Celebrity Couple News: Pink & Carey Hart Are 'Solid' After Two Breaks from Their Marriage

By Cortney Moore

Pink and Carey Hart have made celebrity news in the last 16 years due to their tumultuous relationship. However, after celebrating their 11th anniversary back in January, it seems that this celebrity couple have found a way to make it work. How were Pink and Hart able to save their relationship? Well, Pink credits the two breaks her and Hart took in 2003 and 2008 as factors that transformed their love for each other. "The first one was about a year. And the second one was 11 months," Pink explains in an interview with UsMagazine.com. An insider also spoke with the magazine and agreed that Pink and Hart are a solid celebrity couple, "They love their life together." Taking a break during marriage might be a little unorthodox, but this strategy has helped them avoid divorce. Let's applaud this famous couple for making it work. There are so many in Hollywood who aren't as lucky.

This celebrity couple proves that sometimes breaks in a relationship can be beneficial. How do you know if a break will help or hurt your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

The very idea of taking a break is scary for many couples. However, if your relationship has been on the rocks for some time, a break might be just what you need. Before you decide to go all-in, let Cupid help you figure out whether a break will be beneficial or hurtful for your relationship:

1. There's a weak foundation: The reason you're considering a break is due to a failing relationship. Some things just aren't working out anymore and you need space to see if this is something you really want. Taking a break helps you find the cracks in your relationship, and hopefully with some time apart you can fix these problems together. But, you also need to be wary. Being able to see all of your relationship's flaws might also tempt you to run away. You need to go into a break with the intention of possibly getting back together. If you don't do this then it's just a plain breakup and not an actual break.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Carey Hart Shares Sweet Family Photo on Anniversary with Pink

2. Get on the same page: Before you and your partner officially decide to part ways, you need to discuss what you're both okay with and what you're both not. Will this be a break that allows you to both date other people, or do you both expect monogamy during your time apart? These nitty-gritty details might not be something you want to discuss during tough times, but it's a conversation that must be had. If you're both not on the same page about the break, then someone is going to get hurt and your relationship will be strained even more than before. So talk it out, you might even be pleased to see you both share similar ideologies.

3. Gives you very much needed 'me time': Taking a break from your relationship helps to free up your schedule. This is great because it provides you the opportunity to reassess your priorities personally and professionally. If there's something you always to do, it's time you pursue those dreams. Whatever it is that makes you happy may translate over to your strained relationship. When you feel good about yourself, you're confident, and that positive energy might be something your partner was missing in you. Just make sure you're not too busy for a relationship. Remember, the point of a break is that you and your partner intend to reunite.

Speedman and Russell reminisced about the time Russell chopped her hair off for the sake of the show's storyline, which Speedman didn't take well. "We were actually dating at the time and I had been such a disaster of a boyfriend up until then and I knew I had to put on a good show. I knew I was going to see her new haircut and I was like, 'Come on man, you got to bring it home. You gotta do it,'" Speedman admitted, "And I got to work and she turned around the corner and my face sort of froze in a half panic, half smile sort of situation. I just didn't pull it off and she called me out." Russell chimed in saying they were able to endure the situation although her haircut at the time was reminiscent of a Chia Pet. "It grew into something great," Speedman added reassuringly. Despite making it through the haircut phase, this celebrity couple parted ways shortly after, but they've remained close friends.

This celebrity news has us laughing at the amicable exes. What are some ways to keep your relationship with your ex civil?

Just because your relationship has ended doesn't mean you have to hate your ex. As a matter of fact, if you're able to remain friends with an ex, you're more likely to avoid unnecessary drama. Let Cupid help you figure out how to remain civil with your ex:

- 1. Have your own stuff going on: Whether it be a hobby, a career or volunteer work- you need to have things that keep you busy. Having your own activities will not only bring you enjoyment, but it will also distract you from any lingering thoughts of your ex. It's important that you make moving on as easy as possible, and keeping busy is the best way to do just that.

2. Don't be tense in their presence: No one likes being in the line of fire of hostile exes. If you were friendly before your relationship, try to bring those positive vibes with you post-breakup. If friendship is something new for you and your ex, then take things slow and stick to discussing lighthearted topics if you're ever in the same room again.

