Match.com's Sixth Annual #SinglesInAmerica Dating Advice: Study Proves a Second Date is More Crucial for Long-Term Love

Cupid's Pulse
★ Celebrities. Love. Opinions. ★

This post is sponsored by Match.com.

By Samantha Vlahos

Calling all singles! Has this past Valentine's Day gotten you down? Are you still determined to find love in 2016? If so, you're in luck! Over the holiday weekend, Match.com hosted a live stream event and shared their sixth annual Singles In America study at The Rickey at Dream Midtown in New York City. This year's study explored dating during the election year, how to ditch your ex when you return to the dating world and also confirmed that a second date is more important than the first.

Match.com Reveals Dating Advice For Singles In America

The First Date Playbook: Recipes for Second-Date Fate

The first date blues. It gets us all. You are constantly going on dates and cannot seem to find a spark with anyone. Don't worry, it's not just you. According to Match.com's study, 59% of singles do not expect to feel chemistry until the second date, and over a third of singles don't expect passion to erupt until the third date or later.

So, instead of putting so much focus on the first date, start thinking about the second one. And, the study shows that the best way to get a second date is with sushi! Yes, going out for sushi on the first date increases your chance of a second date by 200%. There's just something intriguing about sharing a sushi roll and teaching your date how to use chopsticks, that makes them want to ask you out again!

The Ex Factor: Letting Go and Moving On

Who classifies as an ex these days? Over 50% of singles believe you have to date more than three months to count someone as an ex, with 32% of women believing you have to date someone for over a year to consider them in that category.

Post-breakup dating is one of the most challenging aspects of dating these days. With today's technology and our society's infatuation with social media, it's almost impossible to not keep up with your ex after a breakup. No matter what the circumstances, remember that you should never talk about an ex during a date. Talking about or asking about an ex will diminish your chances of furthering the relationship. At the start of a relationship, you should focus on learning about the person versus worrying about their past. Learning about a person's past relationships will come naturally later if you stay together.

The Single Vote: Politics in Dating

According to the study, a good discussion on any political issue can boost your chances of a second date by 91 percent. Of this, 25% of singles say "not being registered to vote" is an instant deal-breaker, while 35% will not consider dating someone who "does not have an opinion on key political issues."

So, is it politically correct to assume that the dating life of a Republican and Democrat are really that different? Yes, it is. Match has noted that in this election year, the study also reveals the significant, yet subtle similarities and differences between single Republicans and Democrats.

Democrats, are you thinking about marriage? If so, bring it up on the first date! The topic will increase your chances for a second. As for you Republicans, going out for an expensive dinner increases your chances for a second date by 50 percent.

As the Match.com Singles In America survey reveals and Dr. Fisher says, "We're so focused on the first date, but the big deal is to get the second date." Dating today is constantly changing with the help of technology, but remember not to put too much pressure on the first date. Go to a simple dinner, get to know the person and give the second date a real shot!

With the holiday season in full swing, it's easy to have a family meltdown or a fight with your significant other. According to Mathew Dooley, co-founder of Kapture, an audio-recording wristband that allows you to save and share moments in your life, the root cause of these fights is that people aren't listening. The technology of Kapture Audio allows you to “capture” the last 60 seconds of audio around you from the sleek wrist band design and allows you to save and send it to your smartphone. Once you hear something worth remembering – a great joke, a brilliant quote, or even a verbal contract – you can tap the watch in order to “capture” and it saves the audio from the last 60 seconds and stores it to your smartphone. You can also share, edit and publish the clips with the Kapture App. This technology can even save your relationship and love. Its inherent relationship advice is to become a better listener and a better partner this holiday season.

Relationship Advice On Kapturing The Moments That Count

With Kapture, you and your partner will enjoy how easy it is to make memories that will last a lifetime! The wrist band has an all day battery life for those of you who are always on the go. It is iOS and Android compatible, has Bluetooth connectivity, an omni-directional mic, vibration and LED notifications and more. The wrist band also has a variety of color options to choose from. You can choose a color for the wrist band as well as a separate color for the grill. Our date idea is to wear the Kapture wrist band on your next night out. It's definitely a must-have for those couples on the go.

Creators Mike and Matt believe that this will enhance moments and the relationships and love that matter in our lives. Our relationship advice is to use this technology to bond with your partner. Kapture says “I’m listening.” Whether you’re both in a coffee shop, walking down the street together, on vacation, or even hear a song that you both take interest to. This wrist band is more than just technology. It is something that you and your partner can create memories with as well as a hot playlist!

Find Your ‘Clutch’: Relationship Advice from Author Lisa Becker

By Samantha Vlahos

Being a single gal gets difficult from time to time. There are only so many failed date ideas one can endure before wanting to give up on the idea of finding the one. Lisa Becker's hit new romance chick lit, titled clutch: a novel, follows protagonist Caroline Johnson as she endures many dating misadventures. The single purse designer compares her unsuccessful relationships and love to different styles of handbags, and with her best friend by her side, she wears her heart on her sleeve and continues to search for her "clutch," that special someone that she wants to hang onto.

