

Musician Kimberly Cole Says to “Embrace the Butterflies” When Dating

y Steven Zangrillo

Reality TV has become a melting pot for people from all walks of life. There are those people who take part for the spectacle, and others who use it as a springboard for bigger career opportunities. Although not a star on Oxygen Network's The Bad Girls Club, musician Kimberly Cole used reality television to jumpstart her music career by promoting the show with the hit single “Smack You” off of her 2010 album, Bad Girls Club.

Cole chatted with us about the challenges she faces as an artist, shedding perspective on what creative personalities deal with as they navigate their career. She even spoke about her love for fashion and how what you wear can translate on the first date. The most important take-away from our conversation with Cole is that being true to yourself and doing what you feel is in your heart is the best approach.

Perhaps this philosophy can be best explained in Cole's recent single, "U Make Me Wanna," which features an infectious dance beat with Keith Apicary (Nathan Barnatt) who is absolutely killing it on the dance floor. "We originally had this 'video vixen' idea for the shoot, so it was really surprising that Keith came out and blew us away with his moves," Cole gushes. When you get a good look at Apicary, he embodies the kind of feel-good goofiness that pop music does not always seem to embrace.

His audition was classic, and the video, even better.

In addition to her singing career, Cole hosts FM (short for Fashion + Music). "When you create a song, you immediately think about what you're going to be wearing. When you put on an outfit, it creates a mood – even a 'swag.'" Cole successfully combines the two. When asked about fashion advice for a first date, Cole's response: "Well, that depends... do I or don't I want to see this person again? If it's someone who I think I'm interested in, I'll definitely pare it down a little bit."

Cole feels that being an artist poses a unique circumstance. "There really shouldn't be any rules in fashion. Artists walk a fine line, and sometimes, we catch criticism for it. Obviously, you wouldn't be out wearing a meat dress like Lady Gaga on a first date. At the end of the day, wear something that makes you feel good. It's hot to be comfortable in what you're wearing."

Of course, this discussion brought up the question of Cole's personal love life, which she navigated with stealth. "I do keep a few things under wraps," she says. "However, I will say that if you're not exploring relationships, feeling the highs and the heartbreaks, then you're not gaining much inspiration. That inspiration definitely comes out in my music."

Delving even deeper into her dating philosophy, Cole believes that "we all have those butterflies. If navigating a relationship was easy, it would be no fun!" She continued, "There aren't any real tricks for moving past that nervousness – but I will say that it is what makes us human. We should embrace that."

As far as her upcoming projects, she has a ton of new music coming out. Throw that together with her work at FM, some new television projects and preparation for an upcoming tour – it's safe to say she has a full plate. "A lot of hard work is paying off, and I couldn't be looking forward to it more," she says.

You can find out more information about Kimberly and catch the latest FM episodes, which are part of Stylehaul, at www.youtube.com/stylehaul. And, of course, don't forget to check out "U Make Me Wanna" on iTunes!

How do you show that you are proud of your significant other?

Cupid's Advice:

Jealousy and pride are two very different emotions. Here are some tips on how to show how you are proud of your significant other:

1. Don't compare: Your accomplishments and your partner's accomplishments are two completely different things. Do not compare what your significant other has done with what you have done. It will do the opposite of what you are hoping to do.

2. Boast about them: When you are proud of someone, you want to share their achievements with the world. Talk about your partner and their feats that you are proud of. Here's a tip: talk about them when they are not there. That way, they will know you are not putting on a show for them.

3. Tell them: If you are proud of someone, tell them! Communication is key. Nothing will make your significant partner happier than to hear directly from you how proud of them you are. Chances are, they have wanted to hear it for a while.

What are some ways to keep your relationship under wraps at first?

Cupid’s Advice:

Sometimes, you want to be able to keep your personal life to yourself when starting off a new relationship. Cupid has some advice on keeping your new relationship a secret:

1. Keep some distance: If keeping your relationship on the down low is important to you, you need to make sure that your friends and family don't catch on to a secret affair, because then they will become more curious. Take phone calls in privacy, don't spend all your time texting, and don't give too many details about where you are going when you are meeting up with your partner.

2. Be clear about your feelings: If someone does catch on to a mystery person in your life, talk to them about how you feel. Explain that in these early stages, the two of you are choosing to keep your relationship a secret, and that when you are ready, you will tell them.

