Introducing your kids to your new partner can be a touchy situation. Cupid has some tips:

1. Evaluate everything: Introducing your new partner to your children is something that shouldn't be taken lightly. 2. Be somewhere neutral: When you initially introduce your children to your new significant other, it should be somewhere neutral. It should be done in a place where they feel safe and comfortable. Make sure you consider the childrens' ages first. Perhaps a zoo or amusement park is a good option, somewhere they can have fun after having a “grown-up” talk.

Make sure you give your partner details about your kids and share their likes and dislikes. This makes the bonding process much easier.

You and your new partner have been in hiding so long, and now you are ready to take it to the next step and go public. Unfortunately, you are concerned about the timing and possible reactions. Cupid has some advice to make the decision a little bit easier for you and your latest love:

1. Everything is going smoothly: When you cannot deny the feelings and there is nothing to complain about, you should probably begin to brace yourself for making the big announcement. You are more than satisfied and secure in the new relationship, so why hide it any longer? However, be sure

2. It is a mutual decision: Both parties should agree on whom, when, and where to tell. If your partner has not quite warmed up to the idea just yet, give him/her some time and maybe ask for their reasoning. You want to confirm that they have the same vision of the relationship as you do.

3. Longevity: Have the both of you discussed a future life together? Is it a fling or forever? These are questions to ask and keep in mind when making the decision to announce your relationship. What are some ways to avoid drama in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

No matter how good your relationship is, it won't be easy all the time. It's okay for couples to fight sometimes, but if you're doing it all the time it's not healthy for your relationship. Which is why you have to find ways to avoid pointless arguments or fights, but how do you do that? Cupid has some advice on ways to avoid drama in your relationship:

1. Agree to disagree: Every one is their own person and has their own preferences, goals and wants. The truth is no couple will agree on everything, but just because you don't it doesn't mean you should start a fight about it. In a relationship you have to learn how to make compromises and sacrifices, especially if you want to avoid an argument.

2. Communicate: To avoid any misunderstanding you need to talk to each other. A lot of arguments or fights happen because people don't let someone know what's going on. With your partner don't just assume some they will understand or won't take it as a big deal, without talking to them first. A relationship is between two people, it's a partnership you have to keep that in mind when making decisions.

3. Accept all of them: Loving someone is about accepting and appreciating all of them, the good and the bad. Over stressing about all the things that bug you or get on your nervous about your significant other, will just increase the chances of adding unnecessary drama to your relationship. Focus on all the good and positive things about your lover.
