Cupid's Advice:

Planning to move in with each other can be a big step for your relationship. To benefit the needs of your partner or yourself, you may have to relocate. Cupid has some advice on what to consider when choosing a place to live with your partner:

1. Show your partner the places that you like: Start the conversation by explaining the reasons why you like this area. Remember to mention things that they are interested in as well. If they like to go the gym, tell them about the local fitness center down the street.

2. Find a compromise: You won't always agree on everything, but it is important to reach a mutual agreement. Don't assume that they will love everything about the place you want to live. Try to consider the problematic areas: distance from work, school system for your children, and the nearest family member. Don't say that "it will all work out", rather, try to make the transition a little easier.

3. Eliminate the negatives: After reaching a compromise, you'll have to figure out what you want to do about it. Start with the process of elimination. Cross off the things you can do without like going to a coffee shop every day or the daily jog in the nearby park. Look for ways to accommodate these changes.

Celebrity Break-Up: 'Bachelor' Alum Tia Booth and Boyfriend Cory Cooper Split After 1 Year Together

By Ahjané Forbes

Tia Booth is singing “Single Ladies” in celebrity news after ending her relationship with her celebrity ex, Cory Cooper. The two had dated for a year before their split. According to UsMagazine.com, Chad Johnson, a Bachelor Nation alum, publicly accused Booth of cheating on Cooper. The reality TV star responded to Johnson’s accusations, asking if his Instagram had been hacked. Booth released a statement on Instagram, saying, “I am fine. He is fine. At this stage of life, we are better as friends. He is a very private person and will freak when he reads this, but I wanted to address it myself.”

In celebrity break-up news, Tia Booth hesitantly confirmed her split on social media. What are some factors to consider before sharing relationship details on social media?

Cupid's Advice:

Making a break-up known can be hard. Whether it not to rip off the band aid and share it on social media is a tough decision. Cupid has some advice on how to post the ending of your relationship online:

1. Are you ready to admit that it is over?: Your feelings matter. How you move forward with the way you tell people about your ex is your decision. You don't owe anyone any explanations. Also, if it wasn't clear to you if you can rekindle this relationship, talk to your ex about it. Don't say anything until you're positive that it is truly over.

2. If your ex is ready to share: Believe it or not some people would rather keep every detail of their life private. A breakup is no different. You both should agree on the way that you want to tell others that you are no longer together.

3. How will you tell the whole world?: You don't want to air your dirty laundry on social media. Try to do this from a professional standpoint. This is easier said than done, but using words like "we have come to a mutual agreement" or "we value each other and always will, but..." This shows maturity and will not make either party a target for trolls.

Celebrity News: Miley Cyrus Reacts to Comparisons of Her Recent Romances

By Ahjané Forbes

In celebrity news, Miley Cyrus is definitely throwing that wrecking ball all over the place after changing her celebrity relationship status for the third time. The former Hannah Montana star confirmed that she and her former girlfriend, Kaitlynn Carter, split in late September. Shortly after, Cyrus announced that she and Cody Simpson are now a celebrity couple. On October 3rd, the singer tweeted to her fans, “Get used to me dating- this is where I am at! #HotGirlFall.” The new duo are very comfortable with each other each other, displaying PDA and sharing a history. According to UsMagazine.com, Simpson says that the two met at the wrong time originally. “We had a lot of fun then ... but now we’ve found each other in a space where we’re not partying, working real hard and just like [to] keep things healthy,” she said.

In celebrity news, Miley Cyrus is seemingly not amused with comparisons being done on her relationships. What are some ways to keep your past relationship from affecting your current relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Even though it is not traditional to jump from relationship to relationship, Miley is showing us that there is nothing wrong with doing so. Being a #HotGirl is a trending hashtag that is boosting everyone’s confidence. This was made in the hopes that women would feel more comfortable in themselves and moving on from broken relationships. Cupid has some advice on how to use that hot girl energy when dating someone new:

1. Don’t compare: Ladies, we all do this! However, if you are trying to move on with your new boo, don’t compare the two! Try to look for similar qualities like chivalry and taste in music. Don’t make your new bae your ex bae 2.0.