3. Keep details to yourself: Even if you and your ex parted ways a long time ago, you need to be careful with the things you say. You don't want to put yourself in an awkward situation where your ex can use information against you.

Cupid’s Advice:

Strong relationships don’t always come easy, and you have to make an effort to make your partnership last. Here are three ways to work on your relationship on a daily basis:

1. Communicate: Communication is important in every relationship. No matter how busy or stressful your day is, make sure to sit down with your partner and free yourselves for any distractions, like television or cell phones. Spend some quality time together and talk about how you’re feeling, what you’re working on, etc.

Celebrity Wedding: 'Bachelor' Alum Britt Nilsson Is Engaged

By Noelle Downey

Bring out the champagne because it's time to celebrate! According to UsMagazine.com, Bachelor alum Britt Nilsson is officially going to celebrate a celebrity wedding with boyfriend Jeremy Byrne! The celebrity couple started dating last year after Nilsson's split from Brady Toops, another alum of the hit reality TV show, The Bachelor, and shared news of their celebrity engagement via a series of Instagram posts of the ring and the couple laughing and kissing in excitement. Nilsson wrote in the caption, ""WE ARE ENGAGED!!!! I'm over the moon!!! The man of my dreams and the most godly, amazing, fun, life-giving, silly, intelligent, wonderful best friend I could ever ask for is my future husband!!!! I have been dreaming of this day forever!! Thank You Jesus!!! Woo hooooo!!!! I had no idea it was coming and it was the best day of my life! I love you forever Jeremy Byrne!!!"

This controversial Bachelor alum has said goodbye to the single life and hello to a celebrity wedding! What are some things to consider before getting engaged?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to getting engaged, it can be hard to know when you're ready as a couple! Cupid is here with the top three things you should consider before popping the questions or saying yes when your partner gets down on one knee:

1. Do you have the same goals?: Ideally in a long-term relationship you two would be looking for the same things and have a similar vision of the future. If you know for a fact that your ideas of the future differ greatly but you've never really sat down and worked that out, definitely take the effort before you move forward with an engagement. If you're both on the same page you can breathe a sigh of relief knowing that ring on your finger doesn't mean you have to give up your dreams or future plans.

2. Are you ready for a forever commitment?: There's no doubt about it, a wedding and an engagement are a huge deal, but marriage itself is an even bigger one. Ask yourself honestly, am I ready for a lifetime commitment to one person? Analyze your answer and share it with your partner. Admit if you don't feel ready for that big step right at the moment or confess that you've thought it through and think that's a good next step to take in the future.

3. Do you both want to get married?: This one seems like a no-brainer, but you'd be amazed how many people feel pressured into proposing or to saying yes to an offer of marriage just because they never sat down and talked about their feelings toward marriage in general, and also specifically for them at some point in the future. It's perfectly possible that for either you or your partner, getting married just isn't a priority, and if that's the case, you need to have a mature discussion about it where you communicate your wants and needs effectively.

"To my sweet Christopher, you were the best father, husband and son-in-law. Your patience, empathy and love always showed through," she confessed. "I'm sorry, my sweet love, that I did not see what happened to you that night. I'm sorry you were alone, and I know that was not you, my sweet Christopher. Your children know that too, so you can rest in peace," Karayiannis reassured. She went on to write of her Hollywood relationship, saying Cornell was her "soulmate" and that while she is "broken" she will stand up for him always. The letter closed, "I love you more than anyone has ever loved anyone in the history of loving and more than anyone ever will. Always and forever, your Vicky." Karayiannis has stated that she believes Cornell, a recovering drug addict, may have taken too much Ativan, which caused him to not be in his right mind. "What happened is inexplicable," Karayiannis admitted, “and I am hopeful that further medical reports will provide additional details.” The celebrity couple have two celebrity children together, Toni and Christopher, as well as daughter Lillian from Cornell’s previous marriage.

