

Kourtney Kardashian

Kourtney Kardashian is best known for being the oldest sister on the reality TV show Keeping Up With The Kardashians. Born on April 18, 1979 in Los Angeles to Kris Jenner and Robert Kardashian, she was the older sister to sisters Kim and Khloe and brother Rob. She headed to Dallas for college, but after two years at Southern Methodist University, she transferred to the University of Arizona in Tucson, where she received her degree.

In 2007, the celebrity family began filming Keeping Up with the Kardashians with stepfather Bruce Jenner and sisters Kendall and Kylie Jenner. Fans have watched Kourtney Kardashian's celebrity relationship with Scott Disick unfold, and now, the famous couple has three celebrity kids together: sons Mason and Reign and daughter Penelope. Unfortunately, the celebrity parents announced their split in July 2015 after Disick was seen vacationing with an ex-girlfriend.

Taylor Kinney

Taylor Kinney is the definition of tall, dark, and handsome. The actor is famously known for his role as Kelly Severide on the hit TV show Chicago Fire. Born in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, he graduated from Lancaster Mennonite School in 2001 and went on to study Business Management at West Virginia University. He left college during his junior year to move to Hawaii and work in carpentry. He soon began modeling and acting, and his big break came when he was cast as a regular on Fashion House. He later appeared on shows including Trauma, The Vampire

Diaries, House, and Shameless. He also made it to the big screen when he was cast for the war drama Zero Dark Thirty and the comedy The Other Woman.

Taylor Kinney has been off the market since July 2011 when he met pop star Lady Gaga on the set of her music video You and I. The two announced their celebrity engagement after he proposed on Valentine's Day 2015 with a gorgeous heart-shaped engagement ring. The famous couple have been more visible in the press since then and are now planning a celebrity wedding!

Keira Knightley

This British bombshell has graced us with her elegant, intelligent, and charming presence in several films. Keira Knightley was born on March 25, 1985 in London, England and grew up in a show business family with her father being an actor and her mother being a playwright. She made her debut at the tender age of nine in A Village Affair. Her first major role came in 1999 in Star Wars: Episode 1 – The Phantom Menace. She then starred in Bend it Like Beckham and became well-known for her role as a tomboy football player Juliette “Jules” Paxton. Knightley’s blockbuster hit came in 2003 with Pirates of the Caribbean: The Curse of the Black Pearl; she also appeared in the 2006 and 2007 sequels. With her classic looks, the actress is the go-to girl for period dramas, appearing in films like King Arthur, Pride and Prejudice, for which she received an Academy Award nomination, and The Duchess. She has proven that she can also handle more contemporary roles with films like Love Actually, Never Let Me Go, and Seeking a Friend for the End of the World.

Keira Knightley seems to be a relationship girl, having a string of serious celebrity loves before finding The One. In 2003, she began dating Jamie Dornan. They dated for two years before their celebrity break-up, reportedly because Dornan couldn’t handle her success. In 2006, she started dating Rupert Friend after they met on the set of Pride and Prejudice, but they broke up after five years together. In 2011, she was first seen with James Righton, a singer and keyboard player for the rock band Klaxons. The famous couple was introduced by mutual friend Alexa Chung and got engaged after a year of dating. They said their “I do’s” in May 2013 in a beautiful celebrity wedding in the South of France. The couple announced their first celebrity pregnancy in December 2014.

Kirk Knight

Kirk Knight is a reality TV star who is featured on season two of Bravo's Newlyweds: The First Year. He and his wife Laura fell in love in Washington, D.C. on a blind date. He owns his own commercial real estate investment company as well as an Internet start-up. He is already the father of two teenage sons and enjoys a leisurely lifestyle, with his bachelor pad condo, sports cars, and an expensive fish-collecting hobby. Kirk Knight proposed to Laura after three years of dating, and the celebrity couple had their celebrity wedding on November 15, 2013. They currently live in Bethesda, Maryland and recently welcomed their first child together, son Jackson.