In our exclusive author interview, the dating expert gives us a glimpse behind the evolution of clutch and reveals her best relationship advice about online dating and having the courage to find true love. And the best part? If you're still searching for the perfect gift this holiday season, the Takashi bag by Harper Avenue is a must-have holiday item. Use the discount code below for 20 percent off!

The Takashi bag by Harper Avenue.

Relationship Advice to Help You Find Your Clutch

We're so excited to read your fourth book clutch: a novel! What inspired you to write about Caroline and her dating misadventures?

I'm a sucker for a good love story and enjoy creating fun and engaging tales that are filled with lots of heart and humor.

Why did you decide to compare men to handbags?

When I was writing the Click trilogy, (Click: An Online Love Story, Double Click, and Right Click), I was obsessed with NCIS re-runs and would have the show on in the background as I wrote. There was an episode when one of the characters mentioned that men were like purses: something useless to hang on a woman's arm. I started thinking about that, and the idea grew from there. I believe that everyone deserves a happily ever after and would like to think there's a "clutch," or someone worth holding onto, out there for everyone.

Related Link: Clicking to Find Love

What surprising revelations about love does Caroline learn throughout the novel?

Throughout her handbag-themed journey to find her “clutch,” Caroline learns a few important lessons. Most notably, she realizes that being able to talk honestly with your partner is the cornerstone of a solid relationship. Also, there’s never anything wrong with being with someone that makes you happy.

What is the main message that you hope readers take away from your book?

Sometimes, the love you want, deserve, and need is right there in front of you all along. You just need to be open to it.

You’ve been married for over 10 years. How does that influence or help shape your writing?

I never thought I would get married, so some days, I still pinch myself that I’ve got a loving, hilarious, and intelligent husband. Writing these books reminds me of how lucky I am to have met him.

What suggestions do you have for women who repeatedly find themselves on unsuccessful dates or are searching for the courage to find love?

In the modern classic film, The Shawshank Redemption, Tim Robbins’ character, Andy Dufresne, says, “Get busy living or get busy dying.” That quote comes to mind when I think about searching for the “clutch.” If you feel like it’s not going to happen, then my relationship advice is to just give up. You heard me. GIVE UP! Surrender to that notion that you’ll end up alone. If that’s truly the case, do you want to spend the next 30, 40, or even 50-plus years wallowing in misery? Sitting around and lamenting your singleness? Or are you going to get busy living? Buy your own home. Travel to all of the places you want to visit. Adopt a child. Write that novel. Engage in hobbies and activities that bring you joy.

Chances are, when you start focusing on what will make you happy – not who will make you happy – you WILL be happy. Happiness is evident and infectious. Happiness makes you more interesting and more attractive to someone else. And when that happens, you're more likely to meet the right person who's going to complement the amazing life you've created for yourself.

Related Link: Four Dates and a Wedding

You met your husband through an online dating site. What is your best tip for our readers who are struggling to get past the creeps and find a genuine guy?

Connecting with the right person online starts with you. When writing your online profile, be honest. Don't say you're an exercise junkie if you're really a couch potato. Don't post a photo from 10 years earlier. Don't downplay your intelligence or success because you think men will be intimidated by the real you. While you might garner a lot of interest early on, the truth will eventually come out. Nothing stunts a budding relationship and love more than deception and lies.

Also, my love advice is to let your personality shine through and be specific about the things that make you special, including hobbies and interests. It's your chance to make a positive first impression while being in complete control of the messages you are delivering.

The main character in my novel, Click: An Online Love Story, writes in her profile: "I cry at Hallmark commercials, sing (sometimes off key) with the radio while driving, own more pairs of black shoes than should be legal, and my fear of flying is rivaled only by my love for chocolate." My relationship advice is to tell someone who you really are, including your sense of humor, interests and confidence level.

Be creative!

You balance working and writing with being a full-time mom – not an easy task! Any advice for other working moms?

Organization is key! I have a master to-do list that I update weekly to keep track of school projects, sports practices and games, and after-school activities as well as all of my personal deadlines and appointments. If you were given an offer to turn clutch into a movie, who would you want to see playing the roles of Caroline and Mike?

I think Eloise Mumford, who played Kate in Fifty Shades of Grey, would make an outstanding Caroline. She has the right mixture of warmth, gumption, vulnerability, and beauty to bring this character to life. I still can't decide on who would play Mike, although I know I'd love to sit in on those casting sessions.

Do you have any other upcoming projects or anything else you'd like to share with our readers?

clutch actually started out as a screenplay that was under option at a major studio, but it fell out of development. I turned it into a short novel so I could share this charming

By Katelyn Di Salvo

Looks like Broadway has some competition on it's hands with Paper Mill Playhouse's latest never-before-seen musical show, The Bandstand. This play makes for a perfect weekend date idea with your loved one.