This celebrity news has us down in the dumps. What are some ways to cope with the loss of your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Dealing with the loss of a partner is always difficult, but here are the top three ways to get you through this difficult time:

1. Find someone to talk to: There’s no shame in finding a therapist to talk to after the emotional fallout of the death of your partner. Remember that your partner would want you to deal with this in a healthy way, so prioritize taking care of yourself. Visit a counselor and let your feelings out, even if they confuse or embarrass or anger you. Grief is experienced in a host of different ways, and by talking it out and committing to dealing with that grief, you open yourself up to eventual healing and acceptance.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: Why Isn’t It Easy to Say Goodbye?

2. Reach out to your support system: If you’re struggling after the death of a partner, or any loved one, reach out to those around you that care about you and are still here. Tell them you’re not doing well and allow them to take care of you for a portion of time until you’re back on your feet. Admitting that you need help during a difficult period of your life can be difficult, and can even make you feel weak, but in actuality this proves your strength as a person who can recognize their limitations and ask for help when they need it.

3. Seek closure: Whether that means making a charitable donation to your partner's favorite non-profit every month in their memory or going through all your photos together one last time before deciding which ones to put away for now and which ones to leave up, or even taking off your wedding ring for the first time since the funeral, take steps to seek and find closure continuously, however that looks for you as an individual. Many think closure is a final state you achieve, when in reality closure is a state of being you can consciously pursue. Often finding closure is a journey, so it's important to give yourself the grace to take that journey however you need to.

Cupid's Advice:

If you've been in a relationship for some time now, you might wonder if marriage is right for you and your partner. Cupid is here to help you figure out if you're both ready to tie the knot:

1. Marriage excites you: A huge sign that you're ready to walk down the aisle is if the idea of marriage excites you rather than terrifies. First comes kids, then comes celebrity wedding! What are some benefits to having kids pre-marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

It used to be expected that marriage comes before children, however that is no longer the case in modern relationships. As a matter of fact, many have found benefits in parenthood before nuptials. Let Cupid show you how kids before marriage can help your relationship:

1. Sharing is everything: Having children teaches you how to share all over again. You're adding another life into your home and daily routine. This is similar to what many newlyweds struggle with, however with a kid you pick up on this much quicker since they absolutely depend on you for survival. Getting used to sharing your life is a trait that's definitely needed in marriage.

2. Patience is a virtue: Children aren't easy to deal with, but they provide a valuable lesson when it comes to patience. However, if you're able to learn patience with children, you'll be able to do the same with your spouse and hopefully avoid many arguments.

Helping each other out to raise a kid will bring you all closer and will also show you what to expect out of marriage.

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt that meeting your love on a reality TV show qualifies as "unique," but we don't all have that opportunity. In this relationship advice, here are some out-of-the-box ways to meet your new partner:

1. Work happy hours: If you have to hang with colleagues after seeing them all day every day, you might as well use it as an opportunity to meet your next crush! Even if you know you aren't into dating a coworker, you never know who they might invite to tag along.

New Celebrity Couple? Nicki Minaj Responds to Nas Dating Rumors on 'Ellen DeGeneres Show'

By Noelle Downey

It's possible there's a new celebrity couple in Hollywood, and Cupid is here with all the hot gossip on this celebrity news. According to UsMagazine.com, Nicki Minaj played it cool when speaking to talk show host Ellen DeGeneres on whether or not she and rapper Nas were dating or not. When pressed, Minaj admitted, "He's so dope." Upon further discussion it was revealed that while Minaj thought Nas was "kind of cute" and she admitted they had had some sleepovers, she also asserted, "I'm just chilling right now. I'm celibate. I wanted to go a year without dating men. I might make an exception to the rule for him 'cause he's so dope." The Hollywood relationship was first noted when Minaj shared an Instagram post of the two cuddling at a restaurant. A source claims, "They were laughing a lot. They looked very cute together. No PDA, but they looked like a couple."

