Backstreet's back,

alright! This time, it's A.J. McLean who's making news as he recently got hitched and is preparing to welcome a baby with wife Rochelle, according to People. The tattooed twosome were wed in December 2011 in Beverly Hills and moved to the Valley soon after so they'd have room to raise a family. Via Youtube, McLean made his big baby announcement: "Because we love you all so much, we wanted to share with you – for the first time – something very special. We're having a baby!"

What are some lifestyle changes to make before having a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

Having a baby is nothing to step into lightly, as there are some major life changes you need to make before welcoming your child to the family. Cupid has some tips:

1. Baby proof: The most obvious changes you need to make before having a baby involve your surroundings. It's important to baby proof all of the outlets in your home and to create a living space especially for the young.

2. Be happy at home: Perhaps you're used to hitting the town with your partner on a nightly basis. This will most likely have to change once you have a baby, so it's best to learn how to be happy at home before you give birth.

3. Work as a team: If you've never had a pet or other kids, it's possible you've never had to work closely with your partner toward a common goal. As a way to ease into motherhood/fatherhood, consider adopting a dog. Raising a pet is certainly not the same as a child, but it'll point you in the right direction.

What are some creative ways to spend your first anniversary?

Cupid’s Advice:

After a successful year together, this should be cause for celebration. Here are a few suggestions:

- 1. Visit the outdoors: If it’s a nice day outside, head outdoors. Pack a picnic basket and a blanket and set up a lunch date at a local park. If you and your partner are active people, find a scenic hiking trail and eat at the end of the trail.
- 2. Surprise party: Throw a surprise party for your partner. Though the party will be in your honor as well, surprising your partner will be a sweet and entertaining gesture.
- 3. Indulge your hobbies: If the two of you have a lot in common, try spending the day indulging your favorite hobbies. If you both love theatre, go see a play. If you're both music fans, get tickets to a concert.

What are some ways to keep things between you and an ex civil?

Cupid's Advice:

Being normal around someone you once shared strong feelings for is seemingly impossible. Here are a few tips on how to remain calm and collected.

1. Shake on it: Agreeing with your ex-sweetheart to both be civil is the first step in being able to be around each other without old feelings lurking around. If you do agree to be comfortable around each other be sure to stay true to your word.

2. Keep distance: Just because you and your ex can tolerate each other does not mean you need to know everything about one another's lives. Knowing what your ex-lover did after his date will only create tension between you both and leave you hurting.

3. Be respectful: Treating each other like adults is key to staying civil. Respect your exes boundaries and feelings and they will reciprocate the same behavior.

There is nothing like becoming a parent the first time around, but how do you prepare for when it's time to extend your family? Here are some tips when preparing your family for a new edition:

1. Prepare your child: Preparing for a second child involves more than just stocking up on diapers, talk to your first child about becoming a big brother/sister.

Exclusive Interview: Sweet Home Alabama Star Paige Duke Says It's True Love with Jeremiah Korfe

By Daniela Agurcia

We all fell in love with Paige Duke, the small town girl from South Carolina on season three of CMT's reality dating show, Sweet Home Alabama. We interviewed the down-to-earth sweetheart, learning about her experience as the bachelorette and how listening to her heart led her to choose her true love, Jeremiah Korfe.

It seems as if the decision was an easy one for Duke; she connected instantly with the country boy. It was love at first sight: Korfe was physically her type, and they clicked from the start. In fact, on the first day of meeting the guys, she wrote a letter to her mom and said, "And then there's Jeremiah. He's the only one I can't stop thinking about, and it scares me." Fortunately, the feelings were mutual. Korfe even snuck love letters into Duke's boots, telling her how much he admired her.

Even though a lot of fans rooted for Duke and Bubba Thompson to end up together, nothing could keep fate from taking its course. Duke shares, "Bubba is an amazing, awesome guy, but I never felt the spark or chemistry with him. Yes, I want him to be in my life forever, but you can't make your heart feel something it doesn't feel."

Duke and Korfe received a lot of criticism once the show ended, but they learned to deal with it. "When one of us would get upset, the other one would get us both back in the right mindset," she explains.

