What are some ways to make your children feel loved after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

It's important for both parents to give their children the same attention and care after a split. This lets them know that they will always be loved despite the status of their mother and father's relationship:

1. Family outings: A family trip to the movies or the zoo is always a good way to let your children know that both of their parents still care despite the split. With so much change happening, this helps to instill a little normalcy in your childrens' lives.

2. Support them: Whether it's a dance recital or a basketball game, make sure that both you and your ex are there to support your kids as frequently as possible in their extra-curricular activities.

3. Love reminder: In the wake of a split, parents many sometimes forget to tell their children that they love them. A simple "I love you" can be enough to put a child at ease.

How would you make you child feel loved after a spilt? Give us your ideas below.

Ryan Reynolds Is Dating Olivia Wilde

Has Ryan Reynolds moved on from America's sweetheart, Sandra Bullock? According to UsMagazine.com, the Change-Up star and Olivia Wilde went out to lunch at Sant Ambroeus in NYC's West Village on September 16. "He recently told her he has a crush on her," Wilde's friend said. A witness at the restaurant said, "She had minestrone, and they both got greens" on the date. After they went into an apartment building for two hours, "he briefly put his arm around her" as they walked through Tribeca, the witness added. What are some creative ways to tell your crush you like them?

Cupid's Advice:

Admitting a crush can sometimes be nerve-racking. Here are three creative ways to do so without having to actually say anything:

1. Dinner: Ask him or her out to dinner at their favorite restaurant. Making eye contact, flirting and even putting your arms around your crush – like Ryan Reynolds – will give them signs that you're interested.

2. Card: Gift your crush a card you created that includes a list of everything that attracts you to them. Don't forget to mention exactly why you think you're compatible.

3. Group date: Instead of coming right out and asking him on a date, invite a group of friends to go and pay closest attention to him when you all meet up. Take the opportunity to flirt with no pressure.

How do you keep the drama about a past relationship to a minimum?

Cupid's Advice:

Exes are a sore subject for many. Staying focused on what's happening in the present always helps to avoid reliving those heartbreaking moments, and it keeps gossip at a standstill.

Here are some tips:

1. Don't talk about it: Although this may be easier said than done, talking about the past brings up old feelings and memories that can bring you back to a bad time in your life. Try to avoid conversations about your previous love life for the sanity of you and your partner.

2. Keep a positive attitude: Sometimes talking about your past mate is inevitable. During those times, try to stay positive and talk about some of the good that came out of it.

3. Focus on the present: If you focus on what's happening in the now, there is no need to constantly relive the past. Cast your attention toward a new job, new look or even a new love.

'Glee' Star Lea Michele and Broadway Boyfriend Theo Stockman Split

Final curtain call! Actors Lea Michele and Theo Stockman are no longer an item. A rep for Michele told People, “They will always be friends.” Why the break-up? It seems after a year of dating, the relationship had simply run its course. The couple were originally spotted at an April 2010 event in New York celebrating Time’s 100 Most Influential People issue.

How do you know when a relationship has “run its course”?

Cupid’s Advice:

Dating is a chance to get to know a person and to see if they are someone with whom you want to spend the rest of your life.

When things don’t work out, it’s time to move on. Here’s how to figure out when and how to end a relationship:

1. You’re no longer attracted: Physical attraction isn’t everything in a relationship, but it plays a huge part. If you no longer feel drawn to your beau sexually and you’ve tried everything to reignite the flame, it’s time to rethink things.

2. Communication: Conversation is important for building and keeping a relationship. When discussion becomes non-existent, the relationship will soon follow suit.

3. You make time for other things first: If you always put yourself first and your relationship last, it's a bad sign. Maybe you're a single girl stuck in a girlfriend's body.

What are some rewarding things you can do together as a couple?

Cupid’s Advice:

Though many relationships can get by on romance alone, it’s also important to bring out the best in your partner. Here are a few ways you and your loved one can make a difference:

1. Visit a homeless shelter: Many homeless shelters open on the weekends for a few hours at a time. Instead of sleeping in, volunteer your Saturday morning and help out. It’ll bond you as a couple and make you feel your time is worthwhile.