3. Communicate: Together the two of you need to decide whether or not your relationship will stay under wraps. You both need to be on the same page about what information to share and what not to share. Communication is key when making these important decisions.

Nina Dobrev Admits to Fighting Feelings for Costar Ian Somerhalder

y Erin Minty

The Vampire Diaries star Nina Dobrev is no stranger to being surrounded by hot men. And despite what she said in a Seventeen Magazine feature about never dating a costar, she ended up with one of the hottest as her boyfriend; 33-year old actor Ian Somerhalder. Dobrev tells People, “I didn’t want to be dating one of my costars. My goal on the show was to be professional. But sometimes you can’t help who you have a connection with, and you can only fight it for so long – which I did for a really, really long time.” Despite their start as coworkers, Dobrev and Somerhalder have been together for awhile, and their relationship seems to be going strong.

Is it OK to date a coworker?

Cupid’s Advice:

Inter-office dating can be complicated. Cupid has some advice on when dating a coworker will work:

1. If you have true feelings: Dating a coworker just because you are attracted to them is probably not a good idea. But when your relationship reaches a level of true feelings, you might want to give it a go. Just like Dobrev said, you can't fight your feelings, and it would be worse to wonder "what if" than to actually try.

2. Talk about it before: If you think there is a chance of a real relationship with a coworker, you should have a talk about what may or may not happen before starting a relationship. If you work so closely together that you spend every hour of every day together, things may get complicated at work. But if the two of you think you can keep your work life and dating life separate, then it may be worth the risk.

3. Gage your office: What kind of tone does your office give off? If it is very serious 100% of the time, dating coworkers may be a bad idea, because of the potential problems that could arise. If every relationship at work needs to be extremely professional, inter-office dating can become very tricky, and you would need to be very careful before jumping into a relationship.

What are some unique ways to meet a potential partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding a potential partner can be a really difficult thing to do. Cupid has some advice on some new and interesting places to meet a new date:

1. Online: The stigma that comes along with online dating is starting to diminish. If you haven't had much luck finding people you connect with in your every day life, try an online dating site. Tons of people have successfully found a partner online, and it takes away the stress of finding someone on your own.

2. Volunteer activities: If there is a cause or organization in your community that you are passionate about, helping out by volunteering for a day can be a great way to meet new people that share some of your passions. Chat up the cute person working at the site with you and you never know what may happen!

3. Gym/park: If you are someone who loves the idea of working out, but may not be able to find someone to go with you, go for a run at your local park or hit the gym. Chances are, some cute single will be working out too (hopefully alone) and you can talk a little while you work out in a stress-free environment.

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes there are mistakes an ex can make that break up the relationship, but are those mistakes so bad that you two cannot reconcile? Here's how to know when your partner may be worth trusting again:

1. They're willing to put in the effort: It may be time to trust your ex again if it's obvious they're putting in a consistent effort to make your relationship work the second time around, like with counseling or therapy.

2. The violation of trust was a one-time thing: If what made you distrust your partner in the first place was a one-time mistake and it hasn't happened since, time may be able to heal the wound.

3. Their sincerity shows through their actions: As the cliché says, "Actions speak louder than words." If what they're doing matches the sincerity in their words, that's a good sign.

Maria Sharapova and Sasha Vujacic Call Off Their Wedding

y Jennifer Ross

It is game over for professional tennis player Maria Sharapova and fiancé, former Los Angeles Laker Sasha Vujacic as the couple decides to call off their wedding. The two began dating back in 2010 and had gotten engaged on the one year anniversary of their first meeting. The cause of the breakup is reportedly their hectic career schedules, according to Too Fab. On a positive note, Sharapova is currently playing in the U.S. Open where she has advanced to the semifinals and Vujacic is in training camp overseas for the Turkish basketball season. With a little time, the two will be back on top in their own personal lives again.

How do you know it's time to call off your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Walking down the aisle is a life-long commitment to each other that can destroy hearts and bank accounts if you have chosen the wrong one. So before you take your first step, make sure there aren't any red flags to stop you. Here are a few tips to think about before saying “I do”:

1. Save the date: If time has passed since the engagement and a wedding date has not been set, then you may have a problem. It is understandable to wait a little while before setting a wedding date. However, if more than a year has passed and your loved one is still avoiding the calendar, chances are their “life” schedule does not include you.