Laura Knight

Laura Knight is a reality TV star, featured on season two of Bravo's Newlyweds: The First Year. Originally from Florida, she decided to move to Washington D.C. for a fresh start and met the love of her life, Kirk Knight, on a blind date. She is the owner of an insurance brokerage company and is also a Pilates instructor. After three years of maintaining their relationship and love, Kirk proposed, and the reality TV stars got married on November 15, 2013. Laura Knight finally convinced her husband to settle down and start a family. The celebrity couple currently lives in Bethesda, Maryland and recently welcomed their first child together, son Jackson.

Mila Kunis

Best known as Mila Kunis, Milena Markovna Kunis was born August 14, 1983 in the USSR. She moved to Los Angeles with her family at the age of seven and was enrolled in acting classes as an after-school activity. After appearing in several commercials and landing minor TV series parts, she landed her first big role at age 14 playing Jackie Burkhart on That '70s Show. She went on to voice the character of Meg Griffin on Family Guy and starred in several films, including Forgetting Sarah Marshall (2008), Oz the Great and Powerful (2013), and Black Swan (2010), for which she received international praise, a SAG Award, and a Golden Globe nomination for Best Supporting Actress for her performance as Lily.

In a 2009 interview with BlackBook magazine, Mila Kunis stated that marriage is “not something that’s important to me.” Even so, she has had two significant Hollywood relationships. For nine years, the actress dated child-star Macaulay Culkin. During that time, she attempted to keep their relationship and love as low-profile as possible. In January 2011, the famous couple broke up, but her publicist reported that these celebrity exes split amicably. A year later, in April 2012, Kunis began dating her former That '70s Show co-star Ashton Kutcher. They celebrated their celebrity engagement in February 2014, and on October 1, 2014, she gave birth their first child, a daughter named Wyatt Isabelle. The Hollywood couple were married in July 2015.

Ashton Kutcher

Born Christopher Ashton Kutcher on February 7, 1978 in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, he began his illustrious career as a model. He signed with Next modeling agency in New York after participating in a competition in 1998. He appeared in Calvin Klein commercials and modeled in Paris and Milan. However, he decided after his modeling success to move to Los Angeles to pursue an acting career. At his very first audition, he was cast in the TV series That '70s Show, and he played Michael Kelso from 1998 to 2006. Afterwards, he starred in several films, including Dude, Where's My Car? (2000), Just Married (2003), The Butterfly Effect (2004), Guess Who (2005), and The Guardian (2006). In 2003, he started his own series on MTV called Punk'd, where he pranked his famous pals on a hidden camera. Under Katalyst Films, a production company he co-runs, he has produced several popular reality TV shows, such as Beauty and the Geek, Adventures in Hollyhood, and The Real Wedding Crashers. The actor returned to the small screen in 2011 when he played Walden Schmidt and replaced Charlie Sheen's character on Two and a Half Men. He remained on the show until the series finale in 2015. Apart from his on-screen success, he is a venture capitalist and has invested in several highly profitable tech startups.

Ashton Kutcher has had two high-profile celebrity relationships over the last 15 years. In 2003, he met his celebrity ex and first wife Demi Moore. Their celebrity marriage lasted five years, and in December 2012, the actor filed for divorce, citing irreconcilable differences. During his divorce proceedings, celebrity gossip tied Kutcher to former That '70s Show co-star Mila Kunis. They dated for two years, and in 2014, he popped the question. The two became celebrity parents on October 1, 2014 to daughter Wyatt Isabelle and married in July 2015.

Vanessa Lachey

Vanessa Lachey, formerly known as Vanessa Minnillo, is a Filipino-American actress, model, beauty queen and television personality. Minnillo is most known for winning the Miss Teen USA title in 1998, and for her role as correspondent and host for MTV's Total Request Live and Entertainment Tonight.

Originally born in the Philippines, Minnillo was raised in a military family that moved constantly during her childhood. In total, Minnillo attended eight different schools in a span of nine years, living in Washington, California, Nevada, Florida, Germany, Japan and Turkey. Her family eventually settled down in South Carolina. Minnillo went on to represent South Carolina in the Miss Teen USA beauty pageant which she won and since then, she has gone on to model for BONGO Jeans, Maxim, Shape and Lucky magazine. Aside from Total Request Live and Entertainment Tonight, Minnillo has hosted ABC's True Beauty and Wipeout. Additionally, she has appeared on hit television series like 30 Rock, The Bold and the Beautiful and How I Met Your Mother.

