Celebrity Athletes and the Women Behind Them

By Ashley DelBello

It's no surprise that relationships are work, but when your beau is a well-known athlete it takes a special kind of woman to be able to date them and handle the added pressures that come with being in the spotlight. What gives them that extra strength? Cupid takes a look at a few celebrity athletes and their partners:

Lamar Odom and Khloe Kardashian: It couldn't be a worse time for this couple. Lamar is said to be battling a drug addiction and Khloe appears to be trying to stay strong coming off of their four-year anniversary. While Khloe is no stranger to the spotlight and her way of handling it has been somewhat controversial with her cryptic posts on Instagram and Twitter, Khloe has been adamant that she wants Lamar to get better and will not make a decision about her marriage until after the current season of Keeping Up with the Kardashians has stopped filming – allowing her sufficient time to keep her personal life off camera as much as possible.

This power couple seems to have nothing to worry about.

Andy Roddick and Brooklyn Decker: While they married young and she's just as busy if not busier than him these days, supermodel-turned actress Brooklyn Decker was very much supportive of Andy and his career – even tearing up at the end of his last match. Andy also returns the favor as Brooklyn has openly discussed how being married to him gives her a new appreciation for her body. Speaking to Women's Health Brooklyn said: "He's taught me that it's not how thin you are that matters. It's how your body performs, how it endures wear and tear.”

Brooklyn Decker Talks About Marrying Young

When model Brooklyn Decker married tennis star beau Andy Roddick last year at the age of 22, she was considered a young bride by today's standards. But People reports that Decker doesn't consider it unusual, partly because her and her husband's families have a history of marrying young. Decker told Page Six Magazine, "It wasn't weird for me... My mom got married when she was 19, and my husband's parents got married young – in their 20s. And both sets of parents are still together." Decker added that her career as a successful swimsuit model and her husband's position as a world-class tennis player helped make walking down the aisle an easy choice. "We both were successful on our own, we both had our own income, we both had our friends, but it's just what we wanted," Decker said. "It was never part of my plan to get married young, but we did it because we really wanted to."

What are the benefits of marrying young?

Cupid's Advice:

Today there are many reasons to put off marriage, but some people still choose to marry young. Cupid has some insight on when marrying sooner rather than later might actually be a good idea:

1. Your career is on track: If you feel like you have a good job and can make it on your own financially, you're ready to get married. Some people get married young because they need support from a partner, but if you're like Brooklyn Decker and Andy Roddick and you both have successful careers, there's no reason to wait.

2. You want to have kids early: If your dream is to be a mother by 25, marrying young is a great way to reach that goal. That way you have a family intact early in life, and you won't be in your 70's when your kid goes to college!

3. You have religious ties: Sometimes religious couples get married young because they have made a vow of celibacy. Religion and deep-seeded beliefs can often times be a great foundation for a relationship, even if that relationship begins at an early age.
