How do you know when to go public with a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

So you've been dating someone for a while and now you're wondering if it's the right time to take your relationship public. Cupid offers some suggestions on when to break the news:

1. The One: If you think you're meant to be soul mates and the relationship is strong and serious, it's time for you to take your union public.

2. Motives: Think about why you want the relationship to go public. If it's because your loved ones are pressuring you to find someone, then it's not a good idea to introduce your partner solely for that reason. However, if you love your special someone and want those close to you to see why, then go for it.

3. Emotions: If you're still unsure of going public with your partner, this might be a sign that you aren't ready yet. Take your time and introduce him or her once you're comfortable.

How quickly should you get serious about a new partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Especially after recovering from a broken relationship, diving into another serious relationship can be tricky. Here are a few ways to tell if you are ready for a serious commitment:

1. You are excited: Trust your gut. If you're genuinely excited about your new partner and feel that the two of you will be able to maintain a serious relationship, then go for it. Your enthusiasm will help the relationship succeed.

2. Past relationships are behind you: If there are any leftover feelings or drama from any previous relationships, you may not be ready to jump into another serious relationship. You need to be burden-free in order to give your new relationship a fair shot.

3. Your partner's feelings: Even if you are more than ready for more commitment, your partner may not be. Make sure that you're both on the same page before you try to take the relationship further.

What are the advantages of eloping?

Cupid's Advice:

A wedding can be the best day of you and your soon-to-be spouse's lives, but it can also be one of the most stressful. Cupid has some reasons eloping could turn out to be your best bet:

- 1. Money: As a brand new couple, the two of you may not have a lot of cash to spend on an elaborate ceremony. Eloping gives you the flexibility to have a small gathering on your own budget.
 - 2. Privacy: Sometimes when creating the guest list, you may feel as if you need to invite your Uncle Harry's third cousin once removed. Sneaking away with your hubby gives you the opportunity to tell whomever you choose, without the added guilt.
 - 3. Time: Many couples who have been dating a while, and even some who haven't, don't want long engagements. Eloping allows you to have your wedding on your own time, whenever you and your partner choose.

What are ways to tell that your ex is jealous of your new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Even when all seems to be said and done in an ended relationship, it's possible for leftover feelings to resurface. Here are a few ways to find out if your ex is jealous:

1. He wants to see you: Even if the two of you agreed to be friends after your relationship ended, there's still a line between being friendly and clingy. If your ex contacts you more often now that you're in a new relationship, it may mean that he's jealous.

2. Ask mutual friends: If you share mutual friends, ask your friends if your ex has been mentioning you more than usual lately, or if your ex seems to be moody. A bad attitude and a need to bring you into the conversation is a sure way to tell if your ex is jealous.

3. His dating tendencies: If it seems that your ex is taking a long time to move on from your relationship, it may mean that he still has feelings for you. While your ex just may not be the type to rush into a new relationship, his repeated avoidance of the dating scene may be cause for concern.

3. Make your case: What's most important is that you clearly explain that how you look now is very important to you, and it makes you feel happy. Your partner will come around.

What do you do if your partner doesn't get along with your family?

Cupid's Advice:

There is no one more influential in your choice of mate other than the members of your family. It may work in movies, but if your boo and your family butt heads, something needs to be done:

1. Talk it out: Discuss things separately first and then together if need be. Why does your partner not get along with your family and vice versa? As soon as you figure out where the conflict begins, you can start to mend the situation.

2. Figure out the reason: Is there a good reason for conflict between your partner and your family? Perhaps your family is concerned about your well-being when you're with your partner. Consider these objections for what they're worth and if they hold any value.

3. Blood is thicker: than water. Just like when your parents would weed out the good-for-nothing friends you brought home from school, your family is still (and always will be) your family. If this boyfriend is just a passing phase, consider moving on.

 - 3. Take a trip: As hard as it may be to take time off from work, whether its two days or five, make sure that at least once a year you are able to get away together as a couple.

Can a relationship in the public eye last?

Cupid's Advice:

While celebrities aren't known for having long-lasting relationships, there are some exceptions. Cupid has some ideas on whether a public relationship can work:

1. Use it to your advantage: In rare cases, being in the public eye can actually improve a relationship. If you can make it work for you like the Kardashians do, then celebrity can make your bond stronger.

2. Just the two of us: Sharing your personal life with the rest of the world can make a relationship seem a bit crowded. If you just focus on the two of you and tune out all the naysayers, your union can thrive in the spotlight.

3. Avoid it: In general, being in the public eye puts stress on a relationship and exaggerates problems. Unless your job requires it, try to avoid public life if you want your love to last.

