According to UsMagazine.com, they named their newborn baby boy, Journey River Green. This celebrity news surrounding Fox and motherhood was discussed on Chelsea Handler's Netflix show, Chelsea. There's another celebrity baby in the mix for Megan and Brian! What do you do if you find yourself pregnant and in the midst of a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy can cause a shift in a relationship, and it's not always positive. It's one thing when you decide to have a child together, but when you realize you're pregnant in the midst of a split, it can get dicey. Cupid is here to help:

1. Communicate: Weigh your options with your partner (or ex-partner) and decide how best to handle it. Raising a child together is a big step, especially if you aren't on the best terms. Understand that you have other options, but don't make any decisions without them.

2. Make it work: Divorced parents and separated families make it work all the time. It isn't the easiest solution, but sometimes it's all you can do. Just try to be civil toward them for your kids and act accordingly in order to provide for them.

3. Single parenting: If the situation is really bad and you can't bear to be anywhere near your ex, try raising the child on your own. The idea of a bad father being in the picture isn't good for anybody. With the help of your family, you can definitely have a strong support system without him.

1. Diary: Writing is a great way to cope with feelings and work through the problems in your relationship. It's also nice to not have anyone talking back or putting in their two cents; it's just you and your thoughts. Keeping a diary or journal can be very therapeutic.

This celebrity relationship has yet to be labeled. What are some things to consider before labeling your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

“DTR,” also known as “defining the relationship,” is an important step in any coupling. Whether you’re trying to start something serious or just enjoy a fling, there has to be a conversation about what you both are to each other so you’re both on the same page. Cupid is here to help you with labeling your relationship:

1. Determine wants: Before you decide to have this specific talk with your partner, you need to figure out what exactly you want out of this relationship. Do you want monogamy? Or do you want your relationship to be casual, with the ability to see other people? Figure out what you want before you go asking your partner to change the status of your relationship.

2. Compatibility: Of course wanting to be with someone isn’t enough, you also need to make sure your partner is compatible to your lifestyle. Take into account whether you both have similar likes and dislikes, hobbies or upbringing. For a lasting relationship you need to find common elements that bond you together, if you can't find those, maybe you should just enjoy time with each other the way it currently is.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple Predictions: Drake, Eva Longoria and Lea Michele

3. Ask questions: And last but not least, you need to ask questions! Your partner should have equal input on how or what the relationship will be labeled. How else do you expect to find out whether or not a relationship is worth pursuing if you have no input from your partner? Depending on the questions you ask and the responses you get, you'll finally know for sure if you should pursue things further or run for the hills.

drastically after filming the first season of his show. One aspect Henry is still trying to get used to after his television debut is being recognized by fans in his coming and goings. "Getting stopped on the street by people who've been personally affected by the show has been one of my favorite experiences," the reality TV star shares in our celebrity interview, "I love getting to meet fans of the show and hear their stories – everyone has one." And speaking of stories, there's many to tell in this upcoming season of Hollywood Medium. "There are so many moments that are deeply profound, some of my favorites being with people who may have started off as skeptics," Henry reveals. He especially enjoyed conducting a reading for singer and songwriter Moby, who Henry assures received touching results. In addition to being a medium to the stars, Henry finds time to do readings for non-celebrity clients as well. "The show only represents a small demographic of my overall clientele," he says, "I still read the public and people who need it. It's essential for me to have a balance during filming as readings can become physically and mentally draining." And despite having a busy schedule, this talented clairvoyant has written his first book, titled Between Two Worlds: Lessons from the Other Side that will be released in November. The book is a memoir of Henry's journey to becoming a medium, discussing life events that profoundly affected his upbringing, such as the passing of a childhood friend. "I think people will be surprised to see that many of the stereotypes people associate with don't apply to my situation," the psychic says. "In telling my story, I kind of demystify more of the outlandish ideas that people often assume mediums believe. It isn't like The Sixth Sense, and healthy skepticism is something I embrace." Henry hopes that readers will find resonance in his experiences and learn that we're all interconnected. The book will also go in-depth about the lessons people on the other side can offer to the world of the living. In five years, Henry hopes to still be working on Hollywood Medium, conducting readings cross-country and setting up a charity for young people who've experienced loss.

