The drama never ceases on this season of The Bachelorette, and this week's episode was no exception. According to UsMagazine.com, Hannah Brown was forced to make a hard decision between Luke P. and Garrett after their fearsome fight. As usual, Luke had used the group date as a way to belittle the other men, and Garrett was fed up. After warning Luke that his "time was coming to an end," Garrett ended up with a lap full of bologna as Luke P. screamed in his face. The tension ran high at the rose ceremony when Luke P. and Garrett were the last two left without their red petals. Ultimately, Hannah gave a rose to Luke, who laughed as Garrett exited the set.

In celebrity news, Luke P. lost his cool with Garrett in the most recent episode of The Bachelorette, showing his true colors. What are some ways to handle an angry partner?

Cupid's Advice:

In any relationship, romantic or otherwise, anger is normal. Feelings of resentment, jealousy, or sadness can bubble up in a red hot rage. Knowing the right course of action to deal with an angry partner can be a challenge. Here are tips to calm the emotional forest fires in your partner:

1. Be patient: When your significant other is losing their cool it's important to remember this isn't about you. It can be easy to take offense to yelling or hurtful tones, but instead focus on what they're trying to say. Chances are they're truly hurt and not expressing it properly.

2. Respond in kindness: Because anger is symptomatic of inner pain, be kind toward your hot headed lover. Let your S.O. know that their emotions are valid and they are still loved. Meeting anger with warmth may help condition the insecurity that lies beneath.

3. Know when to call it quits: If your partner's always operating at the red hot level and you're left feeling hurt, it's time to end it. Anger is a normal response in small doses. However if your partner's always running off the rails and you feel more bullied than loved, it's not healthy. You can't fix someone's emotional baggage, no matter how much you love them, and if this anger is dragging you down it's time to go.

Cupid's Advice:

A break up with a significant other is never easy, especially if it wasn't mutual. While sometimes drama comes with the breakup, it is always possible to sit down and talk with your ex to work out your issues before you go your separate ways so there are no bad feelings residing. Here are a few of Cupid's ways to avoid drama after a tough split:

1. Assess the situation: Sit down with yourself and do a bit of self reflection- what exactly is leading to this break up? How have you reacted to things? How has your partner? Find the root of your worries and think about how you want to address them with your ex, so you can work out those feelings before anything gets out of hand.

2. Leave the past in the past: The past is the past for a reason. Every day you grow into a new and better version of yourself, you are not who people may believe you once were. Focus on the here and now, and who you are today.

3. Stop pleasing others: There is always a reason for every break up. If you decide to split from your partner because it was not right for you to be with them anymore, so be it! You have to do what is best for you and only you, no matter what others may say or think.

Sometimes what seems like the best of marriages run into issues that create cracks in the relationship and cannot be repaired. This celebrity couple made the decision to separate while they were still able to be friends. Cupid has some tips to help you decide if the cracks in your marriage are beyond fixing:

1. You live life like you're single: If you're married and either you or your partner are essentially living separate lives, it may be a sign that your marriage is beyond fixing. 2. Thinking of your spouse with someone else doesn't hurt: Your spouse should be your priority; someone you want to spend time with and who you want to prioritize the love between the two of you. If you think they may be spending time with someone else and that doesn't bother you or make you sad, then your marriage is hurt and this may be a sign it is cracked beyond repair.

3. You stop having sex: Sex isn't everything, but when you're married, it is something. According to EOnline.com Jax cannot wait to see Brittany in her beautiful wedding dress, which has been customized to her personal style. But, wedding planning hasn't gone entirely smoothly. Their officiant, Lisa Vanderpump, needed to pull out of the ceremony last minute after her mother passed away. The couple found a replacement in Lance Bass to get their special day back on track. If you're a fan wondering if you'll get to see the magical nuptials, the couple hasn't said anything yet, but they have confirmed they're willing to share aspects of their wedding with fans.

This celebrity wedding is happening this weekend! What are some ways to personalize your nuptials?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding is ultimately about you and your partner joining together. So it makes sense to personalize the ceremony and reception to reflect who you are as a couple. Here are some ways to add character to your wedding day:

1. Honor those who've passed: You may have a close relative who has passed away. That doesn't mean they can't be a part of your special day. Take a tip from Jax, whose father passed, and save a special seat with a photo or poem for your loved one. Consider dedicating that spot to their ashes or a rose.

have been friends for years, however, and there's no confirmation about anything more from the two.