Minnillo entered a celebrity relationship with former 98 Degrees singer Nick Lachey in 2006, shortly after his infamous celebrity divorce from Jessica Simpson. After dating for four years, the celebrity couple got engaged and married in 2011. The couple currently have two children, Camden John and Brooklyn Elisabeth.

Jennifer Lawrence

Jennifer Lawrence is the girl on fire. Everyone is a little obsessed with the quirky-yet-confident actress from Louisville, Kentucky. Born on August 15, 1990, she got her big break at age 14 when she was vacationing in New York City with her family. She stayed in the city that summer, acting in commercials for MTV and filming the thriller Devil You Know. Her family then moved to Los Angeles so that she could continue to pursue her career. She got small roles on the television series Medium, Monk, and Cold Case before landing a bigger role on The Bill Engvall Show. While on the series, she also appeared in movies like The Poker House and The Burning Pain. She went on to appear in the critically-acclaimed film Winter Bones, which earned her multiple nominations during award season. After her recognition, opportunities began to pour in, and she has since appeared on the big screen in The Beaver, X-Men: First Class, The Falling, Silver Linings Playbook, and American Hustle. The actress is perhaps best known for her lead role as Katniss Everdeen in The Hunger Games series.

When it comes to her relationship and love life, Jennifer Lawrence has had a steady stream of serious boyfriends. She was rumored to have an on-set romance with Graham Martin while filming The Bill Engvall Show. She then went on to date her X-Men co-star Nicholas Hoult. The famous couple stepped out together for the first time at a Screen Actor Guild awards after-party and dated for two years before their celebrity break-up in 2013. They then rekindled their celebrity romance over the summer before splitting again due to distance. Since their break-up, she has been linked to Gwyneth Paltrow's ex, 37-year-old Coldplay rocker Chris Martin.

John Legend

John Legend has consistently produced critically acclaimed albums since his debut in 2004. Before he was the singer-songwriter that we know and love, he was born on December 28, 1978 in Springfield Ohio as John Roger Stephens. He performed with his church choir at the age of four and began playing the piano at the age of seven. At 12 years old, Legend attended North High School and graduated 4 years later. Upon graduation, he was offered admission to Harvard University and scholarships to Georgetown University and Morehouse College. He attended the University of Pennsylvania where he studied English with an emphasis on African American literature.

While in college, the performer was the president and musical director of a jazz and pop a cappella group. During these years, he was in a number of shows around Philadelphia, eventually expanding his audience base to New York, Boston, Atlanta, and Washington D.C. In 2001, Legend was introduced to up-and-coming hip-hop artist Kanye West. The two have since collaborated on almost every album that Legend has put out. He has also worked with Jay-Z, Mary J. Blige, The Black Eyed Peas, Fergie, and Alicia Keys. He has won 9 Grammy awards and a total of 14 awards with 35 nominations.

John Legend has kept his relationship and love life away from the spotlight. After four years of dating, he announced his celebrity engagement to model Chrissy Teigen in December 2011. The famous couple married on September 14, 2013 in Como, Italy.

Adam Levine

The Maroon 5 crooner is hotter than ever! Born on March 18, 1979, Adam Levine was raised in Los Angeles, California. He got his start in 1994 as the lead vocalist and guitarist for Kara's Flowers; the band never gained popularity and split after the release of their first album. They reformed in 2001, changing their name to Maroon 5. Since then, the band has released five albums and received three Grammy Awards, two Billboard Music Awards, two American Music Awards, an MTV Video Music Award and a World Music Award. In addition to his musical endeavors, Levine also serves as a coach on the hit NBC reality TV show The Voice, which he won in the first and fifth seasons. In 2012, he made his acting debut in American Horror Story: Asylum. He then appeared on the big screen for the first time in the Oscar-nominated film Begin Again.