Cupid Exclusive: Jaimie Hilfiger on Old Hollywood Romance

By Vicky Sullivan

of Aspiring Socialite

Supermodel Jaimie Hilfiger, niece of famed fashion designer Tommy Hilfiger, has been seen around town wearing the latest in fashion – which includes old Hollywood styles. During L.A. Fashion Week, she wore a light pink cocktail dress complete with old world-inspired lace and Edwardian beadwork designed by Sue Wong to the designer's My Fair Lady Champagne Brunch/Fashion Show at The Cedars, the former historic Hollywood home of silent-screen icon Norma Talmadge, which was purchased by Wong in 2004. Hilfiger's most recent project is being the face of boyfriend Igal Dehan's jewelry line, Cuffs of Love, worn by celebrities like Kim Kardashian, the Hilton sisters, and Stevie Wonder.

Hilfiger took time to speak exclusively with Cupid's Pulse about love, dating and celebrity style. For hopeless romantics intent on experiencing the romance and chivalry of old Hollywood, this young model reveals how to glam up your love life simply by bringing back nostalgic designs and genuine class:

What do you like best about old Hollywood styles?

Old Hollywood has inspired so many recent styles, with high-collared fitted outfits and of course, hats. Kate Middleton has taken a lot of her style from old Hollywood and My Fair Lady inspirations. There is just so much one-of-a-kind craftsmanship that goes into these fashions.

How do you incorporate the romance of old Hollywood into your everyday life?

My boyfriend, Igal Dehen, is from Paris so it's always a romance movie in my house. At the height of old Hollywood, men had a lot of manners and courted women with the utmost respect.

Do you feel that wearing these soft, glamorous styles evoke old-school romance?

Yes, you're absolutely treated differently. When you present yourself with class, you're treated with class. People also tend to take you more seriously in classically beautiful styles.

How has being from a famous family affected your dating life?

You have to find someone who doesn't care either way and is there for you. They must be successful in their own right and aren't looking for a free ride.

Besides a man, what is your favorite accessory?

Diamonds are a girl's best friend.

What tips can you give our readers on how to get ready for a date?

The day of the date you should wake up early and go to the gym. Make time to talk to your girlfriends that day. Wear something hot, but not slutty. It is very important that you're comfortable in what you wear, or you won't be comfortable on the date. Don't be exactly on time, because chances are he won't be. But don't be any more than 10 minutes late, because otherwise you look like a diva.

How do you dress for a casual vs. formal date?

No matter if the date is casual or formal, you should always be comfortable in what you're wearing. Always ask what you're doing first so you know what to wear. Even if you're wearing heels to a fancy dinner, you should bring along a pair of flats in your purse in the event that you take a walk on the beach after dinner.

What other dating tips and advice can you give us?

Don't text or be on your phone while on a date. Be polite and ladylike. Always say "please" and "thank you." Remember that 90 to 95 percent of the time he's more nervous than you are.

Cupid thanks Jaimie Hilfiger for her time! For more on Hilfiger, visit her website at www.JaimieHilfiger.com, Facebook page and follow her on Twitter: @JamieHilfiger.

 - 2. Back before bedtime: Try to have your kids in early. But just because they went to sleep, doesn't mean your night is over. Rent a movie to watch after the kids are sleeping so you can have some romantic alone time.

- 1. Too much drama: If you are in a relationship where the tears of make-ups and break-ups never seems to end, get out for your own sanity.
- 2. Boredom: Along with being over-dramatic, a relationship that is dead in the water can also be underwhelming. If your partner no longer excites or interests you it may be time to say, "Let's just be friends."
- 3. You don't trust your partner: If you're back with an ex and find that you can no longer trust them due to your painful past, don't walk ... run out of this relationship.

Does age matter when it comes to marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Cupid tends to think that age in itself doesn't matter, but there are some things to consider before entering into a relationship with someone significantly older or younger than yourself:

1. Different generations: If you and your partner were born in different generations, you grew up with different commonly held beliefs. Make sure you're on the same wavelength morally before you get too serious.

2. Think longterm: Think about whether you want to have kids and what your age difference means in that situation. Will your spouse have enough energy to put into raising a child?

3. Energy levels: Someone younger might have a lot more energy for activities and outings than someone older. If your partner is much older than you, are you willing to deal with those limitations?

- 1. Confront your spouse: Ask your spouse what made him or her file for divorce. Make sure you know and understand your partner's reasoning. Talk until you do.
- 2. Try to work out issues: If a sudden call for a divorce has caught you off-guard, chances are that there are issues you and your spouse have not addressed. Take some time to talk about the problems at hand and see if there's any way to repair the marriage.
- 3. Contact a lawyer: If your issues cannot be resolved, your divorce will most likely need to be settled in court. Take some time to find a good lawyer, as good lawyers can make the divorce proceedings much less painful.

2. Figure it out: What was the reason that you cheated? Were you unhappy? Did you do it just because you could? Knowing the motive behind your actions is the first step to correcting any future decisions.