The 20-year-old's career as a medium has helped keep his life free from relationship problems. "When I'm dating someone, I often find I know whether we'll be going on a second date before the first one even really begins." But he also says that he isn't opposed to having his mind changed. His abilities just simply provide intuition about people's intentions or motivations. However, this rarely happens since many with ulterior motives "run for the hills" anyway when they discover his abilities.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Winner Jordan Rodgers Says Ex's Claims Were 'Very Untrue'

By Stephanie Sacco

Jordan Rodgers has been all anyone's been talking about since he was first introduced on The Bachelorette. With a famous brother and the celebrity news in the tabloids focused on him and his family, Rodgers hasn't had the easiest journey. According to UsMagazine.com, since The Bachelorette finale aired and their relationship went public, he's speaking out. He said, "There's been a lot of really harsh and very untrue allegations along the way." The celebrity gossip following him came from his ex-girlfriend Brittany Farrar who claimed he cheated on her. He continued, "It's [about] moving forward and any of that is so not true that it's not even worth time ... I'm just happy to start this new life with my fiancée and that's what I'm focusing on." We're rooting for the new celebrity couple and hoping they can make it work.

Apparently the rumors in celebrity news around Jordan Rodgers simply weren't true. What are some ways to rise above rumors to form a healthy relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Rumors have been around since the beginning of time. Somebody's always spreading word about someone else. When it comes to gossip, you have to find a way around them. Cupid is here to help:

1. Laugh them off: Rumors can get pretty ridiculous and unbelievable. Everyone's had rumors spread about them and sometimes you just have to blow them off. Laugh at the fact that somebody thinks it's worth their time to talk smack about you or your relationship. It's challenging but doable.

2. Brush them off: Pretend they don't even exist if you hear someone whispering or pointing. Channel your inner celebrity and shake them off. It's not worth your time or the sake of your relationship to pay any attention to silly rumors.

Cupid's Advice:

Friends give friends relationship advice. Knowing you have someone to help you navigate relationship issues is one of the best parts of a friendship, but it's also a lot of pressure. You don't want to steer your friend wrong:

1. Know your friend: When giving your friend relationship advice, it is important to remember key things about them. Your job is to serve as their conscience when they're being swayed by emotions. Try to lead them to a decision they'd make on their own.

2. Hands off: Give your friend as much advice as they will listen to, try to protect them, but remember not to smother them. Give the advice you have and then lay off for a while. You want the best for your friend but being overbearing can cause a fight between you two.

It's a celebrity couple Bachelorette engagement! What are some ways to propose in the most romantic way possible?

Cupid's Advice:

This celebrity engagement was not only heartfelt, but also extremely beautiful. Even if your proposal doesn't have a set designer, there are so many ways to have it be a memorable and romantic moment. Think outside the box to create a memory that will last a lifetime:

1. Just you two: Proposing in front of a lot of people may seem like a romantic move, but nine times out of 10, a one-on-one moment will be much sweeter. You'll have plenty of opportunity for attention after you announce the engagement, so consider proposing in a private setting or with just close friends and family in your audience. Plan a couples' vacation and propose at some point during the trip, or make a meal at home, set the room with flowers, and propose there. Let the moment be just for the two of you.

2. Speak from the heart: Nothing can make a proposal more romantic than letting your true feelings out. Think about what you want to say beforehand. It doesn't have to be written out, but you should know what point you want to make. Talk about your favorite memories, and why you love each other. No matter what setting you're in sweet words will make your proposal romantic, for sure.

3. Keepsake: Whether it's a video or photo documenting the engagement or a memento you used to propose, incorporate a lasting element into your proposal plans. Create a photo album of things you've done together, make a short storybook about your relationship, or simply have someone there to take a picture when you pop the question. Showing that you put a lot of thought into the proposal is super romantic, and having something to look back on after the moment has passed will preserve the romance forever.

So it looks like the rappers are not a celebrity couple after all.

