Celebrating the couple's first date anniversary, Hudson revealed via Instagram Sunday that she was pregnant when she met her love. "The first time I met Danny I was 23 and enormously pregnant with Ryder," wrote Hudson, along with other sweet details on the celebrity couple's history before making their relationship official.

This celebrity news has us wondering about on and off relationships. What are some factors to consider before continuing with this type of relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When in an on and off relationship, you must consider certain things. Cupid has some dating advice:

1. What's the reason for turning down the heat?: Is it something minuscule or something worth a break up, like lack of trust? Sometimes an on and off relationship will be just that, on and off all the time. Make sure neither of you are quick to end it, just to get back together right away without fixing a thing – this will make the break-ups seem less serious and will probably make them occur often.

3. Can your problems be worked through?: Unfortunately, not all problems can be fixed. Sometimes, things just don't work out. Evaluate the problems between you and your significant other, and decide together whether your issues can be mended or if the relationship is just too broken.

Celebrity Break-Up? Nina Dobrev & Glen Powell Taking Time Apart Amid Busy Schedules

By

Karley Kemble

Uh oh, it looks like Nina Dobrev and her boyfriend Glen Powell could soon face an upsetting celebrity break-up. According to EOnline.com, the celebrity couple are taking a break from their relationship. Though they've not officially called it quits, a source close to the duo says that Dobrev has been quite busy with various projects, which has caused a rift in the relationship. While there hasn't been any explosive fights between or bad blood, sources are saying they are not as close as they had been earlier this year. We hope things work out for this celebrity couple!

Though this may not be classified as a celebrity break-up yet, it seems busy schedules are getting in the way of this relationship. What are some ways to keep a busy schedule from affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes, life gets in the way and it's challenging to balance your professional life with your personal life. Check out some ways to manage your busy schedule, without feeling as though you're neglecting your relationship or your job:

1. Set boundaries: Make it a point to keep your work at work. When you constantly blur the lines between your relationship and your career, it's inevitable that one will take up more of your time. Being present with your partner without checking your phone for work updates when you're off the clock really means a lot! Set boundaries and make sure you keep yourself accountable.

2. Communicate: A strong relationship needs strong communication to survive. If you or your partner conceal your feelings of neglect, then it's likely an explosive argument will occur somewhere along the line. If you need to work late, and reschedule date night, make sure your partner knows you still care for them, and aren't choosing your job because you love it more than them!

3. Include them in your plans: If it's possible, you can try merging your two worlds. This doesn't mean you have to find your partner a job at your workplace, but perhaps you two can form your own business together (given that you two mesh well on a professional level, that is!) Alternatively, invite your partner into your "work world," and bring them to social events outside of work. That way, they can meet the people you spend your working hours with, and they can get a first-hand look into another area of your life that is kind of unknown.

Celebrity News: Matt Lauer Fired from NBC News for 'Inappropriate Sexual Behavior'

By

Rachel Sparks

The latest celebrity news is another sex scandal, and it breaks our hearts. After Harvey Weinstein, Hollywood has been under scrutiny for its sexual misconduct. Matt Lauer of NBC was fired overnight Wednesday, November 29 for “inappropriate sexual behavior.” UsMagazine.com reported the many celebrities who reacted to this news. Andy Cohen reacted to President Donald Trump’s tweets, calling him a hypocrite. Both Rose McGowan and Kathy Griffin, who spoke out against Weinstein, stated they had been keeping an eye on Lauer.

This celebrity news seems to be more of the same lately, unfortunately. What are some ways to get up the courage to speak out when you feel sexually harassed or have been assaulted?

Cupid’s Advice:

Speaking out when you feel victimized is terrifying, but being stuck in a situation you feel like you can’t get out of is worse. Finding the courage to speak up and protect yourself will feel near impossible. Cupid has relationship advice to help a friend, or yourself, make it through this situation:

1. Indirect confrontation: A lot of times you want to take action, but you’re terrified of the repercussions of a direct confrontation. Oftentimes a direct approach isn’t the best answer. If you don’t feel like you have support, fighting a situation alone could backfire. Instead, if you’re being sexually harassed, find a way to distract from the sexual intentions. Spill a drink, take a phone call, fake an emergency. Find a way to get out of the situation and divert attention.

2. Have a partner: The buddy system from grade school is still relevant, especially in today's world where we are finding out more and more stories of sexual harassment. If you're going to be with someone you don't trust, find a way to have a partner. It's not always possible, but if you can avoid being alone the likelihood of being targeted goes down.

