

Celebrity Children Who Are Just Like Their Parents

By Laura Seaman

When you're raised in the spotlight with your celebrity parents, it's difficult not to get pulled into the industry one way or another. Take the Kardashians, for instance, with their entire family being in the public eye 24/7. Some celebrity children take these opportunities to make a career for themselves and make their parents proud. Here are three famous children who followed their parents' examples and made a name for themselves in the entertainment industry:

1. Jaden Smith, son of Will Smith and Jada Pinkett-Smith

Jaden Smith is becoming a big time actor just like his dad. Will Smith helped his son break into the business from a very young age, having his son star alongside him in The Pursuit of Happyness. Since then Jaden has gone off on his own and starred in films such as The Karate Kid and The Day the Earth Stood Still. However, he still takes time to work with the man who taught him the ropes, starring with his father in the sci-fi film After Earth. Just one look at the movie's poster of the duo side-by-side and you can see that the young Smith is just like his dad, not just in acting ability but in his looks. Jaden Smith has gone from the small screen to the Imax, and it's doubtful he'll stop there. It's been announced that he's working on The Karate Kid 2, and who knows what the young actor will do next. Whatever the case may be, he's definitely making Will Smith proud.

2. Dannielynn Birkhead, daughter of late Anna Nicole Smith and Larry Birkhead

The daughter of late model Anna Nicole Smith is showing that though her mother may be gone, her spirit is still very much alive. The adorable little girl, now seven years-old, has shown that she shares her mom's beauty and enthusiasm for fashion. Photographers can't get enough of this bright little star. The Birkhead father and daughter duo was seen at the Kentucky derby, the same place where Dannielynn's parents first met. The little fashionista later went on to model for Guess Kids, a tribute to her mother's work as a Guess girl. "For her it was something cool," her father said in an interview. "Her mother was a Guess girl and now she is a Guess girl." Of course, she was made to keep up with her studies while doing the shoot! For such a little girl, Birkhead has had a lot of work to do.

3. Connor Cruise, adopted son of Tom Cruise and Nicole Kidman

Connor Cruise, the adopted son of Tom Cruise and Nicole Kidman, is taking after his parents step by step and movie by movie. He has only been in two films so far (Seven Pounds and Red Dawn) but that isn't his only claim to fame. He's getting his start as a deejay with the name C-squared. Lately, though, his name has been in the media concerning the relationship with Kidman. Despite rumors that the mother and son are estranged, Cruise says that their relationship is solid. The multi-talented Cruise has plenty of his material on YouTube and iTunes for anyone who wants to support him in his career as a DJ.

'Anna Nicole' Star Agnes Bruckner Says People "Need to Be Loved, Feel Love and Give Love"

By Kristin Mattern

Agnes Bruckner, well known for her recurring roles on television shows like 24, Alias and Private Practice as well as for playing one of the lead roles in Lifetime's The Craigslist Killer, is now the star of Lifetime's Original Movie, Anna Nicole. Her diligent research in preparing to play such a character, along with the help of an innovative pair of prosthetic boobs designed by Greg Cannom, enabled her to capture both the Anna Nicole Smith in front of and beyond the flash of the paparazzi cameras. The woman whose ability to make people smile inspired and awed Bruckner, who believes that Smith "loved life."

Anna Nicole follows the story of Smith (born Vickie Lynn Hogan) from a Texas high school dropout and single mother dreaming of a better life to a stripper who shockingly marries oil tycoon J. Howard Marshall (played by Martin Landau), 62 years her senior. Smith's Hollywood career takes off when she becomes a centerfold for Playboy and models for Guess. Sadly, her life begins to deteriorate after her husband passes away and her partying, yo-yo weight fluctuations, drinking and ceaseless pill-popping catch up with her. Deprived of financial support, constantly in and out of court over Marshall's estate and still hungry for the limelight, Smith decides to launch a reality show about her life. The starlet enjoys a brief upswing, but when her son Danny dies of an overdose while visiting her in the hospital after giving birth to her daughter, a grief-stricken Smith falls hard into her self-destructive ways and dies of an overdose herself a year later – an end eerily similar to her idol Marilyn Monroe.

The movie avoids focusing too much on Smith's silly side, though Bruckner promises there are plenty of "hot mess" moments in the movie. Instead, the heart of the film focuses on where the model came from, how she grew up and her relationships with her son and husband. "I think it came together," the 27-year-old explains. "We found the perfect balance of fun, goofy wild traits and the heartfelt, human characteristics. I think that a lot of times we saw her as someone who wasn't a real person. For the film, we definitely wanted to show all of her."

To physically transform into the blonde bombshell, Bruckner had to undergo four hours of makeup and the application of faux breasts that took her from a B to a DD. After the experience, the tomboy says, "I took a little piece of Smith away with me. She made me realize that it's okay to be girly."

As we eagerly await Bruckner's portrayal of the tragic star and her relationship with Marshall, everyone wonders if Anna

Nicole was just in it for the cash when she married the octogenarian oil tycoon. In the actress's opinion, however, there was more than money tying this couple together: "I really think that they had something for each other. I think he wanted companionship, love and joy in his life, and she gave those aspects to him with her charisma and love for life. She never really had a 'father figure' or a good relationship with her family, and this guy showed her love and treated her the best she's ever been treated. I do think they both had something for each other and they kind of came together."

And what about Marshall? "He really did love Anna so much," she adds. "His eyes lit up when she walked into a room."

Bruckner calls the people who surrounded Smith after Marshall's death "enablers" who did nothing to stop her boozing, drug habits and over-exposed lifestyle. "I think she put people in a sort of trance," the California native shares, "especially men. Besides her son, there weren't any men who were really there for her."

Bruckner's favorite moments were when she was filming scenes that depicted the struggle between Anna Nicole as a struggling mother and the relationship with her son. She notes that Smith and Danny really had a "special relationship, and there was so much love." To Bruckner, Danny was more than a son; he was Smith's rock and best friend.

During her time on the Anna Nicole set, Bruckner says that she realizes how fortunate she is to have friends and family who care about her career, health and happiness. This is what keeps her grounded.

Regarding her love life, Bruckner seeks someone who is a potential partner. "I look for someone who is honest and fun," she says. "At the end of the day, what matters is being with someone you have strong feelings of love for. As a human being, we need that. We need to be loved, feel love, and give love. I think that is so essential.”
