Cupid's Advice:

Humor is a great way to help you cope with difficult things, especially a break-up. If you're wondering if making jokes about your break-up will help you cope, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. It keeps things light: Joking about something makes everything feel lighter. We all know that a break-up can feel really dark and sad, so sometimes lightening it up is just what you need to be able to move on.

Cupid's Advice:

Wanting to move on after a split is expected, but easing into this is the best way to go. If you are looking to ease into a new relationship after a split, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Take it slow: Once you get into a new relationship after a recent split you want to make sure that you're taking this slow and steady. If you jump into a new relationship too quickly, you may still have feelings for your ex and not even realize it, and you don't want to bring that into your new relationship. The best thing to do is to take it slow to ensure that you're doing it for the right reasons.

This single celebrity is enjoying being unattached. What are some positives to being single?

Cupid's Advice:

Just like Tyler Posey, sometimes being single is just more suited for where you are in your life. It isn't always the best time to have a relationship, and that's okay. Work, school, or even family matters can get in the way of really giving your all to someone else without wearing yourself down. If you've just freshly gotten out of a relationship and don't know how to enjoy being unattached, don't worry! Cupid has some love advice on the positives of being single:

- 1. Spontaneous travel: When you're not tied to anyone, you don't have to worry about including them in your plans and working around both of your guys' schedules. If you want to travel on a whim, there isn't someone else you have to consider. Book a plane ticket, take a cruise, go backpacking. Give the vagabond spirit of singlehood a try!

2. Becoming more self-reliant: Let's be honest, when you go through a messy break-up, it can leave you devastated for weeks or even months. Love is an intense force, and it's easy to get swept up in your infatuation for one person without realizing how reliant you've become on them and the relationship. Being single means you can work on yourself and find your identity outside of who you were as a couple. Self-reliance is something you should always hold onto, and if you've lost that, don't worry. Singlehood can help you rediscover it.

3. No longer on the fast-track to settling down: There are always expectations when it comes to being in a relationship. If you're single, you don't have to follow any pre-determined scripts. You can create your own expectations!

Finding a new love after a recent divorce can be hard, especially with children are involved. You might not want your next partner to be too similar your last. Instead of looking for a suitor who will fulfill your desires, you need to also consider your children within your decision. Cupid has some questions you should ask yourself before committing to a new partner:

1. Are they willing to talk about past relationships?: You aren't going to learn this about a person after dating them for a first couple of months. However, if they are willing to openly speak about their past that's a good sign of them wanting something more long term. Everyone has growing pains, but it's important that those lessons don't jeopardize your future with a new lover. Look out for warning signs like them comparing you to their ex. You don't want to be someone's second choice!

2. How do they interact with your children?: You have to like new person you're with as well as your children. Take notice if your new boot trying to get to know your kids or just "babysitting". Are they helping you with basic tasks around them? No you're not asking the to replace your ex, but does it seem like they actually enjoy doing stuff with your for your kids. If they want you all to themselves it's time to go.

3. Do they understand your relationship with your ex?: For the sake of your children together you and your ex have to work together to make this work. Tell your new partner about the basis of you and your ex's relationship. Make sure that they understand that the best outcome for your children is the goal. Sometimes, your new love will not appreciate this and want the communication with your ex to stop. If the trust is not there there's no foundation to build a healthy relationship.

Cupid's Advice:

Whether you are a size 8 or a size 8x, here's how you can fight body shaming:

1. Wear whatever makes you comfortable: Hot? Wear your tank top. Want to wear that black dress that shows off your curves? Do it. Life is way too short to be worried about what you're wearing, no matter your size. If a brand only caters to certain sizes then you do not have to shop with them. When anyone tries to be rude or negative, call them out on it.

3. Don't be hard on yourself: We might not want to admit it, but sometimes we can get wrapped up in thinking we're not pretty or handsome enough because of our weight. Eating healthy should always be a priority, but sometimes you can't control your weight even if you have a healthy diet. Maybe you just had a baby, have issues with polycystic ovary syndrome, or got injured in a sports accident and haven't been able to shed the pounds. Do NOT beat yourself up because you don't look like a cover model on a magazine.