In celebrity couple news, rumors are swirling that Shawn Mendes is dating Camila Cabello. What are some ways to keep rumors in check when it comes to your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Once news of a relationship hits the rumor mill, it'll keep spinning out of control. While you'll never eliminate gossip there are a few steps you can take to diminish it's power:

1. Present a strong front: Make sure you and your partner are on the same page regarding your public relationship. Talk with you partner about the ins and outs of PDA, social media, and what can be said when. It's a delicate balance of respecting each other's boundaries and standing united.

2. Be honest: The strongest defense from rumors is authenticity. When you're coming from a genuine place it's much harder to misread the signals and twist your words into rumors.

3. Keep your relationship low-key: This may not be for everyone. Even I'm not immune to a good Instagram post celebrating inner aspects of my life. Yet the easiest way to avoid rumors is to not be in the public eye. If you keep your relationship in real life with people who know you, the rumors will likely die out.

Cupid’s Advice:

When you're in a relationship, you want to see your partner happy. If someone is saying or doing things that hurt them, you want to stop what is causing their pain. Cupid has some advice when it comes to standing up for your partner:

1. Don't allow people to talk down to them in front of you:

You may have fallen in love with your partner, but that doesn't mean your friends or family have. There may be times when someone in your circle treats your partner like they don't deserve you, or talks down to them. It is important that you step in right away. You want to set the precedent you will not allow them to treat your partner disrespectfully.

2. Shut down negative influencers: Not everyone will say the negative things they think in front of your partner. Some will save their opinions to share with you when your partner is not around. Do not feed their negative opinions by listening and allowing them to say whatever they want. Shut down their negative talk right away, and make them aware that you won't tolerate it in the future. You chose your partner for a reason; don't let other people's negativity influence your feelings in your relationship.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Are Khloe Kardashian & French Montana Getting Back Together?

3. Be on their side: There could be times when someone in your circle of friends or family says or does something to your partner that upsets them when you're not there to stop it. If your partner lets you know they've been hurt by something a family member or friend did or said to them, make sure they know you have their back. Call the friend or family member and discuss the incident and make it clear it was upsetting and unacceptable. You don't have to be mean; have a respectful conversation, but make it clear that such actions cannot continue.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Front Runner Jed's Ex Details Heartbreak & Being Ghosted

By

Katie Sotack

In celebrity news, Bachelorette front runner Jed had a girl at home when he left for the show and broke her heart. Jed and his ex, Haley Stevens, are both country singers who fell in love before Jed was accepted onto The Bachelorette. According to UsMagazine.com, Jed went on the show as a way to publicize his music, and Haley didn't want to hold him back from any show biz opportunity. However, the six weeks of filming and two weeks after with no phone call from Jed devastated Haley. When the ex celebrity couple ran into each other at CMA Fest, few words were exchanged and Haley knew they were finished.

In celebrity news, all may not be as it seems with Bachelorette favorite Jed Wyatt. What are some ways to know if your new partner is being genuine?

Cupid's Advice:

When falling in love there's no guarantee. The possibility of pain is around every corner. However there are tell tale signs that your partner is the real deal. Here is dating advice on how to tell if they're leading you on:

1. Listen to your gut: First things first, always listen to your gut. If there's a nagging feeling from something primal in your body, it's probably right. Do a little investigative work into what instinct is telling you.

2. Listen to what they're really saying: If you find yourself in a Haley situation, where your partner is saying 'I love you' but keeping the door to others open: actions speak louder than words. Some people will say anything to keep something good around, but remember that the way someone treats you is the true test to if they value you.

3. Listen to others: So your friends and family raise an eyebrow every time you tell a story about your flailing significant other. Clearly they think this partner's not good enough for you. If their reasons go beyond the shallow (ie: money, looks, etc.) then put stock into what they're saying. They want someone to treat you right even more than you do.

Underwood even revealed that she schedules a time to cry when she feels overwhelmed. "Sometimes I feel like I just need to cry, for no reason, and there's not anything that happened," she says. "I've learned to be okay with that, whereas five or 10 years ago I would have been like 'Oh my God, something's wrong with me!'"

Celebrity parenting comes with the same challenges the rest of us face. What are some tips you can learn from your first-time parenting mistakes?

Cupid's Advice:

You're on your second kid, or maybe even your third. You've had time to learn what not to do, or maybe you need a nudge in the right direction because you feel like scheduling a cry. Cupid has advice on parenting tips you can learn from your first-time parenting mistakes:

1. Don't take advice from everyone: You need to do your own thing when it comes to parenting. Many people—family and friends included—will have opinions on things like how much you should feed your kids, when they should go to bed, or when you should stop breastfeeding. You need to do what you feel is right for the well-being of your children.

