1. Trust: If there is jealousy in your relationship, it most likely exists because there isn't a mutual trust between you two. Do your best to reinforce this by reflecting trustworthy behavior, and your significant other will slowly begin to understand that they don't have as much of a reason to be jealous.

2. Be understanding: If there has never been a breach of trust in your relationship, it's of importance to understand that your partner's jealousy comes from a separate cause, whether it be a previous unhealthy relationship or something as simple as anxiety. Don't get frustrated with your partner and constantly question why they don't trust you. Instead, work with them, asking what you can do to make them more comfortable.

Celebrity Couple News: 'Bachelor' Alums Becca Tilley & Robert Graham Are Getting Serious

By Justin Thomas

After endless social media surmising, there's a new celebrity couple trending. In celebrity news, The Bachelor's Becca Tilley has finally set the record straight about her relationship with fellow Bachelor Nation star, Robert Graham. Tilley confessed to UsMagazine.com, saying, "I am dating Robert" at the 2016 iHEARTRADIO Jingle Ball on Friday, December 2. She continued, saying, "It's fun. We've been friends for a long time and it was just a natural progression, and he's just amazing and been patient with me.... I need someone that's patient and willing to deal with me, and he's been that way. So it's been fun, it's been an easy transition." Rumors ignited when affectionate photos of the now couple surfaced on Tilley's Instagram featuring some suggestively cute captions. But things really began to heat up when she posted a shirtless photo of Graham as her "Man Crush Monday." The couple seems to be on the up and up as Tilley went on to mention she's introduced him to her family. She said, "He met all of my family Sunday night, except for my brother. Everyone loved him."

This celebrity couple news was a long time coming. How do you know when you're ready to introduce your partner to your family?

Cupid's Advice:

Timing is everything when it comes to introducing your partner to your family. Cupid has some tips:

1. Make sure you're exclusive: The bottom line is that you want to make sure your relationship is serious before you introduce your family and friends. That means all the "you's" and "me's" have turned to "us" already. Don't put your family through the process meeting, getting know, and potentially liking someone you know almost for certain won't be around for much longer.

2. Don't rock the boat: Meeting someone's family is a substantial jump in a relationship and when appropriate could make your relationship much stronger. But it's not necessarily a right of passage. Evaluate your partner's relationship with their family, and don't pressure them if they don't feel like it's the right time to introduce you. However, don't be naive. Three months is very different than three years when it comes to meeting the family.

Related Link: What to Wear to Meet His Family

3. Be realistic in your expectations: Everyone's family dynamic is unique, so try to think less romantic comedy and more "Hi, nice to meet you." As palm-sweating as it is, first impressions are more important than you might think, but only in the context for setting the tone for family interactions down the line. People often latch on to the first perspective they're offered, so the first impression you make might be the impression you keep.

It's a celebrity couple Bachelorette engagement! What are some ways to propose in the most romantic way possible?

Cupid's Advice:

This celebrity engagement was not only heartfelt, but also extremely beautiful. Even if your proposal doesn't have a set designer, there are so many ways to have it be a memorable and romantic moment. Think outside the box to create a memory that will last a lifetime:

1. Just you two: Proposing in front of a lot of people may seem like a romantic move, but nine times out of 10, a one-on-one moment will be much sweeter. You'll have plenty of opportunity for attention after you announce the engagement, so consider proposing in a private setting or with just close friends and family in your audience. Plan a couples' vacation and propose at some point during the trip, or make a meal at home, set the room with flowers, and propose there. Let the moment be just for the two of you.

2. Speak from the heart: Nothing can make a proposal more romantic than letting your true feelings out. Think about what you want to say beforehand. It doesn't have to be written out, but you should know what point you want to make. Talk about your favorite memories, and why you love each other. No matter what setting you're in sweet words will make your proposal romantic, for sure.

3. Keepsake: Whether it's a video or photo documenting the engagement or a memento you used to propose, incorporate a lasting element into your proposal plans. Create a photo album of things you've done together, make a short storybook about your relationship, or simply have someone there to take a picture when you pop the question. Showing that you put a lot of thought into the proposal is super romantic, and having something to look back on after the moment has passed will preserve the romance forever.
