'Bridesmaids' + 'Friends with Benefits' = 'Friends with Kids'

By Matthew Dougherty

Off the heels of last year's smash hit Bridesmaids, comes this romantic comedy which happens to contain many of the cast members of that film. Kristen Wiig, Maya Rudolph, Jon Hamm and Chris O'Dowd all return from that already classic comedy for this movie about six friends, four of whom are married to another member of the group. The two left over decide to have kids without relationship problems getting in the way. But is that ever really possible? This movie can be seen as Friends with Benefits for people in their 30's, and it could be the birth of yet another great movie romance.

Should You See It? Yes. Even though the plot is typical, the cast is fantastic and the trailer provides some funny moments. With the R rating, many of the film's funniest moments likely could not make it into the trailer. Also, how can you resist seeing Kristen Wiig and Jon Hamm on screen together again?

Who To Take: This could be a great date movie or a simple outing with your friends. That said, the R rating means that a lot of the humor may be vulgar, so maybe don't ask your mom to this one.

How do you tell if a friend can be made into more?

In Friends with Kids, the two main characters trying to conceive a child seemingly have no romantic connection.

Naturally, one seems to develop anyway, leading them to consider something more than friendship. This is something that does not just happen in the movies. Sometimes the right person for you is hiding behind a cloud of friendship. Here is how to tell when try out a romance:

1. You have a lot in common: Do you like the same movies, restaurants, or activities? If so, on some level you know how much fun you will have dating this person.

2. You have the same friends: If you have all of the same friends, you know that you like the same type of people, including each other. However, you also need to be able to be comfortable hanging out with each other one-on-one.

3. They already treat you like their significant other: Look at how your “friend” treats you. Is he nicer to you than anyone else? Are you the same way to him? Are there things that only you two know about each other? Are you comfortable with each others’ families? These are all possible signs that your friend might be relationship material, and perhaps even the best relationship you’ve ever had.

HowAboutWe.com: Where Chemistry Happens Offline

This post is sponsored by HowAboutWe.com.

If you're looking for love online and haven't found it yet, perhaps all it takes is a little offline help. You see, many singles meet potential partners online and carry on great conversations via email but sometimes that's as far as it ever goes. Or, they spend weeks, even months, emailing someone that they think could be a long-term partner but when they meet in person they realize that they have nothing in common.

Online dating is a brilliant way to meet someone new but the the real connection happens when two people are face-to-face.

That's why we were excited when we saw the launch of HowAboutWe.com's recent commercial, Chemistry Happens Offline.

HowAboutWe.com really "gets it." They influence their members to get out there and go on dates when they find an initial connection. In fact, they are so committed to this idea that they are running a very cool contest asking people to submit their own video explaining what "Chemistry Happens Offline" means to them. The video with the most votes could walk away with $1,500. Here's a look at the video we pulled together:

Remember to enter the contest and vote for your favorite video by “liking” it. Also as part of the promotion, those who sign up for HowAboutWe.com are eligible to take 33% off their subscription simply by using Coupon Code: VDAYLOVE

Here are five reasons why we at CupidsPulse.com feel that people need to go offline to find love:

1. Unflattering Photos: Some people aren’t photogenic and they actually look better in person than they do in a photo.

Someone’s personality and mannerisms can also add to a person’s attractiveness. As they say, Beauty is in the Eye of the Beholder. It’s hard to get an impression or build chemistry from a one-dimensional image.

2. Poorly Written Emails: Many people, mainly men, are not the best writers or good at expressing themselves. It’s hard to read the tone of someone’s voice or know when they are using wit and humor. Verbal communication is necessary in order to build chemistry.

3. Impersonal Connection: Even if your email chatter creates an initial spark there’s only so much you can build and sustain over the internet. Meeting offline allows you to ascertain facial expressions, eye contact, body language and host of other physical attributes.

4. Lack of Trust: You really don’t know who you’re talking to when communicating over a mobile device, or computer screen. There have been many cases where people make fake profiles, use photos from twenty years ago or they’re in a serious relationship and just looking to have fun. Meeting someone online is great initially, but if they’re reluctant to meet you in person, it could be a red flag that they aren’t being truthful.

5. No Physical Interaction: If you want to establish chemistry you need to date. You have to observe your potential love interest in various situations, everything from how he acts at a restaurant to the conversation he has with your friends to how he treats his own mother. These things can't be experienced online.