2. No bachelor/bachelorette party: The bachelor/bachelorette parties are a rite of passage and the last single party of your life. So if your mate demands that you forsake this for their benefit, find out the true reason why. It may be possible that your mate does not trust you. Without trust, you two will never make it in the long run.

3. Baby names: Planning a wedding requires many details to discuss and finalize. What it does not include are baby names and pre-schools, although it is wise to discuss how many children you want before proposal. However, if your mate wants to plan too far into the future now, they may have a case of “wanting to catch-up” to their already settled down friends. If so, is your mate marrying you or making up for lost time?

Seeing as adults are not the only ones watching the Prince, let's hope he has learned his lesson. After all, not all things stay in Vegas.

What are some ways to keep your intimate details to yourself?

Cupid's Advice:

With today's technology allowing every experience to go virtually instantly into the world, some moments are best kept private. Here are a few tips on how to stay low key:

1. Electronics free: In entertaining situations with friends and loved ones, who doesn't like to snap a few photos to reminisce about later or post via Facebook? However, when the party gets down and dirty, it is time to put the electronics to bed. Especially when the alcohol is flowing, be sure to keep the smart phones put away.

2. Trust is No.1: When having fun at a party, it can be easy to let loose with your words, among other things. This is where you must be certain to know who's around you first. Surrounding yourself with close friends that always have your best interest at heart is a good way to insure embarrassing moments won't travel far.

3. Keep it sealed: In the event that you find yourself mingling with new acquaintances, less is more. It does not matter how cool or funny they seem, they are not your best friend! Therefore, the only way to avoid a regrettable tomorrow morning is not to share anything you wouldn't want the world to hear or see.

Reports Say Chad Kroeger's Parents Did Not Meet Avril

The recently announced engagement between Avril Lavigne and Nickleback's lead singer Chad Kroeger came as a big shock to fans around the world. Other people it came as a shock to were Chad's parents. The couple admits to Hello! Canada magazine that Chad's parents never met Lavigne before the engagement, reports UsMagazine.com. Kroeger says, "You never know what your parents are going to say when you tell them you're getting married – especially when it's with someone they haven't met yet!" Apparently, he has never met the young singer's parents either. The two seem very nervous about making a good first impression, but Lavigne adds, "Everyone is super stoked for us. The reaction from our friends and family has been awesome!”

What are some ways to impress your partner’s parents?

Cupid’s Advice:

Meeting your partner’s parents the first time can be extremely nerve-wracking. Cupid has some advice on making a good impression the first time you meet:

1. Be confident: You don’t want to be shy on your first meeting with the parents, or your actions may be misinterpreted. Engage them in conversation and have a response to things that they say. Keep eye contact when speaking to them, and you will look interested and confident.

2. Dress to impress: Don’t show up wearing some old baggy sweatpants or something with holes. You don’t need to wear a tuxedo or gown either, but you want to look presentable when you first meet your partner’s parents. A lot of a first impression has to do with the way you look, just like on a job interview. So, be polished and look nice for your first meeting.

3. Show love for your partner: All parents just want to know that their child is happy. If you love your partner: show it! Don’t do anything inappropriate, but smile and show your appreciation to your partner in front of his or her parents. It will make their parents much more open to you to see their child loves you back.

The actress is known for her current role on ABC’s hit TV show Happy Endings as well as her role on 24, while her new fiancée is famous on the ice as the captain of the Toronto Maple Leafs. The two have been dating since 2008, and are finally deciding to settle down together.

How do you know when you've been together long enough to get engaged?

Cupid's Advice:

Taking the next step from a relationship to an engagement can be a huge and scary decision. Cupid has some advice:

1. You are 100% open: Relationships are about learning every little detail about your partner's lives, past and present. When there is no more to learn, and you are happy with what you know, it may be time to move forward in your relationship. When a couple has no secrets and knows each other so well, getting engaged seems like the obvious step.

2. You see a future: If you imagine your future life being married, and you can see your partner as the one you are with, then an engagement might be in order. After a certain amount of time (it is different for everyone,) if you know that your partner is the one you want to spend the rest of your life with, then moving forward is the answer.

3. You want to move forward: There are only so many steps after being in a monogamous relationship. Try moving in together. If you have done that, adopt a pet together or buy a home. When you still want to move forward in your relationship, becoming engaged is only natural, and a perfect next step towards a happy life.