Cupid's Advice:

Cupid knows that no matter how calm and collected any woman like Reese Witherspoon is, her wedding day is one occasion where the pressure is on. Here are some tips to keep you from being (and looking) frazzled the week before your nuptials:

1. Make a list: This is no time to rely on your elephant memory. Write down everything that needs to be done and have your maid of honor, mother or wedding planner look it over. You'll feel extra satisfied each time you cross something off that list.

2. Delegate your tasks: You have a bridal party for a reason!

By including everyone in the planning process, you'll get the work done faster – and keep your head from spinning.

3. Just breathe: When wedding frustrations get in your way, think of all the happy moments you've had with your betrothed. The party only lasts a night, but a marriage is forever. By reminding yourself of the love you and your partner share, you're bound to make sure everyone will see that love when you both say "I do."

How do you stay quiet about a relationship without lying?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes you just need some privacy in a relationship, but it's hard to keep it a secret without hurting people's feelings or lying. Cupid has some ideas on what to do in this kind of situation:

- 1. Change the subject: When someone asks about your relationship, casually change the subject. They should get the hint and stop asking about your significant other.
 - 2. Avoid nosy people: You know that friend that can't keep a secret? You might want to avoid telling them about you and your mate if you want to keep it quiet. And not telling them is not the same as lying.
 - 3. No PDA... for now: If you don't want to get into a situation where people ask you about who you're dating and you have to lie, avoid it all together by keeping PDA to a minimum. Once you're ready to tell the world about your significant other, you can get back to being affectionate in public.

How do you know if he's committed?

Cupid's Advice:

The line between a committed relationship and a purely fun relationship is very thin. Here are a few ways to tell if your beau is truly committed:

1. Revisit your conversations: A partner who is only looking for fun will not want to bring up serious topics in conversation. If the conversations you have with your partner are always light-hearted and playful, it may be time to try discussing deeper issues.

2. Observe his helpfulness: If your beau is comforting and supportive after a rough day, then it's likely that he is committed. A partner merely looking for fun would not stick around to help on the "bad" days.

3. Ask him: As your partner, he should be able to answer questions about your relationship. If you have doubts, ask about his commitment. You will probably get an honest and enlightening answer.

What are the benefits of meeting your partner online?

Cupid's Advice:

Of course meeting someone face-to-face has its own perks, but there are certain benefits to meeting your partner online as well. Cupid has a few:

1. Looks aren't as much of a factor: Sometimes people let physical attraction get in the way of getting to know someone personally. Although you may see a photo here and there, by meeting online you get to know the person before judging his or her appearance.

2. It's easier to be honest: When you're having a conversation with someone in person, it can be difficult to say what you really mean. If your potential partner asks a difficult question, your first inclination may be to lie. When you're typing out your answers, it's simply easier to be 100% truthful.

3. You can go slow: In person, it can be easy to get caught up in the moment. If you meet online, you can take things as slowly as you need to without feeling as pressured to move forward.

Should you be concerned about your partner's ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Your partner is with you for a reason. Always remember, you were chosen over everyone else:

1. Underlying issues: If you're self-conscious about your love life for some reason or you began to date your partner while he was still connected to an ex, this can cause issues. Sometimes you should just ignore the past and focus on the present.

2. Over the line: Does your partner's ex continuously step over the line? If the ex in question continues to make themselves known in an unwanted situation, speak up and tell him or her how you feel.

3. You're naive: If your partner's ex is still around because your partner is keeping them around, perhaps you should look into this. Is your partner being 100% honest with you about letting his ex down slowly and carefully? A breakup takes one conversation, not three weeks.

In honor of their on-again romance, Cameron Diaz and Alex Rodriguez took A-Rod's two children to Busch Gardens amusement park in Tampa, Florida. According to UsMagazine.com, the actress looked incredibly motherly holding hands with the baseball star's two daughters Natasha, 6, and Ella, 2, from his previous marriage to Cynthia Rodriguez. It looks like this couple may have hit a home run in the kid department after they rekindled their romance in November. Cameron Diaz was also seen bonding with the girls late last year on a family trip to Mexico.

How can you bond with your new partner's kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Bonding with a new partner's children can be one of the most magical and most difficult parts of a new romance. Here are some tips:

- 1. Show respect: Though you may be very excited about getting to know your new partner's children, it's always important to respect their boundaries and their previous relationships with both of their parents. The last thing you want to do is trash your partner's ex in front of the children or get in the way when your partner wants to spend quality time alone with his or her children.
- 2. Come bearing gifts: It's never a good idea to try to buy someone's love. However, kids love getting gifts. It makes them feel important that you thought of them. Also, getting them a little something you knew they have been wanting or would like shows that you are making an effort to get to know them.
- 3. Go on a date with the kids: Cameron Diaz and A-Rod had the right idea when they took the kids to an amusement park. Dating someone with children is a completely different playing field, so expect a mix of sophisticated dinners and dates with the kids at Chuck E Cheese.