In his personal life, Adam Levine has never been shy about his affinity for supermodels. He had an early celebrity relationship with model-turned-photographer Jane Herman Bishop, who inspired Maroon 5's first album Songs About Jane. In 2010, he started dating Sports Illustrated and Victoria's Secret model Anne Vyalitsyna. They broke up in 2012, and one month later, he began dating Victoria's Secret model Behati Prinsloo. They split in March 2013 but soon reconciled, announcing their celebrity engagement that July. The famous couple married in Cabo San Lucas, Mexico on July 19, 2014 and are preparing to welcome their celebrity baby any day now.

Blake Lively

Blake Lively went from sweet, surfer chic to a bombshell fashionista and foodie! The actress was born in Los Angeles on August 25, 1987 into Hollywood royalty, with her father being an actor and director and her mother being a talent scout. She is the youngest of five children, all of whom have worked in the entertainment industry at some point. She wasn't initially interested in acting and had dreams of attending Stanford University. But after pressure from her family, during her junior year of high school, she auditioned for a main role in the 2005 hit movie The Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants, which was based on a popular book. Her performance earned her a Teen Choice Award for Breakout Movie Star. After filming Traveling Pants, she returned to high school, graduated in 2005, and then continued acting.

In 2007, Lively landed the role that put her on the map on The CW's hit teen drama Gossip Girl. Her performance as Serena van der Woodsen brought her to the limelight, and her face was everywhere. A year later, she won two more Teen Choice Awards for Television Actress and Television Breakout Star for her role on the series. With her good looks, natural acting talent, and devoted fan base, it was not hard for her career to continue to grow. She landed roles in films including The Town, Green Lantern, Savages, The Age of Adeline, and most recently in The Shallows.

In a case of an on-screen romance leading to a real-life love, Blake Lively began dating Gossip Girl co-star Penn Badgley in 2007, but after three years together, the famous couple split. After their celebrity break-up, she was linked to movie stars Ryan Gosling and Leonardo DiCaprio, but neither of these relationships and love lasted. While filming Green Lantern, the actress met Ryan Reynolds, and although the movie didn't do as well as expected, the on-screen pairing translated into another real-life celebrity romance for Lively. The pair quickly became inseparable; they secretly got married in an intimate celebrity wedding in September 2012 and now live in Bedford, New York. The happy celebrity couple welcomed their first child – a daughter named James – in December 2014 and have another celebrity baby on the way.

Lindsay Lohan

This sassy red-headed actress was born in New York City on July 2, 1986 to parents Michael and Dina Lohan. At the age of three, she starred in numerous print ads and television spots. In 1998, she landed the lead in Disney's remake of The Parent Trap. Still a classic today, the film grossed millions at the box office and began Lohan's rise to fame. Her success in the Disney film led to the opportunity to star in other movies from the major motion picture company, including Freaky Friday and Confessions of a Teenage Drama Queen. In 2004, Lohan starred in what is known as one of the greatest chick flicks ever made. Tina Fey's Mean Girls became the highest grossing movie that year and earned the young actress a few awards for her role as Cady Heron. In 2005, the star returned to her roots when she appeared in Disney's Herbie: Fully Loaded. With yet another box office hit, her career was at a high, and her growing fan base allowed her to expand her career into music. She released two albums in 2004 and 2005, which were both a success.

During her Disney days, Lohan dated singer Aaron Carter from 2002 to 2003 and they were a hot celebrity couple. But as Lohan's celebrity status grew, she found herself in the Hollywood nightlife all too often. In 2007, she started down a dangerous path filled with struggles and controversy. She has been arrested many times for reckless driving and landed herself in rehab for both drugs and alcohol on more than one occasion. Just when we thought the star would be out of the headlines, she surprised us with a serious celebrity relationship with D.J. Samantha Ronson. Unfortunately, her long-term love (which eventually ended) didn't help LiLo's bad habits. Since then, the star has continued her troubled life with a car accident in 2012 that led to a stricter rehab program and plenty of court dates. Trouble with the law hasn't hindered this starlet's love life. In 2014, In Touch Weekly published a list of Lohan's rumored famous relationships, which included Evan Peters, Adam Levine and 34 other Hollywood household names. Despite debacles with celebrity gossip, Lohan and Russian business heir Egor Tarabasov are enjoying their celebrity engagement.

