This long-lived celebrity marriage ended up not working out. How do you know if your relationship has staying power?

Although Reba and Narvel's celebrity marriage lasted over 26 years, it seems as if their relationship and love life didn't have what it takes to last. Cupid has some tips so that you and your partner will stick together:

By Ryan Bonner

After 13 years of celebrity marriage, Hollywood couple Gwen Stefani and Gavin Rossdale are calling it quits. Stefanie is the one who filed for the celebrity divorce.

This celebrity marriage will soon be no more. What are some ways to know your relationship is coming to an end?

Cupid's Advice:

Not all couples are meant to last forever. Sometimes people can be better off going in different directions if the relationship is not working. Cupid has relationship advice:

1. Excessive fighting: If you and your significant other can't seem to get along, the end might be near. Fighting will just cause stress and rift within the relationship. Certainly there's no relationship where fighting doesn't happen ever, but when you fight more than you get along, that's a red flag.

2. Lack of communication: Once you lose communication, your relationship will suffer. Communication is a key point in a relationship that cannot be lost. If you find yourself walking on eggshells around your partner and are unable to talk to him or her normally, it's time to re-evaluate.

While not all gossip is harmful, it is often unwanted. Rumors are often distorted versions of the truth that, if left unhandled, could put a damper on your love life. Cupid offers dating advice on how to successfully deal with relationship rumors without letting it bring you down.

1. Be honest: It's no secret that honesty is the best policy so false rumors should be refuted as soon as possible to prevent it from spreading further. According to UsMagazine.com, Lowe skipped turning to social media with his commentary, and he instead dedicated an entire blog entry to love advice for the newly engaged celebrity couple. In the blog, he says, "Every relationship takes work, especially relationships formed on TV! I remember the few months between filming and the last episode of my season when Catherine and I had to keep our relationship a secret- everything was so exciting. We were in love and we couldn't imagine having hard times or experiencing any issues that might endanger the relationship," he wrote. "That naiveté wore off pretty quickly once we were thrust into the real world. Your relationship is going to run into issues both big and small. It's imperative that you find a way to work through them."

Bachelor* franchise alums are well-versed in love advice! Whose love advice should you trust when it comes to your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no lack of love advice to choose from, especially with the internet at your disposal. That being said, it's important to weigh whose relationship advice should hold the most importance. Cupid has some tips:

1. Those who have known you for the longest: There's definitely merit to trusting advice from those in your life who know you the best. If someone you don't know is pretending to have in depth insight into your relationship, it's probably red flag. Take whatever those types of people say with a grain of salt.

2. Certified/trained professionals: Some people dedicate their lives to helping people and giving advice. Though it's certainly true that you shouldn't trust every single person who says they are professionally trained, it's definitely more valuable that trusting someone who you just met and who isn't certified or trained.

By Meranda Yslas

Although fans everywhere are still upset with the celebrity

divorce between Blake Shelton and Miranda Lambert, it seems that these celebrity exes are making the best of it. According to UsMagazine.com, the country singers were seen tweeting jokes to each other only four days after announcing their celebrity break-up. A source reveals that the exchange between the exes wasn't a show or fake, but was genuine. "There are no hard feelings. They want to move on as friends, and they are doing just that."

These celebrity exes are committed to being civil. What are some reasons to remain friends after a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Not all break-ups have to end with severed ties and broken hearts. Sometimes people are better at just being friends than in a romantic relationship. Cupid offers some reasons why being friends with an ex isn't always bad:

1. You enjoy each other's company: Although you two may no longer feel romantically toward each other, it doesn't mean all the good times and great conversations have to end. If you two are able to recognize that while dating isn't the best option, but hanging out as friends is then friendship is a great idea.

Now the Hollywood couple are talking celebrity wedding plans. As UsMagazine.com reports, Bristowe shared her thoughts about getting married in Vancouver while her celeb love joked, "Either there or Vegas with Elvis, we're still trying to figure that out." During a press conference they even added that there's a possibility of a televised wedding, much like The Bachelor couple before them Sean Lowe and Catherine Giudici.

This Bachelorette couple is looking to the future. What are some ways to compromise on wedding plans with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

In honor of The Bachelorette wedding talk, it's important to know how to plan for your big day. Cupid has some tips on how you and your partner can work together in planning this celebration:

1. Set a budget: Before any decisions are made like the venue or DJ, set a budget that you two promise to follow. That way arguments about unnecessary expenses or over the top gowns won't come up.

2. Focus on the fun: Some wedding decisions are going to be harder to make than others and you and your partner may get in fights about it. 3. Hear each other out: It may be easy to immediately say ‘no’ to a seemingly ridiculous idea your mate suggests, but that will only cause hurt feelings. By Ryan Bonner

Michael Sheen, star of Showtime's Masters of Sex recently told UsMagazine.com that he and his celebrity love, Sarah Silverman, are huge Bachelorette fans, and they were not expecting the most recent finale to go as it did. Unfortunately for them, their favorite contestants did not make it to the final rose ceremony.

