This long-time pair are calling it quits with a celebrity break-up. What are some solid reasons to separate after a long-term relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Even if you have been with someone for a long time, sometimes you realize that you may be better off as friends. It can take a lot of time to truly get to know someone. It is not a waste if you realize that the person you have been with for so long is actually not the one for you. Cherish the moments that you did get to share together and be thankful for that wonderful time. Here are some common reasons that a pair may separate after being together for a long time:

1. Not enough in common: It takes time, and living together, to really realize how well you and your partner fit together. Sometimes it even takes raising a child together to actually find out that your relationship isn't the best suited. At first, you may have just been so in love that you did not realize the gaps in your relationship.

2. It's just not there anymore: As sad as it is to say, sometimes people can fall out of love. That's not a bad thing though. Life happens and maybe you go through experiences that change you and make you realize some stuff that you weren't able to see before. Accept this realization and look forward to being just companions with your ex-partner.

3. Lack of experience being alone: If you have been with someone for a long time, you may come to fathom that you don't know your true self anymore. It is easy to lose yourself in another person if you were not completely aware of your true being before the relationship started. It's not selfish to take the time to really get in touch with yourself outside of your long-term relationship.

It is definitely not beneficial to be on guard all the time about if your partner is cheating on you, but it isn't bad to be aware that it could happen. Here are some signs that may indicate that there is some infidelity occurring in your relationship:

1. Less time together: If your partner randomly begins to have less time for you, they may be spending time with someone else. Obviously if your partner just got a new job or is dealing with some occurrence, they might have less time to spend with you because of that. Talk to your partner and ask why your time together has decreased.

Be open and bring this emotional distance to your partner's attention.

allergies. Luckily, we have power over allergies and are going to combat them! You don't have to reschedule your romantic getaway just because allergies are in the air.

Don't let allergies terminate your trip! Here are some travel tips during allergy season:

1. Refill any prescription medications: If you take medication for your allergies, make sure you are stocked up for your trip- as you may not be able to retrieve them during travel. Pick up any over-the-counter medications you may need before hand. Additionally, be sure to keep these medications in a bag that you will have handy during your travels. Don't pack them away in your suitcase that will be stored away on the plane. Make sure you have easy access so that when you need it, you can get it.

2. Get immunizations: When you are planning to travel, you should check with your doctor if they recommend getting any vaccinations before departing to that specific region. Also, consult with them about any travel restrictions they may foresee regarding traveling during allergy season.

3. Pack wipes and tissues: The necessities! Be sure to pack a bunch of disinfectant wipes and facial tissues for your travels. You don't want to be stuck with a runny nose on the train with no tissues available. You also want to be able to wipe down any surfaces that you may be near for a long period of time with a disinfectant wipe just to be safe.

4. Drink a lot of water: With all of the excitement of traveling, the idea of continuously hydrating may slip your mind. Pack water bottles or purchase some any change you get. Staying hydrated is very important during allergy season and just in general!

5. Check the pollen report: Be aware of the area you are traveling to and stay up to date on the weather and pollen report of that area. Additionally, if you are embarking on a road trip, try to refrain from driving with your windows open. Pack saline nasal spray too! That stuff does wonders.

6. Stay clean: Wash your hands, body, and hair any chance you can get while traveling in order to wash away any pollen that could get stuck on you. Stay safe and healthy this allergy season!

Movie Review: Midnight Sun

By Carly Horowitz

Midnight Sun is no doubt another American romantic drama movie to add to your must see list! In this movie, 17-year-old Katie Price is played by Bella Thorne. Katie has a condition where she is extremely sensitive to sunlight. This leaves her indoors sleeping or playing music during the day, and outdoors exploring at night. That outdoor nighttime exploration becomes a little more intense when she meets the guy of her dreams, Charlie, played by Patrick Schwarzenegger. Things become difficult when Katie has to tell Charlie about her condition and then they have to figure out where they are going to go from there. How will they make this fiery true love work?

This movie can definitely cause a few tears to be shed. Check out our movie review below!

Should you see it:

If you enjoy a classic romantic film, go for it. Director Scott Speer showcases a rich summer romance while demonstrating the difficulties of making a love work when incurable medical conditions are present. This movie is to be released on March 23, 2018.

Who to take:

This movie is perfect to go see with your partner or your friends! It can be a date night or a girls' night. You can even see it with your mom as it is rated PG-13, so hopefully no embarrassing sex scenes arise.

Cupid's Advice:

This movie exhibits the real life struggle of obstacles getting in the way of love. Although, strong love trumps all. Cupid has some relationship advice on how to deal with relationships when there is an unchangeable circumstance that exists:

1. Communicate: If you have a situation similar to Katie in Midnight Sun, make sure you fully explain whatever your situation is to your partner when you feel comfortable. It is definitely a lot of pressure to disclose your circumstances on the first date, but you should open up to them as soon as you are ready so that they know what is going on.

2. Do not take rejection personally: We all wish that if we were to tell a partner about a medical condition that they would be so loving and willing to make things work no matter what- although, that is not always the case. Sometimes, people have their own issues or things that they have to take care of and they may become overwhelmed once they are informed of your situation. This does not mean that you are any less of an amazing individual. This just means that you have come even closer to finding your soulmate now that this partner is out of the way.

3. Accept support: If you open up to your partner about your medical condition and they are willing to help and be there for you, accept it! It may feel a little uncomfortable if you are not used to your partner being supportive, but it is an amazing thing. If they want to help in any way, let them know that you really appreciate their comfort.
