In celebrity news, Dean Unglert admits he had a difficult time accepting Caelynn Miller-Keyes' dating history, what are some ways you can prevent your partner's past from affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice

Dealing with your partner's past relationships can cause a lot of trouble in your own relationship. If you're looking for ways to keep your partner's past from affecting your relationship, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Don't spend too much time talking about it: When you first start dating someone, the last thing they want to do is talk about their ex. If you focus too much on their past, or constantly bring up their exes, you will shift the focus from your current relationship to their past ones. Remember that there is a reason they are no longer with their ex, and by spending less time talking about it, you will avoid making it a problem within your relationship.

2. Don't get too caught up in their ex: Another thing that can be detrimental is focusing too much on who your partner's exes are. Refrain from stalking them on social media and trying to learn more about their life. This will only make you compare yourself to them and bring up negative feelings that you could otherwise avoid. It also could potentially upset your partner if you are constantly talking about this person from their past.

3. Remember to trust your partner: At the end of the day, the most important thing to remember when dealing with your partner's past is to remember that it is past, not present. Trust that your partner has changed from their past relationships and don't blame them for their actions in previous relationships. Trusting your partner will eliminate all of the stress and insecurity that comes with obsessing over their past.

Demi Burnett and Kristian Haggerty are happily engaged! Though there was backlash in regards to Burnett's sexuality, she was still able to find love in spite of that. Being yourself leads to an open and honest relationship, but that isn't all! Cupid has some tips on the benefits of being yourself when going into a relationship:

1. You'll feel closer to your partner: If you're open and honest about who you are off the bat then you can avoid any awkward conversations in the future with your partner and you'll be able to act like your natural self around them.

Celebrity News: Former 'Bachelor' Contestant Kirpa Sudick Squashes Cam Ayala Dating Rumors

By Hope Ankney

In celebrity news, former Bachelor contestant, Kirpa Sudick, is dismissing rumors of dating Bachelor in Paradise alum Cam Ayala. Bachelor Nation began speculating a potential spark between the two when Sudick took to Instagram to upload a post in dedication to Ayala's birthday. Ayala had commented underneath the post saying, "ILYSM" alongside a heart emoji and an angel emoji. According to UsMagazine.com, the reality star squashed the rumors by stating, "We are just friends and not dating! I've just been very lucky to have met so many great people through The Bachelor!"

In celebrity news, Kirpa Sudick is not dating Cam Ayala after all. What are some ways to tastefully let people know you are not dating someone?

Just like celebrities, sometimes we can post something on our social media that tend to look different than how we intended. But unlike them, we can't go to a news source and dismiss these relationship rumors. Instead, we have to think up ways to tastefully let others know we're not dating someone without looking too defensive. If you're in this predicament, and you don't know how to go about squashing dating rumors, don't worry! Cupid has you covered with our love advice on how to nicely let others know you're not dating this person:

1. Be playful: Sometimes, having fun with the situation can be a good way to let others know it doesn't bother you before you let them know you guys aren't dating. If both you and the other person are game, it can be funny to be playful and pretend like you are dating. Be over-dramatic with the idea, posting mushy comments, creating your own 'ship' name, taking ridiculous photos together, etc. By doing this before coming clean that you both aren't dating, it can let people know that none of it bothered you, and it wasn't a big deal!

2. Be kind: This might seem like an obvious answer, but there are ways you can dismiss dating rumors that are much harsher than you meant them to be. Try and be as kind as possible when letting others know you aren't dating someone. Saying something rude or condescending can make you look bad when someone was just curious about the situation. So, try and be as polite and friendly as you can when letting others know so you don't look like a ticking timebomb anytime something false is said about you!

3. Be direct: Perhaps, the best way to be tasteful is to just be honest about it. Being direct doesn't have to be harsh, and it can stop speculation quickly. Simply explain away the idea that you and the person are dating and then say nothing else on the matter. By facing the situation head-on and refusing to talk about it further, it can be an easy and effective way of stopping the rumors from circulating.

Celebrity News: 'BiP' Star Caelynn Responds to Blake Releasing Their Texts

 By Ashley Johnson

In a celebrity interview with UsMagazine.com, Bachelor in Paradise star Caelynn Miller-Keyes opened up about the scandalous text messages between her and Blake Horstmann. She says she thought that she and the reality TV star were on the same page and explains how mortified she feels.

In celebrity news, the Bachelor drama is heating up! What are some ways to make sure you're on the same page with a potential partner before getting involved?