2. Do new things: Try not to relive the past through this person. Take them to new places, so you can make new memories. Show them your playful side! Jump out of a plane together, or get tickets for a concert of a band you've never seen live. Keep things new and fresh.

3. Be open to change: While you look for similarities between you and your new partner, also look for differences. They might not be your "usual" type of partner, but don't give up on them too easily. Try to compromise. If they are more introverted, plan your dates at a more personal level. Taking a walk while holding hands or baking a cake together are two low-key ideas. If they are more extroverted, then you won't have any problems finding out what they want to do. If they tell you what they want to do that's outside of your comfort zone, consider doing it anyway!

Fitness Trend: Throw Around The Pigskin This Thanksgiving

By Ahjané Forbes

Thanksgiving is a time when we spend time with our family eating turkey and ham with all the fixings. This holiday is notorious for excessive weight gain, cooler temperatures, and, of course, football. Many NFL teams play on this holiday because of the gain of viewership, since most people have the day off from work. Rival teams play to be crowned the winner while die-hard fans are screaming at their screens with excitement, anger, or a little bit of both. The first ever championship game on Turkey Day was between Yale University and Princeton in 1876, though college football is now held the day after on Black Friday. Spending time with your family watching football can create many memories, but getting out here and playing football with your family can determine whose house dinner will be at for next year!

It's time to throw around the pigskin this Thanksgiving! What are some ways this fitness trend can provide health benefits?

Exercise: After eating and waiting for your food to digest, exercise can come in handy. Although you can't gain weight from one single big meal, it is very important to exercise to keep your body healthy! Football is a game that the whole family can participate in. Split the family into teams (children vs children and adults vs adults). Play the four quarters, have a water boy, cheerleaders, a referee, and of course, fans! Everyone will be involved and getting much-needed exercise!

Reduction of Stress: Releasing endorphins can make your body react better to pain. This will create a more positive feeling throughout your whole body. Stress for the duration of several weeks can cause a weakened immune system, high blood pressure, fatigue, and depression. Exercise can make your body happier, stress-free, and healthier.

Related Link: Dating Advice for Your First Thanksgiving as a Couple

Bonding: Not every member of your family has been there since the very beginning. Some married into it, and some were born into it. Getting them involved in a game of football can make them feel like a part of the family. Make the new baby giggle and laugh when a touchdown is made, or have the new spouse be a part of the team or keep score. They will feel welcomed!

Mental health: People who suffer from seasonal disorders can be feeling a bit under the weather around Thanksgiving. Playing or watching football with family can improve someone's mood. The "feel good" aspects that football has on a person's well-being may lift their spirits. This distraction can take your family members' minds off of their daily struggles!

Related Link: Health Tips: Where Intermittent Fasting Goes Wrong

Tradition: Playing football on Thanksgiving with the family can easily turn into a tradition to pass down for years to come. It is a way to add a little more excitement to the holiday and celebrate the importance of family.

Love: People who do not like football usually don't know how the sport works. Learn how the plays are called, how many points a touchdown is, what a fumble and penalty flag are, when a field goal or punt is considered and how to know if you are off-sides. Learning these things can make someone fall in love with the game of football. It can also help if you are seeing the game in person.

Cardio: Speaking of love, what better way to take care of your heart than by throwing around the football? Moving your muscles can pump more oxygen into your blood stream and heart. Increasing the levels of oxygen in your lungs can get rid of waste in your body.

What are some ways you can exercise with your family this Thanksgiving? Let us know in the comments below!

Beauty Tips: Fall Makeup Looks for Thanksgiving Dinner

By Ahjané Forbes

Just because you have to switch up your makeup slightly does not mean you can't still look on fleek. It's very easy if you use the mauve color palette and don't mind mixing and matching colors. Cupid has some beauty tips you can use to look stunning while eating a turkey leg.