There may be a new celebrity couple, but Nicki Minaj is being coy about it. What are some benefits to waiting to tell your friends and family about your new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to keeping a relationship private, Cupid is here with three benefits to not telling your friends and family when you enter a new relationship:

1. You can enjoy the honeymoon phase in peace: When you first start dating someone there's a period where it's all just total bliss and discovery. You're newly together and getting to know all the things that you love about the person in a new and more intimate way. You probably have stars in your eyes and your heart is constantly fluttering. There's something to be said for riding that high as long as possible and staying in your fantasy world where it's just you and your partner at the beginning. It can be nice to feel like your secret romance is just between you two, and remember, you can always reveal your relationship, but you'll never be able to get this sweet private time back.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple Predictions: Kendall Jenner, Nicki Minaj and Minka Kelly

2. You can avoid family drama: It's an unfortunate but true fact, many families pass judgment on the people that their family members bring home. If you're sure there's some silly reason that your parents and/or siblings will find fault with your significant other, then there's no need to draw your partner into that mess before you're ready. It's important to note that every one has a different relationship with their family, and if yours is tumultuous, there's no contract that says you have to reveal the details of your personal life to them. If your relationship is healthier without them meddling in it or casting judgment, then take refuge in privacy and avoid any unnecessary family drama.

3. You can sneak around: Many couples find it romantic or even sexy when they're keeping a relationship a secret, even if it's for no real, high-stakes reason. Meeting up at hotels, sneaking kisses behind your friend's backs, holding hands under the table, there's something exciting about turning your newfound relationship into a covert operation. While most likely eventually this magic will fade and you'll start wanting the more traditional openness of a relationship, if it's still fun or you and your partner to sneak around, then by all means, indulge yourselves!

Before this sweet cuddle in France, Kardashian and Bendjima were most recently spotted enjoying their Hollywood relationship in LA in early May.

This celebrity couple says they aren’t defining their relationship. What are some reasons to wait on labeling your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

If you’re unsure whether or not you should put a label on your relationship, here are the top three ways to know it may not be time to take that big step:

- 1. When you’re not looking for a commitment: If you’re more interested in a fun fling than a long term relationship, consider holding off on defining your relationship. Once labels are involved, talks of exclusivity and boundaries in your relationship are inevitable. If you’re looking to keep your flirtation fun but free, then don’t burden either you or the person you're dating with a label the neither of you want. Keep things casual and tell your friends or any nosy family members that for right now, you two are just hanging out and enjoying each other's company, with no pressure on either side to make it something more.

2. When you want different things: If you ever feel as though your partner is pressuring you into a label that you're not ready for, step back and call a time out on any further talks about your relationship's identity. Don't allow yourself to be pressured into making a choice you're not ready to make, and if your partner is absolutely adamant that you need a label in order to continue your relationship, than it might be time to say goodbye before either one of you gets hurt. You should never have to apologize for not wanting to be in a relationship with someone, so if you're not ready, you're just not ready. Don't force it.

3. When you don't have time: There's no doubt about it, relationships take a lot of work and effort. If you just don't know how you'd fit in the demands of a relationship into the stress and business of your daily life, then it may not be a good idea to try for anything beyond a casual fling. To be in a healthy relationship, both partners need to be giving of themselves equally, and if you're not in a position where you can make room in your life for the needs and desires of another person, then hold off on the labels until you're in the right time of your life for that big step.

Cupid's Advice:

Planning the details of a wedding can be stressful, here are the top three tips on how to add a perfect personal touch to your special day:

- 1. Create photo center pieces: If you're looking for a sweet way to remind your guests of all you and your partner have been through leading up to the big day, feature a photo of you and your sweetheart in the centerpieces at every table and have each table guess as a group what special moment this photo is referencing. For the most fun, pick a variety of precious photos from different milestones in your relationship, like the day you met, your first date, the day you moved in together, the day you said I love you, etc. This is a great way to get your guests talking and reminiscing about their favorite memories of you as a couple and get to know each other in the process too!

2. Toast each other: Many weddings feature toasts from the maid of honor or best man, but it's rare that the bride or groom step up to the mic themselves. For a tear-jerking moment where all eyes are on you, take some time during your reception to share a special toast dedicated to your partner, and let your significant other and new spouse do the same for you as well. While you'll have already made some beautiful promises to each other in the vows, this is the perfect time to share a funny story about when you knew they were "the one" or explain all the beautiful things you know are waiting in the future for you two!