Cupid's Advice:

Not all couples are perfect (not even Hollywood relationships). Sometimes people are on the same page, and other times they are on completely different books. Since budding relationships can be confusing sometimes, Cupid has some relationship advice on how to make sure you're on the same page with a potential partner before getting involved:

1. Communicate: In every and any relationship communication is necessary. By having frequent and honest conversations with each other, you and your partner can learn more about each other and each other's feelings, thoughts, intentions, and so much more.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Brooks Laich Says He's Proud of Wife Julianne Hough For Saying She's 'Not Straight'

2. Share goals: In your honest conversations with your partner you should also be sharing your goals with them. Their goals do not have to be the same exact as your own, but they do have to be similar. For example, you both may have completely different career goals, but it is important that your romantic goals are the same, in that they want the same thing as you out of the relationship.

3. Prioritize: Relationships can be a big commitment and it can be tricky trying to prioritize them at times with busy schedules, and lives in general. Sometimes people are ready to make that serious commitment, and sometimes they are not. Check in with your partner to understand all their priorities and see how much of a commitment they can, or are willing, to make to you and the relationship.

Celebrity News: 'BiP' Star Blake Horstmann Releases Texts with Caelynn Miller-Keyes After Intimate Night

By Ashley Johnson

Bachelor in Paradise star Blake Horstmann has proven that he is not afraid to share the most intimate details of his romantic life with the world. According to UsMagazine.com, just a few days ago, the reality TV star revealed scandalous text messages sent from Caelynn Miller-Keyes on his Instagram story and has gotten backlash ever since.

In celebrity news, things are being clarified after the drama with Blake and Caelynn was shown on the first episode of Bachelor in Paradise. What are some reasons to keep your intimate life private?

Cupid's Advice:

Not everyone has the luxury of keeping their relationships private (especially celebrity couples), but if you do have the choice, Cupid has some relationship advice on reasons to keep your intimate life private, unlike Blake Horstmann and Caelynn Miller-Keyes:

1. Too many opinions: Everyone is going to have an opinion about your relationship whether you like it or not. A lot of those opinions will be unsolicited and can be detrimental to your relationship if you dwell on them. However many opinions people may share on the Internet or social media, no one will ever know the facts of the relationship simply because they are not in it, only you and your partner are.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Cardi B Gets New Tattoo of Husband Offset's Name

2. Social pressure: Social media allows you to share the version of yourself you want to share with the public, and never all versions of yourself. This being said, your followers and subscribers only see one version of your relationship with your partner, which can put pressure on you to only show the best parts of your relationship rather than the worst. Having to live up to a certain standard for your relationship can be exhausting and strain your relationship if you start doing more things to look happy in your relationship and less things to be happy in your relationship. It's more important to be present in your relationship rather than get lost in your relationship's social media presence.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple News: Scott Disick Is 'Really Happy' Kylie Jenner Is Close to Girlfriend Sofia Richie

3. Safety: By making your relationship public, you could be letting in the wrong people. Hollywood relationships are often subject to aggressive paparazzi and stalkers. While you may not necessarily be swarmed by paparazzi everyday, you are still subject to others having too many intimate details about your relationship. This includes jealous exes, or other people who may not wish the best for you and your partner. When the wrong people know the whereabouts of you and your partner at all times, it only gives them the opportunity to troll you, making you feel the opposite of secure in your relationship, and at times unsafe.

Cupid's Advice:

Choosing your baby's name is exciting, but can also be a bit tedious considering you and your partner should be in agreement with the name chosen. Cupid has some advice on how to get on the same page when it comes to the name of your tiny loved one:

1. Try using a compromising tool online: Babynamester.com has this tool, along with many suggested baby names for you and your partner to check out. The way it works is you enter the sex of the baby, then you and your partner each type in what your top baby names are. Next, you choose which one you each like best from your partner's list. And lastly, the site generates a long list of combined baby name preferences. Try it and see if it may work for you!

2. The Middle Name: One of you can choose the first name and the other one can choose the middle name. Many couples compromise in this manner. Although, choosing the first name is most likely ideal for both parties, the middle name is the one that gives the name uniqueness considering that not everyone has a a middle name, and on top of that, a middle name is a nice differentiating addition to a first name.

1. Differences and similarities: Although they say opposites

If it gets to a point where you realize that the differences between you two are starting to take a toll on your relationship (and result in frequent arguments), it might be a sign that you're not the best match. Differences in morals, attitudes, and personalities can be an on-going conflict in relationships, so make sure to pay attention.

2. Comfort level: Ideally, you would like to feel completely comfortable around your significant other, right? But... what if this isn't the case, and you can't imagine yourself ever getting particularly comfortable around them? This would be a cause for concern. Your partner should be someone that never judges you, so if you feel like this isn't the case, it may be something you need to think about.

3. Think forward: Do you see yourself having a future with this person? If you are dating seriously, it's important to think forward about whether or not you think things will last.
