Tim Gunn Talks First Date Looks and Summer Fashion Trends

First dates can be nerve-racking, but you shouldn't worry about what to wear or where to go. "Dress up!" Gunn exclaims. "Dressing up says 'I want you to see the best of me.' It's about respect for yourself and the person you're dating." When it comes to finding the perfect first date outfit, Gunn has three essential elements that need to be balanced: Silhouette, proportion, and fit. "When those three elements are in harmony, you will look fabulous no matter what you're wearing," he says.

Choosing a location is also very important when it comes to the beginning of a relationship and love. Gunn's love advice is to always go out to eat. "I believe that a first date should be a meal, because you need to know how they interact with the waitstaff, what table manners they have, and how they interact with you during a meal," Gunn shares. "I think it's all telling."

If you're going out this summer, then remember that accessories are more important than apparel this season. Whether it's a new hat, eyewear, or wedges, accessories work with many different looks. Also keep in mind that '70's Bohemian is coming back, so splash into summer with this revived look. "Independent of trends, there is something for everyone," Gunn shares. "Think about what's in your closet and what will enhance it. And always try it on! Under all circumstances, make no assumptions about fit."

Fashion Icon Discusses Project Runway

If you're eagerly awaiting the new season of Project Runway, then you'll love to hear that filming for season 14 starts in a few days. Unfortunately, this season Gunn was not able to go on the auditions to see the broad range of talent. However, he did get to look over the new contestants that were chosen. "I'm excited about working with them, they have a lot of personality," he says. "I hope they don't cancel each other out with that personality!"

But being on a show for this long doesn't mean it's perfect. Gunn says that if he had to change one thing, he would like to be in the workroom when the designers fit their models. "I've never seen so much delusion presented to me," he says. "I'm always asking how the fittings went and invariably it's 'Oh, they were great.' Then, I look at the work on the runway and I'm like 'What? Is there a new definition of the word great?'"

Celebrity pregnancies have the same physical toll the rest of us experience. What are some ways to support your partner through pregnancy?

Cupid’s Advice:

Supporting your partner through pregnancy is important, because both of those involved should go through the trials and tribulations the process throws out. Cupid has some tips:

1. Listen: The best piece of relationship advice in this case is to listen to your partner, especially during pregnancy. It’s key to listen to all of her thoughts, feelings and emotions during this exciting and nerve wrecking experience. It will bring you both closer, too! You’re in this together!

2. Do the heavy lifting: It’s really nice to do the heavy lifting, physically and mentally, when your partner is pregnant. They say that it’s not good for pregnant women to lift heavy things, so don’t have them do tasks that involve that. Offer to do the driving, ask her if she needs anything, cater to her cravings, encourage her to rest and relax, give her surprises and make her feel uplifted when she is nervous.

3. Presence is the true present: The best present is always your presence! This is true especially during the wonderful stage of pregnancy. Below are a few ways that you can document your pre-parenthood experience, even if you and your significant other aren't a celebrity couple:

1. Scrapbook: It may be "old fashioned," but having something tangible for your child to look at as they grow up can be very special. Document your time with your significant other through photos to put in a scrapbook. Take pictures of trips that you took together while pregnant, take photos of the first crib, etc.

2. Collectibles: You don't have to make a scrapbook of pictures before the baby comes. Why not create a box full of tangible memories? Maybe your mom found out that you were pregnant and gave you a teddy bear from your youth that you didn't know she kept. Create a box full of memories, or even ideas of memories you would like to create in the future.

If you're moving in as a couple and your design styles don't match up, compromising is the best solution. Take a cue from Edwards' own story: "I had a coffee table that my husband hated, so I told him if we put it in the space and he still hated it after 30 days, then he could take it out," she says. "Well, 30 days later, he forgot it was even there. I got to keep it! Now, he's in love with it, and it looks amazing."

Don't be scared of the design and decorating process – you don't have to do it all at once. "It should happen over time," the lifestyle expert explains. "You should have a curated space that's all you, and you've found pieces along the way from traveling or picking it up together as a couple."

You can also save money while designing your home by having some do-it-yourself pieces. "I love to say that, if it has good bones and good structure, then you should keep it,"

she says. “You should have things in your home that you love.”

Being in a relationship and love for over a decade is no easy task! Edwards’ love advice for a lasting partnership is to find an interest you can share. “Have a hobby you like to do together, so you’re always falling in love with something new,” the HGTV star says. “[My husband and I] are big foodies, and we love to travel, so every time we go to a place we haven’t been before, we can experience that together. We’re creating memories, so later on, no one else has that particular memory but us.”