Find a way to connect with others who have been through similar situations. Build a community where you feel safe and supported.

Celebrity Break-Up: How Jennifer Lawrence & Darren Aronofsky's Age Difference Led to Their Split

By

Rachel Sparks

We're sad to see this celebrity couple split. Jennifer Lawrence, 26, and celebrity ex director Darren Aronofsky, 48, broke up just one month after the release of mother!, the movie where they met. According to People.com, a source told the magazine that the age difference between Lawrence and Aronofsky was likely the cause for the end of their relationship. The source says that though the couple was extremely infatuated with and respected each other, the differences in life experiences was the cause of this celebrity break-up.

This celebrity break-up happened back in September, but we are just now getting some more details. What are some factors to consider when it comes to age in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When Cupid strikes, rationale is forgotten. It's not always logical who we fall in love with, but sometimes it's important to sit down and evaluate a relationship. Age doesn't have to be a negative factor between two people. The Olsen twins are notorious for dating older men, and despite what critics may see, the longevity of their relationships speaks to their happiness. There are things to talk about with your partner to ensure that age will not have a long-term effect between you two. Here is Cupid's relationship advice:

1. Children: Let's knock the biggie out right off the bat. Sometimes older partners may not want kids, may not be able to have them, or already have some. Children are a huge factor in many people's relationships. Are you and your partner on the same page in regards to this? Age doesn't have to have any impact on the ability or desire to have children, but be sure both you and your partner are open and honest about what you want when it comes to children.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby: Mary-Kate Olsen & Husband Olivier Sarkozy 'Really Want a Baby'

2. Friends: We all tend to hang out with people who are similar to us. While ages may vary in friendships, more often than not we gravitate to people who are close to our age because, generally speaking, life evolves on similar paths. If you're around a bunch of older friends, will you be intimidated or inspired? Will you feel left out or will you grow and feel like part of the group?

Related Link: Celebrity Wedding: John Stamos & Girlfriend Caitlin McHugh Are Engaged

3. Life-experiences: Older ages have dealt with kids, divorce, education, careers, health issues, etc., while younger people are likely still trying to figure out life. Sometimes moments occur where there's tension because of these differences. Age differences are not impossible to work with in a relationship. The older person likely places more value on the relationship because of their past experiences, adding more depth to the relationship; however, there will be challenges. Just be certain this is something the both of you are willing to work through.

Have you been in a relationship where there's been a major age difference? How did that impact your relationship? Share your tips below!

Celebrity News: Selena Gomez's Family Is 'Still Getting Comfortable' With Her Justin Bieber Romance

By

Karley Kemble

Though Selena Gomez and Justin Bieber have recently reunited, it appears those close to Gomez are hesitant to accept Bieber back into the family. According to EOnline.com, Gomez's family "is still getting comfortable with the idea of them back together." The celebrity couple spent Thanksgiving apart and both agreed to be with their families, because Gomez felt it was too soon to bring him home for the holidays. A source close to the couple says Bieber is hoping to be included in Gomez's Christmas plans, but knows that her family is hesitant. Hopefully they'll come around soon!

In the latest celebrity news, Selena's family is taking a while to come around to her rekindled romance with Justin Bieber. What are some ways to foster a positive relationship between your partner and your family?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be troubling when your family doesn't approve of your partner. Check out Cupid's advice on how to deal with these tough situations:

1. Start small: If your family is hesitant to accept your partner, it's probably a good idea to start small. Having them come home for the holidays is traditionally a big deal, and it can get super awkward. Instead, try gradually making your partner a part of your family's life. Some people just take longer to warm up to than others, so it doesn't mean all hope is lost!

2. Don't force it: No matter how hard you try, you can't force people to get along. In fact, forcing a positive relationship upon people often works in reverse. If the relationship between your partner and your family is not what you hoped it'd be, give it some time and don't meddle! Things will pan out, in due time.

Royal Celebrity Wedding: Prince Harry Asked Meghan Markle's Mom for Permission Before Engagement

By

Rachel Sparks

The royal family is all about tradition, and Prince Harry is no exception. According to People.com, Prince Harry asked his fiancé's mother, Doria Ragland, her permission to marry Meghan Markle. Markle is very close to her mother, saying that she is both nurturing and fun. Prince Harry knew that Ragland's answer would have a huge impact on Markle. We're excited to see this celebrity wedding in a few months!

This royal celebrity wedding engagement came only after permission was granted. What are some benefits to asking your partner's parent for permission before an engagement?