Jennifer Aniston and Paul Rudd Join a Commune in 'Wanderlust'

By Matthew Dougherty

This one comes from the director of the hit comedy Role Models, which is already a good sign. The film stars two great comedic actors, Paul Rudd and Jennifer Aniston, as a married couple who find themselves victims of the economy when Rudd's character gets fired from his job. Forced to leave their pricey sanctuary in Manhattan, the couple ends up joining a commune of sorts and begin living among them. Naturally, comedy ensues. The trailer has some pretty hysterical moments. Also, it should be noted that the movie is rated R, which is usually a good sign for comedies like this.

Should You See It? Yes, this is going to be a nice, lighthearted romantic comedy right in the middle of the all too serious Oscar season. If you like either of the stars or the director's previous film Role Models, then this is a must-see.

Who To Take: The movie looks to pack enough comedy to please the guys. Its R-rating should stir you away from seeing it with your mother. However, this might be the most fun with your group of friends on a Friday night.

Looking for a romantic getaway? Just don't join a cult.

In Wanderlust, the main couple is just looking to find a new place to let their relationship blossom. Sometimes it's necessary in relationships to escape from your everyday lives and experience something new. Here are some suggestions for romantic getaways that you will both enjoy:

1. Anyplace with a beach: Who doesn't like the beach? Plus, it can be extremely romantic at anytime during your trip. You can hang out there during the day then after dinner return for a moonlit walk in the sand.

2. An unfamiliar place with culture: Go someplace where neither of you have any connections. Immerse yourselves in the culture and walk away with new, unique experiences that are just your own.

3. Someplace that you both want to be: Compromises are a part of every relationship. Yeah, Paris might sound great to you, but he wants to see the Coliseum in Rome. Don't force him to go someplace he doesn't want to and don't just do whatever he wants. It should be a place that you both can enjoy and will remember forever.

Check Out 'The Vow' This Valentine's Day

By Matthew Dougherty

With Valentine's Day coming up, this movie is sure to be a hit. Rachel McAdams and Channing Tatum star as Paige and Leo, a happily married couple whose lives could change forever after a fateful car accident leaves Paige without the memories of their entire relationship. To make matters worse, Paige believes she is still engaged to her ex, who likes the idea of having her back. Leo must make her fall in love with him all over again.

Should You See It? Don't expect quality cinema here, but it should be a fun way to spend a night at the movies.

Who To Take: Take your mother to this one, or maybe your best friend – someone you know will enjoy the movie as much as you will and enjoy spending time with you. This is probably a bit too sappy to bring a boyfriend to, especially since the same weekend a Star Wars movie is getting re-released in 3D.

Don't want a forgettable relationship? Here are some tips to make memories that neither of you will ever forget.

Cupid's Advice:

In The Vow, all of Paige and Leo's great memories are gone, but Leo is willing to relive them to get her back. In the unlikely chance that this happens to you, you want your boyfriend or husband to do the same thing! Here are some ways to create memories you will want to revisit all the time.

1. Do something different. Typical dates are a lot of fun but there are only so many times you can do dinner and a movie. To mix things up go to an amusement park or take a day trip to somewhere neither of you have been before.

2. Keep it simple. Not every date has to be an extravagant affair. Some of the best memories can be made by doing something you would never think of doing. Stuff like stopping by the local toy store or going to the beach at night are simple, yet different enough to stand out when you think back on them.

3. Chemistry. Memories can be made simply by having great chemistry with your partner. This is where inside jokes come from that you could be joking about in your twilight years. The memories you are making will only be worth it if you have good chemistry.

What are some of your greatest date memories? Share your experiences below.

Top 10 Most Romantic Movie Locations

By Matthew Dougherty

The big day for romance is coming up, which means it's time to figure out where you might spend the holiday. Here are ten locations from great movies that if you can afford to visit, and if they are real, they would be a perfect spot to spend Valentine's Day with your significant other.

10. Hawaii- Forgetting Sarah Marshall

In Forgetting Sarah Marshall, Jason Segel's character goes to Hawaii to get over his recently ended relationship. On the trip he finds a new love in Mila Kunis. They spend their time together going to bars, hanging out on the beach, and exploring the beautiful islands. Hawaii proves to be a land of love in this great romantic comedy.