Jennifer Lopez

Jenny from the Block used to have a little, and now, she definitely has a lot! Jennifer Lopez, a native New Yorker who was born in The Bronx on July 24, 1969, has certainly made a name for herself in Hollywood. A Latina actress, businesswoman, singer, and dancer, there probably isn't one person who doesn't recognize the star. Best known as J.Lo, she started her career as a fly girl for In Living Color and as a back-up dancer for Janet Jackson. She landed her breakout role as the lead in the biographical film Selena, where she was able to showcase all of her talents, including acting, singing, and dancing. After the film premiered, Lopez was the It girl: Everyone wanted her in their films; everyone wanted to know what she was wearing; and everyone wanted to know who she was dating. She soon launched her own clothing line and also landed a series of roles in romantic comedies, including The Wedding Planner, Maid in Manhattan, and Monster-in-Law. Most recently, she has appeared as a judge on American Idol with Harry Connick Jr. and Keith Urban, and is gearing up to executive produce a dance competition on NBC, World of Dance.

Jennifer Lopez has had a very public relationship and love life filled with failed marriages and engagements. She married her first husband Ojani Noa in 1997; the marriage lasted 13 months before they split. She then took a walk on the wild side, dating hip-hop star Sean Puffy Combs. Next, the singer dated back-up dancer Cris Judd. After a month-long celebrity engagement, they walked down the aisle, only to divorce a year later. While going through her divorce with Judd, Bennifer was introduced to the world when Lopez stepped out with actor Ben Affleck. This celebrity relationship soon brought another engagement for the multi-talented star, but three weeks later, they broke up. Lopez was quick to find a rebound celebrity romance in Marc Anthony, and in 2005, the two were married. Two years later, the couple announced they were expecting twin celebrity babies, son Max and daughter Emme. In 2011, the couple divorced after seven years together; their children were three years old at the time. The celebrity mom of two quickly moved on and dated dancer Casper Smart for two years. For now, the sexy star is single (although she was spotted kissing Smart!) and looking better than ever, but we suspect it won't be long until we see her with a new man!

Lori Loughlin

Lori Loughlin was probably the aunt of your dreams if you grew up watching Full House. Best known for her role as Aunt Becky, she was the love interest of Uncle Jesse (John Stamos) and a fictional co-host on a morning TV show. Loughlin's career isn't just related to Full House, though. She has been in many movies and featured on dozens of TV shows, creating an extensive celebrity profile. She was a regular on Hudson Street, 90210, and was even featured on an episode of Seinfeld. In 2006, Loughlin won a PRISM award for Summerland for the best role in a drama series storyline.

Loughlin has recently reprised her role as Aunt Becky and appeared occasionally on Netflix's Fuller House series. Recently, John Stamos even referred to her as the one that got away! Have mercy! The chemistry between Stamos and her is still there, but just on screen. Loughlin is happily married to Massimo Giannulli. The celebrity couple has been married since 1997, and have two daughters. Previously, Loughlin was married to Michael R. Burns, a wealthy banker. Money didn't buy her heart though, as that relationship only lasted for 7 years.

Sean Lowe

You've seen him on your television screen and gossip magazine covers, and you've probably wished for a guy like him to walk into your life. He's hunky Bachelor Sean Lowe from season 17 of the popular ABC reality TV show. Born on November 16, 1983, the 31-year-old was an insurance salesman from Dallas, Texas before his small screen debut. He was first introduced to the public on The Bachelorette season 8 with Emily Maynard. He was sent home after making it to the top three, and producers quickly scooped him up for the The Bachelor season 17.

His second chance at reality TV proved successful: He proposed to Catherine Giudici on the season finale. Because Sean Lowe was a born-again virgin due to his strong Christian values, the two announced that they would wait to consummate their relationship and love until they got hitched. The happy celebrity couple got married during an ABC special on January 26, 2014. Today, Lowe is the president of The Factory Girl, a furniture and fashion store in Dallas that he founded with two of his siblings.

