How do you know when it's time to give your ex a second chance?

Cupid's Advice:

Lately, you've been hanging out around town with a certain ex of yours. You can't quite figure out what it is about this person, but you find yourself reconsidering the possibility of you two being an item again. Would getting back together be a mistake or a decision you'll never regret? Cupid can help:

1. Acceptance: If you've already accepted what happened between the two of you in the past, you might be ready to start fresh. You can't reminisce over the old times. You have to acknowledge what went wrong in your relationship and have the ability to move on from it. If you're thinking about becoming a couple again, there's no need to hold on to any anger or guilt. You want to start things off positive. Don't pick up the relationship where it left off. The two of you won't last if you continue to make the same mistakes.

2. Forgiveness: Accepting the situation that happened between you and your ex won't happen if you don't forgive each other first. Giving each other a second chance won't work out if the two of you are still blaming each other for whatever went wrong. Instead, work toward holding yourself accountable for what happened and try to let go of all bad feelings.

3. Communicate: You need to be able to express how you're feeling to your old flame. You're thinking about getting back together? Make sure they're aware of that. Your ex might have unresolved feelings toward you as well and may be afraid to speak up first. Communication is key in a good relationship. Start things off right by having a genuine conversation.

Beastly featuring Vanessa Hudgens, Alex Pettyfer and Mary-Kate Olsen

Beastly, a modern day depiction of Beauty and the Beast, tells the tale of Kyle Kingson (Alex Pettyfer), the ideal handsome high school student who has anything he could ever want. His only downfall is his love for picking on those inferior to him. Things take a turn for the worse after Kyle ditches a goth girl (Mary-Kate Olsen), who casts a spell and transforms Kyle into a hideous creature. The spell can only be broken if he can find someone who's able to love him for his inner qualities. Kyle's father (Peter Krause) isn't one who can do this, sending Kyle off to live in Brooklyn where he vows to protect a local addict if he lets his beautiful daughter (Vanessa Hudgens) live with Kyle. Over the course of the film, this couple forms a deep relationship unlike anything Kyle had in high school.

How important is physical attraction in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sure, good looks draw attention, but how far does that really go? Cupid has a few things to consider and other important traits to look for when finding a long-term mate:

1. Old age: As gruesome as it sounds, everyone gets old, and looks will fade in time. Dating based entirely on physical attraction probably isn't the best idea.

2. Carrying conversations: Probably the best long-term commitment is one where you and your partner are able to sit down and talk for hours about anything ranging from current events to your deepest feelings. Once looks are gone, the only thing left is your ability to communicate.

3. Moral character: You may get along with someone on the surface, but if you're not on the same page morally, your relationship may be doomed. The longer you're in a relationship, the more moral character plays an important part.

'Glee' Star Dianna Agron: Terrified of Ex-Boyfriend Alex Pettyfer?

It's another messy Hollywood breakup. Sources are saying that Glee star Dianna Agron is "terrified" of her "psycho" ex-boyfriend, Alex Pettyfer, according to E! Online. News that the couple, who were dating for less than a year, called it quits broke last week. Friends of Pettyfer calls the reports "absolute nonsense," and a source close to Agron says, "Things have definitely been intense, and Alex certainly can have quite the temper, but I don't think she's 'terrified' of him."

Why do breakups turn nasty?

Cupid's Advice:

Breakups are never a pleasant experience, but why is it that former couples so readily turn against each other after a split? Cupid has some ideas:

1. Hurt feelings: The most obvious explanation is that one or both parties is extremely hurt by the split. Sometimes hurt feelings can manifest themselves as anger. With anger, comes drama.

2. Built-up issues: Sometimes during a relationship, we keep our thoughts and feelings from our partner to avoid arguments. Now that the relationship is over, it's easier to tell your former mate how you felt all that time. That said, it's not a healthy way to deal.

3. Family and friends take sides: After a breakup, friends and family are quick to support their respective side of the duo in question. Sometimes, they might be angrier about the split than you are, and it rubs off on you. Try to keep a cool head, and reassure your supporters that you'll be OK ... eventually.

'Glee' Star Dianna Agron Splits From Alex Pettyfer

Dianna Agron is now single following her recent break-up with Alex Pettyfer, according to UsMagazine.com. The duo's split became official following Agron moving out of their shared home last week. The couple, who were set up by director D.J. Caruso while filming the movie I am Number Four, recently avoided speculations about an engagement being in the near future. They only dated for less than a year.

Who should move out of your shared home after a split?

Cupid's advice:

Moving in with your mate is a tough decision in and of itself. The question of who gets what is something you should unfortunately keep in the back of your mind when deciding to move in, just in case things go south. Cupid has a few things to consider when figuring out who moves out and who keeps the castle:

- 1. Financial stability: Whoever has a better chance of paying the rent or mortgage by themselves should have the place, plain and simple.

2. Friends or family are a plus: If you have friends or family to lean on until you get back up on your feet, then consider moving out. Having the extra support makes things easier.

3. Have a heart: Even if things are really awkward, do your best to continue living with your partner until one of you finds a new place to stay. Kicking someone out should be reserved for the most drastic cases.

How do you know if your relationship is on the right track?

Cupid's Advice:

Constant dating can become routine for many, but it's important to know when you have genuinely struck gold. Here are a few signs that your relationship is on the right track:

- 1. It's easy to make plans: If the two of you seem to be able to plan dates efficiently and with little delay in between, it's a sure sign that both you and your partner are clearly interested.

Dianna Agron Introduces New

Beau to Pals

Glee actress Dianna Agron just tackled an overwhelming task: introducing her guy to her pals. Agron and beau, British actor Alex Pettyfer, stopped by the Glee set, reports People. Pettyfer instantly bonded with Jayma Mays' husband, Alex Campbell. Mays explained, "[Alex] came on set, and my husband was there that day, so we introduced the Brit to the Brit. Brits hang tight. What's the best way to introduce your partner to your friends?

Cupid's Advice:

Introducing your new beau to the important people in your life can be nerve-wracking. Cupid has some suggestions to make the introductions less painful:

1. Set limits: Don't introduce your partner to all of your pals at once. Try introducing him to only a few of them at first. A week or so later, have him meet some other friends. Take it slow, so you don't overwhelm him (or your nerves).

2. Pick and choose: Try having your most friendly pals meet your mate first. Pick outgoing friends that you're sure will strive to include him in conversation. When your man is up to the challenge, bring in the friends that are harder to impress.

3. Relax: It's hard not to get nervous, but remind yourself that your partner is probably as nervous as you are. Try to be confident, and he'll be less nervous as well.