Thanks to the editing of Sweet Home Alabama, the show may have given viewers a different impression of what Korfe was truly like. Even though fans mostly saw his bad boy image, he actually has a sweet side. Duke claims, "People didn't see anything about the letters. They didn't see how he would look at me or how long he would hug me."

When asked what he thought about how he was portrayed on the show, Korfe refuted his image by telling us, "I'm more of the work hard, play hard kind-of guy, and even if I do have a bad boy side, the show made me look more like a whiner, lonesome guy than a bad boy."

What seems to have saved Duke and Korfe's relationship is that they stayed true to their hearts. Duke, a true believer in finding the perfect one, gives us her insight on following your heart, saying, "Gosh, if you don't follow your heart, you will always live with regret. So what if things don't turn out like you thought? You still never regret something that once made you smile."

Related: Reality Stars Who Found Real Love

As for the most important thing to focus on when starting a new relationship, Duke shares, "Honestly, once the must-haves on your list are checked off – things like the same morals and values – and you're able to create a solid foundation for your relationship, I'd say that the butterflies and feelings that come from a new relationship are most important. That's especially hard to find as you get older."

"After I was hurt a few times, I never thought I'd feel so excited or get butterflies over a guy. I became sort of jaded and closed off. I didn't want anyone to ever have the power to hurt me,” Duke adds. “I had been waiting a long time to feel what I felt with Jeremiah.”

The sweet, southern belle and country boy were a perfect match from the start, and since the end of the show, their relationship has only become stronger. Duke and Korfe are a great example of pushing everything else aside and following your heart, having overcome much criticism to ultimately find true love. As long as the feelings are real, maybe finding love on a reality show is possible after all.

Duke made it clear that she truly believes there’s someone out there for everyone, sharing these inspiring words: “I don’t think people should settle just for the sake of not being alone. It’s cliché, but don’t find the one you can live with; find the one you can’t live without.”

Gwyneth Paltrow Says Chris Martin Helped with Postpartum Depression

Brooke Shields,

Courteney Cox, Bryce Dallas Howard and Amanda Peet are some celebrities who have suffered from postpartum depression and so do as many as one in five women in the United States, but Gwyneth Paltrow didn't think she would be one of them. The actress found herself experiencing the symptoms of postpartum depression shortly after giving birth to her son Moses in April 2006. It wasn't until her husband, Chris Martin pointed it out that she realized she actually had it. Paltrow believes that being open about her depression made it easier to cope, "We think that it makes us bad mothers or we didn't do it right, but it's like, we're all in this together." Between the support she's had through it and the awareness of it, she claims that her postpartum depression is slowly starting to diminish.

What are some ways to support your partner though postpartum depression?

Cupid's Advice:

It is hard enough for your partner to be suffering through something like postpartum depression, the best thing you can offer them is your support. Here are some ways to show them you're there for them:

1. Don't make it take over your relationship: You're both aware that the depression is there, but continue to try doing the normal things you would do. If you start changing the way you act around them because of it, it'll most likely make them feel even worse.

2. Be understanding: It's a tough thing to be going through, so you have to be understanding. It may get frustrating, but all your partner wants is to know you'll still be there for them.

3. Help them, help themselves: Encourage your significant other to get treatment and start seeing a doctor. Make sure they know that you genuinely want to help them get better.

What are some ways to subtly show your partner you care in public?

Cupid's Advice:

Okay, so maybe you and your mate are a bit on the discreet side, but that doesn't mean you have to act as though you don't know each other when you're out in public. Here are some subtle ways to delicately show affection to your lover when other eyes can see:

1. Hold hands: This is one of the most subtle and obvious ways to show everyone that you are holding onto one of the most important people in your life. It's intimate enough to show your partner affection and declare your relationship status.

2. Hugging: Sure, it's a common way to show affection to anyone, but, you can't hug everyone like you would with your love.

3. Kissing: You don't have to have a full blown make-out session with your partner to show the world how you feel about each other. A simple kiss on the lips, cheek or forehead can say a lot.

How can pets help you cope with a split?

Cupid’s Advice:

Dealing with a split is always difficult. Here are some tips on how your pets can help the healing process go more smoothly:

1. You always have a companion: Your cat will love you unconditionally. With or without your ex, you will always have your pet around to make you feel better. Try snuggling up on the couch and watch your favorite movie.