Joel Madden

Joel Madden and twin brother Benjamin (Benji) were born on March 11, 1979 near Washington, D.C. The singer didn't have an easy childhood: His father dealt with alcoholism and left the family, and his mother suffered from the autoimmune disease

Lupus. Madden and his siblings were forced to take a series of jobs to support their family. After going to a Beastie Boys concert, he was inspired and formed his own band with Benji and their friends called Good Charlotte. The band's demo became a local hit, and they signed with Epic Records. Unfortunately, their first self-titled album failed. In 2002, they released their second album The Young & the Hopeless, which sold over five million copies worldwide. The band's stardom continued to grow – they were known for being the “not so punk” punk band – and they even graced the cover of Rolling Stone magazine.

Joel Madden began dating Disney darling Hilary Duff when he was 25 years old and she was only 16 years old. Their age difference sparked a lot of celebrity gossip, although the famous couple denied their relationship until three months before Duff turned 18. After over two years of dating, the celebrity couple split, and Madden began seeing Nicole Richie. In 2007, the famous couple announced that they were expecting their first celebrity baby together, daughter Harlow. Two years later, they welcomed their son Sparrow. The Hollywood couple decided to make their love official and held their celebrity wedding in December 2010.

Holly Madison

Holly Madison is a former Playboy Bunny and best-selling author. She has written two relationship books, including the #1 best-seller Down the Rabbit Hole: Curious Adventures and Cautionary Tales of a Former Playboy Bunny. The book sheds some light on the details of the Playboy Mansion, former love interest Hugh Hefner, and what it is like to be a Playboy Bunny. Her second book, The Vegas Diaries: Romance, Rolling the Dice, and the Road to Reinvention details what it is like to date in Las Vegas. Madison may be best known for her reality TV show, The Girl Next Door, which like her book went behind the locked gates of the Playboy Mansion. The reality TV star was once featured on Dancing with the Stars, but unfortunately she did not last long. She had her own reality TV show, Holly's World but also appeared on other shows like CSI, Kendra, and Redwood Kings.

The former Playboy Bunny is now happily married to Pasquale Rotella. The celebrity couple had their first child together in 2013 and their second child more recently in 2016. For more talk on her second child, click here! Madison had a fairytale wedding in Disneyland, riding in on a Cinderella-like glass pumpkin, a flower-covered platform for the vows, and stunning views in front of the magical castle.

Jeannie Mai

Jeannie Mai should definitely be your go to expert if you need of some fashion advice. The correspondent was the host of How Do I Look? and has also been featured on multiple TV shows, most notably on The Today Show for the fashion segment, Fashion Tips Today. Mai also hosts The Real on FOX. The TV host began her career working for some of the most famous celebrities, serving as a makeup specialist for Christina Aguilera, Alicia Keys, and many more. She then landed a more prominent TV role on USA's Character Fantasy. She has hosted the Miss Universe pageant while also providing additional TV spots for multiple networks. Her shows and advice can help you figure out your next date night looks and keep up with the red carpet fashion.

While Mai's professional portfolio continues to expand, her personal life is thriving as well. In 2007, Mai married Freddy Harteis, the host of The Hollywood Hunter, and they have been happily married ever since. While they do not have any children yet, you can catch up with Mai's personal life on her YouTube channel, The Mai Tube.

Katie Maloney

Katie Maloney stars in Bravo's hit reality TV show Vanderpump

Rules. A waitress at Lisa Vanderpump's restaurant Sur, she plays a key role in all the drama, which mainly involves her rival Scheana Marie. Katie Maloney is also well-known for her long-term celebrity relationship with castmate Tom Schwartz. In February 2015, her celebrity love admitted to her that not only did he cheat on her once before (which she already knew of) but he also kissed another girl during a trip to Las Vegas. The famous couple has since reconciled, and Maloney recently revealed to us in our exclusive celebrity interview that she thinks a celebrity engagement is in their future. The reality TV star also runs her own style and beauty website titled Pucker & Pout.

