

Celebrity News: 'Vanderpump Rules' Star Lala Kent's Married Boyfriend Is Identified

by Karley Kemble

From an abrupt reality show exit, to a mystery boyfriend, Lala Kent is causing quite the commotion these days. The reality star was mum about her boyfriend on the most recent season of Vanderpump Rules, but the latest celebrity news surrounding Kent has brought a name to the surface. EOnline reveals that Kent has indeed been dating television producer Randall Emmett for the last year and a half. Rumors surrounding the celebrity couple have been floating around for a few months, and the pair was seen kissing at a FabFitFun event in Beverly Hills earlier this month. The couple's relationship has been a subject of criticism since Emmett is still legally married to his wife, though he has been in the process of receiving a divorce.

This celebrity news may not be appreciated by the married boyfriend in question. What are some ways to make sure your love interest is truly unattached?

Cupid's Advice:

It's not fun to deal with others' emotional baggage. Though your partner may claim to be unattached to their ex, there's always a possibility they still could be. Cupid has some signs to look out for:

1. They've purged their social media: This may seem like a small detail, but it speaks volumes. One hand they're just pictures, but it could also indicate that they have some unresolved feelings about their ex. Photos are nostalgic – so your partner might just be nostalgic about their past love.

2. They talk about them nonstop: People want to talk about topics they're interested in, people they like, or things that are on their mind. If your partner brings up an ex a little more than what seems normal, it's likely that they are still emotionally attached. Don't overlook it or take it lightly

3. Your relationship feels forced: Your relationship should never feel forced or like a chore. You should always feel a natural connection and feel inclined to confide in your significant other. When you feel like your partner is forcing their feelings toward you, it is probably a sign to take a closer look at what's really going on.

We're all victims of gossip, so it's not unfamiliar when the negative words are directed towards your relationship. Despite the former acquaintance with rumors, they can still hurt your relationship. Read Cupid's relationship advice to help you and your love survive:

1. Sometimes, it comes from deep love: Understanding that gossip can come from a deep place of love doesn't negate the effects of the rumors, but it can help you and your partner avoid too much heartache. 2. Communicate openly: Be sure to talk openly and honestly with your partner. What they say is far more important than what anyone else says. Sure, some rumors are very hard to ignore and may test the trust you and your partner have built, but without believing in your love, there's no way the two of you can make it through gossip. Remain open and honest and you two can make it through anything.

3. Cut out the negativity: Ultimately, if people cannot stop gossiping about you and your partner, cut them out. If you've approached the origin of the negative words and asked them to stop and they won't, keep your distance. 1. Divide and conquer: You and your partner inherently have strengths and weaknesses. Celebrity News: Taylor Swift's Ex Turned Her Into 'Quasimodo,' According to BFF Todrick Hall

y Karley Kemble

Taylor Swift is infamous for being dramatic about her exes. If 2017 has shown us anything, it's that Swift is tired of being defined by the media. From winning a defining court case as a victim of sexual assault, to releasing her sixth album, Swift's past reputation is slowly, but surely being forgotten. In the latest celebrity news, one of Swift's closest friend Todrick Hall has revealed some vulnerable details about her most recent celebrity ex, reports EOnline.com. According to Hall, Swift would "hunch over" at the mere mention of her ex's name – so he edited a photo of her to look like Quasimodo and told her, "You cannot turn into Quasimodo for this guy. Every time you say his name, you hunch over." Though her most recent relationship ended with a break-up, Hall said that his bestie is happier than ever with her current beau, Joe Alwyn.

In celebrity news, even Taylor Swift fell victim to an unhealthy relationship. What are some ways to know you're in an unhealthy relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Unhealthy relationships are emotionally draining, and it's best to end them before things worsen. If you think you might be in an unhealthy relationship, read these tips from Cupid:

1. They're too attached: Sure, it's normal to be a little clingy to your partner, but there is a line that must be drawn. Make sure you are aware of the differences between healthy attachment and emotional manipulation. Phrases like "I'll die if you ever break up with me" should never be taken lightly. Emotional manipulation is never, ever okay.

2. They constantly blame you: If your partner finds a way to spin every argument or disagreement you have and makes you feel like the bad guy, that is a telling sign of an unhealthy relationship. You are entitled to your feelings and opinions, and your partner should never invalidate you for being too sensitive or for overreacting. Beware of this if it arises.

3. You're changing for the wrong reasons: You and your partner should bring out the best in each other. Any changes you make in your life should always be because you want to – not because you think it's what your partner would want for you. It's cliché, but staying true to your core values is important, and you should never lose sight of that!