Cupid's Advice:

Popping the question is full of nerves and excitement. There's the pressure to do everything right and make sure it's perfect because it sets the tone for your future as a couple for the rest of your lives. However you plan your engagement and wedding speaks to who you are as a couple, so sometimes we may want to forgo traditions. There are benefits to sticking with the old practices. Here's Cupid's relationship advice to guide you through your wedding season:

1. Respect: You may not be all that traditional, but sometimes it's worth considering how others may feel. If you don't ask your partner's parents for permission, will they be upset? A wedding is about you and your soon-to-be-spouse, but it's also a representation of your marriage, consisting of compromise, family, and respect. You may not care about traditions, but your partner's family (and maybe even your partner) could care. Show you respect them by sticking with the tradition. It sets a great tone and relationship for the rest of your life with your partner's family.

2. Support: No, you don't ask for permission with the hopes of having financial support during the wedding. Sometimes parents can't help pay for things. Including them in the process from the beginning opens up the doors to opportunities for support. They may have ideas, may help decrease the stress, might have money or a space for the wedding. Whatever it is, parents often do want to support their families, so make sure you don't distance your future in-laws by forgetting about them in the very beginning. Ask them for permission and you might get rewarded.

3. Sense of belonging: Ultimately, marriage is about family. Not everyone has a huge family or a close one, but at the end of the day, family is the group of people you're stuck with. Asking permission before proposing creates a respectful, open, and vulnerable relationship with your new family members. It's nerve-wracking but worth the new love and support you'll receive.

There's officially a royal celebrity wedding in the works for Spring 2018! What are some ways to decide on the time of year you'll get married?

Cupid's Advice:

At some point, we've all thought about our dream wedding. What will you wear? How many people will watch you walk down the aisle? Will you walk barefoot in the sand at some destination wedding or will you keep it traditional? With all of these decisions, have you decided what time of year to celebrate the special occasion? Here's Cupid's relationship advice to help you plan your future wedding:

1. Your favorite season as a couple: Did the two of you meet in the spring and every blooming blossom reminds you of your love for each other? Or do you both absolutely adore the golden hues of autumn? Whatever the reason for your choice of season, find a time of year that makes you both happy. Remember, your wedding is for you.

Related Link: Celebrity Wedding: Source Says Prince Harry & Meghan Markle Are Engaged & Will Have a Summer Wedding

2. Wedding photographs: Great photographs are all about lighting. When you think about what time of year to plan your wedding, think about how light changes throughout the year. If you're in the north wanting a winter wedding, besides the cold, you should consider that the sun sets very early compared to the rest of the year. Natural lighting is the best kind of lighting for photographs, so if you want the best pictures to remember the day by, take special consideration into when your wedding will be.

Related Link: Royal Celebrity Couple: Meghan Markle Says She & Prince Harry Are 'Really Happy & in Love'

3. Invitation accommodations: When you're planning to have a lot of people come to your wedding, you have to consider other people's schedules. If you have a lot of family with children, September weddings may have to be nixed out of the planning because of school schedules. Consider the people you're inviting; if you want a lot of people to come then you need to choose a time most convenient for as many invitees as possible.

Celebrity News: A-Rod's Intelligence is Questioned by Ex-Girlfriend Anne Wojcicki's Mom

By

Rachel Sparks

The latest celebrity news is full of low insults and, interestingly, a sincere compliment. Alex Rodriguez has been under fire by celebrity ex Anne Wojcicki's mom who, in short, called him the dumbest lightbulb in the box. According to UsMagazine.com, Wojcicki's mom stated that the only thing A-Rod knew how to talk about was baseball. That's not the impression you want to leave with your future in-laws. Wojcicki's mom did say that it was clearly evident A-Rod loved her daughter. Jennifer Lopez, now part of one of the hottest celebrity couples with A-Rod, complimented her beau by saying he can conquer anything. So, while you may not watch Big Bang Theory and debate particle theories, at the core, A-Rod is a great guy.

This celebrity news seems a little shallow to us. What are some ways to make a good impression on your partner's parents?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're trying to build a lasting relationship with your partner, impressing their family will need to be a priority eventually. It's intimidating. You're trying to tell the people who love your significant other more than anyone else that you're deserving. If your partner has close relationship to their parents, impressing them, or lack thereof, could be detrimental to future movement of your relationship. Read Cupid's relationship advice to help you put your best face on for that monumental meeting:

1. Act like it's an interview: because it is. Dress to impress, as they say. Turn off your cell phone, shake hands, stand with confidence and power, and follow common protocols for respect. Be on your best behavior and act like you're getting a job, because you are. Your partner's parents expect you to take care of their baby (no matter how old they are) so you're interviewing for the role of supportive partner.

