Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups can be stressful and often come with a lot of heartaches. The best ways to cope with a recent split can be different for everyone, from hanging out with your friends to eating ice cream from the carton. Cupid has some advice on coping with a recent break-up:

1. Lean on your friends: Sometimes the worst thing you can do after a split is to sit at home alone and dwell on the past. Take this time to spend time with your friends. Go out, dance, and let them help you take your mind off of your break-up; let them be there for you the way you'd be for them if the roles were reversed.

2. Stick to a routine: A break-up can make you feel like the rug has been pulled from beneath your feet. It can be easy to get lost in your sadness and focus on the loss, but sticking to a schedule will help you avoid getting lost in a long crying abyss even if it is something as simple as setting your alarm, taking a shower at a specific time each night, or whatever helps you keep moving forward.

Celebrity News: How Prince William and Duchess Kate Bounced Back After Rumors He Had an Affair

By Bonnie Griffin

A source revealed to UsMagazine.com that Kate found the rumors hurtful, but "it forced her and William to sit back and examine their relationship, which they realized they should have been doing more often." The celebrity couple decided not to let the negative rumors negatively impact their marriage, and they are still in a strong and committed marriage today.

In celebrity news, Prince William and Duchess Kate recently went through a tough time with hateful rumors. What are some ways to keep rumors from affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

In the era of social media and online news, rumors get started faster than ever, and most people don't take the time to check the facts before they believe whatever they hear or read. Rumors can tear a good relationship apart if either party feeds into them. Here are some tips from Cupid to keep rumors from affecting your relationship:

1. Keep your private life private: It is easy to get sucked into social media and many people wind up oversharing. The problem with sharing every little detail about your relationships is that those details can get stretched, and people can make of them whatever they want. Venting when you're upset online can make things even worse. Your relationship is between you and your partner, and it should not be fuel for your social media feed.

2. Trust: One of the most important things in a successful relationship is having trust between you and your partner. A relationship without trust is bound for failure. Trust is developed over time based on your actions in your relationship and the actions of your partner. If you trust your partner then it won't be so easy for something as trivial as a rumor to come between the two of you, and you will be better prepared to work through any harmful rumors thrown your way.

3. Don't easily condemn your partner: If you don't have peace in your relationship and are constantly arguing with your partner over small things, a rift will develop and it can make it easier for you to believe rumors. Remember that nobody is perfect and try to cut each other some slack when it comes to the small things. If you constantly fighting and worried your partner is going to do something bad then you will feed into any harmful rumor you may hear. If you love your partner give them the benefit of doubt and don't always expect the worse.

Sexual chemistry is a key part of any relationship, and it is important to figure out if you and your partner have that spark early on. Here are some of Cupid's tips on how to see if you and your new partner have that spark of sexual chemistry:

1. Making eye contact feels comfortable: While nerves can come into play, being able to keep eye contact with your partner is an important part of sexual chemistry. Eye contact lets you know that they are actively listening to you, and that they want to be there with you.

Celebrity Interview: Rafi

Anteby, The Man Behind the Gifting Lounge

Interview by Lori Bizzoco Written by Courtney Shapiro and Amanda Sanders

From hosting one-of-a-kind gifting suites for celebrities (e.g., Emmy's, Oscars, Billboard Music Awards, BET Awards) to creating and promoting his iconic jewelry line, Rafi Anteby's Rolodex of clients reads like an award celebration itself (Rihanna, Beyonce, Jamie Foxx). But for Anteby, it is not as much about living the lavish lifestyle as it is about finding opportunities to raise awareness and funds for philanthropic causes around the world.

In our exclusive celebrity interview, we chat with Anteby on the inspiration behind his coveted gifting lounges, his spiritual and philanthropic journey and the meaning behind his jewelry line, Bullets4Peace.