These Bachelorette fans are speaking out! What do you do if a friend is with someone you don't think he/she should be with?

Cupid's Advice:

Michael Sheen and Sarah Silverman aren't the biggest fans of this year's Bachelorette final rose ceremony. Having a friend who doesn't accept your significant other can be hard. If you're in this situation, Cupid has advice for you:

1. Have them get to know each other: You can't convince your friend that who you're dating is the right person for you if they don't get to know one another. Set up a day for the three of you to get together and be able to have them connect.

Post-split relationship gossip can spread very quickly, especially if you are in the spotlight like Ben and Jen. There are always different sides to stories and rumors about what is going on in the lives of the couple who called it quits. Below are some tips for rising above the gossip:

1. Do not be a part of the grapevine: Even if you hear or read gossip, don't continue to spread it. You could be spreading complete lies about the relationship and not even realize it. Try to be the person who puts a stop to the gossiping.

Dating Advice From Justin Kim of 'America's Next Top Model': "If Someone Is Already on Your Team, You Shouldn't Be Looking for Free Agents."

By Sarah Batcheller

America's Next Top Model has a knack for introducing audiences to their next, most beloved reality stars. The reality TV competition is known for being lathered in glamour, sophistication, and fun. Not to mention, some serious eye candy. This summer brings in Cycle 22 of Top Model, and with it an up-and-coming heartthrob, Justin Kim. Loads of social media adoration surround Kim already, as admirers anxiously await his on-screen debut. A Northern Virginia native and George Mason University alumnus, Kim is taking the modeling world by storm. In this exclusive celebrity interview, Cupid talks to Kim about the road to stardom, the adventures along the way, and his best dating advice.

Cupid's Exclusive Celebrity Interview with 'ANTM' Up-and-Comer Justin Kim

Kim wasn't apt to put any of his dreams on hold while he was attending college. He explains welcoming a modeling career into his life, stating, "I went to [George Mason University], and I commuted, so that allowed me to do my thing on the side. Going to Mason was a blessing in disguise, because at first I'd wanted to go away to college and get the "full experience." Then, my sophomore year [a friend of mine] asked if I wanted to be a secondary model for a shoot. I told him 'no' at first, but a week beforehand he contacted me again, so I did it. People saw the shots, they submitted me to a casting call, and I ended up getting signed. I got to do shoots in D.C. and network. So, it just happened."

Believe it or not, perfecting his "smize" wasn't Kim's biggest battle. In fact, he claims that living with roommates was his first real, personal challenge. "These were essentially my first roommates in my entire life!" he exclaims. "It was a huge culture shock, and there were so many different personalities."

As far as the culture shock goes, Kim explains that his upbringing allowed him a healthy perspective. "I'm blessed...My parents raised me in Northern Virginia, and that is one of the most diverse locations in the entire country. Back at home, there are so many different cultures, ethnicities, and backgrounds," he reveals. "For some of the castmates I was with, that was new. For example, one person had never met an Asian-American person in their life."

The newness of the experience must have brought the cast members closer together, though, because Justin named Nyle DiMarco, Dustin McNeer, Stefano Churchill, and Mamé Adje as his closest pals while filming. Although, anyone who has participated in the aforementioned social media hype may be suspicious that Adje and Kim are more than “just friends.” Maintaining full-blown mystery, Kim says of his castmate, who is also known as Miss Maryland 2015, “Mamé is an awesome friend.”

One relationship that the budding fan-favorite does gush about, though, is that with Tyra Banks. Of the show’s host, Kim raves, “Tyra can back up all the hype around her. The aura I felt while standing in front of her is just real. It was amazing...She’s so genuine. Off-camera she would come and make sure we were doing okay.”

Justin Kim Offers Dating Advice for Millennials

As for relationships and love in general, Kim discloses that things haven’t changed much for him since beginning his road to stardom, but that he is mindful, and trying to make smart choices. “I try to keep everything the same, and not let anything change me,” he says. “People do tell me to be careful of who to meet now because they might have the wrong intentions, and that’s true, but at the end of the day you just have to go for who you like, and who you want to be with.”

As a recent college graduate, Kim has some dating advice for other millennials who are looking for love. When it comes to figuring out when to settle down, this Top Model has a “first things first” attitude. He proclaims, “You should take your time – you don’t want to jump into anything. Especially because nowadays everyone is so career-driven. For example, I’m all about stability. I want to be financially stable before I settle down. There’s no point in rushing –

we're still young. Experience life."