2. Visit an animal shelter: Find the nearest no-kill shelter in your neighborhood. These shelters are almost always short on room and low on money. Acts as simple as cleaning a litter box can aid the shelter.

3. Donate: If you and your partner don’t have time to visit the nearest charity, try donating instead. Sending some old clothing to the Salvation Army is a fast and easy way to contribute.

What are some reasons to take your new husband's last name as your own?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting hitched means you've found the love of your life, but sometimes it can mean losing who you are in the process. Taking your husband's last name can feel like you're erasing part of yourself. Here are some things to consider:

1. You won't lose who you are: Changing your name will not take away the accomplishments you achieved under your maiden name. Think of the change as a new chapter in your life.

2. The name game: When you decide to have children, it will keep confusion to a minimum.

3. Your hubby will thank you: Traditional men often like to build their families as a unit. They want their children and their wives to carry the same last name as a courtesy. Plus, if you change your name, he owes you some chores around the house!

How do you prioritize when it comes to a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

It may be challenging to make time for your loved ones, but it's important to do so. If you aren't sure how to prioritize when it comes to your relationship, here are some tips:

1. Schedule one day: Your job is important to you, but so is your significant other. By spending at least a day or several hours in a week solely with your honey, it'll show them how much they mean to you.

2. Lunch or dinner: If it's difficult to spend a day or more than a few hours with your partner in a week, try to schedule a time that's suitable for both of you to have lunch or dinner together.

3. Family: Spending quality time with your family is equally important as spending it with your mate. Find time to have several get-togethers with all of your loved ones.

What are some ways to stay on good terms with your exes?

Cupid's Advice:

Staying friends with an ex is almost always difficult, but it doesn't have to be. Here are a few tips to help you befriend your ex:

1. Remember your breakup: If the two of you had a messy breakup, then maintaining a friendship will be difficult. It's still possible to be friends, but keep your breakup in mind when you try to reach out to them.

2. Contact them: Even if the two of you don't hang out or call each other on a weekly basis, send your ex a quick email every now and then asking after their health and well-being.

3. Rely on mutual friends: Transitioning from a relationship to a friendship can be very awkward. Rely on your mutual friends to ease the transition. Hanging out in large groups can give you a chance to chat with your ex without the conversation going sour.

Taylor Armstrong's Life Coach from The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills Offers Tips for Today's Relationship and Finding Mr. Right

By Ashley

DelBello

“I teach women to be ladies and men to be gentlemen,” says model turned relationship coach, Melanie Mar who has worked with Hollywood’s most elite celebrities and couples to help them find love in their life and more importantly, within themselves.

Melanie Mar is the founder of Melanie Mar International and a partner of Patti Stanger’s Millionaire’s Club Matchmaking Agency. You may also recognize her from last night’s episode of The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills, where she is seen coaching Taylor Armstrong about her marriage to Russell Armstrong. We had the chance to catch up with Mar and get her advice for couples in a relationship, as well as for those who are navigating the single scene. She offered some amazing insight. Ladies take note.

One of the most common dating challenges for single women who live in big cities like LA or NY is that they find it too hard to meet a man. “Women have become much more independent and now they're competing with men," says Mar. "There's a lot of masculinity out there these days and it takes so much courage for today's man to approach today's woman. He has no idea what reaction he'll get," she explains.

Mar continues by noting that anytime women are working, it means they're using their left brain, which is their logical and doing mode, it's the one that's needed to do a job successfully. The opposite lobe is where our emotions lie. Interestingly, the left brain is also the lobe that men use, hence where the competitiveness comes into play.

"There are four people in every relationship because we're all masculine and we're all feminine. You know when you're being one or the other. In fact, one of the things that I tell my women [clients] when they're struggling with this is when you've finished work, come home and take one hour and do something feminine. I don't care if it's taking a bath, walking the dog, or playing music. I don't care what it is, but get into that feminine side."