Celebrity Interview with Rafi Anteby: Traveling Inspiration, Life Experiences and Future Endeavors

While today Anteby is considered just as iconic, influential, and successful as the celebrities that he works with, making a name for himself was a process. “I think the way it happened has to do with consistency and legitimacy. Hollywood is very straightforward and it takes people time to really trust somebody in their own circle.” Anteby discusses how he used balance and truth to build his reputation. “Celebrities seek a lifestyle that really brings them back to a normal life,” he says. “They want to touch the Earth, they want to touch the real, so I show them places and I show them products and I show them a lot of things that speak to this lifestyle – my lifestyle.” This is the magic of his journey and these real moments are what inspired him to start his own jewelry line, Bullets4Peace.

If we look back at his story, it began in Israel, where he served in the Israeli army and lost his entire platoon fighting in the war with Lebanon. Following that, he had the very unfortunate experience of losing his best friend, David Perry from a gunshot wound. “I’m very familiar with the bullet, what it can do and the negative impact that it has not only for the victim but for their family and friends also,” the jewelry creator says.

Anteby says that the gifting lounges didn’t happen right away. First, he spent time really getting to know himself. “I was a consultant on counter-terrorism, I traveled a lot and did free wildlife photography, and I studied with monks in Tibet and Nepal.” It was while staying at a monastery in China, that Anteby came back with the idea to rebrand the imagery of a bullet. For the past 10 years, his mission has been to take bullets and turn them into a peace symbol by recycling used bullet casings and re-purposing them into the wonderful handcrafted pieces which several celebrities have been seen wearing.

Anteby started his gifting lounges at the 2017 Oscars and has hosted close to 10 lounges since then. Because of his travels and eye for artistry, he is able to offer exotic trips and products to celebrity clientele at his gifting lounges. All of the products seen at his events support various causes. “I will tell you that there’s a message behind every event I do,” Anteby elaborates. “I truly believe in receiving for the sake of giving. So for every event I do, a certain amount of the money goes to charity.” Taking a chance in this industry is hard work. “I didn’t expect such a warm welcome and it still takes time,” Anetby says. But he wants his gifting lounges to inspire on a much deeper and bigger level.

While it may seem that women would flock to someone living such a lavish lifestyle, Anteby confesses that he is still single. “People come to LA because they want to succeed, therefore, everything else becomes a minor issue.” He explains that relationships seem to take a back seat. The philanthropist does believe that everybody has someone out there for them but with his constant traveling, he identifies himself as a “lonely wolf,” and thinks it’s tough to find a woman who can match his exploratory lifestyle.

When asked what's next for him, he shares that he would like to open up a media group that will help to have a social impact." this man is certainly an individual to keep on your radar.

Celebrity News: Jana Kramer Reacts to Husband Mike Caussin Saying Cheating Would Be a Dealbreaker

By Mara Miller

Celebrity couple Mike Caussin and Jana Kramer had a miscommunication when Caussin claimed he would call it quits on their celebrity marriage if his wife was unfaithful, according to UsMagazine.com in the latest celebrity news. While at the iHeart Radio Wango Tango Podcast Suit sponsored by Sugarbear Hair in LA on June 1 with Us, Kramer said, "I am still scratching my head about that, too, because it feels very one-sided to me, and honestly it kind of hurts my feelings that he wouldn't stand by me if I did that." Kramer and Caussin split briefly in 2016 after he cheated on her with multiple women. They later reconciled and renewed their vows in 2017.

In celebrity news, Jana Kramer is scratching her head after a comment from her husband. What are some ways to clear up miscommunication with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Miscommunications between you and your partner like the one Kramer and Caussin had can happen between couples occasionally. Cupid has some advice on how to clear up any misunderstandings:

1. Avoid always having to be "right": In a situation where you've had a misunderstanding with your partner, things can escalate quickly if you try to stand your ground and say you're right. The "always right" mentality stonewalls any farther communication. Be willing to admit that you might not have understood your partner so the situation does not get worse.

2. Listen: Listening to your partner not only shows them you are willing to work together but it will also that you value their opinion. It's easy to misword something when you speak so if one of you misunderstands what the other says, don't immediately get angry with your partner.

3. Take a break if the situation escalates: Sometimes it's better to just walk away and cool down. Take this time to reflect on what was said between you and your partner. Once you've both calmed down, give each other both a chance to speak so both sides have a chance to explain what happened.