This is a great opportunity not only to learn the best tricks and tips for a happy marriage from couples you love, but it's also a wonderful way to get some funny advice or crazy doodles from your single friends.

1. You don't feel like yourself: Your partner should make you feel like the best version of yourself. If, instead, you don't even feel like yourself around them, it may be time to call it quits. Remember that you will find someone who makes you proud to be you.

Celebrity Wedding: Meghan Markle Arrives in London for Pippa Middleton's Wedding

By Noelle Downey

It looks like things are getting really serious in Prince Harry and Meghan Markle's celebrity relationship! According to EOnline.com, Markle recently arrived in London and made an appearance at Kensington Palace just days before she and Prince Harry are set to attend Pippa Middleton's celebrity wedding together. This is big news for the celebrity couple, as Markle has never attended an event with Prince Harry's family before, or been photographed meeting them. Could it be this is Markle and Prince Harry's "meet the parents" moment when it comes their Hollywood relationship? It's hard to say, but either way, attending a wedding together, particularly one as high-profile as this with the rest of the royal family in attendance, is a major deal, especially given how private the pair has been up to this point. Although their relationship was confirmed last November, the two only made their first public appearance together this month, when Markle was spotted cheering Prince Harry on at a his charity polo match, and later stealing a discreet kiss in the parking lot.

This celebrity wedding marks Meghan Markle's first public interaction with Prince Harry's family. What are some ways to know you're ready to involve your family in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt about it, taking your partner to meet your family can be stressful! Here are the top three ways to know you and your sweetie are ready for that big step:

1. You feel secure in the relationship: You don't want to bring someone home who you're pretty sure won't be in your life by next month. If you're introducing your special someone to your parents and siblings, make sure that's just what they are; special. If you're secure in your relationship you can be sure that no matter how it goes with your family that your S.O. will do their best to be well-liked by people who are so important to you and that your family will recognize how amazing and special your partner is.

2. Marriage is a possibility: If you feel like the one you're dating might just be the one, then you should definitely consider introducing them to your family. Even if such a big commitment could be months or years down the road for you two lovebirds, establishing a relationship with your family as a couple will only make your bond stronger and help your family adjust to the idea of an eventual addition to their inner circle.

3. You've met their family: If you've already met your significant other's family, why not introduce them to your own? While taking your partner to meet your family can be scary and hard, especially if you have a complicated relationship with them, it may put a damper on your relationship if your partner feels they've been open and shared their family life with you and you haven't reciprocated. Show your partner that you trust and appreciate them by taking down your walls and allowing them to see behind the scenes of your life and upbringing.

'Bachelor' Ben Higgins Sheds Light on 'Tough' Split from Lauren Bushnell

By Noelle Downey

Bachelor star Ben Higgins is opening up about his celebrity break-up from Lauren Bushnell. According to EOnline.com, Higgins is letting it all out when it comes to the end of his celebrity relationship on his upcoming podcast with fellow reality TV star, Ashley Iaconetti. In the first episode, Higgins claimed, "Lauren will always be one of my best friends. I learned a lot about myself; I think she learned a lot about herself. It's tough." Higgins went on to share that his heartbreak over celebrity ex Bushnell is still "very fresh" because he truly thought that, "[she] was the one."

However, Higgins is also the first to acknowledge that the Hollywood relationship had real problems. “Mutually Lauren and I saw that life was getting more difficult,” Higgins admitted, “I would say the joy that we felt toward our relationship at the beginning was—for some reason—slipping away.” He confessed there was “no real saving or redemption to be done” and that ultimately he felt that their split was “for the best.” Regardless, Higgins has hope for both of them, even if it’s as individuals, instead of a celebrity couple and stated, “I am a better man today because of Lauren and because of our relationship.”

This celebrity break-up proves that when a relationship becomes more work than pleasure, it’s time to let go. What are some ways to know your relationship has run its course?