2. Occupied attention: Taking care of your pet will keep your mind off your recent breakup. Give your dog an extra walk during the day instead of chatting with your ex. Your dog will love you for it.

3. Pick up a new beau: Walking your dog around the neighborhood could even lead you to meeting someone new.

Drew Barrymore and Will Kopelman Celebrate Pregnancy and Engagement at Shower

Actress Drew

Barrymore and her fiancé Will Kopelman have a lot to plan for with a wedding and a baby on the way! The couple of one year are excited for both dates to come quickly, and they celebrated the coming events with some of their closest friends with a baby shower and engagement party. "Everyone was doting on pregnant Drew and asking her how she is feeling," a witness told UsMagazine.com. "She is so thrilled to be expecting, and also really excited about the wedding."

What are some unique ways to celebrate your engagement?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting engaged is one of the most exciting moments of your life, and this is when you and your fiancé begin a new chapter in your life. Cupid has some tips to make it special:

1. Getaway: You and your new fiancé should take a weekend vacation together where you can celebrate your new status together and flaunt your hubby or wifey-to-be on your arm. This way you can have a little fun along with rest and relaxation before the stressful planning begins.

2. Surprise announcement: You'll hardly be able to hold the news inside, but if you can stand it for a couple of days, surprising your parents and closest friends at a dinner or party would be a great way for everyone to get really excited and celebrate together. A more unique approach might be putting a video together on YouTube and breaking the news on the web.

3. Make memoirs: Don't wait to get your engagement pictures because you'll be glowing with excitement and you want to be able to capture that. It's also a good (and maybe cheesy) idea to write love letters to each other including details of the proposal. Keeping a journal of your life together will be something you'll appreciate having later when you can look back and reminisce about your journey.

When you have many suitors, how do you choose which one to date?

Cupid's Advice:

In many situations, having options can be a good thing. However, when it comes to your love life, this can become a bit stressful, especially when you have a few great choices to settle on. So what do you do when you're faced with such a difficult decision? Here are some ways to help pare down your list of potential lovers:

1. Personality: This is one of the most important factors to consider when getting to know your list of suitors. Do you have a blast when you're with them? Are they charismatic? If so, this person sounds like a winner.

2. Meet the parents: Mama knows best and so does dad; usually they can be spot on when it comes to knowing the right fit for their son or daughter. If your hopeful mate can get along well with your family and they adore them, this makes it even easier to seal the deal.

3. Genuine only: You may not be able to easily be yourself around everyone, but when you find that one person who you can completely let your wall down with and they can do the same when they're with you, you may have found "the one."

What are some ways to act on a longtime crush?

Cupid’s Advice:

It’s not easy acting on a longtime crush, but how are they supposed to know you feel that way about them if you don’t tell them? You need to be a little forward in order to get a straight answer on whether you have a chance or not. Here are some ways to act on a crush:

1. Reach out: They can’t know you like them if you don’t give them some sort of hint. Start asking them to hangout with you more often, and feel out their reaction to see how to approach the situation next.

2. Be upfront: If you have been hanging out with your crush for a while now, just ask them what they think about you two being together. If you don’t make it a big deal it won’t be so uncomfortable. In fact, it’ll be refreshing to get it off your chest.

3. Make a move: One night when you are out with a group of friends and your crush is there, lead him or her to the bar alone or ask them to go dance. Step out of the friend zone.

How do you keep discussion about your pregnancy to a minimum?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy is a special moment for you and your partner, but it can also be a monumental moment for the people around you. Don't let them be the ones spreading the word about your pregnancy! Cupid has some tips:

1. Demand privacy: Your loved ones are going to want to be as far into your business about the baby as possible, whether they think they're helping or are just there to get the latest gossip, but you need to demand your privacy and tell them when they need to back off.

2. Be discrete: People love being in-the-know. To satisfy the nosey-nellies and the gossip queens, tell them just enough, but not too much. Hopefully, this way they get enough information to keep them occupied for a little while.

3. Close range: Only discuss important aspects of your pregnancy with the people with whom you are closest. This may limit discussions to your partner, the to-be-grandparents, and maybe your closest friends. This way, you know you can trust these people with your private information and don't have to fear information leaking out.