Here are some of Cupid's tips to keeping the spark alive in your relationship when you have multiple kids:

1. Make time for yourselves: As much as you love your kids, you have to admit after watching them for hours on end, you leave yourself feeling very drained. Have you and your partner set a day perhaps every other week where you go out on a date or try something new.

Just because you and your partner are no longer together doesn't mean your family is broken. By staying on good terms with your ex, you can ensure that your children adjust well to a new family dynamic. Here are some of Cupid's tips to ensure a successful co-parenting situation:

1. Communication is key: By actively communicating with your ex, you can ensure that you are both on the same page regarding your children. Even just asking one another about their day, or what has been going on in their lives is a great step toward having a friendly relationship.

Celebrity Baby News: 'Bachelor' Stars Arie Luyendyk Jr. & Lauren Burnham Welcome a Baby Girl

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity baby news, Bachelor stars Arie Luyendyk Jr. and Lauren Burnham are parents. After meeting and falling in love on The Bachelor, the celebrity couple has maintained their relationship in the public eye throughout the pregnancy, although they have not yet released the baby's name.

The latest celebrity baby news is that this Bachelor couple welcomed a baby daughter. What are some ways to work on your relationship while at the same time having a young child?

Cupid's Advice:

Having children is a beautiful gift, but that does not mean being a parent with young children is easy. Add the stress of now having a young child who solely relies on their parents to your relationship and you might find yourself asking how your relationship will survive. Cupid has some advice to keep your relationship working after having kids:

1. Have adult conversations: Just because you have a child doesn't mean all of your conversations have to revert to baby talk. You still need to communicate with each other, and as much as your young child is a very important part of your lives, they cannot be the only thing you discuss. Don't cut out your conversations just because you have a child, even if time alone is limited just have your conversations in front of your child because they will likely interrupt even if you try to take a moment and step out of the room.

2. Work as a team: It is important for both parties in a relationship to remember that you both had a child, and that means sharing more than those adorable baby grins. It means that you need to share the work with each other. You both have to help with the fun parts and the bad parts like when they have a meltdown. Be a united front when your child is having a tantrum because it will only add to your stress if you are not on the same team.

3. You both deserve time out: Every parent needs an occasional break. A break from your partner and even the occasional break from your child. We all need a little me time now and again. Give each other that time out and away to just be alone and revel in their own thoughts. Even though this time alone may seem like a strange way to help work on your relationship, your partner will love you for offering them a break.

These celebrity parents are brave to travel internationally with an infant. What are some tips for traveling with a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

The standard recommendation is to wait until your baby is at least one month old before traveling, although some doctors recommend waiting until your little one is four to six months old so his or her immune system has enough time to become strong. Cupid has gathered some tips that might help if you do decide to travel:

1. Breastfeed if you can: Breastfeed your baby when he or she gets hungry. You don't need to be shy about where you breastfeed and you won't need to lug around any extra gear.

3. Forget the "nap schedule": Don't stress yourself out too much about having your baby on a schedule while you're traveling. The celebrity couple went before a judge in North Carolina, who ruled that Evans "failed to protect the children while in her care," which resulted in her oldest son (9), and daughter (2) being placed in the care of Evans' mother, while her youngest son (4) will stay with his biological father.

These celebrity parents lost custody of their kids after legal proceedings. What are three ways to keep custody battles from affecting your children?

Cupid's Advice:

Custody battles are hard times for any family. They can put enormous stress on not only the parents involved, but the children as well. Here are some of Cupid's tips to make sure that custody battles don't affect your children:

1. Remind them that it is not their fault: Some children may think that their parents splitting up may be because of something they did. Make sure your children know that they did nothing wrong, and the argument at hand is between you and your former partner, and they had no cause in getting to this point.

2. Tell them you love them: While you and your former partner may not be on good terms anymore, make sure your children know that no matter the outcome, it does not mean you don't love them any less. Even if your children won't be living with you after the fact, have them know that you will always be with them in their hearts, even if you are not able to be there physically.

3. Remind them and yourself, that this is in their best interest: A custody battle would not be occurring without viable reasons, whether it be on your part or your former partner's. Take the time to remind your children that doing this will only benefit them, and give them a chance for a better future.