A Harvard study on why we marry found that approximately two-thirds of women marry for status and stability and the other 33 percent marry for sensual and sexual pleasure. However, the study found the exact opposite for men – where two-thirds of men marry for the sensual and sexual. When these men come home after work, they want to come home to a sensual home – meaning they don't want to work or compete once they've walked in the door.

"If you're a woman who wants a "real" man, turn it off when you get home," Mar advises. "It's so crucial to take that one hour – and you should tell your partner that you need to do this to become a better girlfriend, wife, or significant other. It's so important for women not to compete, control or conquer their men because you won't respect them and the men if they're real men, won't tolerate it. You'll be banging heads every time you open your mouth."

Mar's generously offered some tips for those looking to find that special someone:

– Stop going out in groups: It takes a lot of guts for a guy to approach a woman, much less a group of women. Mar advises if you're specifically going out to meet a guy, then don't go out with more than one girlfriend. If a man does approach you, remember to be nice to him even if you're not interested (unless he is a drunk or a creep of course!), since he mustered up a lot of courage to come talk to you.

– Make your body language very clear: Look around. Find a guy you're interested in. Make eye contact, hold it and SMILE. Melanie calls that "dropping the hanky" and men need a hanky dropped! It's very difficult for men to understand what women are doing so Mar always says to "drop the hanky," hold the look, smile, and be open and inviting because he's taking cues from your body signals.

– Do not sit there, huddled in a deep conversation with your girlfriends: Enough said.

– Do not go up to him: Let him come to you. And if he still doesn't approach you, then you know that you did your part. He's either in a relationship, not interested or gay.

– Keep the ball in his court: If he gives you his business card, turn it over, write your number on the back, and hand it back to him.

– Let him chase you: "That's another mistake today's woman is making," says Mar. "Women are calling, texting, inviting – making it far too easy for men. He doesn't want it to be that easy. He might think he does, but he doesn't. He wants to work for it."

– Flirt five times a day for five minutes: Practice on guys that you're not interested in. Smile at a guy at Starbucks. Catch the eye of a guy in the grocery store. Wherever you go – practice. You may not be into them, but you’re practicing flirting. Some of them will come up and want to talk to you, but that’s more practice (just don’t forget to be polite when exiting the conversation). Eventually, you’ll see a guy who you like and it won’t be difficult because you’ve done it so many times.

– Ask yourself what type of guy you like and go where they would go: If you want a business guy who is worldly then go to an elegant hotel bar like the side bar at Beverly Wilshire. If you want a younger person who is more hip, then go to a trendy restaurant like Boa. If you want a church guy, then go to church. Make sure you’ve answered these questions before you step out the door.

Not wanting to leave anyone out, Mar’s also offered advice for those who are already in a relationship:

– Get a verbal contract: “I’m not a moralist, but when you decide to sleep with a guy, it does make a difference.” Mar says that having a verbal contract is important so that you both are clear about what you’re doing. “I don’t care what that contract is. I don’t care if you have one that says this is a one night stand but you need one. “There’s nothing worse than a woman having sex with a man and presuming that they’re in a monogamous relationship. Just because a woman spends a month or two getting to know a guy doesn’t mean he isn’t dating other people. A verbal contract will let you know where you stand so that you’re both clear on your expectations.

– Negotiate time, sex, money and space: Take “time” for example. You say it’s important to have a certain amount of time to yourself – negotiate with your partner how much time that is. For each of these categories, you should also negotiate “I,” “We,” and “Us.” The “I” is time by yourself, the “We” is what you guys do together, and the “Us” is what you’re doing together with other people. “It’s really important to negotiate these things in order to keep the lines of communication open. If you do this, then the arguments are less and the peaceful atmosphere is more.” Melanie advises couples to negotiate often: every two months during the first year, every three months during the second year and every six months after that.

– It always comes back to communication: “If you can’t communicate, you’re in trouble. If you can logically communicate with each other, then you’re already ahead of the game.”

– Sex is important: You need to negotiate what’s right for each of you and find that middle ground that you’re both happy with. “If it happens more than what you negotiated, and you both were in mutual agreement, then that’s great. If it’s less, then you need to work on it,” says Mar.