9. Forks, Washington- Twilight

The atmosphere may be gloomy, but love is in the air in this small northwestern town. Whether you are into vampires or werewolves, Forks has everything you would need for a perfect Valentine's Day. The true challenge will be trying to find a date who won't bite.

8. Aboard the Titanic- Titanic

Unfortunately, the Titanic is buried under water, but it was such a beautiful ship. And, while the plot may be mostly fictional, Kate Winslet and Leonardo DiCaprio make their love so believable that you forget what has to happen in the end, making that iceberg all the more tragic. Titanic was a perfect place to meet someone and if it hadn't sunk, it would have made a great Valentine's Day vacation.

7. Hogwarts- Harry Potter

Like any other high school, Hogwarts is a place full of drama. Whether it's the return of the Dark Lord, or the hero's first kiss, Hogwarts never feels too far off from your ordinary Muggle high school. The second half of the series saw Harry date his best friend's sister while Ron and Hermione finally get together. No love potion required.

6. 1920s Paris- Midnight in Paris

Paris on its own is perhaps the most romantic city in the world, but as portrayed in Midnight in Paris, the 1920s was the time to be there for true romance. Running into such legends as Ernest Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald, Owen Wilson's character eventually falls for a beautiful French girl, played by Marion Cotillard. This beautiful city becomes the stem from which their love blossoms.

5. The American South- The Notebook, Gone With the Wind, Forrest Gump

A lot of great love stories take place in the South. One of the earliest and most famous is Gone With the Wind, which took place in Georgia. Forrest Gump and Jenny both grew up in Alabama. The Notebook took place in South Carolina. Clearly, the South is the place to be for love.

4. Beast's Castle- Beauty and the Beast

In this tale as old as time, Belle is taken to a beautiful castle full of lively characters and one beast. But as the story goes, the beauty falls in love with the beast in this magical place. Furniture speaks when Belle and the beast choose not to.

3. Any 1980s High School- Sixteen Candles, Ferris Bueller's Day Off, The Breakfast Club

High school is a time where everyone at least partly grows into who they are meant to be. A lot of that has to do with relationships. In the 1980s, director John Hughes made three movies that got high school perfectly, while having that '80s stamp on them. Sixteen Candles, The Breakfast Club, and Ferris Bueller's Day Off all showed high school romances at their best.

Related: Weekend Date Idea in the Big Apple

2. New York- Manhattan, When Harry Met Sally, Spider-man, New Year's Eve

New York City is the setting for numerous love stories. Woody Allen saw the romance of the Big Apple in his film Manhattan.

When Harry Met Sally shows Billy Crystal and Meg Ryan fall for each other in the populated borough. Plus, who can forget the upside down kiss Spiderman and Mary Jane shared? The most recent romance in New York was New Year's Eve, a film showcasing a large number of romances. Clearly Manhattan is the place to be for love, but one other movie location beats it out...

1. Casablanca- Casablanca

Arguably the best love story ever told aside from Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Casablanca is a classic film that is all about its location. Humphrey Bogart stars as Rick Blaine, the owner of a nightclub in Casablanca. An old flame comes back into his life, and they end up rekindling their love. It is the ultimate love story, but since Casablanca is in Africa, you may just want to rent this one instead.

Valentine's Day Gift Idea: Celebrate Being Single with Ode À la ROSE

This post is sponsored by Ode À la ROSE.

This Valentine's Day don't mope around and feel bad for being alone. Celebrate being single! What better way is there to enjoy yourself than with beautiful red roses? Ode À la ROSE can help you do just that. Ode À la ROSE is a French-inspired, New York service that delivers what woman want for Valentine's Day.

Ladies don't deny yourself a day full of love just because you do not have a significant other. Include your girlfriends in the festivities as well by surprising them with a bouquet and let them know you love them for always being there for you. Don't let anyone feel alone this year on Valentine's Day. Ode À la ROSE is whimsical, romantic and fun – "Aren't you the lucky one!?”

Ode À la ROSE was recently started by two young men from France, who often turned to roses throughout their youth to seal the deal after a date, melt their mothers’ hearts and yes “help detract women from their bad actions.” Upon moving to New York, Olivier and Louis soon found out that it was impossible to get a simple and sweet bouquet of singularly beautiful roses in America. There was no reliable corner flower shop and no delivery service that offered perfectly cut, boutique-level roses while being affordable at the same time... thus, Ode À la ROSE was born.