Apparently there's no celebrity relationship to be found here. What do you do in the face of relationship rumors involving yourself?

Cupid's Advice:

Rumors spread fast, and it when a relationship rumor involves you, only you can shut it down. Here's how to end the rumors before things go too far:

1. Ally: A relationship rumor has to involve you and at least one other person. The first step to successfully shutting down a relationship rumor without hurting feelings is to contact all parties involved and get on the same page. If each person involved is disseminating the message that there is no real relationship, the rumor should die out rather quickly.

2. Use your resources: Giving your most talkative friend all the correct information can almost guarantee that the rumor will get shut down. When people want the gossip, they won't come to you directly; they'll probably chat up your closest friend. Feed your friend the right lines and that information is what people will run with.

3. Distract from the gossip: If all people are concerned with is your rumored relationship, give them something else to talk about. Make posts on your social media accounts that are about other bigger and better things you've got going on. Hopefully people will start talking about your new job or most recent vacation instead of the supposed relationship drama.

Celebrity News: Josh Groban & Kat Dennings Break Up After 2 Years of Dating

By Nicole Caico

It's the end of the line for Josh Groban and Kat Denning's celebrity relationship. After spending two years as a celebrity couple, the two stars are calling it quits. According to EOnline.com, a source said, "It was a mutual breakup. They are still friends and care about each other, but it's not the right time for them now as a couple." Both Groban and Denning will be busy with projects this coming fall, but there is no doubt it will take some time to recover from the split.

In celebrity news, this duo is no more! How do you know when your relationship is over and it's time to move on?

Cupid's Advice:

Break ups are never pleasant. Even if it's mutual, like Josh Groban and Kat Denning's, breaking up always leaves someone sad. But, there is a time and place for everything after all, and it's important to know when your relationship is over and it's time to move on:

1. Changed for the worse: You know it's really time to call it quits on your relationship when you've had discussions with your partner and they make no change—or change for the worse. Every person is annoying in their own special way, and in a relationship you learn to deal with the other person. But when you have already had a few heart to hearts about needing more communication or wanting more support, and your other half makes no effort to give that to you, that's a big red flag. It's time to walk away.

2. Timing: It may sound like an excuse, but if the timing is not right, you may have to call things off. Your career is taking off and his career is, too, but they're taking off in two completely different directions. If you have to sacrifice opportunities or move somewhere, you don't want to or can't afford it may be time to call it quits.

3. Fizzling out: If the thought of spending time with your partner no longer gets you excited, or if you both don't miss each other while you're apart, it could be a sign that your relationship is fizzling out. A dip in chemistry may be no fault of either person involved, but may be a reason to walk away from the relationship to find a new flame somewhere else.

Celebrity News: Lindsay Lohan Acts Casual Over the Rumors Surrounding Fiancé Egor Tarabasov

By Stephanie Sacco

Lindsay Lohan has been constantly making celebrity news ever since she was a kid. Now, she's making headlines again due to rumors involving her fiancé Egor Taraba and a potential celebrity baby on the way. Lohan's taking all of the celebrity gossip in and letting all the negativity out. According to UsMagazine.com, she was seen on a luxury yacht in Italy with her friend Hofit Golan, smoking cigarettes and drinking beer. She's been scattered on social media about what's going on in her personal life, but told fans through Instagram that she is "good and well" and taking time for herself.

This celebrity news has us wondering what's really up with this pair. How do you get back at your partner without going too far?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes anger fuels bad decisions. In Lohan's case to combat pregnancy rumors, she went on a mini vacation. No harm, no foul here, but it's not always so simple. Cupid is here to help:

1. Jealousy: A little bit of jealousy doesn't hurt when keeping your partner in check, but don't take it too far. Never cheat on your partner or flirt too much with another guy to make him jealous. You might end up losing more than you gain.

2. Banter: Having conversations about how you're feeling is important in a relationship. You can joke around and pretend you're angrier than you are or upset just to get him to react, but it's not always going to work. Guys can be smart even when they're being dumb. Don't push your luck.