You want to look cute for the family photos, but you're not sure what type of makeup you should wear. How can you achieve a fierce Fall look for Thanksgiving? Here are some beauty tips.

1. Arch those brows: Finding a perfect way to do your eyebrows is a process. Make sure you shape your eyebrows before you start. You can shape them yourself with an eyebrow shaver or go to a salon to get them threaded or waxed. Eyebrow crayons are also a good option, because they are made to last longer than eyebrow pencils and are a lot easier to use. Brushes are also a big help in volumizing those fine hairs. If you are one of those people who hate the eyebrow styling process entirely, you can try a tint and sculpting or microblading at a salon.

2. Natural colored eyeshadow: Start with an eyeshadow that is close to your skin complexion. Apply a deep red or orange around the outer portion of your eyelid. You can get creative and mix a nude with a dark red or brown to add an outline to the lower portion of the lid. Blend all the colors together and see how it looks. If you really want your look to pop, add a glittery gold eyeshadow on the section that still has that natural look. Don't forget to add lashes as well!

Related Link: Beauty Trend: Make Your Eyes Pop

3. Bare those nudes!: Fall is a time to embrace your skin color. Match your skin tone and work from there! Add your primer. For your foundation, you can use color! Again, you don't want it to look bright, but you can get away with a dark color. Use a burgundy or mahogany for the foundation. Yes, it will look weird at first, but you you'll end up blending it. Now, apply concealer. This is where you can get away with a little color to blend out that foundation. Choose a shade up from your normal color. Make sure to apply it under your eyes! Use a brush for application and a beauty blender to even out the colors.

4. Highlight your beauty: Even though you're trying to obtain a subtle look, you can still use a little highlighter. Use a contour that closely matches your hair color. Work with the glitter eyeshadow that you used on your eyes. You can go for a softer look with a highlight that isn't so bright as well. For it to be more noticeable, apply it above your contour, straight down your nose, and outline your top lip and under your eyebrows.

5. Kiss me: You have freedom in this part! Glossy and matte lipsticks both work for this look. Stick to the Fall theme by wearing a dark red or brown. If you used mahogany or burgundy for your foundation, bring your look full circle with that color! When done, you can use a setting powder (lasts longer) or spray to savor the look!

Now you're ready to spend time with your family and look absolutely fabulous! Let us know how you plan to turn heads at the dinner table in the comments below.

Celebrity Break-Up: Kenya

Moore's Husband Marc Daly Reportedly Had Multiple Affairs Before Split

In celebrity news, former Real Housewives of Atlanta star, Kenya Moore, is filing for a celebrity divorce from her husband Marc Daly. The celebrity couple has been married since June 2017 and share their 11-month old daughter, Brooklyn. Moore has requested her privacy at this time, while her soon-to-be celebrity ex husband has not commented.

In celebrity break-up news, Kenya Moore's estranged husband may have cheated on her with multiple people. What do you do if you find out your partner is cheating?

Cupid's Advice:

It's a hard pill to swallow when you find out that your partner has been having an affair with another person. It's even harder to accept the fact that you have been "replaced". Being upset is a normal emotion to feel at a time like this. However, how do you deal with this realistically? Cupid has some advice on how to deal with your lover's cheating ways:

1. Talk about it: Now, this is easier said than done. If you haven't given your partner a chance to explain him or herself, then you won't really know what's happening. Nobody likes hearing the potential unfaithful person's perspective, but it's important to talk to your partner before you take any further action. It is also important to point out any noticed changes in your love life. Tell your partner that you've notice the change in behavior. This will let them know that you are still paying close attention to them.

2. Go to therapy sessions: If a conversation is not obtainable, please seek professional help. Tell the therapist what's happening and how you feel about this. Your partner should also be willing to attend sessions to take steps to repair your relationship, if that's something you're willing to do. Try to let them tell their side of the story without interrupting. This will be the only way to get them to open up. Also, try to talk about how things were prior to the infidelity. This will help target a sequence of events and a timeline.