According to Kim, experience should have its limits too. He offers some insight on finding love, clarifying, "You could be playing the field, but if someone is already on your team, you shouldn't be looking for free agents! If you have someone who's special and who you don't want to lose, then don't mess around."

Once the celebrity break-up was announced, the two released a joint statement to the Associated Press that read, “This is not the future we envisioned, and it is with heavy hearts that we move forward separately. We’re really sad to see this famous couple call it quits. How do you know when it’s time to end your long-term relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

It can be tough to know when it’s the right time to call a long-term relationship quits. Cupid has some tips:

1. Changes in communication: This is probably the first thing that happens when a couple loses its spark. You used to look forward to the calls, texts, and emails, but now neither one of you seems interested in holding a conversation for longer than you have to. If this is happening in your relationship, it may be time to throw in the towel.

2. Constant fighting: Another sign that a break-up is looming is if the two of you are constantly fighting about the silliest and smallest of things. When you no longer want to be with someone, anything they do will bother you. Couples who are looking to get out of the relationship will fight whenever the opportunity presents itself.

3. No more emotion or affection: A happy couple will constantly show affection to one another. A sign that things are coming to an end is when neither of you show any affection towards each other. Hugs, kisses, and hand-holding are not a part of your every day routine.

'Married to Medicine' Reality TV Star Jill Connors On Relationships And Love: "It's

So Hard To Get That Passion Back”

By Rebecca White

If you're a fan of reality TV, then you know drop dead gorgeous Jill Connors is the up-and-coming star of the third season of Bravo's Married to Medicine. The mother, attorney, and business woman has taken the Atlanta social scene by storm, becoming known for her buzzed about philanthropic soirees. The Southern belle gracefully balances motherhood while managing her husband's – Dr. John Connors – successful plastic surgery practice. We recently chatted with Connors about her celebrity love story and her best advice for keeping your relationship and love strong.

Reality TV Star Shares Her Celebrity Love Story

It was love at first sight for this famous couple. "I was a senior in college, and I had three boyfriends when I met John," the star dishes in our exclusive celebrity interview. "We met on an airplane when I was going to visit one of my boyfriends in New York." The funny thing is Connors couldn't even tell her parents how she met her husband because they had no idea she was going to New York at that time! When she locked eyes with him, she just knew. "It was the weirdest spiritual thing," she says. "About a month later, I remember saying to my best friend, 'I'm not in love with him yet, but this is the man I'm going to marry.'"

Not only was their meeting serendipitous, but they weren't even supposed to be on the same flight or next to each other, for that matter. John planned to be in Florida for a medical talk with his friend Jim, but his buddy couldn't make the flight. Jill was booked on a later plane, but a passenger didn't show up for the earlier flight, so she got Jim's seat next to John. And the rest is history!

Now, after nearly 13 years together, the married famous couple has three sons, who are ages 7, 9, and 11. When it comes to teaching her kids about romance, Connors is very open. "It's because my parents never talked with me because they were strict Catholic Italian," she reveals. "I still haven't had the sex talk with my mom, and I've already had it with my oldest son!"

The mother of three wants her kids to learn respect and the importance of working hard in a relationship. "The women's job is a little harder, especially if she's working,"

Connors believes. “Realistically, she’s going to be the one working inside the home and the primary caretaker for the children.” When that’s the case, the reality TV star wants her boys to understand that they need to help their partners balance everything and be a team.

Jill Connors Talks Love Advice

This busy celebrity couple understands that balance is challenging to achieve in a marriage. Since Connors works with her husband, it’s even more difficult. “Because we work together, we’d be at work and then come home and talk about work,” she says. “It’s so hard to get that passion back, especially if you’re married for 13 years and have three kids!” But don’t fret because there are things you can do to put the spice back in your relationship and love. Connors’ love advice is to carve out alone time: “Sometimes, we have stay-cations, like an overnight trip to the St. Regis,” she shares. “You feel like you’re getting away, but you’re not too far away!”

Connors also says that it’s important to be comfortable with your significant other in order to avoid jealousy. “You need to know why you’re jealous,” she explains. “Is it because there’s a reason to be jealous, like your partner cheating? Or is it because you aren’t comfortable with yourself?” Once you figure out what the root of the problem is, then you can work on learning to trust the other person.

Personally, Connors gets asked all the time if she’s jealous because her husband is a breast plastic surgeon. “He’s never made me feel like he’s attracted to these other women, and he’s so loving to me, so there’s no reason to be jealous,” she candidly says.

Although she's been married for over a decade, she has some relationship advice for new couples. "The beginning of dating is the best, most fun time ever," the celebrity mom shares. "If it's hard in the beginning, it's only going to get harder." If that's the case, she suggests that you move on. "You never know where that perfect person is. You could even meet them on an airplane!" she says with a laugh.