How do you know when it's time to enter the dating scene after divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Approaching dating after a marriage has ended can be a daunting task that must be approached carefully. Cupid has some advice:

1. Wait until you are ready: There are probably a lot of people in your life that will try to push you into a relationship before you are ready by trying to set you up with friends, or asking you about any potential dates. The most important thing is to wait until you are ready. Take your time; don't rush into the dating scene because of any social pressure to do so.

2. Don't take it too seriously: After a divorce, you will probably be in the mind-set of a serious relationship. Take a breath. Go on one date. This person doesn't have to be your future partner; you can just go out, relax, and have a good time. Take it very slow at first until you know you are ready.

3. Think about who you are looking for: It may be difficult for some time to picture yourself with anyone else besides the person you just divorced. Take some time to think about the kind of person you want to be with. When it gets to a point where you can imagine yourself with someone else besides your ex, you may be in a good position to go out on that first date.

What are some things to consider about dating someone older than you?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating an older person seems very appealing: established, experienced, mature. However, there are some things to consider before dating someone older. Here are some tips on how to decide if dating older is right for you:

1. Big age gap: Dating someone older than you definitely has its perks. The idea of dating someone who is mature, distinguished and experienced is appealing. Though, how old is too old? The more years there are in the age gap between yourself and your potential partner, the more difficult it may be to have things in common.

2. Different places: When trying to decide if dating someone older is right for you, think about where that person is currently in their life. The two of you may be looking for two completely different things. While you may be looking to casually date, they may be looking to settle down within the next year or so.

3. Age or maturity: One of the most alluring ideas of dating someone older is the impression that they will be more mature than people your own age. However, age does not go hand in hand with maturity. Maturity, experience and success differ from person to person. All of these positive traits are not guaranteed with dating someone older than you.

How do you know if someone is into you for the right reasons?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating is one of the most difficult adventures, especially trying to figure out who is trustworthy. Here are some clues on how to find out if someone is interested in you for the right reasons:

1. Through thick and thin: If someone truly has feelings for you based on your personality and not your bank account, they will be with you through it all. Whether you are having a good day or a bad day, a person that is truly into you will be by your side through the good times and the bad times.

2. Give and take: A true relationship is a partnership in which both people in the relationship give and take. If someone is only looking for presents and fancy dinners, they are only looking for the value of your bank account. Someone that is with you because they value you as a person will be around for the expensive nights out as well as the quiet, low key events.

3. A deeper meaning: If the deepest conversation you can have with someone is when the next paycheck comes around, it's time to start looking elsewhere. A deeper connection goes well beyond money, presents and expensive dates. Whether it be a shared interest in a hobby or a friend in common, the more you can relate to the person, the deeper the connection will be.

Mother and Son, Tammy and Justin Lane, Share What Happened 'The Week the Women Went'

y Deanna Atkins

On Lifetime's 'The Week the Women Went,' the men and women of a small South Carolina town, Yemassee, abruptly find out what it's like to live in a world without the opposite sex. Sounds scary, right? The social experiment turned reality show explores modern gender roles in this new unscripted series. Everyone wants to know how the males will handle their own families along with running businesses and just regular day-to-day life. It would seem that the men are really in for it, but surprisingly, the women aren't exactly having the time of their lives during their getaway. Many of the females are homesick and sincerely worried about their families – so much that one mother, Misty, drops out after only two days of being away.

We had the opportunity to chat with mother and son cast members, Tammy and Justin Lane. This pair brings tons of drama to the show: much to his mother's dismay, Justin, a 21-year-old fire chief, proposed to his girlfriend of three years, Amy, just before the women took off. Amy said "yes," leaving Tammy disappointed in her son and his new fiancé. The women left for Florida before their differences were resolved, ensuring that these three participants are in for a rocky ride when they're reunited.

Related Link: 'That's My Boy' Can Teach You a Thing or Two About Surviving Your Crazy In-Laws

Even though Justin is no longer a bachelor, he's still a total mama's boy. "It's not that I don't think Justin can take care of himself; it's just more of a comfort for me," Tammy explains. Justin lives at home and has everything done for him: Tammy does his laundry, puts food on the table and picks up after him. "I know things are done right, and I don't have to worry about him. It's a comforting thing, not a control thing."

When it comes to Justin's new fiancé, Tammy can't help but be protective over him. Although it seems like she doesn't approve of Amy, it's the engagement in general that upsets her. She believes that 28 years old is the best age to get married. "He's having the time of his life now, and he's just way too young to get married," she shares.