Joe Manganiello

On December 28, 1976, Joe Manganiello was born in Pittsburgh and raised in the nearby suburb of Mount Lebanon, Pennsylvania. In school, he played varsity level football, basketball, and volleyball and was the captain of all three teams. During this time, he discovered his love of acting while making films with his friends and went on to study acting at Carnegie Mellon University. He eventually moved to Los Angeles and landed his first role in 2002 as Flash Thompson in Spiderman. Since then, he has had roles in series such as One Tree Hill, ER and How I Met Your Mother. His biggest roles have been as a male stripper in the blockbuster movie Magic Mike and the television drama True Blood as Alcide Herveaux.

During the 2009 Super Bowl, he met actress Audra Marie and the celebrity couple became engaged shortly after. However, they reportedly ended their celebrity relationship in the summer of 2011. Three years later, he began dating Modern Family actress Sofia Vergara and proposed to her during Christmas Eve of the same year after five months of dating. This famous couple tied the knot on November 22, 2015, in Palm Beach, Florida with a lavish celebrity wedding that lasted three days and reportedly cost $3 million. So far the couple has been very open about their celebrity marriage.

Lori-Ann Marchese

Lori-Ann Marchese is a reality TV star who appeared on Bravo's show Game of Crowns. She is the owner of Body Construct LLC, a fitness facility geared toward women's fitness. She has also launched her own line of nutrition supplements and is currently working on a complete exercise and nutrition program. Aside from participating in fitness pageants and modeling, Lori-Ann Marchese won the title of Mrs. Connecticut in 2013. She has a husband named John, and the famous couple has often discussed their plans for a celebrity baby on Game of Crowns.

John Mayer

John Mayer has been known to shag the hottest celebrities with his celebrity flings, but behind his laid-back womanizer persona, there is a sensitive songwriter. The singer was born on October 16, 1977 in Bridgeport, Connecticut. He began playing blues as a teenager. His singing and guitar-playing talents proved to be enough to get him into Berklee College of Music, but he dropped out after only two semesters and decided to pursue music in Atlanta with his friend Clay Cook. The two played in local coffee shops and co-wrote songs together that combined pop and rock rhythms. Eventually, Cook joined the Marshall Tucker Band, while Mayer started his own successful career.

In 2000, Mayer signed with Columbia Aware Records, and in 2001, he released his debut album called John Mayer: Room for Squares, which climbed to number eight on the Billboard 200. In 2003, he accepted his first Grammy for best male pop vocal for "Your Body is a Wonderland." That same year, his next album No Sophomore Slump hit number one on the charts, and the sentimental song "Daughters" earned him two Grammy awards. Despite its popularity, he felt that "Daughters" pigeonholed him, so he decided to take a different direction and formed a band called The John Mayer Trio, which had a more bluesy, guitar-driven feel. The singer continued to have extreme success with his next album Continuum, and it was his third studio album to go platinum. In 2009, he won two more Grammy awards for the songs "Say" and "Gravity" on Continuum. That same year, he released his next album Battle Studies, which also topped the charts.

The singer's first famous relationship was with Jennifer Love Hewitt. John Mayer admitted that he fell in love, and many questioned if his popular single "Your Body is a Wonderland" was written about the curvy actress. He soon shocked his fans when he stepped out with Jessica Simpson on New Year's Eve in 2006. After a rocky romance, the pair parted ways for good. He also briefly dated Cameron Diaz and Jennifer Aniston, and in an interview with Rolling Stone, he kisses and tells about his celebrity relationships with both women.

After two years out of the limelight, Mayer came back with a bang, releasing his latest album Born Again, which became his third album to hit number one. When it came to his relationship and love life, rumors circulated that he was with Michelle Trachtenberg, Kim Kardashian, Minka Kelly, and Taylor Swift (who may have written "Dear John" about the singer, although she never confirmed that it was inspired by him). He finally settled down with Katy Perry, and they seemed like a match made in heaven, even recording a song called “Who You Love” together. Sadly, after being on-and-off for about a year, the couple called it quits...although they were spotted together again after the 2015 Super Bowl game.

Matthew McConaughey

This celebrity hunk has graced the screens with his presence since the early '90s, and we've been in love with him from the start!
