

New Celebrity Couple: Amy Poehler Is Dating Lawyer Benjamin Graf

By Whitney Johnson

Sorry, guys: It looks like one of our favorite funny ladies is off the market. Parks and Recreation actress Amy Poehler is dating New York City-based lawyer Benjamin Graf, according to UsMagazine.com. The outlet reported that the celebrity couple were first spotted hiking together in Los Angeles in May of last year. This relationship isn't the comedian's first one since her 2012 celebrity divorce from Will Arnett. She was previously linked to actor Nick Kroll, but their conflicting schedules led to their break-up. Here's to hoping that Poehler's new love with Graf brings her a lot of laughs!

This comedian has found her match – for now, at least! What are some unique ways to search for someone you’ll connect with?

Cupid’s Advice:

Sure, it’s tempting to head to your favorite restaurant or bar when you want to meet someone new, but Cupid encourages you to think outside the box in your search for love. Follow this relationship advice if you’re looking for a unique way to find a potential partner:

1. Download a dating app: Finding love can be as easy as playing with your phone! Thanks to apps like Tinder, Bumble, and Coffee Meets Bagel, meeting someone special is just a swipe or click away.

Celebrity Break-Up: Amy Poehler and Nick Kroll Call It Quits

By Kyanah Murphy

There's yet another celebrity break-up in Hollywood, and it sucks! Celebrity couple Amy Poehler and Nick Kroll decided to call it quits due to conflicting schedules. UsMagazine.com reports that the celebrity couple just couldn't make it work. Can you believe it? As we all know, it's important to make time for your significant other and it's a shame when something as amazing as your relationship comes to an end because you aren't able to make that time. At least this celebrity break-up doesn't have anyone on bad terms, but our hearts goes out to the newly split couple.

Amy and Nick join the celebrity break-up ranks for 2015. What are some ways to balance your schedule so it doesn't negatively affect your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Though it's sad to say and see, perhaps we can learn from this celebrity break-up how to manage our schedules to make time for our partner. Cupid has some dating advice on how to balance that schedule:

1. Make time: Honestly, you have to make time, especially if you're constantly busy. You make time to go to the doctor when you need to go, do you not? If you can do that, you should be able to find some sort of time for your partner. No two people have the same schedule or life but people make it work!

Will Arnett Files for Divorce from Amy Poehler 19 Months After Separation

By Sanetra Richards

Another one bites the dust! Will Arnett is ready to sign the papers (divorce ones, that is) and [legally] move on with his life. According UsMagazine.com, the 43-year-old The Millers actor has filed for divorce from his estranged wife, Amy Poehler, after 19 months of separation. The couple has two boys together, 5-year-old Archie and 3-year-old Abel, in which the Arrested Development star is asking for joint legal and physical custody, along with visitation rights.

How do you know when to give up on your marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Marriage takes tons of work and effort that should be forth without hesitation. You and your partner are struggling to keep the marriage alive and are losing hope. Well, sometimes it is best to let it go because there is nothing there anymore that is worth fighting for. Cupid has some signs to recognize when knowing whether to give up on your marriage:

1. Increase in arguments: There is constant bickering between the two of you and by the end of it, nothing has been resolved. You cannot even start a simple conversation without tension and anger eventually coming about. Asking for favors is completely out of the question because you are expecting backlash or complaints. These are a few examples that your marriage has fallen to the rocks and you should possibly consider separation. A marriage is made up of many key components to keep it going: understanding, communication, and giving. Being at each other's throats on a daily basis is not healthy and will not improve without those components.

2. No love in the air: So long to the romantic dates, gestures, and getaways! You kissed that goodbye once bickering became a daily ritual in your marriage. You are no longer looking at your significant other the same, with the eyes that see nothing but love. Instead, resentment fills them and you would rather not look at your partner at all. These are clear signs to be wary of and you should consider separation for the best.

3. Eyes begin to wander: You begin to notice your partner not the only one who can catch or keep your attention anymore. Thoughts and envisions of being somewhere or with someone else start to form. Do not ignore this or think it is minor. If you or your partner wishes to engage in other affairs, divorce should be considered.

Will Arnett and Katie Lee are Dating and Shows PDA in Public

By April Littleton

Will Arnett and celebrity chef Katie Lee are dating! The new couple were spotted sharing a meal together at The Crow's Nest restaurant in Montauk, NY on Thursday, August 8. "They came in around 8 and his arm was around her waist," a source told UsMagazine.com. Arnett separated from Amy Poehler in September 2012 after nine years of marriage. They have two kids together, Archie, 4 and Abel, 2.