How do you know when it's OK to date a coworker?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating a co-worker can be a sticky situation. But, you never know when love might strike and sometimes it's at work. Here are some guidelines to follow:

1. Make sure you are on the same level: Dating your boss or someone senior to you is never a good idea because of the unhealthy amount of power they have over you in your professional life. If you are really falling for one another, one of you should really leave the company before anything serious begins.

2. Make sure it doesn't interfere with work: If a relationship in the office is too distracting for you, then it's not worth it.

3. Make sure your co-workers are comfortable: Nothing is worse than a workplace romance disrupting the office dynamic. If you decide to pursue a relationship, make sure your co-workers are okay with it.

How do you know when it's OK to show PDA?

Cupid's Advice:

PDA is okay as long as it's done in a casual setting and isn't overdone. A kiss and a warm touch here and there is perfectly cute and acceptable, but once you feel the need to get a room, you need to tone it down. Cupid has some tips:

- 1. Stay away from PDA in a business setting: When you bring your partner to meet your co-workers or to the company holiday party, this is never the time for PDA. Keep it professional.
- 2. At the beach: No one can resist their partner in a swimsuit. So, PDA at the beach or poolside is perfectly acceptable. Feel free to hold hands, steal a kiss or wrestle in the waves.
- 3. After a big achievement: When your partner has just won an award or scored a point in a sports game, this is the perfect time for PDA. Show your congratulations and affection with a kiss.

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding to start a family is a huge decision and size matters. Here are some ways to decide on just how big your family should be:

- 1. Be selfish: It's okay to want a small amount of children or a whole baseball team. Take time out to decide what you want. In the end, it's your body and your decision.
- 2. It takes two: You're not the only one making the babies.

Talk to your partner about how big you want your family to be. Things don't always work out the way they are planned, but being on the same page with your partner helps ease whatever surprises may come along.

3. Talk to the kids: If you already have children, adding another child is going to be a big change for the existing kids. Take time out to talk to your kids about becoming big brothers or big sisters. After all, they're apart of the family too.

How do you handle children from separate marriages?

Cupid's Advice:

Having older children from a past marriage could be an uncomfortable situation when bringing a new baby into the picture. Here are a few tips on how to do it:

- 1. Don't force anything: Forcing your children to meet or even have a relationship with siblings they are not related to can be a touchy situation. Pushing your children into something they don't want to do will ultimately push them away. Allow your children to make to choice on their own.

2. Allow them to become friends: Similar to not forcing your children to meet the others, you don't want to force them into friendship. Let them become friends on their own, and they will form greater bonds.

3. Act as one family: Don't separate your children into groups based upon marriages. Bring all of your children out as one happy family. Go to the beach together and have family dinners together. Whatever it is that you do, do it together as family.

When is it OK to take an ex back after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Breaking up with your significant other is a tragic experience, and depending on the circumstances, getting back together with your ex could make more drama. Cupid has some tips:

1. Your ex changed: So maybe your ex used to have a horrible habit of overreacting and arguing too much, but took some anger management classes, just for you. That's a sign you should get back together. If your ex can realize he has a problem and create a solution, then it's acceptable to get back together, as long as you're sure he changed.

2. Your ex didn't cheat: If your past lover did not break your heart, then it's okay to talk through things and try to sort out your differences. However, keep in mind that if your ex did something that makes you look bad, like cheating on you, it will be even more embarrassing if you take him back so easily.

3. You both miss each other: No matter what terms you and your ex-beau split up on, getting back together has to be mutual.

You can't force someone into falling back into love with you. Missing each other is a big step toward working through issues and becoming a couple again.

Sure, keeping your relationship under wraps has its perks, such as privacy and a better chance at maintaining a healthy, long-lasting relationship, but you can’t keep it behind closed doors forever. Here are some ways to recognize when you and your mate should “make it official”:

1. It’s getting serious: After you and your partner have been dating for a while and agree that it’s time to meet each other’s family, it can also be a great time to debut your relationship.

2. Everyone knows: You and your love can only be seen a few times sneaking in some PDA before people begin to link you two together. If everyone has already pieced you two together, why not confirm it?

3. You're both ready: When you both agree that you're ready to go public with your relationship, then that's when it's the best time.