You can be sure you are getting high quality flowers because Ode À la ROSE sells beautiful and authentically Parisian style, quality fresh rose bouquets using only the highest quality roses ensuring long lasting freshness. Also, all of the bouquets are hand-delivered the same day in a signature Ode À la ROSE gift box. The gift boxes are unlike any other and a presentation to itself. Not only will it arrive in the same day but, a photo of the bouquet is taken right before it leaves the workshop and emailed to the sender along with the exact delivery time.

Special Discount: Ode À la ROSE is offering you a 10% discount for Valentine’s Day. To enjoy 10% off on all of their products “like” Ode À la ROSE’s facebook page to obtain a promo code.

Ladies, share this with your friends and most of all... celebrate being single! Don’t miss out on beautiful flowers this Valentine’s Day, call Ode À la ROSE.

‘Modern Family’ Board Game Tests Your Trivia Knowledge about the Hit Show

This post is sponsored by Pressman Toy Corporation.

By Steven Zangrillo

The American family has seen a dramatic shift in dynamic over the last decade and nowhere is this better captured than with the razor-sharp comical edge of ABC's 'Modern Family.' This year the sitcom has been nominated again for a Golden Globe Award in the best television series – Comedy or Musical.

For those 'Modern Family' fanatics of yours, the holiday is the perfect time to surprise your loved one with a great new game to complement the hysterical show. Players test their trivia knowledge of the hit series and the three intertwined families. As they move around the board, there are five types of special spaces to land on with each one having a corresponding deck of cards including: Parenting, Family, Modern, Interview and Event cards. By selecting the cards, players may be asked to answer trivia questions, play out a charade and discuss interview topics and family events. By completing the action on the cards, players receive tokens.

Once your team has collected all 30 tokens, you must get your mover home. The player to visit each household and get back to their TV viewing couch first wins!

The 'Modern Family' Game is manufactured by Pressman Toy Corporation.

Blissful Shrinking: FaceFX Irons Away Wrinkles

This post is sponsored by Silk'n.

There are so many products on the market when it comes to improving skin texture, or reducing fine lines and wrinkles—from creams to Botox, to spa treatments and even plastic surgery. But, many of these are expensive, painful or require outside services. What if you could get a more natural, younger looking appearance in the comfort of your own home? Well—now you can!

There's an amazing new anti-aging device, FaceFX by Silk'n that allows just that. FaceFX uses a revolutionary new approach: Home Fractional Technology – a safe and effective method that provides stimulation of heat and light energy to multiple layers of your skin, without high levels of discomfort. This hand held light emitting diode (LED) device is extremely simple to use with quick results. It's used three times a week at first and once a week after that for maintenance. Each treatment session lasts 15-20 minutes and noticeable results appear within 3-7 weeks.

With winter here, who wants to trek through the snow for a youthful glow? Now is the time to ask your partner for the perfect holiday gift; one that will boost your confidence.

Right now, Silk'n is offering an exclusive holiday discount: 20% OFF FaceFX. This is an amazing offer for a very limited time (until Dec 31 2011). Go to their homepage and use DISCOUNT CODE: SEEME.

They are also having a give-away throughout the months of December and January. 1-2 free units will be given each week to individuals who "like" them on Facebook. This year, try the solution that will give you flawless skin and a great date night appearance.

Sweepstakes: TravelPro Luggage Makes the Perfect Holiday Gift

This post is sponsored by TravelPro.

By Lori Bizzoco

The race is on as couples scramble to find their partners the perfect holiday gift. I only met my husband a few years ago but we decided immediately to end the annual gift-exchange by going on vacation at the beginning of December. It's now something we do traditionally each year. There are no odd-shaped boxes to wrap, or wrong sized shirts to return. A few stress-free days is the perfect recipe during the holiday chaos.

The one thing that I do worry about is my luggage and whether or not it will survive the distance. This is based on an awful experience that took place during a recent business trip. The zipper of my 27-inch suitcase broke and I had to secure the entire bag in masking tape to hold my belongings together. I have no interest in repeating that experience.

Not to mention, with two children under the age of three-years-old, durable products are critical.

If I had owned TravelPro Luggage, the same luggage used by pilots, stewardesses and experienced travelers, I would have felt more secure. Now, everyone has the chance to win a Travelpro Rollaboard bag and The Grand Prize of 500,000 miles from the Delta SkyMiles program.

