Starting a Family With Wife Nikki Reed

By Kayla Garritano

He's head over heels in love! Ian Somerhalder gushed over his wife, Nikki Reed, and discussed starting a family with her. According to UsMagazine.com, the celebrity couple got married in April 2015, and the Vampire Diaries actor could not be any more in love. "The second we were around each other, and not [dating] other people, we just knew. Oh, I will one day have amazing children with my beautiful wife. Absolutely, definitely," he told Modern Luxury Magazine. "I live with someone who strives to find happiness and peace in the smallest things – whether it's sitting for five minutes under a tree or getting out into the country and spending time on our horses or even just going for a walk around the lake or riding a boat.”

This celebrity news has us hoping the couple starts a family soon! What are some ways to discuss having a family with your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Once you and your partner are ready, you are going to be starting a family of your own. Although it may be what you want, you and your partner have to talk about it to make sure you’re both happy. Here are some ways to help get the ball rolling:

1. Talk before marriage: If you’re going to spend the rest of your life together, it is best to make sure you discuss what the future holds for both of you, meaning whether or not there’s potential to start a family. Hopefully if you talk about it, you’ll be able to decide if a family is what you really want, or if your partner is the right person for you.

2. Find a way: If you’re both willing to have a family, make sure you are both able to make it happen, and figure out how you want it to happen. Maybe you want kids of your own, or maybe your best answer is adoption. Are you financially stable enough to raise a child, or do you have a plan for eventually having a kid? Just make sure when you have a child, you are ready.

3. Drop hints: If your partner is not quite ready to discuss children, dropping a clue here and there may help stimulate their thinking process. For example, if you pass by the baby department at a clothing store, you can acknowledge how cute their little shoes are, or tell your partner that, one day, you want your kids to wear those overalls. Don't bombard your significant other to the point where you scare them, just let them know you've been thinking!

Celebrity News: Neil Strauss & Gabrielle Reece Break a Sweat in 'The Truth Barrel'

By Cortney Moore

People don't usually like the feeling of being sweaty while interrogated, but on The Truth Barrel, that's exactly what hosts Neil Strauss and Gabrielle Reece want out of their guests. Recorded within a 220-degree barrel sauna, the New York Times bestseller and professional volleyball player interview interesting characters in an hour-long podcast that aims to cover topics people don't like talking about. They discuss affairs, fears, challenges, double lives and inner struggles. Nothing is too controversial to be discussed. Cupid was able to speak with Neil and Gabrielle to find out how this new podcast is making a buzz and is becoming the latest celebrity news.

In celebrity news, learn more about the podcast that's recorded in a super hot sauna.

Neil Strauss and Gabrielle Reece's podcast isn't something that was manufactured overnight. The pair had been speaking the truth for years, long before they started recording. “We were introduced through mutual friends, and then Neil started coming to my house and training with my husband and I,” Reece explains, with regard to how this unlikely pair first met.

The concept behind The Truth Barrel is definitely a unique one. The cedar wood barrel sauna in question can fit anywhere from eight to ten people at a time, and although many deep conversations tend to take place in this environment naturally, people do often try to stay away from touchy topics like politics and parenting. Taking notice of this fact, Reece thought broaching these topics in the sauna would make for a great show because of its relaxing setting. “The barrel gets people to reveal things about themselves that they wouldn’t normally,” Reece says. Strauss, on the other hand, adds that unlike other conversations that take place between friends in saunas across the country, in The Truth Barrel, their interview subjects don’t know them like they do their spa buddies, making for very interesting exchanges.

Related Link: ‘The Truth’ Author Neil Strauss Gives Relationship Advice – Even When It’s Uncomfortable

The Truth Barrel is still young, but the team has already welcomed a few intriguing personalities in their celebrity interviews, so it’s easy to understand why the podcast has already garnered so many highly rated reviews online. Both hosts work hard to get honest answers from their subjects and hope that their listeners can take away something from each episode. For example, Strauss points out that in the two streams that have been uploaded so far, they’ve interviewed people who have had near-death experiences and have come back from it. In his own words, Strauss says, “I thought it would be interesting to learn from people who have been on the other side and see how we could appreciate life and be more grateful.” In fact, this is the thoughtfulness that sets The Truth Barrel apart from other podcasts. Reece believes that the podcast's success relies on integrity and that listeners enjoy hearing when others are going through similar issues as themselves because they feel less alone in their struggles. "I want to put stuff out there that even if it may be uncomfortable or imperfect, there's a level of honesty to it. There's nothing like when you're going through something and someone goes, 'Wait, I'm going through that; I feel that way.'"

If there are any doubts that this duo can provide worthwhile advice, naysayers are in for a surprise. Both Neil and Gabrielle have overcome obstacles in their lives that required professional help. Strauss battled sex addiction after publishing his book The Game, which focused on pick up artists, while Reece has prevailed over body image issues and is currently speaking out against opioid use after her knee replacement surgery. Despite these hardships, they've both been able to lead successful careers and have families. Strauss has his wife Ingrid De La O and their son, and Reece has her husband, big wave surfer Laird Hamilton and their three daughters. What's their secret when it comes to balancing family, marriage, and careers? Well, the bestselling author credits careful scheduling as his main source of success for finding a healthy balance, while the mother of three says it's important to know, "You can't have it all, all at the same time."