This celebrity news is very unfortunate. What are some ways to know if you're ready to have a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

Children are a blessing. Although babies can bring joy, some couples simply just aren't ready to have them. Let Cupid help you determine if you're ready for parenthood before you actually get pregnant:

1. Available: Babies require a lot of time, care, and patience. Evaluate your schedule and goals to see if you can take care of another life besides your own, just like Money did in this celebrity news. Whether you're focused on your career or trying to figure out what to do with your life you need to be honest with yourself about having the time to devote yourself to this baby.

Celebrity News: Kanye West Opens Up About Kim's Nude Selfies

By Cortney Moore

This may not come as a surprise to most, but rapper Kanye West has once again made celebrity news in regards to his comments about wife Kim Kardashian and her nude selfies. In an exclusive interview with Harper's Bazaar, the celebrity couple spoke on a variety of topics, one of them being Kardashian's viral nude selfies. "I just love seeing her naked; I love nudity. And I love beautiful shapes. I feel like it's almost a Renaissance thing, a painting, a modern version of a painting," the 35-year-old rapper said. In the same interview, he admitted that he'd send nude selfies of his own to women before he entered a relationship with Kardashian. Perhaps now we know how this celebrity couple keeps the passion alive in their relationship!

This is certainly risque celebrity news! How do you know if nude selfies are right for your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Nude selfies have become increasingly popular in the dating scene and even in long-term relationships, as we've seen in this celebrity news. Though it may be fun to send a flirty text, there is always a risk in doing so. Cupid is here to help you figure out if nude selfies are right for your relationship:

1. Know your partner: First and foremost, you need to take into account who your partner is. Do you know them well? How long have you been together? Are they trustworthy and mature? These are all questions you should ask yourself before you snap that picture and hit send. You don't want this intimate part of yourself to be accidentally or vindictively leaked.

Related Link: Do's and Don'ts of Flirtexting and Sexting

2. Only do it if you want to: Sometimes a significant other may pressure you to send a nude photo. Don't let them bully you into it. The person you're with should respect your wishes if you don't want to do it, and understand your apprehension if you're unsure if it's the right time to do so. Something of this nature should be your choice alone. You don't owe anyone a nude selfie, not even a wife or husband.

3. Protect your identity: If you decide that you're ready to send a nude selfie, do so in a way that protects your identity. Your face doesn't have to be visible (you don't have to follow Kim's example). Even consider using a messaging app that provides an alternate phone number. Do whatever you can to ensure your privacy.

Celebrity News: Keshia Knight Pulliam Announces Pregnancy At Same Time Her Husband Files For Divorce

By Stephanie Sacco

Keshia Knight Pulliam is the center of two big pieces of celebrity news. If it wasn't enough to find out she's pregnant, she is now also dealing with a celebrity divorce. According to People.com, the pair had only been married for six months before Pulliam's husband Ed Hartwell filed for divorce. The celebrity couple got engaged on New Years and were married at Pulliam's house. She said their wedding was her dream. "We did it literally in our living room in our home. We invited people. They had no clue they were coming to a wedding," she shares. It's a shame it didn't work out.

This celebrity news is devastating for a soon-to-be mom. How can you tell if your partner isn't in it for the long haul?

Cupid's Advice:

It's a big decision to have a baby with your partner. But this celebrity news is devastating because Pulliam will have to do it alone with little support. Cupid is here with some relationship advice on how to tell if your partner isn't fully committed to you:

1. He's pulling away: If you're seeing your partner less and less or if he's not calling you back, he's distancing himself from you. Maybe he wants to slow down or maybe he wants less from you, but it's definitely not a good sign. Talk to him before jumping to any conclusions, but pay attention to his actions.

2. He's M.I.A: When your partner is ghosting and not paying enough attention to you, he's not in it for the long haul. If he's hanging around other girls or choosing his friends over you, it's not a good place to be in. Keep an eye on your man and make sure he's not running for the hills.

3. He says he doesn't want anything serious: Flings and casual relations is an option, but it's not for everybody. If you want a steady boyfriend, you have to know where they stand. You can't change people's minds so if your man isn't in it, don't waste your time.