Tis' The Season to Unleash Your Inner Vixen with Naked Wine!

This post sponsored by Naked Winery.

By Kelly Kirsh

The holidays are approaching; it's time to let loose in a flirty, flavorsome, and fun way. It's a time for celebrating, party planning, and present shopping. Deciding on the perfect gift can be very challenging. However, there's nothing better than a bottle of wine for your own pleasure, whether you give it to one of your single friends, your work colleagues, or your significant other.

I recently tried and thoroughly enjoyed Naked Winery's Vixen Syrah. It has attitude and aromas that ignite the senses with silky tannins that bite and hold on. I had to read more about it on their website and found that manufacturers describe it as coy at first then comes on strong with tasteful elements of red raspberry and black cherry on the nose. I couldn't agree more. A reserve white cheddar or parmigiano reggiano with slices of Italian salami would pair nicely with this as well.

There's no denying that this is a great gift choice for everybody, whether it's for Christmas, Chanukkah, New Years, or any other upcoming occasion. It's a fun and sexy choice for you and your mate to tease, please, and get in the mood. If you're meeting new people and looking to mingle, get to know each other over a bottle. Or if you just want a humorous crowd pleaser to share with buddies and coworkers, don't pass up on Naked Winery's Vixen Syrah.

Sound like an appealing choice for you this holiday season?

Special Discount: The folks at Naked Winery are offering a whopping 30% discount on all purchases of the Vixen Syrah product to our readers, fans and followers. This is an extraordinary deal and a great opportunity to try it out. Just go to Nakedwinery.com and type in "single" for your discount code when purchasing. Let your inner fox come out this year!

In my novel, The Guys' Guy's Guide to Love, our main character, Max Hallyday, writes a column for a women's magazine doling out regular guy-style sagely advice to the ladies. He advises them about how men think and how to get them eating out of your hand. He takes a tough love approach, but he is honest and well intended. As a result...well, you'll have to pick up a copy of the book to find out what happens.

Let's follow Max Hallyday's lead and find out how to successfully advertise yourself in order to find lasting love.

Whether you're selling love or mayonnaise, the same rules apply. Here are five steps:

1. Know your target market.

Men and women spend a lot of time trying to figure each other out, but they may not take the time to explore what is going on within the culture of the opposite sex. For example, do you think guys know that today's women have different needs?

In the past, relationships had major financial implications. Guys paid. Today, women are self-sufficient, so guys need to address a woman's other needs. For guys, this is a very good thing as long as they are interested in fun, friendship and really getting to know a woman.

2. Know your brand.

Look at how challenging it is for people to draft an online dating profile. There's so much going on around us that many folks do not take the time to sort out who they really are and what they really want. They usually want a lot of things, but a lot of it is reactive and propagated by the media. Do you really need hair like Jennifer Aniston or a booty like Kim Kardashian?

3. Know what your target wants.

Yes, that means that it is not all about you. That may be news to some, because many women and men feel entitled to the object of their desire, just because. C'mon, you've been there. If single men and women shifted their focus to what their prospective paramour really needs, there would be a sea change in dating. This is an area that is most often overlooked.

4. Be fresh and fun.

It's easy to fall into line and continue following the same routine. Everyone is crazy busy, and who has the time to be creative anymore? You do. When you start thinking out of the box, your prospective partner will know and appreciate that you went the extra mile for them, whether it be a picnic for two in the park with a bottle of their favorite Chardonnay or tickets to the Met. Going the extra mile is noticed and appreciated. I still remember all the good things about a past relationship because of that stained glass window she had custom-made for me featuring a seascape since I have a place near the ocean. That was cool.

5. Ask for the order.

If you feel that you've done your homework and know who you are and who he or she is, and you still think that there is a chance that you'll avoid a battle to the death over who gets the iPad, then go ahead and let him know that you are available and that you've got what it takes to rock his world. Most likely he'll be more than appreciative. He'll be yours.

Bella and Edward Are Back in Twilight Saga: 'Breaking Dawn Part 1'

The Twilight Saga is slowly, but surely, coming to an end.