The seemingly overbearing mother adds, "Amy is fine. I would feel the same way about any woman who wanted to marry my son.”

While the women were away, Justin was not afraid to share that he missed both Amy and his mother in different ways. “I couldn’t last without my mom – she does a whole lot more for me than Amy does, and our relationship is just tighter,” he says.

Will Tammy give her blessing to Justin and Amy? Will the couple take moving out of their parents’ homes seriously? Will Justin be able to get by without his mother’s constant help? They all have a lot of figuring out to do, but Tammy boldly holds nothing back when she says, “I don’t know what’s going to happen if Justin and Amy move in together. I’ve been telling myself every day that it’s eventually going to happen, and when it does, I’ll give you a call from the emergency room.”

Watch what happens to the tight-knit community when the men realize that they’ll need to take on the female’s roles since their wives, mothers and fiancé’s will be vacationing in Florida for the week. ‘The Week the Women Went’ airs on Tuesday’s on Lifetime at 10pm EST.

What are some ways to know that your partner is being unfaithful?

Cupid's Advice:

Being in a relationship, no one wants to find out that the person they trust the most is the one that is hurting them. Here are a few tricks on how to find out if your partner is being unfaithful:

1. Hot and cold: If your relationship has been on the rocks or unstable recently, that could be a huge clue that your partner is experiencing a wandering eye. When we are not happy in current relationships whether it be due to the spark dulling or constant arguments, we tend to look elsewhere to see if we are missing out on anything. Keep an eye out for your partner being out of tune with you emotionally and keeping you out of their schedule.

2. Excuses, excuses: Honesty is one of the most important ingredients in a healthy relationship. When you start hearing excuse after excuse, it's time to start looking for more clues. One late night at the office is understandable, but when the same excuse comes up over and over again, chances are it's not just an excuse anymore.

3. Sudden changes: Sudden changes in mood, behavior and scheduling may be indicators that your partner is unfaithful. Constant canceling and postponing plans that your partner has with you is a red flag. It may be a sign that your partner is seeing someone else, or it may be a warning that the spark is dulling in your relationship.

Cupid's Advice:

Setting a date can be an extremely stressful time for any couple about to be married. Cupid has some relationship and love advice about how to start thinking about a date for your wedding:

1. Start with a season: Is there one season that has always called out to you? Maybe you love the sunshine and beaches associated with summer, or maybe the pristine white of snow is more your style. Think about what would match your dream dress and your venue choices. By narrowing your choices down to a particular time of year, you can eliminate most of the year and have a much smaller list of dates to choose from.

What are some ways having a child can bring you closer as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding to have a child is a decision that should be made when both partners feel they are ready. Although children are a large responsibility, it can bring you and your partner closer together:

1. Working together: The responsibility of raising your child rests on both you and your partner. Decisions and choices must be made together which means communication is key. Working together as a team is a vital element in having children. When a couple is blessed with a child, they have another commonality in their lives and the relationship with your child's other parent is an important one. Making decisions together will also bring you closer as a couple.

2. Adding to the family: One of the most rewarding things you can do with a person is start a family with them. Feelings continue to grow since you have shared this experience with your partner. The two of you will be sharing new experiences and memories that neither of you have had before, especially if this is your first child. Sharing these new feelings and experiences with one another will further to develop your feelings for each other.

3. Leaning on one another: You cannot do this alone and that is what your partner is there for. There will be wonderful days and there will be rough days. They are there to support you and to hold your hand through not only the good days, but the bad days as well. Knowing that you have someone to lean on and supporting you will help to push you through the difficult days. Through working together and supporting one another on the difficult days, your relationship will grow stronger.

What are some ways to feel attractive after having a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

Having a baby is a huge ordeal, as caring for a newborn is a lot of responsibility and pressure. Here are some tips on how to feel more attractive after having a baby:

1. Go out: Just because you have a baby, doesn't mean you can't enjoy a night out on the town. Have a date night with your partner or a girls' night out to raise your spirits and give you something for which to look forward. The more fun you're having, the less you'll feel self-conscious. Having a baby does not change your identity – you're still the same beautiful person you were before your pregnancy.

