Celebrity News: Kylie

Paternity Rumors

By Rhodesia Williams

In celebrity news, Kylie Jenner's bodyguard, Tim Chung, is being accused of being celebrity baby, Stormi Webster's father. According to EOnline.com, the internet has gone wild with the idea that Jenner's newborn baby Stormi looks like Chung. They even went so far as to post side-by-side photos of the two on social media. With the internet not letting up on the rumor, Chung felt forced to make a statement to clear his name and defend this celebrity couple. Chung said, "There is no story here and I ask that the media no longer include me in any narrative that is incredibly disrespectful to the family."

In celebrity news, sometimes a rumor is just a rumor. What are some ways to slow down the rumor mill when it comes to your # relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Since social media is a primary mode of communication these days, it's easier than ever for rumors to circulate quickly. Cupid has some advice on how to slow down the rumor mill:

1. Communicate: If a rumor comes up, talk to the person who originated it directly. The worst thing you can do is start going back and forth on social media. The easiest and safest way is to ask questions first because once others get involved, you may do some permanent damage. The fighting on social media will surely keep that rumor mill going.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby News: Kylie Jenner Reveals the Name of Her Daughter, and Twitter Reacts

2. Put out a statement: This way of handling rumors may be celebrity couple-esque, but in all seriousness, depending on the rumor, you may want to address friends and family in a unified message. Consider making a cute, short and to the point post acknowledging the rumor, but informing everybody that it isn't true. If you don't face it head on, it could potentially spiral out of control.

Related Link: Hailey Baldwin Applauds Kylie Jenner for Handling Celebrity Pregnancy In a 'Mature Way'

3. Limit social media: This is the most obvious solution, but perhaps the most difficult. Many people want to show off gift and vacation pics, as it's a way of expressing their happiness. That being said, not everyone feels that way. If you limit what you post, you aren't leaving much room for people to talk about you.

family. What are some factors to consider before adding another child to your family?

Cupid's Advice:

We all know that having a baby is a huge responsibility – imagine more than one! Therefore, there are many factors to consider. Here are a few:

1. Are you financially stable enough?: Having a baby costs tens of thousands of dollars because there is so much they need. You probably considered all this with your other child or children, but by adding another member to your family, you are obviously increasing your expenses. Make a financial assessment of your income, expenses, assets, etc. Be sure to be as precise as possible and not over or underestimate.

2. Do you have enough time?: The more children you have, the more time you need. They all require time, and sometimes some children will need more time from you than others. Are you and your partner able to afford giving so much time to your kids? If so, great, let the baby making begin. If not, reconsider, maybe it's best to hold off for a bit.

Cupid's Advice:

Every person is different and so is every situation, so think hard about whether someone is right for you or not. Cupid has some relationship advice on things to consider before deciding whether you're better off without someone or not:

1. Have they done unforgivable things?: Forgiving them means accepting the situation and their apology, and moving on from it. There is no point in saying you will forgive your partner, if the problem will just keep popping up in the future. So, analyze and evaluate whether what they did is something you can move on from.

In celebrity couple news, Khloe Kardashian and Tristan Thompson have been front and center. What are some ways to know whether you should forgive your partner or not?

Cupid's Advice:

Every person is different and so is every situation. You can take the advice of others, but at the end of the day the choice is yours. Cupid has some relationship advice on things to consider before deciding whether to forgive your significant other or not:

1. Can you truly forgive them?: Forgiving them means accepting the situation and their apology, and moving on from it. It means that all the fighting about the problem happens before the forgiveness. There is no point in saying you will forgive your partner, if the problem will keep popping up in the future. So, analyze and evaluate whether you can actually forgive them or not.

2. Have you given yourself enough time?: Depending on the situation, you may need a little time or a lot of time to think things over. Don't make any impulsive decisions. Don't rush, take the time you need. You need time to decide whether what your partner did is something you can forgive, and if so, how will you move on from it then.

3. Are they worth it?: This question may seem harsh, but it's one you have to ask yourself and be honest about. Do you see a future with this person? Are you forgiving or not forgiving them for the right reason/s? Think about it.

Cupid's Advice:

Every couple needs space, some more than others. It really all depends on who the people are. Missing someone can actually be a good thing though. Cupid has some benefits to missing your other half:

1. Distance does make the heart grow fonder: When you miss someone, you get that warm feeling inside that makes you think about how much you love them. This can stir up some cute and/or sexy texts, phone calls, or video chats. Embrace the distance instead of completely hating it. And when you see each other again, it's on, let the in-person loving resume.

2. You'll have more to talk about: Don't get us wrong, when the right people are together, they never run out of things to discuss. However, when you're away from the other person, you obviously have more to tell. This is a good opportunity to also work on your story-telling skills!