Cupid’s Advice:

It can be tough to know when a relationship is really over, but here are the top three ways that you can be sure:

1. When you no longer see a future together: A good way to figure out if what you’re experiencing is a rough patch or really the end is to analyze whether or not you can still imagine a future with your partner. Can you picture a time when realistically things get better and you as a couple move past whatever it is that’s causing stress on your relationship? Or is this conflict destined to be a part of your relationship forever? Your answer can help you determine whether or not it’s time to move forward or move on.

2. When the love is gone: If you genuinely feel as if you've fallen out of love with your partner, then it's time to move on. If the thought of leaving provides you with more relief than you won't have to fake it any more than sadness, you can be sure that ending the relationship is the best thing for both of you. Don't try to force love or affection after a certain point. If you're not feeling it, you're just not. Let go.

3. When you feel trapped constantly: If your relationship has been reduced to nothing but a ball and chain around your ankle, think long and hard about whether or not you want it to continue. If you feel that the only thing your partner does is hold you back, consider the fact that you both might be able to go farther without each other. Sometimes the most loving thing you can do for another person is set them free knowing that both of you will actually be better off without one another, even if at first the split is painful.

1. Bitterness is gone: You're ready to date again when you're no longer listening to sad love songs and getting hit with flashbacks. Their families love how they are together," the source made sure to add. Fingers crossed that we're treated to a New York inspired celebrity wedding!

There could be another celebrity wedding in the works! What are some ways to know you're ready for marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

People always ask when is the right time to get married, but relationships aren't monolithic. Instead you should ask yourself what signs show you're ready for a lifetime partnership. Here are three relationship milestones to consider before you agree to be someone's other half:

1. When 'I' becomes 'we': In the early dating phase, you're content with your independence. Thinking of the future usually goes along the lines of "I'm going to do XYZ, and no one can stop me." But the second you find yourself including your partner in your future plans it's no longer all about you. Desiring someone's companionship and input long-term are traits that show you're ready for serious commitment.

2. Compromise is second nature: Marriage is all about compromise. It requires tying yourself down to one person, which can be tricky if you have differing philosophies and lifestyles. However, the ability to give and take is a relationship skill that all great marriages have mastered. If you're able to negotiate with your significant other, then chances are you're both ready for the long haul.

3. Don't feel like you're missing out: Cold feet can happen, but your concerns shouldn't be centered around all the potential partners you might miss out on. If you're suffering from FOMO, then you're not ready for marriage. But if the idea of coupling up with someone permanently doesn't bother you, then marriage is right for you. Your future spouse will definitely appreciate your dedication!

There may be a new celebrity couple in town! What are some creative ways to make your crush notice you?

Cupid’s Advice:

If you’re trying to get that new cutie you’ve got your eye on to notice you exist, Cupid is here to help:

1. Find common ground: If you’re looking to make a connection with a crush, but you’re virtually strangers, find some common ground with them that you’re sure you share. This doesn’t have to be something super complicated or personal, in fact it’s way better if it isn’t. Focus on surface-level commonalities at first, even if there one’s that seem obvious, like the fact that you work at the same place or go to the same school. Think about what you have in common – classes, bosses, friends, hobbies – and go from there. The next time you see them at a party or on break at work, walk up and introduce yourself and find a fun conversational tidbit to break the ice that relies on your joint experiences. Remember, if you go blank and are stuck in a pinch, virtually every one loves to talk about themselves!

Related Link: David Foster Talks Life After Celebrity Divorce from Yolanda Hadid

2. Create an inside joke: Once you have common ground with the person you're crushing on and are friendly with them, find an inside joke that you two can share. This can be based on something funny that happens in the office or a professor you both love to hate at school. This will bond you two together further and also be a great lead-in for more flirty teasing. Don't be afraid to move from friendly and funny to actually flirty pretty soon though; after all you want to make sure your crush understands you want to be their partner, not just their buddy!

Related Link: Katharine McPhee Calls It Quits on Affair with Michael Morris

3. Give them a compliment: If you've developed a fun, flirty teasing relationship, don't get so wrapped up in giving your crush a hard time that you forget that you're trying to sweep them off their feet. Throw in a compliment every so often to remind them that you genuinely like and admire them. Remember to keep it light but also personal, something that not every one would notice or that you think they'd really appreciate hearing. And when they blushingly accept the compliment? Give them a smile and a long, soft look to take things from merely flirty to truly romantic.