Cupid's Advice:

When you begin a relationship, there's always an element of uncertainty. Sometimes, you just know when somebody's going to be around for longer than a few dates. Here's what Cupid has to say:

1. They're eager to be with you: Everyone's busy to some extent. However, it is important to recognize the difference between not having time and making time. If your partner seems super eager to spend a lot of time with you, and never (or very, very seldom) postpones plans, that is very telling! Cupid's Advice:

Once trust is lost, it's hard to get it back. But it's possible. Cupid has some love advice:

1. It takes two of you to rebuild trust: Both the person who is forgiving the other and the one that is working to mend the trust they broke have to work on it. You both have to meet each other half way to rebuild what was lost. And remember, Rome was not built in a day.

2. Be honest with one another from here on out: Honesty is always key to making a relationship work. A way of proving yourself to one another is to not lie. If one partner or both partners continue to lie to one another, it will not work, and the path to rebuilding the trust will get much more difficult. Be truthful and be open. Communication is key.

3. Can you forgive? Can you prove yourself?: Lots of thinking and evaluating needs to happen! Before trying to rebuild the trust in a relationship, you both need to ask yourselves something: Can I forgive him or her? Can I prove my loyalty again after violating his/her trust? If the answers to these questions are yes, then let the mending begin. If not, it's time to let go.

Celebrity News: Robert Pattinson Spotted Holding Hands with a Mystery Blonde Post FKA Twigs Split

y Rachel Sparks

Twilight star Robert Pattinson has been seen holding hands with another woman just a few months after the split with celebrity ex FKA Twigs. According to UsMagazine.com the couple attended Seth MacFarlane's annual holiday party together. The identity of the mystery blonde remains unknown. Pattinson admitted that his engagement with FKA Twigs was not totally amicable towards the end as believed. Privacy and scheduling conflicts created tension for the celebrity couple towards the end.

This celebrity news seems to mean that Robert Pattinson is moving on. How do you know when it's time to give up hope of returning to your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Returning to an ex is great. They know exactly what you like, how to treat you, what your interests are, and, more than likely, the two of you are great friends. Getting back with an ex can be like returning home. If the two of you agreed to take a break and ended on friendly terms, it's normal to wait to jump back into dating because you want to wait for your ex. Sometimes, though, it's more important for you to move on. Read Cupid's love advice to help navigate those tough relationship waters:

1. You're ready for a relationship: This is the ultimate way to know when to move on, whatever the circumstance. If you're feeling great about life, what you have, who you are, and you're ready to share that with someone, don't wait for your ex. Love never follows a predictable path. You may be sad to be moving on when there seemed to be promises of returning to your ex, but you deserve your own happiness.

2. The problems haven't resolved themselves: Couples take a break for a reason. If those reasons haven't been resolved, returning to an ex will only start a cycle. Whether it's scheduling or distance or something else together, don't go back until you feel you can give the relationship a fair shot. If the problems won't ever go away, it's definitely time to start fishing for something new.

3. You're ok seeing your ex with someone else: The penultimate way to know you're past your ex: seeing (or imagining) them with someone else doesn't get you fired up. It's not fair to a new relationship if you're still harboring feelings for your ex. If you're truly past them, there's no reason to hold onto the hope of a reunion if that's not where you see love.

Cupid's Advice:

Regardless if you have been with your partner for a matter of months or many years, it's important to keep the spark alive! If you're looking for different ideas to reignite the romance, Cupid has some tips for you:

2. Embrace spontaneity: We are creatures of habit, and it's easy to feel attached to routine. Your relationship should never feel like a chore! Congratulations to Johnson and Hashian!

There’s another celebrity baby on the way! What are some ways to prepare for your second child differently from the first?

Cupid’s Advice:

A second baby is very exciting! While you certainly are more of a parenting pro the second time around, there are still some considerations to keep in mind. Check what Cupid has to say:

1. Talk to the future big sis/bro: Your first child is used to garnering all the attention from you and your partner, so another kiddo will be an adjustment for them. Make sure you take the time to talk to the first-born so they know what to expect. Make it clear that you still love them just as much, and that nothing will change your relationship.

2. Utilize your hand-me-downs: You’ve probably got a lot of old clothes and necessities lying around the house somewhere, so use them! This helps keep your finances in check and is also makes it feel as though you're getting your money's worth. The toy that your first-born child played with one time will feel brand new for your second kid!

3. Take inventory of what you have and need: Sure, you have most of the necessities already, but before baby #2 arrives, get together with your partner and assess your current staples. Get rid of/donate anything you don't use or anything that is worn out. Then, make a master list of things you need and things that need to be replaced! Out with the old, in with the new.

This recently reunited celebrity couple are finding love once again. What are some benefits to rekindled love?

Cupid’s Advice:

At some point we all have wanted to get back together with an ex. It’s normal. They know you and what you like and they’re familiar and safe. While getting back together with an ex doesn’t work for everyone, there are times that it can be the exact romance that you want in life. It all depends on your past with your ex. Was the breakup irreconcilable? You alone know what's best. Cupid has the relationship advice to help you decide:

1. You know each other: The best relationships are the ones where your partner knows you inside and out. They know your buttons and your insecurities, but they love you anyway. They know what makes you happy, how your brain works, your dreams, and how to support you. If your ex was great at all of these things, going back to that relationship can actually be a good thing.

