

Celebrity Parents: Former 'Bachelor' Arie Luyendyk Jr. Calls Wife Lauren the 'Hottest Momma'

By Katie Sotack

Arie Luyendyk still has the hots for his final rose recipient and now wife, Lauren. The caption on a recent Instagram post of his wife in a swimsuit holding their eight week old baby read, "I love those cheeks. Proud of you @laurenluyendyk, hottest momma around #8weeks". According to EOnline.com the celebrity couple are having a grand old time as parents. They can be seen hiking and eating out on social media where they document their trials and tribulations of new parenthood. As for the post, Lauren responded with a squeamish "Omg baby", to which Arie let us know he couldn't help himself with a simple "Sorrrrryyyyy".

These celebrity parents are always supporting and uplifting each other. What are some ways to support your partner after she gives birth?

Cupid's Advice:

Arie and Lauren are enjoying their time together as new parents, but Arie has been sure to let new dads know it's a vital job as well. "It will be hard, it will challenge your relationship. It will also be the best thing you'll have ever done together," the former Bachelor said. Take a parenting tip from Arie, and use these ways to be there for your partner after the birth of your child:

1. Take care of Mama: With the focus on the new life you've brought into the world, remembering the needs of the woman who's produced this baby can fall to the bottom of the list. But don't let it. Pregnancy and birth takes a huge toll on the body. Hormonal-wise, the baby package is likely a roller coaster that does not dissipate after postpartum. Take the time to check in with your partner emotionally and physically during the ordeal.

2. Get her a gift: I'm not talking flowers here, though even that gesture is nice. Instead think of the traumatic toll birth has taken on her body and get her something she needs. Try something like MOMBOX, a subscription service that delivers a box full of goodies for postpartum moms. They have boxes for vaginal birth and c-sections which come with things like transition panties, herbal bath salts, and nipple cream.

If you're not into prepackaged gifts, try to put a basket together yourself. Use your knowledge of what relaxes your partner and what's currently paining her to create the perfect gift.

3. Give her alone time: Her entire life is revolved around your baby right now, but her mental health is important too. Once a week offer to watch the baby by yourself for a few hours so mom can do something for herself. Suggest taking a bubble bath or going out with friends/family. Anything to remind her that she is a person outside of your precious child and her needs deserve to be met too.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelor' Alum Arie Luyendyk Jr. Defends Wife Lauren After She Leaves Infant at Home

By Katie Sotack

In celebrity news, Bachelor alum, Arie Luyendyk Jr, and wife Lauren Burnham are putting up a united front when it comes to their child. Celebrity parent Lauren left her one week old home for a luncheon with her sister. Social media users attacked, claiming Lauren left baby Alessi too fast, but Arie has come to his wife's defense. According to UsMagazine.com, the star responded that it was his idea and "[t]o all the negative comments regarding leaving her with grandma for a 45min lunch, cut her some slack!"

In celebrity news, Arie is coming to the defense of his wife's parenting decision. Why is providing a unified front as parents so important?

Cupid's Advice:

Parenting is hard enough as it is. If partners aren't on the same page publicly, it leaves room for all the nosy nobodies who claim to know better for your baby. A unified front is essential to a clear message for both your child and others.

Here are some ways to hone that message:

1. Back your baby mama/daddy: It's important to demonstrate agreement in front of others and have each other's backs. Even if you're not 100% sold on their decision leave that discussion for a more private time.

2. Confess to disagreeing (behind closed doors): No couple sees child care the same way all the time. Have an honest discussion with your partner about compromising on the way to raise your kid and what you want for them in life.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby News: Roger Mathews Defends Estranged Wife Jenni 'JWoww' Farley Amid Parenting Criticism

3. Share your observations: Talk about the time spent caring for your children and what you've observed about them. As different people you'll likely pick up on different aspects of what the kids' need. By sharing this with your partner you'll merge perspectives and have an easier time finding common ground.

Unified fronts in parenting are greatly important. How do you and your co-parent stay on the same page? Share your comment below.

Luyendyk Jr. & Lauren Burnham Welcome a Baby Girl

By Bonnie

Griffin

In the latest celebrity baby news, Bachelor stars Arie Luyendyk Jr. and Lauren Burnham are parents. According to People.com, Luyendyk confirmed on Wednesday that the pair welcomed their first child together, a beautiful baby girl. After meeting and falling in love on The Bachelor, the celebrity couple has maintained their relationship in the public eye throughout the pregnancy, although they have not yet released the baby's name.

The latest celebrity baby news is that this Bachelor couple welcomed a baby daughter. What are some ways to work on your relationship while at the same time having a young child?

Cupid's Advice:

Having children is a beautiful gift, but that does not mean being a parent with young children is easy. Add the stress of now having a young child who solely relies on their parents to your relationship and you might find yourself asking how your relationship will survive. Cupid has some advice to keep your relationship working after having kids:

1. Have adult conversations: Just because you have a child doesn't mean all of your conversations have to revert to baby talk. You still need to communicate with each other, and as much as your young child is a very important part of your lives, they cannot be the only thing you discuss. Don't cut out your conversations just because you have a child, even if time alone is limited just have your conversations in front of your child because they will likely interrupt even if you try to take a moment and step out of the room.

2. Work as a team: It is important for both parties in a relationship to remember that you both had a child, and that means sharing more than those adorable baby grins. It means that you need to share the work with each other. You both have to help with the fun parts and the bad parts like when they have a meltdown. Be a united front when your child is having a tantrum because it will only add to your stress if you are not on the same team.

