic night: For those who love the romance films, go overboard and then some with your proposal. Rent out a restaurant, invite your partner's family and friends to come, or any other extreme moment that they will never forget. Pick up some classic romance movies for inspiration.

3. Have a private getaway: For those who like their privacy, plan a romantic getaway to pop the question. Make sure the two of you are completely alone, and tell your partner all the things you are looking for in your future together before getting down on one knee. This will always be a special memory that only the two of you share.

Blake Lively and Ryan Reynolds Vowed to 'Make Each Other Laugh'

The wedding was small and personal, and their vows reflected that feeling. A source revealed to People, "They promised to support and love each other and to make each other laugh." Reynolds "said he would treasure Blake; she said she would adore him." The romantic celebration was held at Boone Hall Plantation outside of Charleston, South Carolina, and featured everything from after-dinner s'mores to a paper lantern send off.

What are the advantages to writing your own vows?

Cupid's Advice

When planning a wedding, the decision to use prewritten vows or to write your own can make a big difference in the tone of your celebration. Cupid has some advice:

1. Personality: Writing your own vows will make what you are saying special and give your long wedding speeches a bit of personality. You can say whatever you want in them; add a touching personal story and individuality that will make your day even more special than it already is.

2. Set the tone: If you want to engage your audience at your wedding, then writing your own vows would be the best way to set whatever tone it is you choose. If you want to make people laugh, tell some funny stories about your partner, or if you want to make people cry, tell your innermost thoughts and feelings towards your partner. It's your decision!

3. Authenticity: If you and your partner decide to write your own vows, you and your audience will know how authentic the words each of you says are. Although you should already know how your partner feels before you get to the end of the isle, personally written vows will reconfirm everything you have been told as you hear the exact way that your partner is feeling about your marriage.

Carrie Ann Inaba Calls Off Her Engagement

By Jennifer Ross

Dancing with the Stars judge, Carrie Ann Inaba, and her fiancé, Jesse Sloan, have called off their wedding. The two came to this decision back in early summer and have remained friends since then, according to People. There is no news yet of the official reason for the break-up. Sloan had proposed to Inaba, on Live! With Regis and Kelly in March 2011.

What are some circumstances in which you should call off your engagement?

Cupid's Advice:

You have just begun to plan for your wedding, but something seems wrong with your vision. Is it the venue, the dress, the caterer...or the fiancé? Before you pick out the invitation card, you had better confirm your fiancé is the one. Here are a few warning signs that it is best not to move forward with the wedding:

1. Simply too young: As you think about your future wedding day, you notice your fiancé thinks about future clubbing days. Are you two on the right path? Sometimes, an engagement can make a person realize just how young they are and whether they are ready for the life-long commitment of marriage. If being engaged is too much too soon, do not fret. There is plenty of time to get there, as long as you are willing to work it out.

2. I don't know you: As exciting as it is to become engaged, it is also added pressure to your relationship. It is during this new level of stress that deeper levels of a personality will come out and they are not all positive. Is your partner the same person you thought you they were? Do they handle the pressure in a good or bad way? If the engagement had brought out a bad side you have never seen, you may have not known them after all.

3. Avoids discussing the wedding: It is only natural that one partner may be more interested in the wedding details than the other. However, if your fiancé completely objects to speaking about any details at all, there is a bigger problem. To have any annoyance or hostility to an event that is suppose to join you two as one means one of you either is not ready to get married or believes they are marrying the wrong person. Either way, all plans should stop.

Did something happen that made you realize it was time to call off the engagement? Tell us below.

How do you know when it's time to move on from an ex-partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Once the relationship has ended with your ex, there may be a period where you still have feelings and not ready to move. However, lingering in this break-up purgatory is dangerous over time. No worries; Cupid's Pulse has a few tips to tell when it is time to emotionally say good-bye:

1. Please leave a message: Does it seem lately that you spend less time talking to your ex-partner and more time talking to their voicemail? If so, it is time to start moving on. Whether your ex is avoiding you or simply unable to answer the phone, it does not matter. The fact is, your ex is not there and neither should you.

2. Too busy for you: On the days that you do run into your ex, do they linger in conversation or keep it short and to the point? When your ex is too busy to talk about the good-old-times, or anytime for that matter, it is a clear sign that things are no longer lovey-dovey between you two. Do not focus on how to keep the conversation going. Instead, keep it positive and short so you, too, can be on your way.

3. They have moved on: An obvious sign that it is time to move from your ex is when they have a new partner. Nothing says “I don’t love you anymore” like seeing your ex with their new love interest. Why stick around and be the third wheel when you, too, can be out in the world with someone new? The only way to get there is to let go!

What are some very public ways to propose marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Almost every man, at one point in his life, will have to answer that day old question – "How should I propose to the love of my life?" From the simple to the over-the-top plan, Cupid's Pulse has a few ideas for you to consider.