2. You're friends: Romantic relationships work best when there's a solid foundation as friends. Sure, friends becoming romantic partners doesn't always work out, but romantic partners need to be friends through it all. If your friendship never ended with your ex, consider going back. No matter what dating advice says about dating an ex again, you will know if you're ready for that kind of thing and if it will be good for you both.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Surprise! The Weeknd & Bella Hadid Are Hanging Out Again

3. A chance at redemption: We've all messed up at relationships. We've all been too young, too immature, too inexperienced and regretted the outcome. When you go back to an ex, you're still the same people, but a little older and wiser. Sometimes that's all you need to make something a success. When you go back to an ex, make sure it's for the right reasons and that you're fully committed to making it work. Who knows, the person who was once an ex could become the love of your life and your future spouse. Treat them as if they could be.

Royal Celebrity Couple News: William & Kate Will Host Harry & Meghan for the Holidays

by Rachel Sparks

With all this holiday cheer and celebrity wedding planning fun, what's more exciting than this royal celebrity news? According to UsMagazine.com, Prince Harry and Meghan Markle have a family-filled Christmas holiday. They'll start Christmas Eve with Queen Elizabeth II at her Sandringham House, then spend the rest of the holiday with Prince William and Duchess Kate as their official house guests. Slated with plans, they'll spend brunch-time at St. Mary Magdalene Church and enjoy a massive feast with two turkeys, a third bird being sent up to the nursery for the royal children.

Even celebrity couples celebrate the holidays with family. What are some ways to keep the drama out of your family reunion?

Cupid's Advice:

Let's be honest, not everyone likes their family. Holidays pressure us to spend time with our more distant relatives, but that only adds more stress. Snide comments, little jabs, and passing judgements end up hurting a lot of feelings and causes drama. Our relationship advice will get you through this holiday season with as little family drama as possible:

1. Be grateful: Not everyone can visit their families, so realize that, despite the drama, there are people who are envious of you and your family. No, your family isn't perfect. There's fights and screaming children and disappointed parents, but families are messy. Revel in the fact you have so many people around you who, at the end of the day, love you. That's a lot to appreciate.

2. Anticipate triggers: It's hard to remain cheerful when you know your brother is going to comment on your weight. Expecting these snide comments can help alleviate some of the frustration and anger when they do occur. You may be able to ignore these comments and just have a good time, and that is something that will drive your family crazy if they're wanting to push your buttons. Set a new trend: ignore jabs and experience joy.

3. Banish black-and-white thinking: We all want the holidays to be magnificent. We want our kids to have the same joyful memories we did, full of magic. We want to genuinely enjoy seeing our family and reconnecting with them. People don't always meet these expectations, accidents happen, fights break out, kids cry, and that holiday cheer you pictured isn't what's playing out. Put aside expectations and realize setbacks happen, but that doesn't mean the whole holiday is ruined. Don't dwell on the problems; instead, enjoy every moment for what it is.

Celebrity News: Harvey
Weinstein Lied About Having Intimate Relations with

Gwyneth Paltrow

by Rachel Sparks B

Harvey Weinstein's name has become a household warning. There's yet more celebrity news on Weinstein's decades long scandals. According to EOnline.com and The New York Times, Gwyneth Paltrow published a staggeringly long list of cover-ups and lies throughout Weinstein's career. One major lie Weinstein told was that Paltrow had consented to have sex with him in order to advance her career. Paltrow's name and Weinstein's lie was used as a weapon against other actresses in order for them to say "yes" to his advances.

This celebrity news has us cringing. What are some ways to ward off unwanted advances?

Cupid's Advice:

We all at some point will be in a position where we are made uncomfortable by unwanted advances. Male or female, someone with power can abuse their position to negotiate with you something you don't want to do. Cupid has relationship advice to help you when you're in these situations:

1. Call them out: Use your best judgement. Sometimes, calling out a person on their advances is exactly what it takes to end it. If a person thinks they can get away with something because they don't think you'll speak up, prove them wrong. Sometimes, though, the person making the advances is too aggressive and calling them out will anger them. Again, use your best judgement, but don't be afraid to speak up for yourself.

2. Tell them to leave you alone, in no uncertain terms: If you firmly say you want nothing more, sometimes the person coming onto you will stop. If you say this in front of a group, the other people can hold the advancer accountable for their actions. But be careful, doing this makes it much more uncomfortable being alone with that person, so avoid alone time at all costs.

3. Report the behavior: If you've asked the person to stop and they haven't, told them to stop and they won't, called them out and they don't care, it's time to report this behavior.

Telling an authority figure will likely mean someone steps in and protects you. There may be backlash, so don't be alone with that person. Stay strong.