This celebrity news has us rooting for this mysterious couple. What are some ways to keep your relationship away from prying eyes?

Cupid’s Advice:

In today’s world, keeping a relationship on the down low can be a bit tricky. Here are the top tips for keeping things between you and your significant other private:

1. Stay away from social media: If you’re looking to keep your relationship private and away from prying eyes, the first step is to make sure your social media is in line with that goal. If you’re constantly snapping romantic pics of your partner and posting them on the web, people are going to put two and two together. Still want the experience of sharing your special moments, but want to control who gets to see those posts? Make sure your privacy settings on apps like Facebook and Instagram are set in such a way that you can limit who gets to take a peek into your private life.

2. Practice polite shutdowns: We’ve all come face to face with a nosy person in our lifetime who is way too interested in the intimate minutiae of our private lives. If someone is trying to press you for more information than you're willing to give about your romantic relationship or anything else, practice kindly but firmly indicating that that information is private and you'd like to change the topic. For instance, try something non-confrontational but clear at first like, "Thanks for your interest, but honestly I usually like to keep those details private. Would you mind if we talked about something else?" And if the person keeps pressing? There's no harm in simply saying, "Like I said, that's not really something I want to discuss right now," and extracting yourself from the conversation.

3. Choose your friends wisely: If you're trying to keep your relationship more private, be mindful of the people with whom you share the details of your life with. If you have a friend who loves spreading the latest gossip and posting photos of people without their knowledge or permission, then you might want to think twice about sharing news of your relationship with them. Focus on finding the people in your life who will respect your wishes to keep things quiet and make sure before you go on a double date or take your significant other to meet your friends that you're sure everyone there is willing to help you keep your relationship private.

According to UsMagazine.com, the former celebrity couple celebrated their celebrity engagement during the finale of season 20 of The Bachelor and announced their celebrity break-up months later on May 15, 2017. We wish nothing but the best for each other, and ask for your support and understanding at this time.” Although the romance of their Hollywood relationship was well-documented on The Bachelor and on their follow-up show, Ben & Lauren: Happily Ever After? audiences also witnessed some tumultuous signs of trouble in the couple’s celebrity relationship, especially when it was revealed that Higgins had also confessed his love to contestant Joelle Fletcher during the run of the show. Bushnell acknowledged this did not sit well with her in several celebrity interviews, sharing, “I did carry some resentment toward him. I will never understand. I will never be the Bachelor.”

This Bachelor couple has decided on a celebrity break-up. What are some ways to know you’ve done all you can to salvage your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

When it comes to working out a rocky relationship, things can get tricky, and sometimes it’s just time to call it quits. Here are Cupid’s top tips on how to know when it’s time to throw in the towel:

- 1. When you’ve tried talking it out... and failed: If you’ve sat down together, maybe even with a third party like a therapist, and honestly tried to work out your problems with little to no progress, that’s a serious sign that you may have reached the final hours of your relationship. Of course, working through your problems takes time and effort, but if you feel like you've really committed to spending time working on the problem and nothing has been changing or getting better, it may be time to take a step back and take a long, hard look at whether or not this is a relationship you feel you should stay in.

Related Link: ‘The Bachelor’ Celebrity Couple Lauren Bushnell & Ben Higgins’ Relationship ‘Ain’t Perfect’

2. When they're in love with someone else: If you feel as if your partner has some serious feelings for someone other than yourself and they're distracting them from being in a committed relationship with you, that's a serious problem. If your partner is in love with someone else (assuming you're in a monogamous relationship) that's a major deterrent to the success of your relationship. It may be time to acknowledge that it's time to let go and let you both move on to something even better than what you have right now.

3. When all that's left is fighting: Every couple has rough patches and seasons of their life together when they argue more than others. But if it seems that you two are constantly locked in a battle for the upper hand, and can't even spend any amount of time together without a big fight blowing up, it's time to call it quits. Let each other go, and let yourselves find someone else who you won't be in constant conflict with.