– Reconnect with your feminine side: Take a bubble bath, drink a glass of wine, do your nails – just do something feminine.

– Communicate clearly and often: “What I teach is so important because verbal communication only takes up 15 percent of our communication ... so you better make sure what comes out of your mouth makes sense.”

Jennifer Lopez Joins Marc Anthony Poolside

After a birthday celebration Friday night, Marc Anthony spent a quiet Saturday alongside his ex-wife Jennifer Lopez and their twin children Max and Emme in Miami Beach. “It looked like a fun family gathering at the pool,” a source told People. “Everyone looked happy and festive.” Anthony, who turned 43 Friday, celebrated at Club 50 at the Viceroy after his concert in the American Airlines Arena. This was the second time the former couple were spotted together post-split.

How do you know how much to associate with your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Spending time with your ex post-split is always a touchy situation. Cupid has some factors to consider:

1. Schism: It depends on how bad things ended. It takes some time to let negative feelings you have about the situation to subside. Don't spend time with your ex until you're totally recovered.

2. The kids are alright: If there are any children involved in your former relationship, you will have to at least know how to behave with your ex in front of your kids.

3. Sparks: If you and your ex split on mutual neutral terms, then it may take less time to feel OK about reuniting.

Brad Pitt Says He and Angelina Jolie Are Used to Taking Punches

Legendary sex symbol, Brad Pitt, recently opened up to People by pointing out reasons that being him may not always be so glamorous. On longtime partner, Angelina Jolie, being criticized for her performance in The Tourist, the actor said, “Listen, man, if we’re that shallow-skinned, we shouldn’t be in here. We’re used to being in the ring and taking some punches.” Though he thought it was “sweet” that he and Angelina Jolie were mentioned in the lyrics of the song “Billionaire,” Pitt wasn’t thrilled that they used his name to rhyme with st.

What are some ways to overcome obstacles as a couple?

Cupid’s Advice:

Throughout your journey as a couple, it’s impossible not to encounter obstacles. Here are some ways to deal:

- 1. Stay strong: Not matter what issue(s) you are dealing with as a couple, it is important that you face them head on. Don’t hide in a corner.

2. Keep a united front: However you choose to deal with the problem, both of you must deal with it in the same way. You can't have one person doing one thing and the other doing another.

3. Take a step back: Problems such as gossip are best ignored. Keep things as rational as possible. Sometimes it's easy to let your emotions get out of hand.

Alicia Keys Throws Husband Swizz Beatz Roller Skating Birthday Bash

Even

superstars enjoy a shock. Alicia Keys threw her husband Swizz Beatz a surprise party for his 33rd birthday, reports UsMagazine.com. Many friends, including Carmelo Anthony and Lala Vasquez, joined the couple for the celebration at NYC's High Line outdoor roller skating rink. Keys tweeted earlier in the week, "Happy birthday to the most INCREDIBLE man I know! [Here's] to a life of endless shining between us!"

What are some ways to make your partner's birthday extra special?

Cupid's Advice:

Though Valentine's Day and anniversary celebrations are special, they're focused on your relationship and not specifically on your partner. Here are a few ways to make your partner's birthday memorable:

1. Consider your partner's likes: Plan a celebration that your partner will enjoy. If your partner is laid-back and outdoorsy, disregard any notions of an elegant, classy party.

Your partner will appreciate the thought that you put into the event.

2. Invite old friends: If you host a party for your partner, invite friends that they haven't seen in a while. Buddies from college or childhood pals can really make the day one to remember.

3. End the day together: After the birthday festivities end, don't immediately start cleaning up. Instead, take your partner out for a relaxing dinner. After talking and laughing with so many people, your mate will enjoy the casual time with only the two of you.

'DWTS' Pro Mark Ballas and 'Idol' Alum Pia Toscano Split

The party is over for Mark Ballas and Pia Toscano. After a long heartfelt talk, the singer and the ballroom dancer have decided to call it quits. According to People, the split was a mutual decision. “They both decided with everything going on that they couldn’t give each other what would be fair,” said a source close to the former couple. Though the relationship is over, Ballas and Toscano are both experiencing great career success. Ballas is rehearsing for the next season of Dancing with the Stars and Toscano is finishing up a successful American Idol tour.