3. Don't rush a decision: If you have children, this may affect them as well. Consider them as well when you're deciding how to move forward with your partner. Don't make any hasty decisions. As much as you may want to leave, take some time to think. Your partner's actions may not be justifiable, but choosing a plan of action in the heat of the moment is not a good move. Distance yourself and talk about the important things that involve your children or your household. If there's no repairable solution to fix your relationship, and they are living a separate life, take steps to tell your children what's going on and start filing for a divorce.

In celebrity baby news, Jenna Dewan is preparing to welcome her second child – her first with Steve Kazee. What are some ways to prepare for the birth of your second child?

Cupid’s Advice:

Welcoming a little one into the world can be very time consuming and stressful if you aren’t prepared. Having your second child should be easier, right? Not exactly! Sometimes it can be easier if you have the same gender as you did previously, especially if you have a lot of baby clothes and bottles left over. Babies have a mind of their own just like humans. They can’t directly tell you how they’re feeling, but you’ll catch their drift once they start crying. The second can be tricky and different for everyone. Cupid has some tips and tricks to help you through this journey:

1. Don’t assume this will be easy: Every child and pregnancy is different. Try to keep an open mind, especially with the second child. Even though this is the second child, there’s still a lot to learn about being a parent. Also, if you aren’t the one having the child, be there for your partner.

2. Don’t compare the two children: When the baby is born, it’s okay to assume who they look like and whose personality they might have. It is important that you try to not compare your children in the beginning stages of life. Yes, they might do some of the same things that older brother or sister do/did, but it's not a good habit to keep comparing the two. You want your baby to be their one person and not a younger version of your first child.

Some couples live separate lives, but stay together in order to please their family members. This is not the best idea especially when you are not happy being with this person. Cupid has some relationship advice when it comes to telling your family and friends about your divorce:

1. Don’t break the news at a family event: This can become awkward very quickly. You don’t want to ruin a fun filled event with some bad news. Avoid making any “grand entrance” with news about a separation. You don’t want to be put on the spot to answer private questions about your relationship.

Even if it is the other person’s fault try not to be petty about what happened. Accepting what when wrong is the first part of the healing process. Learn how to tell the story in a positive light. Use words like “this was the best decision for us” or “we’ve come to a mutual agreement”. Not only is this mature, but this language will be best for telling important people like your children.

Seeing the “positive” come up on a pregnancy test for many women can be very exciting. Welcoming a bundle of joy to the family can be the happiest time in a woman's life. However, some pregnancies result in a miscarriage and can leave a heavy impact behind. It's not easy to uplift a person who has just encountered something traumatic. Cupid has some advice that will help you and your partner get through this difficult time:

1. Don't expect them to tell you how they are feeling right away: Everyone has a different way of processing hurtful situations. It's important that you keep an open heart and be mindful of the situation. Avoid saying insensitive things like, “You can have another one”. Not everyone is able to conceive right away or it might be hard for them to do so. Be there for them and offer any help they will allow.

2. Offer to attend therapy sessions with them: Therapy can help bring ease to the situation if your partner is willing. Cupid's Advice:

No matter how long the relationship, we all encounter our likes, dislikes, and most importantly, the common ground with our partners. Marriage is kind of tricky. Every day, you respond "until death do us part" and "I do", but what happens when you begin to respond "I don't"? Cupid has some relationship advice on how to know when your marriage is definitely over:

1. Communication starts to change: We all go through that honeymoon phase of our relationships, and then we start to get comfortable with each other. It's healthy to have arguments here and there, but if your partner starts disrespecting you, not caring, and not telling you important information, then you likely have a problem. Communication is the root of every successful relationship. If your significant other starts to talk less or gets mad at everything you say or do, it's time to have a serious conversation about why this might be happening.

2. Not making time for each other: A relationship does not end when you get married. It's important to still schedule in date nights and continue the ongoing flow of bliss.
