Cupid’s Advice:

Fighting with a partner, friend or family member is never pretty. It can be hard to recover from a bad fight in a relationship. Cupid has some ways to make it right with your partner after a fight:

1. Don’t be petty: After a fight, your emotion might still be running high, so let the dust settle after a fight. You may feel like throwing in some last-minute shade, passive-aggressive jabs or get back at them. But all that does is prolong the nastiness of your fight. The best thing is to let it go and work out your problems.

2. Give them space: Give your partner space, but also take some time for yourself. After a fight, you might need some time alone, to recover, heal and reflect.

3. Communicate productively: You know what they say about communication! Communication is the key to any relationship. To get back to a good place with your partner, it's very important to talk about it with your partner. It's also important to understand where each person is coming from and where you stand. It may be hard to communicate openly and honestly but if you love each other you will try. A few things to keep in mind; give up the need to be right, don't be defensive, deal with one issue at a time, no hitting below the belt and be kind to each other.