Paper Mill Playhouse is a not-for-profit organization that has been entertaining audiences with their live theatre performances since 1938! Now, the regional theater group is launching it's exciting 2015-2016 season with, The Bandstand. A sizzling new big-band swing musical that features live band music, explosive choreography and a beautifully crafted narrative.

Weekend Date Idea: Check Out the Musical Show That's Giving Broadway a Run For It's Money

The Bandstand tells the story of a mismatched band of military veterans, joined together by the driven and inspired character of Donny Novitski, played by the very talented actor and singer Corey Cott. The band competes in a national radio contest in New York City, where the winners will receive instant stardom! While on their journey to fame, the group struggles with complicated relationships, the demands of the competition and the challenging after-effects of the war. This makes winning the contest seem like nothing more than a fantasy. The plot thickens as a love story develops between Donny and Julia (played by Tony Award nominee Laura Osnes).

Cott and Osnes have been friends for a few years and have incredible chemistry on stage. Cott describes working with Osnes as "a dream come true."

What makes this play so incredibly unique compared to other Broadway shows is that a portion of the music is integrated into the story and played live on stage. There are 12 pieces in the orchestra pit and six pieces on stage. This can be extremely difficult to manage, but works so well in The Bandstand.

The cast of 'The Bandstand.'

The play is directed and choreographed by Tony Award winner, Andy Blankenbuehler, who describes the live music on stage as, "a very big sound, a sound that will get people out of their seats and dancing." The play also features a book and lyrics by Richard Oberacker and Robert Taylor and stars Tony Award winner Beth Leavel. The musical numbers are charged with emotion and leave you hanging onto every note. Cott and Osnes pour their souls into every number and really dedicate themselves to their character.

Aside from The Bandstand, Paper Mill Playhouse has a line up of great shows including, A Christmas Story, The Bronx Tale, Pump Boys and Dinettes and Westside Story! Located in Millburn, New Jersey it's like having Broadway in your backyard!

Keep Your Eyes Peeled For These Must-Watch Episodes and Love Advice

1. "Kiss and Tell" (Season 1, Episode 7): This episode marks the true start of Rory and Dean's whirlwind relationship, as he gives Rory her first kiss in the middle of a grocery store aisle. Romance is rarely as glamorous and smoothly-planned as it seems on television, so this episode provides a refreshing take on this milestone and shows that it's okay for love to be clumsy.

2. "The Breakup, Part 2" (Season 1, Episode 17): Seeing Rory utterly heartbroken over the end of her and Dean's short-lived romance broke not only our hearts but also Lorelai's. Attempting to overcome her split with a rebound kiss from the irresistible Tristan, played by Chad Michael Murray, Rory shows us that sometimes nothing can heal heartache, not even a steamy lip-lock. Rory leaves Tristan to wallow at home, demonstrating that grieving is totally acceptable.

3. "They Shoot Gilmores, Don't They?" (Season 3, Episode 7): This episode has everything: choreographed dance numbers, love triangles, and the start of Rory and Jess (who were actually a celebrity couple in real life for four years!). Although it's heartbreaking to see Dean call it off with Rory (again), watching Lorelai come and save the day reinstates that she's the best mom in the world. The episode reminds us that the end of one relationship opens the door to many others.

4. "Raincoats and Recipes" (Season 4, Episode 22): Lorelai finally opens up her dream Dragonfly Inn for a test-run, and her life finally appears to be going uphill. On the opposite side, Rory uncharacteristically loses her virginity to Dean, who is married. All the while, Lorelai's parents admit to being separated. This episode is an emotional roller coaster from the beginning, and it lets viewers see how chaotic and confusing love can be.

5. "Written in the Stars" (Season 5, Episode 3): This episode was long-awaited by many fans: Luke and Lorelai finally go on their first official date together. Luke proves to be more caring than he appears after he shows Lorelai he has saved the horoscope she gave him eight years ago. This episode proves that soulmates really do exist and that Luke and Lorelai are meant to be, even though it took an extremely long time for them to figure that out!

6. "Wedding Bell Blues" (Season 5, Episode 13): On the 100th episode, Lorelai's parents rekindle their relationship and love and renew their vows, while Rory and Logan almost make their romance official. This episode highlights that every relationship can survive rough patches. After all, the stubborn Emily and Richard were able to find their way back to each other again.

~~GIVEAWAY ALERT: If you're looking to expand your Gilmore Girls memorabilia, then we have the perfect fan pack for you! The bag will include a Luke's Diner coffee mug, an "I drink more coffee than a Gilmore" t-shirt, a 9 piece candle set, a mouse~~

If you want to be successful, there's no doubt you'll have to put in some serious time at the beginning of your career to make it happen.