How do you go public with a new partner?

Cupid's Advice:

You've just started seeing someone and you think you're ready to go public with the romance. Dating someone new is always fun and exciting, but you don't want to introduce your significant other to the people you love unless you're absolutely sure he/she will be around for awhile. Cupid is here to help:

1. Talk to your partner first: You need to have "the talk" with your new love before you make any plans to go public. Ask your companion how they feel about making the relationship known to some of your friends and family. If he/she is unsure about their commitment to you or they're just not ready to meet your loved ones yet, give them a little more time.

2. Let your family know: If your significant other is OK with taking your relationship to the next level, give your family the heads up first. Tell you family and friends about your partner before you introduce them to one another.

3. Make sure you're ready: Really think about what you're about to get yourself into. Are you sure you're ready to let the family meet your honey? Hold off on any meeting plans if you feel even the slightest bit of hesitation. The person you're dating might not even be the right one to meet your loved ones.

Will Arnett Says Dating Seems

'Very Scary' Right Now

By Kerri Sheehan

Since his split from fellow actor comedienne, Amy Poehler, Will Arnett has taken a step back when it comes to dating. After nine years of marriage and two sons together, Arnett isn't looking to rush back into dating. "I'm 43 and I've found my happiness – which is my kids," Arnett said according to People. He added, "Yeah, I don't know what you do. Do you put out an announcement in the trades? I'M DATING! It all seems very scary to me, to be honest."

How do you get back in the dating game after being out of it for a long time?

Cupid's Advice:

The dating world is scary for everyone. It's a jungle full of random people and you never know who is in it just to play and who is in it to find love. Cupid has some advice:

1. Put yourself out there: You never know who you're going to meet and where you're going to meet them so always be open to new settings and environments. Maybe your soul mate was hiding somewhere at that party you did want to go to last week, but you'll never really know.

2. Don't be afraid to strike out: You can't let the fear of striking out keep you from winning the game. Just because you don't succeed once, twice, or a thousand times doesn't mean that your next home run isn't just around the corner. Dating has always been hot or miss, so just keep hoping for a hit.

3. Know yourself: You can't truly fall in love with someone else unless you know who you are first. Expecting someone to fall in love with you without first loving yourself is like expecting a halfhearted salesman to get any business.

5 Secrets from My Date with Tina Fey and Amy Poehler

By Karen Siff Exkorn for GalTime.com

Tina Fey shares her lip gloss and talks to Amy Poehler in crazy gibberish

I'm pretty sure it's every woman's dream to go on a date with Tina Fey and Amy Poehler. Or at least it was mine.

So there I was, at the Beacon Theater in New York City, attending an event to benefit autism called Night of Too Many Stars. Hosted by Jon Stewart, the evening featured Ben Stiller, Seth Rogen, Stephen Colbert, Harvey Keitel, Carly Rae Jepsen, Katy Perry, Sting, and many more, including, Tina Fey and Amy Poehler.

Jon Stewart announced that one of the live auction items was to "spend a date night as the new best friend of Tina Fey and Amy Poehler." The next thing I knew, the bidding began and I raised my hand high in the air. Cut to minutes later, I found myself onstage at the Beacon Theater—with another winning bidder and my new best friends Tina and Amy! After an intimate bonding experience in front of 3,000 audience members, we were whisked outside for a photo shoot that was later shown on a jumbo screen at the theater.

By spending a date night with these two incredibly talented and amazing women, I learned a few things.

5 BFF Secrets I Learned with Tina Fey and Amy Poehler

1. They have a special language

You know how most best friends can complete each other's sentences or know how the other is feeling just by a glance? Well, Tina and Amy have that, and more! It's almost like they relate on a psychic level. When we were backstage, they decided to come up with a skit that would involve us, only they didn't want us to know what they were planning. They started communicating in what seemed like a combination of gibberish and charades. Even though we were seated right next to them, we had no idea what they were up to. Speaking very quickly, gesturing wildly, and giggling in agreement, Tina and Amy managed to create a spectacular skit in only minutes.

2. They are who you think they are

If you already guessed from their movies and interviews that Tina and Amy are fabulous, smart, funny women, then you're right. These women are the real thing. Some actors just "act" like they're nice, when they're really not. A producer friend of mine interviews celebrities and shares horror stories of how some actresses are all "smiling and nice" when the cameras are on and all "bitchy and diva-esque" once the cameras are off. Tina and Amy could not have been nicer during the time we spent together. They not only treated us with love and respect, but they also treated the cameraman, crew and all of the fans who crowded around to watch us during the photo shoot with the same love and respect.