How do you keep career demands from ruining your relationship?

Cupid’s Pulse:

With the right person and the right attitude, you can be successful in both love and your career. Here’s how:

1. Be understanding: Everyone wants to get ahead at work. If your partner cancels a date with you because they have to stay late at the office, don’t give them a hard time about it. You will want them to do the same when you get caught up at work.

2. Be willing to say no: If you've been planning something big like an anniversary trip with your partner and something comes up at work on that date, you may need to put your foot down and kindly say that they need to pick a different date or get someone else. If you pull this off in the right way, it can also make you look more assertive and more of a leader at work, which can help your career.

3. Show your support: If you know your partner spent a long night at work, take the initiative to get things done around the house so they can finally relax when they get home.

He Said/She Said: Natalie Getz and David Good Discuss Bachelor Pad 2's Season Finale

This dramatic season of Bachelor Pad 2 has finally come to an end. In this week's episode, the contenders performed with Cirque de Soleil's Ka, Blake proposed to Holly, the winners were declared and the next Bachelor was announced. We had a chance to chat with our Bachelor Pad 2 experts, David Good and Natalie Getz, to see what their thoughts were about the season finale.

Kasey and Vienna did quite well in the final challenge, but ultimately didn't get a chance to compete for the final prize. What are your closing thoughts on how they chose to play the game? Do you think they will remain together long-term?

He said: I think they played the game great! People can dislike them as a couple but they still controlled the whole show till the end. As far as a couple, I wish them the best but I don't see it working out from what we got to see of them on TV.

She said: They did a great job and really played off of each other's chemistry very well. I was super impressed! It was very close, so I think the judges could have gone either way. I was with them in San Diego for Jesse Kovac's wine bar/clothing boutique opening over the weekend, and they still seem very much in love. They certainly have their fair share of fights just like a lot of other couples, but they love each other. Now that they live together, I really can't see these two separating.

If you had been Michael and Holly, would you have made the same choice they did when they decided to let Graham and Michelle head to the finals with them?

He said: Yes, I would have. It's about friendship and integrity that goes beyond the show.

She said: No, I would have actually chosen Kasey and Vienna. Graham and Michelle had less drama with the cast, so they would have been a tougher competition. Strategically, they would have received more votes. Turns out, they got all the votes anyway. Then again, had I been a part of season two and saw Michael hurting over the recent news of Holly's engagement to Blake, I would have voted Michael to win as well. At least he didn't walk away empty handed.

Michael didn't know about Holly and Blake's engagement before the finale. How do you think he handled the news on-camera? And were you surprised when he ultimately decided to "share" the money with Holly?

He said: I think he handled it with class. That goes to show what a good person he is and I would expect nothing less from him. I knew he would share the money with her. That's the kind of person he is. He deserves better than her anyway.

She said: I think he was in a state of shock that it actually happened and Holly didn't call to warn him. I was surprised she allowed them to film it to be honest with you. She could have said no and spared Michael's feelings. I wasn't surprised at all by Michael sharing the money. I know him well and he has the biggest heart and is sincerely kind and generous in everything he does. He is humble and logical. He once loved Holly and out of maturity, he still wouldn't want to screw her over. He is almost too good of a person to his own fault.

Are you surprised Blake and Holly are engaged and moving in together so quickly? And what did you think about their on-camera engagement; do you think we will see a Bachelor Pad wedding in the near future? Any other couples from this season that you think may have a wedding in their future?

He said: I am surprised because I know Holly and expected more out of her. She is in love with the thought of falling in love and that is her weakness. I promise you she is very unsure about all this and it's moving way too fast. I don't see a wedding in their future but even after everything they did, I still think they deserve to be happy if that's what they want.