2. You overestimate free-time: Um, free time? What's that? Unless you have a baby sitter or your spouse is willing to stay with the kids while you pursue your passions, there is no such thing as free time now that you're a parent until the kids are in school...and that's a maybe unless it's scheduled. Time management is now key so you don't drive yourself crazy because it helps you see how much time you actually have in a day.

3. Don't put yourself last: Even though you might feel overwhelmed and feel like you never have free time anymore, you have to realize putting yourself last is a big no-no. As mentioned, time management will help you see how much time you actually have so you can soak in the bathtub or go out to dinner with your friends. Even moms need breaks.

Despite the rumors that may be flaring up because Kourtney and Scott took their kids on a vacation, Sofia seemed comfortable enough to remain home so she could attend work events. Sometimes we can’t help it if our partner has to interact with their ex if they have children together. Cupid has advice on how to keep your jealousy in check:

1. Remember, your partner is with YOU: Your partner and their ex split up for a reason. Even if they are on friendly terms, you have to realize they didn’t work for a reason. Your partner would not be in a relationship with you if what you have between you both isn’t working.

This celebrity vacation couldn't come at a better time for Porsha Williams. What are some ways that getting away can help your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Everyone needs a vacation! Getting away from your typical day to day life can be a big stress reliever on your mind. It allows you to sit back and relax so you can focus on having a great time! Here are some of Cupid's tips on how getting away can help your relationship with your partner:

1. Mental health: If something is affecting your relationship and ultimately stressing you out, you need to take a break and step back. You can't have crucial conversations with your partner unless your head is in a good space. Taking a mental health break gives you time to relax before heading back into the real world to face the situation head-on.

2. Self-reflection: Taking a vacation just for you, not with your partner, will give you time to reflect on your relationship. Have you been pulling your weight in the relationship? Is there anything that is making you unhappy? What do you want to improve? Thinking about how you want your relationship to go from this point is vital, and addressing those points with your partner is key to getting your relationship on the same track.

Celebrity News: Tori Spelling Says It's 'Hard to Be Monogamous' Years After Dean McDermott's Affair

By

Mara Miller

In celebrity news, Tori Spelling dished about her celebrity marriage with Dean McDermott, according to UsMagazine.com. Spelling spoke candidly about staying faithful for the five years after her husband had an affair. “The reality is that you’re two people. I feel like humans, instinctively, it’s really hard to be monogamous because you’re always changing,” Spelling said on McDermott’s “Daddy Issues” podcast released on Monday, June 17. “And if you’re not on the same page, you have to try to change again, and evolve and be on the same page.”

In celebrity news, Tori Spelling admits that being monogamous isn’t easy. What are some ways to resist the temptation to cheat?

Cupid’s Advice:

Spelling is right—humans find it difficult to stay monogamous because it is in our nature even though we may not want to admit it. It's normal to wonder what-if...but isn't worth the heartache that can follow a break-up or divorce because you cheated. Cupid has advice on ways to resist temptation and stay faithful to your partner:

1. Think about the consequences: You have to ask yourself if cheating is worth the heartache and drama that will follow if your spouse finds out. Do you want to risk ruining a solid relationship because you can't resist that cute coworker? To hurt your kids if your spouse can't forgive you when they find out?

Related Link: Celebrity Couple News: Katherine Schwarzenegger Calls New Husband Chris Pratt a 'Wonderful Husband' on Father's Day

2. Refocus on your relationship: Try putting lusty energy back into your relationship where it belongs rather than focusing on your crush. If you feel like the romance is dying down, talk to your partner about it. Even though it might hurt...think about being honest about your temptation to cheat. An open-honesty policy with your partner will help you work through tough times. Try dating again by experimenting with date ideas or picking up a new hobby together. You might be surprised by how much your love with your partner grows after you start putting aside more time to spend with them.

3. Take any developing crushes seriously: We've all done it. A funny ha-ha, "I think that guy from high school is hotter than when we were teens." Today it's much easier to find someone you could have a connection with outside of work or your usual circle of friends. Social media affects 50% of relationships in a negative way. It's easy to hop into someone's DM's for a conversation that can lead to something else. When you start to realize this might be happening, it might be better to end communication so the temptation does not become something more if they ask you out for coffee.