But don't start feeling sad too quickly, because the last book of the series, Breaking Dawn, is being broken into two movies. On November 18th, Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn Part 1 will bring Jacob (Taylor Lautner) and Edward (Robert Pattinson) fans together for a drama packed finale. After watching Bella (Kristen Stewart) decline Edward's proposal in New Moon just to accept it again in Eclipse, the long awaited wedding is here. On top of that, Bella becomes pregnant with a half human half vampire baby that poses threats to both the wolf pack and Cullen vampire family. Get excited!

How do you know when it's time to say "yes" to a marriage proposal?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be tough to really know when you're ready to marry someone you've been dating. The step between partners and spouses is a big one. Cupid has some things to consider:

1. Are you in love?: If you're truly in love with your partner, it may be time to make it official. If you have doubts, it's probably best to wait it out a while.

2. Why not?: If you're not getting married because of a reason like financial issues, chances are you're not ready. Go with both your gut and your heart.

3. It's just a ring: Saying "yes" to a proposal doesn't mean you'll be signing a wedding certificate the next day. If the love is there, say "yes" and continue working on your relationship. If you change your mind, call the wedding off. It's not preferable, but at least the option is there.

Hosting a Girl's Night In Just Got a Lot Easier with Rustic Crust Pizza

This post is sponsored by American Flatbreads and Rustic Pizza.

By Lauren Kochendarfer

When the temperature starts to drop outside, nothing excites me more than getting together with my BFF's for a Girls' Night In! But, given my hectic schedule (work, school, boyfriend), it's hard to find time to prepare a meal for everyone. Not to mention, the cost of hosting a party isn't cheap. So, when I was introduced to American Flatbread and Rustic Pizza, it alleviated a lot of the pressure.

American Flatbread is an all natural pizza that is crafted from scratch and par-baked in a wood-fired earthen oven. It makes entertaining so easy. All you do is bring it home and it's ready in 7 minutes. It tastes so good you could even fool your friends into thinking you're a top chef by heating, slicing and serving these as bite-size appetizers while "wowing" your girlfriends in the process.

Rustic Crust is the ONLY ready-made pizza of it's kind because it's crusts can be stored naturally without refrigeration for several months. It rains, it snows, the girls cancel-no worries. The unopened packages will stay good on the shelf until you reschedule the party for a later date. Rustic Crust has really mastered the art of pizza. The ingredients are natural and nutritious and each bite is fully packed with rich flavor. The best news is that it's available in individual-size portions as well as organic and gluten-free. For all the single ladies out there, don't worry because it won't leave you feeling guilty or bloated for that upcoming weekend date.

Both products are fast, convenient and provide a much healthier dinner option compared to take-out. They're also so easy to prepare and clean up that you'll be able to spend more time catching up with your guests and doing the things you love.

So the next time you and your friends get together or your wondering what to make for dinner, make it delicious and stress free with American Flatbreads and Rustic Crust Pizza.

Movie Review: 'Jack and Jill' is Full of Family Fun

Adam Sandler is at it again! The comedic genius and actor has come out with a Thanksgiving family fun movie, Jack and Jill. Sandler follows in the footsteps of Eddie Murphy by playing both the parts of Jack Sadelstein and his identical twin sister, Jill. Jack dreads when his needy sister, Jill, visits his family every Thanksgiving, because she always seems to ruin everything. Jack's wife (Katie Holmes) and kids, must deal with the sibling bickering. If Sandler can pull off Eddie Murphy's The Nutty Professor routine, Jack and Jill will have you laughing from start to finish.

How do you handle your partner's family feuds?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating someone means dating their family-espically during the holidays. It can be hard to know your place when your partner and his family feud over the dinner party. Here's how to be supportive of your partner without disrespecting his family:

1. Don't jump in: Your partner will tell you if they need to tag you in on a family fight. Keep your thoughts to yourself, unless you're asked to share them.

2. If asked, keep it neutral: When put in the middle of a feud, state facts that will make both sides happy. Never pick a side.

3. Don't play dumb: If you get in the middle, don't walk away without attempting to help diffuse the situation. It may seem like minding your own business is a good idea, but your partner may lose faith in you, and his family may abandon their respect for you.

The "Choose Health Challenge" Sponsored By BistroMD

This post is sponsored by BistroMD.

