By Hope Ankney

In the latest celebrity news, a Bachelor alumnae was announced as the new Season 16 Bachelorette! According to UsMagazine.com, Clare Crawley is officially continuing her journey to find love. The 38-year-old reality star revealed herself on Good Morning America, stating she had only found out two days prior. She told Lara Spencer, “[It was] So unexpected. I cannot believe it. I mean, six years later. What is happening?” Crawley makes history being the oldest Bachelorette to lead the show. Rachel Lindsay was previously the oldest with her season when she was 32. famously known for telling him off when he didn't propose to her. She went on to join the franchise three more times with Bachelor in Paradise and The Winter Games, where none of her relationships kept a spark.

In celebrity news, there's a new Bachelorette in town! What are some unique ways to go about finding love?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding love in this modern dating scene can seem almost impossible. With the many dating apps, the insensitivity that's come with technology and social media, and knowing that traditional ways of finding love are sometimes too unrealistic to play out, it can look pretty bleak out there for all the single folk. But, there are still some unique ways to find love that doesn't rely on apps or constant worrying over social media. You might not get the opportunity to land yourself on a reality show to find love, but Cupid has some love advice on original ideas on finding love yourself:

1. Ask your friends for set-ups: I know that blind dates can seem terrifying and over-dramatized in film and media, but bringing back this model of finding others can actually work to your advantage. In fact, most young people do find love interests based on their friends. So, if you want to shoot your shot and trust a friend, ask them to help set you up with someone they know. Don't give them any pressure! Just tell them that you're open to anyone new, so they aren't stressed to find you the perfect date.

2. Live your life for you: When you begin to start getting to know all the facets of who you are, and you live for yourself and no one else, you'll go down a healthy life path. Doing what is right for you means you will be around jobs, places, and near people who further align with your life plan. You'll have a much better chance of meeting a soulmate because they will also have a similar life path.

3. Use Uber as often as possible: Not technically a social media, this ridesharing service can actually connect you with others you might never meet elsewhere. When you choose the option to UberPool, you are meeting new people that you could have a connection with. It's like a sort of speed dating that can end the moment you arrive at your location.

In celebrity break-up news, another 'BiP' couple has called it quits. What are some ways to announce your split to family and friends?

Cupid's Advice:

Announcing a break-up can be hard. There's never a right time or place to tell someone that you are done with your relationship. This is not something you can get perfectly right. Cupid has some advice on how to tell your family and friends that you are no longer dating your partner:

1. Break the news when you're ready: Just because you guys broke up two days ago does not mean that you have to tell the world that you guys are no longer together. Give yourself some time to come to terms with it and then tell your family and friends.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Jenna Dewan Opens Up About Love, Divorce and Healing in New Book

2. Tell them in person in an intimate setting: Talking to someone face-to-face can show you the emotions that they feel by the reaction that they give you. It's easier to open up about pressing topics and issues when you're in front of someone. Try rehearsing what you're going to say before you say it. Talking to someone about your break-up can also bring you comfort if you are sad. This will help release some of the pain that she might be feeling at this time.

3. Ask for some space: You'll need some time to process all of this. Having people tell you what you should and shouldn't do is not going to make the situation better. Celebrity News: Former 'Bachelor' Contestant Kirpa Sudick Squashes Cam Ayala Dating Rumors

By Hope Ankney

In celebrity news, former Bachelor contestant, Kirpa Sudick, is dismissing rumors of dating Bachelor in Paradise alum Cam Ayala. Bachelor Nation began speculating a potential spark between the two when Sudick took to Instagram to upload a post in dedication to Ayala's birthday. underneath the post saying, “ILYSM” alongside a heart emoji and an angel emoji. According to UsMagazine.com, the reality star squashed the rumors by stating, “We are just friends and not dating! I’ve just been very lucky to have met so many great people through The Bachelor!”

In celebrity news, Kirpa Sudick is not dating Cam Ayala after all. What are some ways to tastefully let people know you are not dating someone?

Cupid’s Advice:

Just like celebrities, sometimes we can post something on our social media that tend to look different than how we intended. But unlike them, we can’t go to a news source and dismiss these relationship rumors. Instead, we have to think up ways to tastefully let others know we’re not dating someone without looking too defensive. If you’re in this predicament, and you don’t know how to go about squashing dating rumors, don’t worry! Cupid has you covered with our love advice on how to nicely let others know you’re not dating this person:

1. Be playful: Sometimes, having fun with the situation can be a good way to let others know it doesn’t bother you before you let them know you guys aren’t dating. If both you and the other person are game, it can be funny to be playful and pretend like you are dating. Be over-dramatic with the idea, posting mushy comments, creating your own ‘ship’ name, taking ridiculous photos together, etc. By doing this before coming clean that you both aren’t dating, it can let people know that none of it bothered you, and it wasn’t a big deal!

2. Be kind: This might seem like an obvious answer, but there are ways you can dismiss dating rumors that are much harsher than you meant them to be. Try and be as kind as possible when letting others know you aren't dating someone. Saying something rude or condescending can make you look bad when someone was just curious about the situation. So, try and be as polite and friendly as you can when letting others know so you don't look like a ticking timebomb anytime something false is said about you!

3. Be direct: Perhaps, the best way to be tasteful is to just be honest about it. Being direct doesn't have to be harsh, and it can stop speculation quickly. Simply explain away the idea that you and the person are dating and then say nothing else on the matter. By facing the situation head-on and refusing to talk about it further, it can be an easy and effective way of stopping the rumors from circulating.

1. Communication: Communication is very important. However, Cupid isn't referring to the selective hearing we all fall victim to. Good communication is one of the biggest foundations of a relationship. Expressing yourself and having healthy conversations or arguments is important. 2. Happiness: If you aren't happy, don't get married. Too many times you see people getting married for every reason under the sun except for truly being happy together. Why spend the rest of your life unhappy? Marry someone who continuously makes you laugh and smile, someone whose company you enjoy; whether you are hiding out at home with junk food and Netflix or having a little too much fun at Dave & Busters. Your happiness, as well as your partner's, matters.

1. Try using a compromising tool online: Babynamester.com has this tool, along with many suggested baby names for you and your partner to check out. 2. The Middle Name: One of you can choose the first name and the other one can choose the middle name. Many couples compromise in this manner. Although, choosing the first name is most likely ideal for both parties, the middle name is the one that gives the name uniqueness considering that not everyone has a a middle name, and on top of that, a middle name is a nice differentiating addition to a first name.
