Celebrity News: Blake Shelton Says There Are 'So Many Great Things Happening in My Life'

By Mackenzie Scibetta

You don't often hear of country music mixing with pop successfully, but The Voice co-stars Blake Shelton and Gwen Stefani are apparently making it work just fine. According to UsMagazine.com, just a few hours before the 2015 Country Music Association Awards began, celebrity news broke that Shelton and Stefani are officially a new Hollywood couple. Following the awards ceremony Shelton took to Twitter to confirm his happiness saying that "Awesome night tonight. So many great things happening in my life..." On the other hand, single celebrity, and ex-wife to Shelton, Miranda Lambert is taking the divorce much harder saying that she “needed a bright spot this year”.

We’re pretty sure this celebrity news may have something to do with new love Gwen Stefani. How do you know if your new relationship has staying power?

Cupid’s Advice:

The unconditional bliss of a new relationship can make it hard to tell whether you’re happy because your significant other is the one, or just because it is something new and fresh. While the future of a relationship can be unpredictable, if you look hard enough there are signs that can help reveal the success of your budding romance. Cupid is here to help you decide if your new partner will be a lasting one:

1. You always laugh together: Laughter stimulates the release of feel-good hormones, thus pushing us towards a happier mood. Being in a significantly good mood around your new love will surely reap many benefits. Also, if you and your partner have the same sense of humor then that’s a good sign your relationship will never get boring.

2. You openly communicate: The first few fights of a relationship can be awkward, but if you both are willing to fully express yourself and feel comfortable arguing with each other respectfully then that will make your love last. You’re guaranteed to argue so if you can figure out a way to politely oppose each other you are on a good track. If you find your partner intentionally saying things to hurt you then that's a recipe for disaster.

3. You're comfortable in silence: A healthy relationship means two people who can function separately without hindering the success of the other person. You both need to be able to relax and read in the same room as one another, without feeling forced to make conversation. Silence allows you to balance your life and grow as an individual.

1. Stay in: If you are still getting to know each other and you're not ready for the world to know about your relationship yet, then spend more time indoors. Have movie nights and make dinner together at home. It will be just as romantic or maybe even more than a fancy dinner at a restaurant.

1. You enjoy each other's company: Although you two may no longer feel romantically toward each other, it doesn't mean all the good times and great conversations have to end. If you two are able to recognize that while dating isn't the best option, but hanging out as friends is then friendship is a great idea.

Anniversary

By Kerri Sheehan

Country superstar couple Blake Shelton and Miranda Lambert are getting ready to celebrate their two year anniversary since they said, "I Do." According to UsMagazine.com Shelton wants to make sure that Lambert is, "Nothing but smiles on their special day." It seems this couple is in it for the long haul as Lambert told reporters at the 2013 Academy of Country Music Awards, "We really love each other and have a real marriage outside of all of this. When this is all said and done, we will be drinking a beer together on a front porch somewhere, reminiscing about the good old days. That's what I'm happy about."

What are three ways to make your anniversary special?

Cupid's Advice:

No matter how many years together it's celebrating, an anniversary is always a special time for a couple. Cupid has some advice about how to make that day an exceptionally good one:

1. Remember why you married them: Marriage is tricky. His or her less than perfect aspects can often crowd the real reasons why you love a person. So, it's important to remember what brought you two together in the first place. Reminiscing a bit on the past will help you two come closer in the future.

2. Go away: An anniversary celebration is the perfect time to take a few days off and have a breather. Going somewhere new will help you create new memories that you will remember for years to come. If going somewhere on location will break the bank too much for you then consider planning a staycation! There are bound to be activities in your area that you've always wanted to do, but never had the time.

3. Bond: Whether it's recreating your first date, or just taking a mental stroll down memory lane together bonding on your anniversary is vital. It not only shows that you appreciate the past you had together, but also that you want to create a strong future.

How do you know if you've met "the one"?

Cupid's Advice:

1. You feel it: As cliché as it sounds, when you are with the right person you feel it in your heart. You can see a future between the two of you and you have no question about one another's feelings towards the other.

3. There's no sacrifice: Every relationship has a little give and take. However, if you are constantly making sacrifices then you are not with the right person.

Miranda Lambert Says Blake Shelton Loves to Decorate for Christmas

By Jennifer Ross

Country music stars Blake Shelton and Miranda Lambert are definitely into having a very merry Christmas time. It not only is a holiday they love to celebrate, it is their “light at the end of the tunnel.” In the Dec. 3 issue, Lambert tells UsMagazine.com, “We can stop rushing around and just be together.” Going back to his childhood days, Shelton loves “to decorate” for the holidays and choose “food out of magazines” for his 29 year-old bride to make. Also, Shelton, 36, asked his talented singing wife to accompany him in a duet on “Home” for his NBC special, Blake Shelton’s Not So Family Christmas. Without hesitation, Lambert was more than willing to contribute. “I’m glad to be a part of it. I loved watching him sing with Reba McEntire and Kelly Clarkson. He was so comfortable with the biggest divas on the planet!”

What do you do if your partner isn’t a fan of the holidays?

Cupid’s Advice:

The holidays are wonderful opportunities to be with friends and family, creating memories. However, your holiday fun can be dampened when your partner doesn't see the joy in it. That shouldn't discourage you from celebrating them anyways. To help keep the holiday spirit alive, here are a few ways to leave the coals out of your relationship's stocking:

1. Understand why: There may be an underlying issue as to why your mate isn't a fan. Is it social awkwardness? Childhood issues surrounding holidays? Maybe he/she doesn't like your family? Whatever it is, be understanding to their reasons; together, you just may come up with a solution.

2. Start off simple: If your partner is not accustomed to making such a fuss over the holidays due to his/her childhood, start off small. Instead of a Christmas party for thirty, have a holiday dinner for six maximum. The stress and complications of holidays may be what deters him/her.

3. Plan anyways: While you cannot force holidays on your partner, you can continue on with your plans regardless of his/her involvement. After all, your mate is not required to attend the party. That shouldn't stop you from having your fun and enjoying what you love.

What are some ways to keep your married life grounded?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding a "soul mate" is a wonderful thing and what most people strive for in life. Yet, it's the years after that can stress you to the point of throwing in the towel. So what's a person to do when marriage has begun to show its downward times? The answer might be easier than you think. Here are a few ideas on keeping your marriage and sanity together:

1. Define "yours," "mine," "ours": Have the upfront conversation of what belongs to whom? This is not just about the financial accounts. Include time that will be shared together and separate, such as holiday vacations, his Thursday night basketball games or your Saturday afternoon book club meetings. Defining and respecting each other's time and money will work on strengthening your bond.

2. Continue courting: Often, the little things like an "I love you" post-it note left in his car or flowers "just because" can really go a long way to keeping the romance alive. The key is to be genuine and spontaneous, treating each other similarly to the exciting "newness" of your first beginning dates.

3. Renegotiate your contract: As with many contracts in life, your marriage terms and conditions need to be re-evaluated and renegotiated to fit you two currently, every so many years. As time passes by, and people inevitably change, so should your marriage evolve. Be sensitive to what each other requests or no longer needs; focus on continuing the happiness you both give each other.