3. You both deserve time out: Every parent needs an occasional break. A break from your partner and even the occasional break from your child. We all need a little me time now and again. Give each other that time out and away to just be alone and revel in their own thoughts. Even though this time alone may seem like a strange way to help work on your relationship, your partner will love you for offering them a break.

They both seem so excited to become celebrity parents!

In celebrity baby news, Arie and Lauren are enjoying the weeks they have left before becoming parents. What are some unique babymoon ideas?

Cupid's Advice:

For a lot of couples like Arie and Lauren, a babymoon is the last chance to have a romantic getaway before the baby comes. Cupid is an expert on this and came up with some ideas:

1. A nature-filled babymoon: There's just something about pregnancy that makes a mom-to-be feel connected to nature. Search for a local area where you can rent a cabin in the woods or take a road trip along the countryside. This is sure to give you both a chance to relax and enjoy the last few months you'll have together as a couple before the baby comes.

2. A cruise: Be sure to check with your doctor, and some cruise lines have restrictions for passengers who are over 24 weeks pregnant. But the idea is to be pampered and enjoy your time with your partner before the baby comes, right? A cruise might be the perfect thing to do.

You can have your own themed wedding too! Even if you haven't chosen a wedding planner, Cupid thinks these ideas are super fun and cost-effective:

1. Don't be afraid to geek out: Are you a Star Wars and Legos fan? If you're going for a galactic-themed wedding, use Legos to make your wedding cake topper. 2. Go for `something simpler: Okay, so maybe you don't want to take your wedding theme off of Earth. Instead, you want your own Twilight inspired wedding. 3. Be a bargain shopper bride: You don't have to have the most in-style wedding dress right now for your special day. Absolutely make sure you love it before you buy it, but make certain you're aware of your budget and don't shy away from a deal. Also, keep the bridesmaids in mind if you're going to buy their dresses. Dress shops are bound to have dresses on clearance as long as your girls are willing to be flexible. The shoes don't even have to be from the dress shop either. Discount shoe stores sometimes have buy-one, get-one-free: take advantage.

The universe works in mysterious ways and sometimes two important people will come into your life all at once. It can be difficult to decide who you truly want to be with! Fortunately, Cupid has some tips on how to decide who to date:

1. Make a list: Yes, the old-fashioned pros and cons list. Sit down and deeply ponder what each of these people have to offer. How do they make you feel? Who do you get more excited to see? Do you have similar plans for the future? Take time to really think about it and you can even try to spend two consecutive days with each of them to explore the best qualities in each.

Here are some things that can help you focus your mind and determine whether you're ready to propose or say "yes" to a proposal:

1. You've allowed yourself to be vulnerable: Before you devote yourself to a lifetime commitment, you need to make sure that your partner has seen every beautiful aspect of you and your personality. You're not worried that one day your partner

Celebrity News : 'The

Bachelor' Star Bekah Martinez Says She's More Ready for Marriage Than Arie

By Karley Kemble

Bekah Martinez is one of the most talked about contestants on this season of The Bachelor, not because she caused drama, but because of her age! Though she just turned 23, this season's Bachelor, Arie Luyendyk, Jr., is 36, and he (along with many women on the show) felt Martinez was not ready to settle down. However, in the latest celebrity news, Martinez claims Luyendyk Jr. is the one who's not ready for marriage. In a recent interview with Entertainment Tonight, the reality TV star stated, "I think I'm more ready for marriage than Arie is, quite honestly. I don't think Arie knows what he wants, and I don't think he's serious about being with one person for the rest of his life," reports UsMagazine.com. Though she was mum about why she felt that way, Martinez assured all our questions will be answered during next week's finale. Sounds juicy!

In celebrity news, Bekah M. was accused of not being ready for marriage on The Bachelor. How do you know if you're ready for marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Age and marriage don't always coincide. When you're ready for marriage and to settle down, you'll know. Check out these tips from Cupid:

1. You're ready to commit: Marriage should be a natural progression in your relationship. In fact, it's better to begin any relationship with marriage on the back burner. Instead of pursuing a relationship with marriage on your mind, focus on being present in the now. As time passes and your love grows, the progression and desire to take the next step will be a fluid change

Related Link: Celebrity News: Arie Tells Two Women He Loves Them Ahead of 'The Bachelor' Finale

2. You aren't trying to fix or save them: All too often, people enter relationships and try to be the heroic figure. In these situations, the underlying thought is that the flaws or challenges the partner is facing will be fixed over time with careful guidance from the other partner. This is never a good idea, as it ultimately is romanticizing challenges and causes you to think things will work out eventually. It's better to find a partner that you see eye-to-eye with, and to keep your mind and heart in-sync with each other.

3. You know it won't be easy: The honeymoon phase of your relationship will come to an end, and finding romance will not always be a walk in the park. You and your partner will certainly have your fair share of struggles to keep the romance alive. If you are accepting of this, and feel ready to face the challenges that will arise, that is a good sign. Always be sure to grow together, because the only other option is growing apart.

2. Don't give up: When you are faced with rejection, it is all too easy to throw in the towel forever. Don't! Rejection happens all too often in life and you have to learn to continue on afterwards. Try and see it as a minor set back and then continue to go after your goals.

3. Don't take it personally: Rejection is never about you as a person. Whether you were denied a job, a date or an opportunity, the blame cannot be placed on yourself. The person in control was rejecting what didn't work for them or their situation. It does not mean that there is something wrong with what you have, it was just the wrong fit.