She said: I don't think we will see any other couple engaged anytime soon unless producers push for it. I was so shocked about the engagement. I didn't really know what to think when Holly showed me her ring at the wrap party. Of course I was happy for her; she is my friend. That being said, I voiced my concern to her that I was worried about her moving across the country for a 2 month long distant relationship. But like they say...when you know, you know. I'm happy she is happy.

Michael and Holly are the winners of Bachelor Pad 2 – do you agree Michael was the strongest competitor this season? And what exactly do you think Holly brought to the partnership?

He said: Holly was a good support system for Mike believe it or not. He got sympathy points from everyone because of her. I think he played as good or the best of anyone there.

She said: Michael hands down won that game and deserved it. He was by far the strongest competitor with his genuine personality and athletic/coordination skills.

If you'll miss all the rose action, be sure to catch the premiere of The Bachelor in January, Ben Flajnik has been officially announced as the next Bachelor. Until next time!

How does getting your partner’s advice help your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

One of the benefits of being in a relationship is that you don’t have to make decisions all on your own. That’s not to say you can’t be independent while dating or in marriage, but it’s nice to have someone weigh in sometimes. Here’s how it can help:

1. Important decisions: It can sometimes be intimidating to make choices that heavily affect your life. By posing the question to your partner as well, he or she can point out some sides of the situation you had never thought of before.

2. Mutual choices: If you’re trying to decide where to go for dinner, getting your mate’s opinion is imperative so that you both enjoy your meal. Just because you’re in the mood for Chinese food doesn’t mean your partner feels the same way.

3. Respect: By asking for your significant other’s advice, you’re showing him or her that you respect their opinions and thoughts. Respect can go a long way in strengthening a relationship.

Cupid's Advice:

- 1. Happiness: Were you happy with your ex? If so, try being happy for him or her to return the favor.
- 2. Think about yourself: Being happy for someone else first means being satisfied with your own accomplishments.
- 3. No need to go congratulating your ex: As long as you know that you've moved on, that may be all that matters. At the bare minimum, don't ruin your ex's special time by being negative toward him. As the old adage goes, "If you can't say anything nice, don't say anything at all."

Is a small intimate wedding for you?

Cupid's Advice

Small-scale weddings are a unique spin on the traditional large wedding route that many couples take. If you're still unsure which size is best for you, here are a few incentives to having an intimate wedding:

1. Intimate feel: Small celebrations provide a romantic and relaxed atmosphere for the bride, groom and their guests.

2. Smaller budget: With less of the obvious glamour of an over-the-top wedding, petite weddings give your pockets a little more breathing room.

3. Lavish honeymoon: With the money you saved by having a more intimate ceremony, you can take a longer or more upscale honeymoon with your spouse.

How do you know when to take your romance public?

Cupid’s Advice:

When things are new in a relationship, it can be a hard decision to take it into the public eye for fear of ruining something. Cupid has some tell-tale signs it’s time to head out:

1. You’re comfortable: First make sure that this is a relationship you definitely want to be in. You need to be comfortable before you declare your love to the world; otherwise, the relationship won't stand a chance.

2. Be aware: Make sure there aren't external factors that will hurt your relationship. For example, a jealous ex or an overbearing parent can put a halt to any relationship.

3. Be understanding: There are inevitably people out there who will not be happy for you and your new relationship. Don't let this cause a rift between you and your partner. Don't buy in to rumors that are spread. Trust your gut.

What are the benefits of a short engagement?

Cupid's Advice:

Some people choose to have short engagements (like Tara Reid), while others choose to ride it out for years (like Brooke Burke). Let's take a look at the benefits to the Tara Reid school of thought:

1. Less time to worry: The lead-up to a wedding can cause a lot of stress. With a short-term engagement, it may still be a lot of stress packed into a small amount of time ... but before you know it, it's over.

2. You get what you want more quickly: The reason you get engaged is most likely because you're ready to spend your life with the person you said "yes" to or to whom you proposed. By not prolonging the engagement, it's more of an instant gratification.

3. No second guessing wedding plans: Sometimes having more time to plan your nuptials is not exactly a blessing. As the clock keeps ticking, you have more time to change your mind about things that were already set in stone months ago. It can cause a lot of work and chaos.