3. They don't engage in "Tripping the Head Cheerleader" behavior

Being a woman in show business (or any business for that matter) can be a challenge. Business is competitive, and women not only have to deal with the competition from others, but also with that ever present glass ceiling. I should know. I've had my own management consulting business for over 20 years. Tina and Amy are in a business that's typically controlled by men, and yet, they've risen to the top. Why? Because, instead of trying to beat each other up or engage in undermining behaviors (as I've seen many women do), they support each other and nurture each other's careers. You've seen their work together on SNL and in the movies—these women are each other's head cheerleaders. If more women could learn to support each other and cheer each other on, we could use that collective energy to break through that glass ceiling once and for all.

4. They're both caring moms who care about more than just their own kids

Tina has her beautiful daughters Alice and Penelope, and Amy has her adorable sons Archie and Abel. You can tell they're caring parents by the way they gush about their kids. But their caring goes beyond their own kids. They both generously donated their time and talent to appear at this benefit for autism education, and were interested to learn more about children with autism. Because of my personal relationship with autism, I shared our son's story of recovery. We talked about the ongoing need for autism education as more and more children are being diagnosed. And we all wept while watching Katy Perry perform an incredibly moving duet with a young girl with autism whose dream was to meet her singing idol one day. (If you haven't seen it, it's worth watching on YouTube.)

5. They share lip gloss

In an attempt to lighten the mood (since I started getting teary-eyed writing my last entry), I've decided to share my last bit of insider information about Tina and Amy. Tina carries lip gloss. Amy does not. So Tina shared her lip gloss with Amy. And when Tina overheard me saying that I wished I'd brought my own lip gloss, she generously offered to share hers with me. Yes, it's true. I shared Tina's lip gloss. As I smeared the gloss on my lips with the wand that had just touched both Tina and Amy's lips, I secretly hoped that their brilliance might rub off on me. I'm still hoping...

Celeb Couples Take Emmys By Storm

True Blood costars and real-life newlyweds Anna Paquin and Stephen Moyer were just one of the celebrity couples present at the 2010 Emmy Awards. Other couples who made stylish appearances on the red carpet were Claire Danes and Hugh Dancy, Amy Poehler and Will Arnett, Eva Longoria Parker and Tony Parker, Neil Patrick Harris and David Burtka, January Jones and Jason Sudeikis, as well as many others, according to YourTango. All making different fashion statements, the stars made sure their partners were up to snuff as well. Should you tell your partner how to dress?

Cupid's Advice:

Often times one person in a relationship has more fashion sense than the other. Cupid has some ideas to help you deal:

1. Let the minor things go: If you have something to say about what your partner is wearing each and every time he steps out of the house, it's bound to lead to some disagreements. Choose your fights carefully. Only speak up if your mate is truly wearing something you cannot tolerate in public.

2. Positive encouragement: Fashion is a way to express yourself. By controlling what your partner wears, you're taking away some of his personal expression. Try peppering your criticisms with positive encouragement. "Honey, I really like the graphic tee you have on, but would you mind wearing your black blazer with it?"

3. Compromise: It's a given that you won't always see eye-to-eye with your partner. If you don't agree with his fashion choice, politely ask him if he will change. Don't go choose a new outfit for him. By putting the ball in his court, he feels like he still has some sense of style control.

Amy Poehler & Will Arnett Welcome Another Son

Amy Poehler and Will Arnett welcomed their second son, Abel James Arnett, weighing 7 lbs., 13 oz. on Friday morning, adding to their growing family. Their first son, Archie, will be turning two this October. Their rep told People, “Amy, Will, Abel and Archie are all healthy and resting comfortably.”

How do you prepare your older children for a new baby in the family?

Cupid’s Advice:

There are several ways to make your current child(ren) comfortable around new arrivals, starting while you’re still pregnant, or thinking of becoming pregnant. Read what Cupid has to say:

1. Talk to your kids: Early in the pregnancy, or if possible, before you become pregnant, sit down with your family and explain the coming changes. Be prepared for questions by checking out sites like Kid’s Health.

2. Classes: Many hospitals and birthing centers offer free or low cost big brother/sister classes. They'll help your little ones learn how to interact with the new baby. Your children can even learn how to change a diaper!

3. Spend time with older kids: If you don't have much time to give, focus on the quality of that time. Make sure they know that you still love them.