1. K.I.S.S.: When in doubt, Keep It Smart and Simple. While being proposed to can make a person feel like No. 1, not everyone enjoys being the center of attention. A good way to propose low key at home is to remove all her jewelry from her jewelry box and replace it with just the ring. Then, wait for her surprise reaction when she finds it as she is getting dressed.

2. Spell it out: Another great idea is to get the loved ones involved in helping you propose. Plan a party, inviting all your friends and family. Recruit some of the attendees to wear a T-shirt bearing one letter of the phrase, "Will you marry me?" Then, as soon as you two walk in, suggest a group photo and let the shirts speak for themselves.

3. Look up: For an outrageous idea, why not propose surrounded by thousands of your "closest friends" and your favorite team! Many sporting events allow bookings for your proposal to be shown on their scoreboard or big screen arena-boards. Just be sure to book it days or weeks in advance, depending on the popularity of the game. Another benefit is the booking fee usually goes towards the team's foundation.

How does having a child bring you closer together as a couple?

Cupid’s Advice:

Deciding to have a baby with your partner can be a stressful time, but it can also lead to a stronger relationship. Cupid has some advice on how adding a child to your family can bring you closer together with your partner:

1. Shared responsibility: When you and your partner decide to have a baby, you are now not only looking out for yourselves, but you have to take care of a child you relies solely on you. Sharing this huge responsibility of taking care of a baby will bring you closer together because you truly have something that belongs to both of you.

2. Bonding time: A baby can bring two people closer together because of the fact that you will spend so much time together when taking care of the child. Bonding over the time spent, whether it is feeding, cleaning or even putting your baby to bed will strengthen you and your partner's relationship.

3. Taking time more seriously: When you do have a baby, it probably will mean less alone time for you and your partner. While that may sound negative, it will force you to take the time you do have more seriously, and spend every second you can being with your partner. You won't take a second of time for granted!

What are some ways to keep your wedding a surprise?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes, couples want to keep their wedding a surprise. Cupid has some advice on how to do just that:

- 2. Have a small ceremony: Obviously if your wedding is a secret, very few people will be invited. Keep the invite list small, by just including your family and closest friends in order to keep your plans from being told to everyone.

3. Have the ceremony somewhere unexpected: Getting married in your hometown will probably be an easy giveaway. Try to plan your wedding out of town to keep the rumors from spreading.

We have all been there – having to face the one person who tore out our heart. Here are some ways on how to remain civil with your past partners:

- 1. Keep your head high: No matter what, keep your shoulders back and your head held high. Do not let the person who broke your heart know how much they hurt you. This will show them that you have moved on from them.
- 2. Smile and nod: Do not be bitter or angry towards them because that will show them that they have hurt you. Wish them well and mingle elsewhere, you do not need to have an entire conversation with them.
- 3. Don't react impulsively: Try to keep your cool and remember that you are better off without them. By remaining calm and collected, you are showing them that you are ready to move on.

What are some ways to show your ex-partner that you miss them?

Cupid's Advice:

Break ups are hard to endure, especially when you regret having them. Sometimes parting ways is beneficial for both parties but other times you still have feelings for them. Here are some tips on how to show your ex that you miss them:

1. Don't rebound: If you're constantly going out and about, looking for other guys then your former beau is going to get the message that you are ready to move on. Seeing you with members of the opposite sex will not make them jealous but ruin chances you have of getting back together.

2. Let them know: Be honest. If your former beau does not return the same feelings, then at least you can say that you tried and did your best. Just let them know that you still care about them.

3. Talk to them: Avoiding your ex-partner is going to do the exact opposite of what you are hoping for. By letting them know that you are still involved in their lives, they will see that they are still important to you.

Was LeAnn Rimes' Breakdown Fueled By Fears of Eddie Cibrian Cheating?

By Nicole Weintraub

LeAnn Rimes reportedly checked herself into a 30-day rehabilitation facility due to her anxiety, according to UsMagazine.com. The star has been dealing with circulating rumors regarding her romance with Eddie Cibrian. The pair met back in 2009 when they were each respectively married to their former partners. Rimes has been called a home wrecker and has been fearful of Cibrian's wandering eye. In response to checking herself into rehab, Cibrian has showed support for her decision, declaring, "I hope she will find what she is looking for while in rehab."

What do you do if you suspect your partner is cheating?

Cupid's Advice:

Cheating is a serious accusation, so here are some steps on what to do if you think your partner is being unfaithful:

1. Don't jump to conclusions: It is easy to suspect the worst and to emotionally prepare ourselves for what we dread. However, if your partner does not respond your calls or texts immediately give them the benefit of the doubt. Rushing to conclusions is only going to get you into trouble.

2. Look at your evidence: If a person has cheated before, it is true that they are more than likely to do it again. Multiple suspicious behaviors are ground for suspecting that your partner has a wandering eye. If the excuses and the evidence keeps adding up, do not ignore it.

3. Confrontation: Be upfront with your partner and tell them that you know something is going on. If you have valuable proof, present it to them. Further discuss what the next option is for the two of you whether it be working through it or going separate ways.