By Lauren Kochendarfer

Today, many of us are living busy chaotic lives and don't have time to eat right. Instead we reach for fast food, vending machines and items that are convenient. These unhealthy diet choices not only hurt us physically, they can wreak havoc on our emotional well-being and self-esteem. Even worse, it can cause unwanted weight gain and impact your dating and social life. As if that isn't reason enough to stop! Now, delivery meal system, BistroMD has come up with a contest, "Choose Health Challenge," that asks people to make one simple change towards a lifetime of healthy choices.

As soon as I heard about this, I jumped on board! Change one thing. Eat healthy. Maybe win a prize?

It's always been so much easier for me to stop at a fast food drive thru after work than prepare a healthy meal once I'm home. When I heard about the BistroMD "Choose Health Challenge" I decided to make one small change to my diet by eating one healthy meal a day – at dinner. I am participating in this challenge with my boyfriend and we have vowed to prepare and sit down together each evening with a healthy well-balanced meal. This has not only improved my life emotionally and romantically, but I lost weight as well! It may be only one small change, but it can lead to a lifetime of healthy choices. For example, even if I've eaten something "bad" earlier in the day, ending with a healthy dinner can be motivation to start the next day right!

Now you too can participate in this "Choose Health Challenge" by visiting Facebook and telling BistroMD how you will challenge yourself to start living healthy. This is a chance to win great prizes like a week of healthy weight loss meals, an iPad2, or even a $500 shopping spree or cash!

BistroMD hand-prepares well balanced meals by their chefs and uses quality, natural ingredients without hormones, added fillers and unnecessary additives or preservatives. This means no MSG, no Trans Fats, just delicious meals that are good for you. Five days of meals start as low as $129.95 a week.

Want to commit to a lighter and healthier you? BistroMD.com is offering FREE Shipping on your first week of meals. Simply Use Discount Code: ChooseHealth at checkout.

HowAboutWe.com: Two Dates for the Price of One

This post is sponsored by HowAboutWe.com.

By Amy Calhoun

When I received the opportunity to try out HowAboutWe.com, I was a bit skeptical. But only a few days after posting my profile, I started to receive interest from men in my inbox. Most of the members who messaged me used a feature called, 'I'm Intrigued.' It was flattering to be 'intrigued' by people but nothing more really came of it. After a while, it felt like a cop-out and the connections began to feel sterile and less intimate.

One of the main features of HowAboutWe.com is that you can post on your profile the type of date you wish to have with someone. I played around with a few different date ideas including a simple one about going out for Sushi. After my second week on the site, a message came in my inbox that made my heart skip a beat. The note was personal and created especially for me by a guy named Eric. After messaging back and forth a few times, we exchanged phone numbers. Keeping my expectations low, so as not to get my hopes smashed to little pieces, I put Eric in the back of my mind. To my surprise, a couple of days later, he contacted me and asked me out to lunch. We set a date, time and place and I secretly counted down the days.

Once the day of our date arrived, I woke up feeling a little bit different. I could not explain why but the process of picking out my outfit, putting on my make-up and anticipating what the afternoon was going to hold for me, shook me up a little bit inside. As I drove to the restaurant, thoughts kept swirling around in my head. What if this guy is a total dud? What if he looks nothing like he does in his photos online? Deep breaths, Amy.

It had been a while since I had gone on a date and I was feeling a bit nervous. I walked up to the restaurant, pulled open the door and walked in. He had told me he was sitting on the left side of the restaurant and when I saw him I felt a wave of relief; he looked even better than his photos! We decided what kind of sushi we were going to get and each ordered a roll that the other one had never tried before; I was determined to make him a believer of eel avocado. After chowing down all of our sushi and exchanging our “saved” stories (another feature exclusive to HowAboutWe.com), we realized that the waiters were giving us dirty looks. What had started as a lunch date was now overlapping into dinner. He had picked up the check an hour ago but we couldn’t stop talking. We finally left and said our goodbyes. It was an amazing first date. That evening Eric texted me for a second date for that very same week.

I want to take this time out to thank HowAboutWe.com. Prior to signing up for this site, I felt that I had lost my ability to date. I was having absolutely no luck meeting guys. If nothing else, HowAboutWe.com gave me the confidence to hold my head up high and get back into my groove again.

Since writing this post, Eric and I did go on our second date and this week we are onto our third. For anyone who was ever skeptical about online dating, this really can work. And now, HowAboutWe.com is offering a One Month FREE TRIAL. Simply use this discount code: ‘FallDating’. Take it from me, you don’t want to miss out on a potential opportunity.