Sweat the truth out, and take the plunge with Strauss and Reece in this riveting podcast. Learn deep dark secrets, and take the time to hear inspiring stories and experiences that can also help you when you are facing struggles and challenges - in your life.

Olivia Wilde & Jason Sudeikis Welcome a Celebrity Baby Girl!

By Kayla Garritano

This celebrity news has us going Wilde! Celebrity couple Olivia Wilde and husband Jason Sudeikis welcomed a second child into their family. Their new celebrity baby girl, Daisy, was born on Tuesday, October 11. According to UsMagazine.com,

Mama Wilde shared a post on Instagram on October 15 of her new daughter with the caption, "There goes the neighborhood. Daisy Josephine Sudeikis. Born, like a boss, on #internationaldayofthegirl."

This couple welcomed their second celebrity baby. What are some ways to prepare differently for your second child versus your first?

Cupid's Advice:

Having children is a beautiful miracle. However, preparing for the first child may be a little different than preparing for your second. Cupid is here to help you get ready for child number two:

1. Prepare the older sibling: Now that you're extending your family even more, you need to think about your first child. Since they are becoming a big brother or sister, it will be exciting, but there may be a little jealousy. Just make sure that you pay attention to your first child, even though having a newborn is a lot of work. Neither of your children should feel neglected.

2. Hand-me-downs: The good thing about having gone through pregnancy and birth already is that you still have all your old equipment. First of all, you still have your maternity clothes, so you don't need to go shopping again. But there's also the benefit of having a crib, baby clothes that your first child grew out of, a stroller, etc. You get to save some cash when having a second child, which will be important in the long run.

3. Less parenting books, and more hands-on experience: When preparing for your first child, you spent most of your time reading pregnancy, birth and parenting books to ensure your child was healthy. However, now that you already have your first child, you've experienced what it's like to be hands on with your child. You know how to hold your baby, how to put them to sleep, and how to feed them. Hopefully, this will make you a little more at ease when you're expecting your second child.

Celebrity Interview: Chloe Lukasiak Talks 'Dance Moms': "I'm Kind of Doing My Own Thing Now"

Interview by Lori Bizzoco. Written by Kayla Garritano.

From the age of two, Chloe Lukasiak knew she wanted to step foot on the dance floor, only to dance her way into fame. She starred in the first four seasons of Dance Moms, but this blonde performer has recently left to further her dance career with her self-titled channel, Chloe on Pointe, on Ownzones.com. Now working on season two, the 15-year-old dancer has much to share in this exclusive celebrity interview with CupidsPulse.com on what's ahead in the upcoming season, as well as life after leaving Dance Moms.

In our celebrity interview, Chloe Lukasiak opens up about her career and gives some advice for young girls following their dreams.

Lukasiak's proven that she can handle being on her own. Her channel, which focuses on dance tutorials, also provides fans insider exclusives on her life through vlogs, and even offers beauty DIYs. So it's no surprise as to why Chloe on Pointe was renewed for a second season with the great content she's uploaded thus far. When asked why she wanted to create her own show, Lukasiak responded with, "I thought this would be a great way to teach, and give fans a look into the dance life. They can learn with me." This move to Ownzone has also helped Lukasiak gain new skills, which she appreciates because she's been exposed to things she's never tried before. Such as helping choreograph and teach her own dance solo! Being able to create, perform and teach has turned Lukasiak into a triple threat to be reckoned with. You'll be able to see the solo on her channel within the next couple of weeks. "I'm hoping that people really like it," she says.

Despite all her success, Lukasiak took a moment to reflect on how her career started. She left Dance Moms after season four, when instructor Abby Lee Miller made negative comments on her appearance and said her routine was a "hot mess." But instead of crying about it, Lukasiak says she's doing her own thing now and acknowledged that she hasn't kept in contact with her former dance teacher. She went on to mention that she still talks to a few of the girls here and there, but everyone has their own lives and busy schedules. "It's just hard to keep in touch with everyone, since our schedules have taken us different places.” However, she admits to being close with Paige and Brooke Hyland, who were also on the show and left at the beginning of season four. As far as other experiences she had on the show, Lukasiak opens up about how it’s had a lasting effect on her. “I was nine, and I left when I was about thirteen, so I grew up really fast in that environment.” She goes on to say that the show helped her come out of her shell and overcome her shyness. However, it is clear that Lukasiak is staying away from her past as best as possible. In recent weeks, there has been talk about canceling Dance Moms season 7. Responding to the news, she says, “I guess this might be the end of Dance Moms.” She was also unaware of the rumor regarding Kendall Jenner joining the show, which she thinks would be a strange and interesting change.

Date Idea: Date Idea: Beat of the Music

Now that Lukasiak is occupied with her channel, dance and other exciting events, it’s hard for her to make time for friends and school. When asked how she balances her responsibilities and fun, she responded with, “You have to figure out what’s important and what’s not important. It’s about what you do with your time and how you handle it efficiently.” She mentions that she focuses a lot of time on school, but stresses that it’s important to be social and hang out with your friends. Lukasiak also shares some advice for young girls who are looking to dance competitively: “Do what makes you happy, because at the end of the day, you are your own person. If you’re not happy, then something’s wrong. Remember at the end of the day you’re just getting a trophy,” she jokes.

What can we look forward to seeing from Lukasiak? Aside from a potential Christmas special on her channel, she will appear in two upcoming movies. She’s also been thinking about college and what she will do with her life. “If I had to guess, I’d still dance, but I don't know if I could study dance."