2. Pamper yourself: You feel your best when you look your best. If you've been feeling a little low, treat yourself. Perhaps go for a nice relaxing massage or go for that pedicure you've been putting off because you can't find the time. Schedule some alone time in so that you can enjoy a little relaxation time. You deserve to indulge every now and then.

3. Be productive: Sometimes we feel unattractive when we feel unproductive and have nothing to do. Go to the gym, put the baby in the stroller and go for a walk around the park. A little movement and change of scenery does a lot, especially if you've been stuck in the house between the later stages of pregnancy and caring for a new baby.

How do you know when you're with the right person to have a child?

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding when and if you want to have a child is one of the most important and difficult decisions in your life. Being with the right partner is a crucial element of creating a family. Cupid has some advice:

1. Think about your future: When you sit down and think about your future with children running around you and a loving partner by your side, can you see the person you are with now? Being in a happy stable relationship is extremely important before bringing any kids into the world, so make sure you know that your partner is someone who you want to be with for a long time.

2. Talk about it: Have a thorough discussion with your partner about what each of you want in the future. How many kids? Should you be married before kids? Where you want to live and what areas have good school systems? If one of you will stay home from work to raise them or if you will hire some help? If you do not agree on your future plans, then your partner might not be the best person with whom to have children.

3. Make sure you are in love: A loving relationship between parents is something that kids pick up on before they even know what love is. You wouldn't want to bring children into the world with two parents that don't fully love each other. You want their lives to be happy and healthy, so start by making your life happy and healthy, too.

What do you do if you’re having a hard time getting over an ex?

Cupid’s Advice:

One of the hardest things to go through in life is a break-up, especially when you were the one that was dumped. Many questions arise and the pain can seem unbearable. However, there is light at the end of the tunnel. Here are a few tips to getting over that heartbreak:

1. Get your ex off that pedestal: You may want to remember all the funny or loving moments your ex created, but keep in mind, your ex also created many, many horrible ones too. There’s a good reason why this break-up happened, even if you cannot see this right away.

2. Get rid of the reminders: The way to ensure you do not relapse into despair is to remove anything that reminds you of the relationship. Trash those cute pictures of you two or that stuffed puppy dog holding a heart that you received at last Valentine’s Day dinner. While you are at it, clean your space of your ex’s personal belongings fast!

3. Dust off those hobbies: Chances are you have let many of your hobbies go while you were in a relationship. What better way to get over your ex than by getting back your swag? Exercising, whether indoors or out, is a great way to relieve emotional pain, along with extra pounds. An added bonus is you’ll start to feel better about yourself. If physical activity is not your style, then find something else.

How do you know if someone is boyfriend material?

Cupid's Advice:

With so many personalities in this world, finding a boyfriend may not always be sugar and spice and everything nice. Here are some things to consider when searching for a new love interest.

1. Communication is key: When you speak, does he hear you? Better yet, does he remember what you've said? Good communication starts with an open space to express your thoughts and includes someone on the other end listening, being able to understand, and even challenge you in a positive manner.

2. Attraction: Good communication without attraction is the same as having a relationship with your brother – sure you love each other, but not in the romantic way. In order to have a boyfriend, there must be a mutual intimate connection to each other, and that starts with physical attraction.

3. You've bettered yourself: Another thing to consider is who you were before you met him and who you have become. With all this physical attraction and communication between you two, thoughts and feelings are inevitably going to change. Have you changed for the better? If spending this much time with him encourages you to be a better you, then it looks like you may have a keeper!

What are some ways to keep your relationship strong when you have multiple children?

Cupid's Advice:

Relationships can be hard work, and they sometimes take a back burner when the addition of multiple children appears. Here are a few ways to keep your relationship fresh and strong after having kids:

1. Spend some time out: Alone time is hard to come by with a load of little kids running around, but it is crucial in keeping a relationship alive. Take one night a week to get dressed up and go out to dinner or a movie with your spouse. Hiring a good babysitter could be the one thing your relationship needs to get back on track.

2. Be affectionate: This doesn't have to be much, but a small touch like holding hands on the couch or giving your partner a hug can remind them that there is still a strong connection between the two of you. Even when your lives are hectic with children, take a second to touch your partner and establish the connection you two share.

3. Talk: Sometimes, your lives can be taken over by the presence of kids. One way to keep the relationship strong is by having real conversations—talking and listening—when the kids aren't the center of attention. Having conversations about yourselves and not your children can be one way to strengthen your relationship.