2. Southern respect: "Sir" and "Ma'am" go a long way. Sure, major cities like New York and Seattle think these terms are out-dated, but they ultimately stand as a sign of respect. Even though we're all adults, showing respect through the language you use sets the tone for how you're likely to treat their kid. Plus, you're impressing your S.O. when you treat their family with respect. Don't worry, you'll get rewarded afterwards.

3. Showcase your skills as a partner: We said you're interviewing, right? Well how better can you interview than by showing off your skills as a partner? Shower your love with affection and admiration. Believe us, this will go very, very far for both your partner and their family.

In this celebrity news, it looks like Jennifer Garner's break-up from Ben Affleck is affecting her long-term. What are some ways to cope with a break-up so you can move on?

Cupid's Advice:

Accepting the loss of someone meaningful in your life is painful at best and near-impossible at worse. When you've been with someone for as long as Garner and Affleck were together, what does life look like without that person? Moving on is hard, but at some point you want to accept the change so that your life can move forward. Here's Cupid's relationship advice to get you through a break-up:

1. Burn, bury, block: Sounds harsh? Unless you and your ex have kids together, moving on means letting go. Do whatever it takes for you to cut those ties with your ex. Burn the love letters, bury the stuffed zebra your ex won at the carnival, and block any way that they can get in contact with you. Doing so doesn't mean you never loved them, it just means you love yourself enough to know you deserve happiness. Being stuck with the pain of a relationship at its end is not happiness.

2. Give happiness, get happiness: Have you ever been in a Starbucks line and been at the receiving end of pay it forward? Yeah, it's pretty great. It also feels good to know you've made someone's day better. We know it's hard when you're feeling down to even consider bringing joy to other people, but the proof in the facts is this: helping others creates fulfillment and happiness. If you don't feel like dealing with people, find a way to volunteer behind the scenes; you'll still reap the emotional rewards.

3. Focus on you: In a relationship, we often think about what the other person wants. Ever been asked where you wanted to eat and said, "What do you feel like?" Couples form a group identity, so being on your own is terrifying, but it can be exciting. Try something new, start a diet, exercise, start a new hobby, go to a concert of a band your ex hated...the list of things you can do alone is literally endless. Rock out the single status. Learning to enjoy time alone is attractive, but it also makes any future relationships that much more meaningful.

Celebrity Break-Up: Jennifer Hudson's Ex David Otunga Will Fight for Primary Custody of Their Son Post-Split

By

Karley Kemble

Jennifer Hudson could be facing a long and messy custody battle. In the latest celebrity news, UsMagazine.com reports the American Idol alum and current coach on The Voice is fighting her ex-fiancé David Ortunga for primary guardianship of their son, David Jr. According to Ortunga's attorney, he has been working to settle an "amicable parenting agreement with Ms. Hudson for several weeks now," but the estranged couple has not been able to finalize it. Hudson has previously been granted a petition for Order of Protection against her celebrity ex, citing protection for herself and for her son. The pair announced their celebrity break-up earlier this year.

This celebrity break-up seems to be getting very messy. What are some things to consider when you're splitting with your significant other and you have a child in the picture?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes, relationships fizzle out. While a split is always complicated and full of emotions, if you and your estranged partner have a child, there are even higher chances for issues to arise. If you are breaking up with your partner and you share kids, Cupid has some things for you to consider:

1. Be ready to co-parent: You and your partner have a shared responsibility for your kids. If you are splitting up, you should figure out how you'd like to continue raising your kids. Ideally, this should be done without the help of layers and a court. Figure out a system that works best for your lives and stick to it.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Scott Disick Threatens Kourtney Kardashian for Dating Again

2. Adopt a "kids come first" mindset: Establishing this mentality is important after a split. Regardless of the differences between you and your partner, it's important to remember that your kids come first. This will help you in times of conflict and stress. Sometimes, you'll both have to swallow your pride and put on a happy face for the sake of your kids' well-being.

3. Keep it professional: Never badmouth your partner in front of your kids. No matter the situation, it's important to voice your negative opinions in private. By projecting your feelings about your ex onto your kids, you could cause long-term emotional issues for them. Let your children form their own opinions and conclusions, and make sure you're there for them when they need you.
